WHEN WAS HE HERE?—A gentleman who came to Salem from North Dakota, several months since, wrote a letter to his home paper giving a summary of the resources and the progress of Salem. His letter seems to have touched some dyspeptic who, if he ever was in Oregon, camped in some swamp and imagined he was in Salem. Hear what he says: "I read your Salem letter with quite a good deal of interest—having at one time been a resident of that city—and I am of the opinion that by the time the writer has spent a year or two there he will lose some of his enthusiasm. I have seen the streets of Salem in such a condition that business men had to go from their places of business to their homes in boats, and those were the only means by which one could go from one portion of the city to another. There is more real health in Dakota than any place I have yet seen, and I have traveled over a good portion of the states. I do not think that such booming letters should be printed, for if any should be induced to go there on its recommendation the time is sure to come when they will be sorry for it. Undoubtedly the writer is honest in what he says, but one can not form a correct opinion of a country by living in it two or three months." The above was published a week later than the letter from Salem, in the same paper in which the Salem communication appeared. Any one who was ever in Salem knows his statements are not only untrue but are deliberate in their intent. To say that Dakota had "more real health" than Oregon! In the town in which his letter was written a convention of the people was held, only a few days previous to his writing, organizing a begging expedition, to go out and ask aid for the hundreds of sufferers in the town. This, in the face of starvation, is indeed consoling to the people. Let them come to Oregon and be happy here, for they never will be happy a day there.

AT THE OPERA TO-NIGHT.—A rare treat is in store for all to-night at Reed's opera house. The program which appears in another column is enough to assure a packed house. It is not often a concert has been gotten up with so many favorites on the program, Miss Willis always pleases her hearers with her superior culture. Miss Scriber's readings are a strong inducement for every body to go out to-night. The favorite quartette is too well known to need a single word of comment, they are praised by all the people of the city. Prof. John M. Coomer and Richard Ryley are the wizards on their lines and are artists of no small repute. Harry Keller and Charley Chase can entertain an audience in grand style by their novel music. Last but not least, Billy Dugan, will say some things to-night that you never heard before. Billy has a whole store of fun for the many. He has all the jokes and puns of the legislature cut and dried. The Second Regiment band will do their best also, and the boys do that well. In fact there is not a dull feature in the whole program. Everything is to be a gem from the stars of Salem's best artists.

THE MINERAL PLENTIFUL.—Some of the state papers have been asking if asbestos existed in the natural state in Oregon in sufficient quantities to be mined. The Oregonian has the following to say on the subject: "The mineral exists in a natural state in great quantities throughout the Willamette Valley, and even as far south as the California line. Many excellent beds of it are known to lie in such close proximity to railroads as to be readily available to transportation. It is stated on reliable authority that a syndicate has been formed in England to engage here in the preparation of the stuff on a large scale, and an agent is now here in search of information on the subject. The company proposes to manufacture the asbestos into covering for boilers and steam pipes."

RAILROADS.

No 97—To increase powers and define duties of railway commission. That it pass, with amendments.

Rep. McCraken argued for recommittal, that the railroad managers were coming to confer about this bill. Railroads have rights and are entitled to be heard, and demanded a hearing.

Rep. Miller said he had no knowledge of any such demand. This was an important measure and the people demanded such legislation and would brook no delays. There would be time for decision, and time for amendment, and this bill should not be recommitted or it would lose its place on the calendar.

Rep. Minto favored recommittal. He desired to go before the committee, and had only good will toward the railroads.

Rep Coleman opposed reference for the purpose of giving the railroad managers time to come here and lobby against it.

Rep Jennings argued that when members found defects in this bill and wished to make amendments, it would be time to refer.

The motion to re-commit was lost by a large majority.

The amendments proposed by the committee were then adopted seriatim.

Rep Minto stated that he was informed officially that Supt Koehler was taken to the Labish bridge, and shown its defective character a year before the fatality that occurred there. So the committee was not to blame.

Rep Coleman, urged that people demanded different services of a commission; less riding on palace cars and more actual work.

The report of the committee as amended was adopted.

THE RAILWAY COM.

was also favorably reported on and the report adopted.

Rep Wilkins moved that when house adjourn it be to Monday at 2 p. m. Lost.

The Com. on assessment and taxation reported a substitute for tax bills, with recommendations that it pass.

Rep McCoy moved it to go to second reading and be made special order for Tuesday at 2 p. m. in committee of the whole. Carried.

Rep. Miller, of Josephine, presented petition of 700 citizens of Linn county, in favor of being set off as a new county.

Rep Barnes sustained the petition and urged favorable consideration.

Referred to committee on counties.

Rep Paquet moved that senate bill No 6, appropriating $60,000 for a portage railway at the dalles of the Columbia, be recalled from the Com on railways, and the name of Malcolm Moody stricken out of commission and name of Secretary of State McBride inserted. Speaker argued that he was opposed to inserting names of private citizens in a commission of such importance to the state. The secretary of state could not properly be excused on account of disability. Rep Miller opposed, that the Com could act after full hearing in this matter.

Rep Holmes stated that Mr Moody did not wish his name to be used in its use would become a disturbing element in an enterprise so important to the whole state.

