THE NEW YEARS JOURNAL.

The work of gathering the statistics and material for a special issue of the JOURNAL on the above date is well in hand. Mr. Frank Davey has charge of it and persons who have made improvements during the past year can obtain from him or at the JOURNAL office blanks to fill out for use in this edition. The matter for the New Year's edition will all be new and original and special matter.

The statistics will embrace every department of business activity and no pains will be spared to make them a complete and reliable showing of what Salem has accomplished the past year in the way of progress and development. The New Years matter will be printed on as many extra pages as will be required and will go into the Daily, Weekly, and Special editions all of that date. Our effort will be to avoid padding the columns of the NEW YEAR'S JOURNAL but rather to give it character for accuracy of statement and completeness of record. Notices of business houses will be inserted at a moderate rate and the papers will be sold at the usual rate.

HOFER BROS., EDS.

day evening's Portland Examiner says: Theodore Nolf, of Salem, a storekeeper near the fair grounds, was arrested some time ago for selling liquor to Indians of the Chemawa Indian school. The Indians, it is alleged, got drunk and grossly insulted some of the copper-colored maidens of the school. Nolf held that he sold nothing but champagne cider, a purely temperance beverage, utterly devoid of alcohol, and he refused to plead guilty in the United States court to selling spirituous liquor to Indians. His case was sent to the U. S. grand jury and yesterday that body found not a true bill. Nolf bears a very good reputation in and around Salem.

BOUGHT A CITY HOME.—Mr. J. C. Cawood, who has resided east of Turner some years, has purchased the home heretofore owned by D. D. Prettyman at 398 Center street, and has moved himself and wife to this city. Mrs. Cawood, who is 78 years old was slightly hurt in jumping out of the hack last evening, but not seriously.

A BUSY DAY.—Saturday is a busy day for Salem merchants and this has been no exception to the rule. The streets have been full of teams and people all day, most of whom are from the rural districts. The merchants have had about all the business that they could attend to in one day.

IN PROBATE.—In the matter of the guardianship of Alice Barr, a minor, Elisabeth Barr, guardian, tenders to the court her account which is approved.

FIRST BAPTIST.—Bishop Becker, D. D., will preach morning and evening at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Young People's meeting at 6 p. m. Robert Whitaker, pastor.

DONT GO UNSHOD.—On these nasty days when it is so moist under foot it is a good plan to provide for dry feet, and the place where you can do it to the best pecuniary advantage is at the farmers' store of B. Fostner & Co.

A CARNIVAL.—The spirit still prevails, and if you want to see a regular carnival, go behold the happy faces at S. Farrar & Co.'s holiday groceries.

THE GRIP.—If there is anything a man wants awful bad when he does want it, it is a grip. Now is the time to see the biggest stock ever in Salem at Geo. W. Johnson & Son's.

GOOD POINTS.—A popular place, with attractive clerks, moderate prices, and a stock in many respects the finest in the city—Denham's State Street shoe store.

SOCIAL REVIEW.

Some of the Noteworthy Events at Salem and Surrounding Places.

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kaiser returned from their bridal tour Wednesday evening and they had barely settled down to an evening's rest after their trip, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ryan, in the northern part of the city, when they were greeted by welcoming cheers outside from a hundred or more of Mr. K's male friends and admirers who had gathered to do the happy couple honor in good old-fashioned style of hearty serenade. At a safe and convenient distance from the residence several cannon shots with giant powder rang out their welcome with no uncertain sound, and in a short time the brass band which the serenaders had hired from the city struck up with cheerful notes and rendered several delightful airs. In the meantime Mr. Kaiser had appeared on the balcony, for the first time in several years abashed, overcome by those marks of esteem and good feeling on the part of those who had known him so long, and in a few appropriate words expressed the heartfelt thanks of his bride and himself, supplementing these by an invitation to the crowd to enter the house and partake of its hospitality. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan were not wholly unprepared for the emergency and the serenaders enjoyed a most excellent feast of the delicacies and accompaniments appropriate to such an occasion. After a season of the most delightful pleasure the crowd dispersed, all subscribing to but one sentiment toward Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser:

May your days be days of gladness,
And with joys be overcome,
And may no day of sadness
E'er enter your happy home.

GORTON'S MINSTRELS

Admirers of genteel refined minstrels should not forget that the above excellent company will appear at Reeds opera house on Tuesday evening Dec. 9th.

