COUNTY ROADS.—Complaints have come in from various parts of the country concerning the manner in which the county road supervisors use the county money in fixing up and repairing the roads. The pay to some of the supervisors has amounted to more than that which was expended on the roads in bettering their situation. The county supports 75 road supervisors and lays out thousands of dollars every year in the effort to keep the county roads in good repair. The main complaint is the injudicious method in which the money is laid out by the supervisors.

THE MERRY MINSTRELS.—The next great attraction at the opera house will be a first-class minstrel performance by Goodyear, Elitch & Schilling's minstrels, which will appear next Monday night. A Denver exchange in speaking of this company says: Charles W. Goodyear is one of the best known minstrel performers, having a peculiarly droll style, and his specialty this season is better than ever. Charles E. Schilling has been connected with the best minstrel companies for years and deserves the title of premier musical artist. The artistic negro delineator, George H. Edwards, has an entirely new repertoire this season. Then there are Symonds, Hughes and Rastus, comedians, and the Bently Brothers' Southern quartette, the Leondor Brothers, the acrobatic marvels. They give an entertainment that will please all portions of the house, and nothing will be offered that could offend the most fastidious.

A Book For Every Woman.

The wonderful sale of the book "Tokology," by Alice B. Stockham, M. D., has been the best commendation it has ever received. Everywhere it is finding its place in the home, guiding, relieving, advising and saving with its good sense and practical truths. It is not a common book, but every page of it is stamped with the worthy words of a woman who combines science and experience in a thorough and high-minded manner for the relief of her sex. Hear what some of our best women have said about it.

When I opened the book, and saw the strong sweet face of its writer, I knew I should find nothing but good in its pages. It is written with delicacy, bravery and wisdom. I wish every woman in the land could read it.—Marietta Holley, "Josiah Allen's Wife."

Enclosed find $5.50 for two copies of Tokology. I have read the book and consider it worth its weight in gold.—Mrs. G. W. Banfield.

I cannot say how much I admire you for writing Tokology. That one work is enough to immortalize you for all time.—Mrs. I. H. Dickinson.

I like canvassing for Tokology a hundred times better than teaching.—An Agent.

I sincerely thank you for this avenue for self-support which you have opened for women in canvassing for Tokology.—Ella Hiscock.

Tokology is indeed a bible for every woman.—Frances E. Sallsbury.

Tokology is doing more for women than all the other books put together. It reaches so many. It is preparing the way so nicely, too, for hygienic physicians.—Your friend, Clara B. Willis, M. D., Clarinda, Ia.

I bought two Tokologys and gave them to two ladies as wedding presents, saying toe ach: This book will do for your body, what the Bible does for your soul. They write me that I told the truth.—Mrs. A. D. Morris.

Price, prepaid, $2.75. Very best terms to agents.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. I gave it a fair trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Fry's Drugstore, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Does Experience Count?

It does, in every line of business, and especially in compounding and preparing medicines. This is illustrated in the great superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla over other preparations, as shown by the remarkable cures it has accomplished.

The head of the firm of C. I. Hood is a thoroughly competent and experienced pharmacist, having devoted his whole life to the study and actual preparation of medicines. He is also a member of the Massachusetts and American Pharmaceutical Associations, and continues actively devoted to supervising the preparation of and managing the business connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hence the superiority and peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla are built upon the most substantial foundation. In its preparation there is represented all the knowledge which modern research in medical science has developed, combined with long experience, brain-work, and experiment. It is only necessary to give this medicine a fair trial to realize its great curative value.

An Ordinance Bill.

To amend sections 1 and 2, title 2, sections 1, 2, 8 and 11, of title 3, of said chapter 3, of ordinance No. 51.

Sec. 7—That section 1, and title 2, of said chapter, being part of ordinance No. 51, be amended so as to read as follows: section 1. All city taxes and license fees shall be paid in current gold and silver coin of the United States, except that city orders shall be received for taxes as provided in section 8, title 1, of said chapter.

Section 8—That section 2, of said title 2, be amended so as to read as follows: Section 2. All fines and penalties imposed for the violation of city ordinances may be enforced by action against the offender in the recorder's court, which action shall be tried without a jury, and, in case of conviction, the judgment therein shall be for the amount of the fine, or of the term of imprisonment in default thereof, or of either or both fine and imprisonment and the cost of the action.

Section 9—That section 1, title 3, of said chapter, as amended by ordinance 150, be amended so as to read as follows: Section 1. That no person, firm, company or corporation shall engage in, prosecute or carry on any business or profession within the limits of the city of Salem for which a license is required by this ordinance, until he or they have obtained such license.

Section 10—That section 2, title 3, of said chapter, as amended by ordinance 150, be and the same is amended so as to read as follows: Section 2. No person or persons keeping a bar room, saloon, tippling house, restaurant, drug store or other place within the city of Salem where spirituous, vinous or malt liquors are sold shall within the city directly or indirectly, in person or by another, sell, barter or deliver, or knowingly permit to be sold, bartered or delivered for or on his or their account, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors in any quantities less than one gallon without first obtaining a license therefore in the manner hereinafter provided. And it shall not be lawful for any such person or persons to sell give or deliver any of the above enumerated liquors to any person intoxicated or who has been declared a common drunkard as provided in ordinance No. 114, or on Sunday, and no keeper of a bar-room, saloon or tippling house, within the city, shall keep his place of business open on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday.

