OREGON CANNOT AFFORD TO IGNORE THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Oregon needs people. Salem has spent $10,000 in advertising the city. It has doubled our population. The people who have come here have doubled the volume of all business and the value of all real estate. Increase of population multiplies influence. If we have people enough our rivers can be kept open the year round, and big ships travel their entire length. With people enough we can open our undeveloped resources of agriculture, mines and timber. There are plenty of millions to go into timber if there is good timber shown to be here. A building at Chicago erected out of Oregon woods would attract attention to our boundless timber wealth as nothing else ever will. Allot space to each county and if any county does not take its space let another fill it. $250,000 nor half that is necessary to give to the eyes of the world a revelation of Oregon's greatness.

An appropriation of $2,000 to each county, provided the people of that county would raise as much more, would be $100,000. This amount properly used will place on exhibition a grand show of our leading industries. Let local enthusiasm and rivalry in each county in its special product be engendered. There are single counties in this state whose citizens will expend $5,000 or $10,000 in displaying their silver, salmon, fruit or timber resources. Let their enthusiasm be awakened and employed as well as state money.

OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

There is just now a rare opportunity for some member of the Oregon legislature who has no special hobby to ride to make a fine record by securing the passage of more humane and practical laws for the government of our state prison. First of all there is the contract system to wrestle with. There should also be moral and general instruction provided for, while most important of all there should be a better system of grading up the prisoners and preparing them for discharge. The so-called parole system which is proving such a great blessing in some of the eastern states, has been discussed to some extent in the columns of the JOURNAL, and should be made the object of serious investigation. To do the work that is necessary for the improvement of our penitentiary would go a good way toward making the mover a lasting reputation throughout our state. It is a work of humanity, and the member who takes it in hand will be entitled to the lasting gratitude of our state.

MORE PITIABLE STILL.

Senator Ingalls's diatribe against capital independence in politics and honest and safe finance, in the senate, Jan 14, was compounded of vengeful spite for the influences that wrought his discomfiture in Kansas, and abject appeal to the farmers' alliance to elect him. It is the most pitiable exhibition by any senator since Gordon ate his words before the alliance legislature of Georgia.—Oregonian.

THE OREGONIAN HAS NO FAULT TO FIND WITH SENATOR SHERMAN.

The Oregonian has no fault to find with Senator Sherman, a considerable part of whose speech was devoted to a defence of the millionaires. The most humiliating spectacle that the American people can gaze upon is that of a great newspaper always taking sides against the people.

IN A JOURNAL EDITORIAL YESTERDAY

the type was made to say Mr. J. P. Faull "declines to be again a candidate for railway commissioner." What we wrote was that Mr. Faull "declines" to be again a candidate. Such is the fact.

RECORDED COMMENT.

The fight on the tax-eaters in the legislature has not begun yet.

have a rancher president who is 'some pumpkins.'

The legislature closed its first week by both houses voting down all resolutions to restrict expenses, and the adjournment in a flagrantly unconstitutional manner.

Baker City Democrat: Never judge a man by appearances. A shabby old coat may contain an editor, while the man wearing a high-toned plug hat and supporting a dude cane may be a delinquent subscriber.

The newspaper men of Oregon may not receive intelligent consideration at the hands of this legislature, for its time seems all taken up introducing wagon road bills and other appropriations, to say nothing of employing a hundred or so clerks who will do a few days' work and receive a few hundred dollars apiece.

Astorian: The legislature of the new state of Wyoming is the first to make an appropriation for an exhibit at the World's Fair. Now, let Oregon be the second, and let the appropriation be large enough to insure a display of the products of the state that will convince the world that Oregon is the grandest state in the Northwest.

East Oregonian: Mr. Simon is one of the most successful politicians of this state. He is flexible, keen, shrewd, far-seeing and quiet. He observes, but his thoughts are his own. He knows what success means, and he adopts the tactics in vogue among the "brilliant republican leaders" of to-day to secure it. His sole power lies in one word, and that word is selfishness; and that is the sun and substance of politics in this day and generation.