The Anaconda Mont. daily Standard of Oct. 30, says: "That the old time burnt cork minstrelsy is still popular was demonstrated last night by the crowded house that greeted the Gorton minstrel troupe. Before the curtain went up every seat had been taken, and the entertainment proved entirely satisfactory to the appreciative audience. The songs were well sung, new and witty jokes being expounded, all being without a tinge of vulgarity and the music was superb as rendered by the band, which is made up of artists throughout. The sixtette clog, as rendered by Messrs. Welby, Pearl, Elliott Bros., Schroeder and Pearl was perbrought down the house. The dancing was first-class, and in fact the entire performance was sparkling and enjoyable.

SOCIAL DANCE.

The following are the names of Salem's young people, who enjoyed a few hours in dancing in the hall of the Salem City Band Friday night: Miss Anna and Ada Breyman, Miss Reta Lownsdale, Miss Allen, Miss Gertrude and Maggie Savage, Miss Marie Matthews, Miss Mamie Crump, Miss Clara Litchfield, Miss Ella Arbegast, Miss Gussie Stiewer, Miss Bertha Forstner, Miss Jessie Southwick, Miss Carrie Haas, Miss Annie Schott, Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson, Mrs. Walt Warner. Mr. Rudolph Pruel, Mr. E. P Thompson, Dr. Keene, Dr. Cardwell, of Portland, Mr. Hugh McNary, Mr. D. Vollmar, Mr. J. L. Mitchell, Mr. C. D. Gabrielson, Mr. Alex Rennie, Mr. Homer Craven, Mr. Ray Gibert, Mr. Del Dinsmore, Mr. Hal and Cook Patton, Mr. Chas. Young, Mr. Frank McDivith, Mr. Walgmount, Mr. Geo. Forstner.

PIONEER ANNIVERSARY.

Last Sunday being the twenty-fifth marriage anniversary of Mr. and Mrs A. J. Apperson, it was made the occasion of a family reunion. Capt. J. T. Apperson and wife of Oregon City, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fellows, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Martin, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Fuller, and Richard Cook, besides the members of their own family, were present. Two brothers and two sisters were unavoidably absent. A very enjoyable day was spent, the guests partaking of the kind hospitality of the estimable couple so happily and prosperously mated for a quarter century, and in turn, the bride was made the recipient of several tokens appropriate for the occasion.—McMinnville Register.

DRIVE WHIST.

The Old Folks' Whist club met at the handsome residence of Mrs. and Dr. Richardson, Friday evening, and while away a few hours in playing whist and talking over pioneer days. The first prize was won by Mr. E. M. Waite and Mrs. H. W. Cottle. The second was awarded to Mr. H. W. Cottle and Mrs. Claud Gatch. The following were those present: Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Breyman, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Waite, Mrs. J. J. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Breyman, Mayor Williams, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Cottle, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Webb, Mrs. and Mrs. Claude Gatch, Miss Fleming.

ANNIVERSARY.

A pleasant surprise greeted the eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey on returning to their home on Liberty street Monday evening. They found quite a number of friends and relatives there and on entering the dining room found the table sumptuously spread with the most appetizing delicacies. When she remembered it was her birthday and also wedding anniversary. She spent the evening in entertaining her guests in the most becoming style, and they departed at a late hour by wishing their host and hostess many another happy wedding anniversary.

A GRAND CONCERT.

The Second Regiment band gave another of their grand concerts in the opera house. But few were in attendance, yet the band played for an hour and a half for those who were present, and then the people were unwilling to go. The Second Regiment band, of this city now can well cope with any band in Oregon, and why the people will not turn out to hear such music as they give is unknown, and certainly does not speak well of the musical culture of the city, or else the people are prejudiced against home culture in music. Should some cheap minstrel troupe come along the people would turn out by the hundreds. Mr. T. G. Perkins gave a short address to those present Friday evening on how they should appreciate such music. He said he was not able to understand why such heavenly music would not attract more people.

MATRIMONIAL.

On Wednesday evening, at the residence of the bride's parents, at Lowsen, by Rev. E. R. Prichard, Mr. Geo. M. McKnight and Miss Helen L. Lasell of Linn county, were married in the presence of a number of friends. This popular couple have the best wishes of a host of friends for prosperity and happiness. Mr. McKnight has had erected a fine country residence after the plans of the Presbyterian Manse, of this city, only larger, and the happy couple will begin housekeeping in it at once.—Albany Democrat.