Section 11.—That section 8, title 3, of said chapter 3, as amended by ordinance 150, be amended so as to read as follows: Section 8. Every person, firm, company or corporation carrying on or engaging in any business or profession hereinafter in this section enumerated, within the city of Salem, shall, before engaging therein, be required to procure a license therefor from the recorder at the following rates: 1. For keeping a circus or menagerie, seventy-five dollars for each exhibition. 2. For keeping any theatre, show, exhibition, or other place of amusement except for charitable purposes, fifty dollars per quarter; twenty dollars per month; ten dollars per week, or three dollars for each exhibition. 3. For keeping any bowling alley, billiard table, pigeon-hole table or other tables on which games are played with balls or cues, when kept for public use, with or without charge, twenty-five dollars per annum for each table, provided not more than fifty dollars per annum shall be charged for the tables kept in one room. 4. For keeping any shooting gallery, fifteen dollars per month, or five dollars per week. 5. For keeping any bar-room, saloon, tippling house or other place where spirituous or vinous liquors are sold in quantities less than one gallon, four hundred dollars per annum. 6. For keeping a barroom, saloon, tippling house or place where malt liquors are sold in quantities less than one gallon, three hundred and fifty dollars per annum. 7. Hotel runners shall each pay a quarterly license of five dollars. Every person who on the public streets, or on the dock, steamboat landings or railroad depots, within the city, shall solicit custom for any hotel, inn, tavern or boarding house, shall be deemed a hotel runner under this title. 8. Each auctioneer shall pay an annual license of fifty dollars or for each day or night five dollars. And all applicants therefor shall before receiving the same file with the recorder a good and sufficient bond, with one or more sureties, conditioned that he will faithfully account for and pay over to the person entitled thereto all money that may come into his hands as such auctioneer. Every person shall be deemed to be an auctioneer whose business it is to offer property at public outcry, excepting executive officers and executors, administrators and guardians in their official capacity; provided that no auctioneer shall be authorized, by virtue of his license, to employ any other person to act as auctioneer in his behalf except in his own store or warehouse or in his presence. 9. Peddlers shall pay a license fee of fifty dollars per annum, thirty dollars for six months or fifteen dollars for three months. 10. Hawkers shall pay a license fee of fifteen dollars per week, and no such license shall be issued for a shorter time than a week. 11. For keeping a two-horse cab, hack, wagon, truck, omnibus or other vehicle used in the city for the transportation of persons or property, for hire, fifteen dollars per annum. 12. For keeping a one horse dray, wagon, cart or other vehicle for such use, ten dollars per annum. All vehicles used for the transportation of property from place to place, for hire, within the city, whether by the load, by the day or upon contract, shall be required to pay license under this section. And all licenses for any of the aforesaid vehicles shall be issued semi-annually for a term of six months, on the first day of January and July, of each year; provided that a license may be issued for any of said vehicles after the first of the term, but in that case for the remainder of the semi-annual term only, and shall be charged proportionately for the remainder of the unexpired term. And no license under this title shall be issued for a shorter period than six months, except as hereinbefore provided. And all moneys for licenses shall be paid to the recorder before any license shall be issued.

Section 12—That section 11, title 3 of said chapter as amended by ordinance 150, be amended so as to read as follows: Section 11—The recorder shall number the licenses issued by him to the owners of vehicles, commencing at one and continuing upward, and it shall be the duty of the owner or driver of vehicles used for the transportation of persons or property within the city for hire, to place the number assigned to his vehicle by the recorder upon each side thereof in a conspicuous place, in a neat and legible manner, in figures not less than one and one-half inches long and of proportionate width. The owner of any licensed vehicle failing or refusing to place the number assigned him, upon his vehicle as herein required, shall, upon conviction thereof before the recorder be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

A STUDY OF NOSES.

Some Words of Advice as to Feminine Noses and Their Owners.

"Why only the noses of one sex, and why only unbeautiful noses?"

I am not prepared to reply, retorts a writer in the New York Herald, except that as a woman my own sex has been the book most freely open to my perusal, and eccentric features of any sort seeming to suggest certain dominant traits in the possessor. The study of the characteristics of the woman with a nose which is not a thing of beauty has for some months interested and amused me.

Previous to this I had often whiled the time of a protracted horse-car ride in noting the variety of noses, ears and chins that go to make up the features of a carful of the general public, or to mark the unanimity with which blue-eyed or dark-eyed people seemed to have simultaneously decided to go in one particular car to one particular suburb.

But when a desire arose within me to know whether certain characteristics were denoted by a crooked nose or a straight one, I naturally limited my observations to the sex whose mental economy was most accessible for study, and dropped the superficial observance of strangers. I ceased to compare the noses of women of fashion and washer-ladies impartially, and took to scanning those countenances more or less familiar to me among my friends and acquaintances.

