THE OPERA HOUSE.—There are few buildings just now that Salem needs more than a good opera house.

The opera house is not fit to hold a public meeting in during the cold weather. Many ill words have been heard against such an opera house for the capital city of a prosperous state like Oregon, since the two public entertainments given there on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week.

The auditorium was not properly warmed before the performances began and the fire was permitted to go out during the evening, and the complaints have been strong and numerous against the exposure the performers and the audience are subjected to while in attendance.

The reader on Saturday night suffered a great deal from cold. It is a well known fact that Salem is made the pivot for ridicule by all traveling troupes on account of her opera house. The people here complain that they can't get a good sized audience to any entertainment given in the opera house, yet the reason is plain. Give Salem a good and attractive opera house and there will be no trouble in securing a full house at every deserved play that comes along.

Salem is a literary loving city as well as one that loves proper amusements, and she would under favorable circumstances well support either. The JOURNAL does not desire to find fault with the management of the present opera house, but it no longer meets the demands of the city, and Salem must, in order to secure the best troupes have better opera house accommodations.

O. N. G. ELECTION.—The election of two field officers of the Oregon National Guards took place this afternoon at the state house. Quite a number of the members of different regiments were present to take part in the election. The first officer filled was that of colonel and the other was major. The election passed off quietly, and as far as known all were perfectly satisfied with the new officers. The following is the result of the election: Lieut. L. S. Lovell, of Salem, was unanimously elected colonel. The promotion of Lieut. Lovell made a vacancy in the office of lieutenant and Capt. O. H. Irvine, of Albany, was made his successor. Capt. C. T. Blumhardt, of Bandon, Coos county, was elected major.

HOUSE—AFTERNOON SESSION. SALEM, Jan. 12, 1903. The house of the 16th biennial session of the legislative assembly was called to order by Hon. J. T. Gregg, chief clerk of the last house.

LEGISLATIVE REVIEW.

Journal Editorial Headquarters, Legislative Assembly.

One of the most attractive places for ladies is a well-supplied dry goods store. There they can find all those little necessities which it is an annoyance to be without. Holverson's is such a place, and it is well patronized because you can always find what you want.

The Woolen Mill store is chock full of clothing of all kinds, made up from those superior woolsens made at their Mills in this city. Parties in need of an overcoat can hardly afford to miss seeing their stock.

Joseph Clark, the Court street grocer, supplies his patrons promptly and at bottom prices.

At the Governor's office callers flocked in early and the democratic members made it a sort of political headquarters. The Governor will be at his office during the entire session and his message is ready for delivery, which will probably take place Wednesday. At the Secretary of State's office republicans most did congregate, and members buzzed in and out, making it a kind of bureau of information.

The leading democrats decided to take no hand in the election of Geer and Simon, and but few, if any, could be found who would not prefer the latter in the interest of the people and the state. If it proves that they actually did refrain from trying to force a candidate upon the republican party, a vast majority of whose members are opposed to his leadership, they deserve credit.

The Secretary of State had both houses in splendid order. The halls were clear, the desks arranged and equipped with all articles needful to the dispatch of business.

That was a handsome compliment paid a very competent man—the selection of Mr. Frank Davey of the JOURNAL as Assistant temporary Secretary of the House.

Senator Simon's political chicanery gave Oregon a democratic supreme judge, a democratic governor and will go a long way toward giving the state to the democrats in 1892.

Political treachery pays in Oregon. The selection of Simon for president of the senate will not tend to strengthen the republican party where it apparently most needs strength—among the farmers and working men.

It is Mr. Speaker Geer! We believe that Mr. Speaker Geer will show by his record that he and his friends were no part of the Simon caucus combine.

Quite a sprinkling of ladies was present.

Senator Simon got there by 14 votes on the first ballot in the Republican Senate caucus.

Fleischer, Mayer & Co. were heard from.

"We are God's children and he takes care of his own."

The election of United States senator will occur on Tuesday, Jan. 20th, at 12 o'clock in each house, separately, and each day thereafter at 12 m. in joint convention.

The speakership contest lay between T. T. Geer, of Marion and Peter Paquet, of Clackamas, Mr. Story's name not being presented. Mr. Geer received 27 votes and Mr. Paquet 11.

LOW-WATER RATES.—That is what C. G. Given & Co. give on boots and shoes.

THE BUREAU.—The bureau of the hour is the sixteenth century Bureau of old English style, offered by Bureau the furniture dealer.

UNSAFE.—It is unsafe these days to drive a horse without his being well shod. If you want your animal to have the best treatment in this respect take him to John Knight.

REMOVED.—Chas. DeLeon is now comfortably housed with his barber shop on Commercial street, near the hotel Willamette, and as ever is prepared to please the most exacting patrons.

LATEST.—That is what the people want in anything, especially the style of their clothes. E. Schoettle keeps only the latest patterns in goods, and make up in the latest fashions.

W. C. T. U.—Regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. to-morrow (Tuesday, Jan. 13th), at 2:30 p. m. in their hall, on Court street. Full attendance desired.

The World Enriched.—The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

FRANK SMITH is the Salem agent.

EASTERN NEWS.—The best news that ever struck Salemites is that Jas. Denham & Co., the State street shoe dealers have adopted "eastern prices." That means much more than the average reader is aware of. Eastern prices are a money-saving institution to buyers.

Does Experience Count? It does, in every line of business, and especially in compounding and preparing medicines. This is illustrated in the great superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla over other preparations, as shown by the remarkable cures it has accomplished.

The head of the firm of C. I. Hood is a thoroughly competent and experienced pharmacist, having devoted his whole life to the study and actual preparation of medicines.

He is also a member of the Massachusetts and American Pharmaceutical Associations, and continues actively devoted to supervising the preparation of and managing the business connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hence the superiority and peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla are built upon the most substantial foundation. In its preparation there is represented all the knowledge which modern research in medical science has developed, combined with long experience, brain-work, and experiment. It is equally necessary to give this medicine a fair trial to realize its great curative value.

Allice Atherton the Popular Actress says, E. S. Holden: During the prevailing cold weather I have suffered from severe cough. I am pleased to state that I received great relief from the use of your Ethereal Cough Syrup.