A TREATISE ON ASTRONOMY.

It is reported that there is a Starr that rises out of Salem every two or three weeks and sets on Salt creek close to the grange hall, remains over night, and then rises and takes the same course back to Salem. It is supposed there is some wonderful attraction that causes the Starr to check up and stop so suddenly, and it is being watched by others, not Starrs, who are being somewhat attracted in that direction themselves.

THE UNITY.

This club, which has been obliged to postpone its sessions for two weeks, met last Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. Wm. England, and had an essay and discussion upon Thomas Paine and his relation to the French revolution. The next m., will be held at the same place, the text being "The Women of the French Revolution." The meetings of the club are open to all in sympathy with its objects.

UNIVERSITY CONCERT.

The University band will give a concert in the chapel on Wednesday evening, Dec. 17. They will be assisted by Prof. Parvin, Miss Ames and the best talent in the conservatory and University. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the band in paying for some new instruments they have been compelled to buy.

MUSICAL RECITAL.

The Musical recital given by the conservatory of music in the University chapel Wednesday evening was well attended and the pupils quit themselves with credit. Those recitals are not given so much for the entertainment of those who attend as for the benefit of the pupils who take part; in the program on Wednesday were young pupils and they did excellent.

SANCTITY MEETING.

The ladies of the M. E. church had a sanctity meeting in the lecture room of the church Friday afternoon from three to six o'clock. The ladies came with their baskets well filled with eatables and the afternoon was spent in eating and a praise service to which all were invited.

THE TEACHERS' READING CLUB, put in a very pleasant evening last night at Prof. Rork's. English literature was the topic and a session not altogether unprofitable was had. It was a general sentiment that no other branch of study tended more to broaden and refine the student. The teachers' reading club gets great benefits from this study.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A number of the young friends of Miss Gracie Farrens, gave her a real surprise Thursday evening, at her home Front street. The occasion of the surprise was her birthday. The evening was spent in plays, games, etc. The guests departed at a late hour. A number of nice presents were presented to Miss Farrens, for which she thanked her young friends.

CORN SHELLING.

One evening last week a company of friends gathered at C. E. Hoskins to participate in an old-fashioned corn shelling. A pleasant time was had and about fifteen bushels was shelled. Though the cobs flew around lively no greater damage was done than a broken pane of glass, and a skinned face for Geo. Morris.—Newberg Graphic

CONGREGATIONAL KIRMESS.

Among the coming events of the capital city social world, must be remembered the kirmess which will be given by the ladies of the Congregational church on Friday December 12. This promises to be a splendid affair and every body will want to see it.

ALL THE WAY FROM NEW JERSEY.

P. K. Fretz, of this city, went down to Portland Friday where he met Miss Charlotte C. Labarre, who has just arrived from Trenton, New Jersey, his former home, and they were the same day united in the holy bonds of wedlock. They came up to Salem last night and will make their future home in Salem, where Mr. Fretz is engaged in the real estate business.

LEGAL CONFERENCE.

Quite a number of attorneys from other points have been in town this week, prominent among whom were W. H. Holmes, Tilmon Ford, Prosecuting Attorney Bingham, and Geo. Burnett, of Salem and Mr. Fenton, of McMinnville.—Dallas Itemizer.

MISSIONARY TEA.

A Missionary tea party was held at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Crawford Friday afternoon. A large number of the ladies of the Presbyterian church were there and a good old social time was had along with a delicate luncheon, such only as good old Presbyterians can give.

WEDDING BELLS.

Gen. Woods was here Sunday and before returning to Portland Monday went to Salem to interview the county clerk upon the subject of marriage license, as he and Miss Rose Mitchell are to wed next Sunday.—Gervais Star.

WANTED—A HUSBAND.

Am beautiful, but not rich, am 20 years of age, can cook, sew and wash, am a blonde, rather tall, want to marry an industrious man, farmer preferred. Address with views to matrimony, "F. M." care WEST SIDE, Independence, Or.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD.—The most attractive entertainment announced for the coming week, is the "Little Red Riding Hood," which will be given on Friday evening, Dec. 12th, in Reed's opera house, Miss Margaret Grace Scriber will read some of her choicest selections and Mr. J. H Ross, Salem's favorite basso, and Henry Kundret, the tenor singer will nobly assist in making the program complete. Let no one fail to hear this treat.