The Dalles Chronicle: The Hon. Joseph Simon, of Portland, is again president of the Oregon senate. He made a splendid officer at the last session, and will, no doubt, prove equally capable and efficient now. No matter what happens Simon always comes out on top and when he says wiggle-waggle, wiggle-waggle goes. We admire his ability and energy, and his innate elements of success, and we think he will prove much more friendly to Eastern Oregon than he did two years ago, when he voted against the appropriation of $50,000 to build the portage railway at the Cascade Locks.

LEGISLATIVE REVIEW.

JOURNAL Editorial Headquarters, Legislative Assembly.

Owing to poor acoustic properties and swift reading of the clerks, not one member in ten understands what is read. Perhaps it is just as well.

Rep. Story made a clear point when he said that because the Senate had adjourned in an unconstitutional manner, the house should not follow its example.

The house adjourned with enough work for two weeks ahead of the state printer.

The bill by McAllister, for regulating conduct of politicians, caused great laughter. Much of the present conduct of candidates and campaign committees causes anything but agreeable sensations to honest citizens.

Introducing bills to appropriate money and increasing salaries seems to be the main business of members. There is still hope, however, that matters other than those of pecuniary interest will yet be considered.

The fact that in the Governor's message, the management of the only two strictly democratic state institutions is found worthy of encomium, has raised the ire of some republicans and precipitates a party fight that may affect the future of the asylum and penitentiary. Republicans declare that in singling out these two institutions for praise the Governor as much as says that those managed by republicans are unworthy of his excellency's commendation. To thus single out the asylum and penitentiary, which are known to be solely under democratic control for, and practically ignore all the rest is considered unjust, and brings those institutions into prominence as examples of excellent democratic management, as contrasted with all others. All persons posted about state politics know that, so far as the asylum superintendency is concerned, a storm has been brewing for nearly a year. One year ago a grand jury severely censured Dr. Lane's superintendency in their report. The next grand jury found no fault and Dr. Lane's friends claim all defects and abuses then complained of have been remedied and that the asylum is now managed above criticism. It is claimed by republican members that the democrats at the asylum and penitentiary were assessed in the late election and a corruption fund of $1,500 was raised to be used as a democratic campaign fund in Marion county, and they will demand of the republicans in authority that this club be taken from the hands of the democracy and not be used in future, and will so insist before the republican members of the state board in control. The Salem republican contingent are not alone in demanding Dr. Lane's removal, but a large democratic backing is prepared to urge his decapitation, so that virtually the present superintendent will have to fight for his retention before a board with a republican majority and between two lines of attack. The appointment of a joint committee by the legislature to investigate the asylum arouses new interest in a situation which is both interesting and delicate.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Grooton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent one above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. I gave it a fair trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Fry's Drugstore, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Novel Fruit Enterprise.

A Washington dispatch says: A company has been organized in Jamaica for the purpose of cultivating fruits and vegetables on a very large scale for the United States market. The capital is $250,000. It is intended to grow tomatoes, cucumbers, onions, potatoes, melons, bananas, oranges and other fruits during the winter months for export into the United States, and the cultivation of strawberries and grapes will be attempted. Some 2,000,000 boxes of fruit are landed in the city of New York from Mediterranean ports alone, chiefly oranges and lemons, and grapes have been imported with great success from Spain. Not long ago a steamer from Spain arrived in New York with 18,000 barrels of grapes packed in sawdust, which sold within a few hours after the vessel's arrival for $63,000, and the Jamaica propose to attempt an active competition for this trade.

There is Catarrh in all sections of the country, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, but constantly failed to cure with local treatment. This has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. For circulars and testimonials, address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Couldn't Leave His Post.

Presence of mind and ready wit are good traits to cultivate. In some emergencies they are most effective weapons of defence, as may be shown by the experience of a Yankee drummer boy during the war of the rebellion. He was out on a little foraging expedition one evening, all by himself, and had sealed a bristling picket fence to get at a tree full of tempting, rosy apples. He had filled his haversack, his pockets, his cap, and was trying to squeeze some into the bosom of his flannel shirt, when he was suddenly startled by a stentorian voice.