The result of my study is in favor of the woman with a crooked nose. The nose that is so little out of drawing as to still be an attractive one must partake largely of all traits, overbalanced on one side or the other, according to the modification of other strong tendencies as shown by other features.

Let the subject of this screed no more sit in ashes, nor have her picture painted as did one foolish maiden with a gauze fan far over her lower face, since there are compensations in an ugly nose.

The woman with a crooked nose is usually the more fortunate in friendships, as she is less likely to be scornful of those less pleasantly situated than herself, either by fortune or favor; while, so far as personal qualities and her purse go, she is more disposed to be gracious and liberal and to swim with the current that is popular.

Yet, in emergency, the ugly nose rises to the occasion with a dignity and promptness at once the delight and terror of her nearest friends.

In matters of business I have found the woman with a delicate, straight nose either too easily advised by any stronger mind that happened to be at hand, or possessed by an utterly inconsequent tenacity of the first idea which she grasped upon the matter of the moment, showing (if I may so phrase it) an unwise wisdom in such a way as to save her pence and lose, eventually, her dollars. For example: Such a nose has been known to sell a valuable lot of stock because of an editorial in her tea-table paper, despite the dissuasions of brothers and lawyer from the sacrifice.

The crooked nose, especially if backed by good, straightforward eyes, is apt to be influenced by environment in a different way. That is, to leave stocks and bonds to her natural protectors, while she has them and they are not proven incompetent. But in the case of such proof, or if suddenly bereft, she is apt to surprise every one by promptly, even though timidly, taking matters into her own hands, and after taking a good cry and quietly thinking over the matter—doing the very best thing possible. The straight nose, similarly placed, would walk magnificently on to financial disaster, or dissolve all hope and spirit in the tears which clear the atmosphere in which the crooked nose scents success.

The same nose will be more patient in planning and awaiting results in life. In love affairs patient, possibly because its wearer is not accustomed to the prompt capitulation of the lovers of the Greek-nosed maiden.

But here comes in the law of compensation. If slow to conquest is the crooked nose, the lover who loves the eyes above, the mouth beneath or the soul in the girl who bears the ugly feature may as well resign himself at once to the sweet bondage, and the more irregular the nose the more useless to struggle.

The happiest homes within my knowledge are those of men whose wives, many of them beautiful in every other feature, have eccentric noses. And of those who are drifting or already out of the home harbor, by legal release or pursuing fame in some one of its enticing shapes, I count from memory, without effect, that unlucky number—thirteen, each with a nose to serve as a sculptor's model.

Another is simply failing in her home life by taking on her domestic cares in addition to those which, as a single woman, she carried, with no injustice to others, instead of displacing the old work with the new. She "keeps" her house exquisitely, but is failing in her home making, and will perhaps too late realize what her nose has cost her and her devoted husband.

The straight-nosed woman governs and adorns her children; the crooked-nosed woman guides and wins them, mixing up caresses and commandments in a way to make her calling and election sure as the chosen ruler of all their hearts.

One little straight-nosed woman has, however, set all my deductions at naught in this domestic phase, but this, since I am tenacious, proves the general rule. After all, there seems to me but one nose that is to be depended upon in any and all conditions, and that is "tip-tilted, like the petals of a flower." I should advise a son to seek, and, when found, woo and win, if possible, the girl or woman with a dear, delicious pug nose. It is the safest!

Empress Frederick's Fortune.

The Empress Frederick receives a jointure of £40,000 a year from the Prussian Government, the fortune left to her by the Duchess of Galliera represents upward of £12,000 a year, and she has a life interest in the trust estate of her husband, besides her own savings. As the Empress was always very frugal, and as there was ever in her mind a prospect that she might be left a widow while her father-in-law was yet alive, in which case her jointure would have been very small indeed, she regularly put aside one-half of her own separate allowance of £8,000 a year which was granted her by Parliament on her marriage. The Empress accordingly now enjoys an income of quite £70,000 a year, and her children are well provided for.

Transliteration of Names.

There are some queer instances of transliteration of names in the province of Quebec. A suburb of the old city of Quebec was originally named Shepherdville, after an English resident of the name of Shepherd. The French translated this into Bergerville, which the English soon corrupted into Beggarville." Hope Cape was turned by the French into Cape d'Espoir, which the English then translated into Cape Despair. Point of Cliffs first became Pointe des Monts, and was then anglicized, first into Demon's Point and then into Devil's Point. Reindeer Lake became Lac a la Renne, which was soon corrupted by the English into Rainy Lake, and then, strange to say, was [illegible] Lac [illegible]

Citizen—So you think of locating here?
Physician—Yes. I thought some of practicing among you.
Citizen—See here, young man, there's a good opening here for a man as understands his biz, but we don't want no practicing, or experimenting—doctoring's what we want!

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present, alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his "practice" until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription directed to the cause would have removed the disease, dispelled all those distressing symptoms, and instituted comfort instead of prolonged misery.

It's the only medicine for the weaknesses, irregularities and painful derangements peculiar to women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will give satisfaction in every case, or price paid for it will be promptly refunded.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. One a dose. Sold by druggists. 25 cents a vial.