In Dallas Courts.

The case of Ford & Levins & Co., vs. Whitaker & Farren, suit for $1,800 in Judge Boise's court at Dallas, which has been on trial the past week was concluded to the jury Friday at 2:30. Saturday morning the jury had not yet agreed.

The grand jury found seven true bills and they were arraigned Friday. Two were against Backeustowe for harboring minors. The grand jury still had business before them

Go to Crissman's for children's carts; 15 cents.

LADIES.—For furs, fancy and ilka handkerchiefs, kid gloves of the best makes, you are invited to inspect stock and prices at Lunn's drygoods house.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

W. Dugan and James Mead were among the passengers for Portland this afternoon.

Miss Lizzie Church went to Portland to-day for a visit among numerous friends there.

Dr. H. W. Cardwell, of Portland, was in the city over night visiting his friend, Dr. J. M. Keene.

Mr. Louis Kuhn, superintendent of the Northwestern foundry, made a business trip to Portland to-day.

J. W. Thomas and W. Birchard, of Stayton, were Salem visitors to-day.

Thos. Kay, of the woolen mills, was a passenger for the metropolis this afternoon.

Judge R. S. Bean, of the supreme bench and and his little son went to Portland this afternoon.

J. Russell Wyatt, a young attorney of Albany, is in the city this afternoon on business.

Mr. Davey, the rustling city editor of the Salem CAPITAL JOURNAL, spent most of last week in Dallas. He favored The Observer office with a very pleasant visit.—Dallas Observer.

Miss Macy returned this afternoon from an extended Thanksgiving visit with relatives and friends in Turner and vicinity.

Miss Grace Gilliagham and Miss Rita Lownsdale took the afternoon train for Portland to remain a month or six weeks and spend the holidays.

Mrs. Sallinger, of Canyon City, Oregon, and son Albert, who have been visiting the family of Hon. Phil Metschan, left on last night's overland train to visit her daughter near Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Harbord, of Spokane Falls, who have been visiting friends in this city, started for their home this afternoon. Mr. Harbord is chief of police in that bustling city.

The overland was an hour late this morning.

Just opened a fine line of Prang's Christmas cards and books, drop in and see them—at Dearbon's 203 Commercial street.

On the 3rd of the present month a Salem man advertised a large farm for sale in the JOURNAL, and last night came in and said it had sold the property for him. He cheerfully pays the bill and recommends the JOURNAL as he has always done.

AGAIN BEHIND THE BARS.

Frank Byron After Ten Months Wandering is Lodged in Jail in Salem.

Sheriff E. M. Croisan arrived home Friday night from Caldwell, Idaho, having in charge Frank Byron, who broke jail in this city on the 25th day of last January and since that time has been a lone wanderer. The crime for which Byron is detained is that of larceny, and is well remembered by the people of this city. A year ago last July some one broke open the safe of Minto & Low in their livery stable and for some time the case was a mystery. The safe breaker took $178, a silver watch and some other articles. The watch lead to the arrest of Byron in November and he was placed in the county jail on the 4th of that month. He remained in custody until the 26th of January when in company with a tramp he dug his way by means of an iron bar out of the corridor of the county jail and made good his escape. Sheriff Croisan has been on the lookout for him ever since. It was supposed that he would go to Idaho where his mother lives, so circulars were sent to all the leading towns in that part giving a description of Byron which after ten months resulted in his being arrested in Caldwell, Idaho.

Byron has had a hard time in dodging justice since he left Salem between days. He tramped his way by night and slept in barns and straw piles during the day with the cold rains of last January and going several days without anything to eat; doubtless Byron wished himself back in Marion county's jail before he got out of the state. He beat his way to Washington, and there worked at odd jobs, and kept dodging from one place to another, staying as much as possible in out-of-the-way towns, for fear of meeting some one who would recognize him. The fear of the law seems to have kept him roaming from one place to another for almost a year. Since he has been in Idaho he has worked on stock ranches most of the time. Sheriff Croisan found Byron looking well, even with rough usage.

Byron's career in Salem before the crime was committed was not what it might have been. He was not a very exemplary young man. While he was in jail here a year ago he made a confession of his crime. He will now have to languish in jail until the grand jury meets next February.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

There are still a few of those views of the wreck, to be seen only once in a life time, at Catterlin's.