Rep Barnes stated that few realized what they were doing when voting in Mr Moody's name. It was unfortunate that a gentleman connected with one of two violent factions should have become by action of this house so prominent.

Rep. McCraken favored change. Rep Butler argued the importance to the people of this measure.

Rep Miller further explained that Sec of State McBride insisted his name should not be used.

Rep Hall declined to excuse Mr. McBride, who only for the time filled this place. The commission was to perpetually control this improvement, and its control should vest in the state executive council, and in no private citizen. This was not a personal matter. Mr. Moody stood high with all the state, but it was not proper to divide this responsibility between public officers and private citizens.

Rep Armstrong stated that it would not be necessary for Mr. McBride to leave his office to perform the duties imposed by this bill.

Speaker had just seen Mr. McBride and he said if house felt it was best to have him on the commission and his advice and counsel were to be preferred to that of any private citizen he was willing to serve.

Rep McCoy urged that the question of a proper person for this commission could most properly be brought before the committee. It was embarrassing to the friends of the measure to throw mud at Mr. Moody on the floor of the house. He was placed on the bill without his knowledge.

Rep. Jennings moved to table motion to reconsider. Carried.

NEW BILLS.

No 249—By McCraken, to protect wagon roads, forbidding wagons with tire less than three inches wide, with load of over 2,000 lbs., to be driven over wagon roads.

HOUSE—AFTERNOON.

The house is considering routine business and when it adjourns it will probably do so until Monday at 2 p. m.

THE MAYOR SUES.—The papers in the case of M. A. Moody, plaintiff, against George W. Rowland, H. C. Neilsen, W. M. Stewart, George A. Liebe, Thomas N. Joles, Isaac P. Joes, C. M. Dietzel, Leslie Butler and E. B. McFarland, were served on the defendants yesterday evening. The suit is brought to recover the sum of $50,000, Mr. Moody alleging that the defendants had slandered him to that extent in signing and presenting to the city council and causing to be published a statement concerning his possession of the water of Dalles City, said statement being the matter over which impeachment proceedings were instituted. W. Lair Hill, Bellinger, Dolph and Simon appear for the plaintiff.—Dalles Chronicle.

FIRES IN PORTLAND.—The old frame round house of the Southern Pacific company, at Portland was destroyed by fire last night. Two engines and three coaches were consumed. The building was the one built by the Oregon & California road several years ago. The loss is estimated at about $30,000. The grocery store of W. H. Ambrose, at Sunnyside was also burned to the ground, with a loss of about $5000. The family lived in the upper story of the building.

HAD NO LICENSE.—Jack Wilkes, who is an agent for a benevolence and insurance company, of California, was arrested in this city yesterday for violating the laws of Oregon relating to insurance companies doing business in this state. A member of the firm is expected to arrive in Salem to-morrow from San Francisco, when the case will be heard. Wilkes claims that he was not aware that the company was required to hold a license in order to put an agent in the field in this state. He was released on bail.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Salem to Have Another Lumber Yard—Work Already Begun on the Buildings.

Salem will soon have a much needed enterprise and will get it without giving any bonus for its establishment. The Coburg Lumbering company, of Lane county, have bought a tract of land from Dr. J. W. Meredith which lies just south of the barn of Hayes & Vercler on Twelfth street, and will commence to erect suitable buildings on it at once. The company have large mills at Coburg and make all kinds of lumber. The mills are in a locality where the best of timber can be had. A side track will be put in so that cars of lumber can be shunted right into their building.

This lumber yard will be a valuable acquisition to the Salem building enterprise, as many contractors have been compelled to send to Mills City and other points for lumber to fill orders and to meet their obligations. Nearly a million dollars was expended in the building interest in Salem last year and that is only a beginning of what will be done in the next few years. The lumbering mills of this city are inadequate to supply the constant demand for lumber, for it comes not only from Salem, but from the country around Salem where much progress is being made.

HORSE THIEF CAUGHT.

A Probable Clue to Where the Missing Horses Have Gone from Marion County.

The following telegram from Portland will throw some light on the subject of horse stealing in this county:

PORTLAND, Jan. 30.—This morning the police arrested a man giving his name as Isaac Mozart. Mozart is wanted at Salem to answer a charge of horse stealing. He had in his possession a bay horse taken from the barn of Geo. Ramp, near Brooks. The officers think the other missing horses are in this city.

Wednesday night some person went to the barn of Alex Scharbach, in the south end of this county, and helped himself to a horse. He then went to the farm of Geo. Ramp, near Brooks, and there left the horse and took one from the barn of Mr. Ramp. It is very probable the other horses missing from Marion and Clackamas counties are in Portland.

NOT ALONE.—While Portland is bragging on its roses and Astoria on its January strawberry crop, Pendleton has a word to say. Crocuses are in bloom in the garden of a lady, Mrs. N. M. Perkins, residing in this city. This is only mentioned as an evidence that we are having a little weather ourselves.—E. O.—Salem can also speak. A gentleman who lives a few miles out from this city, says peach trees are in bloom and garden flowers are numerous in the city.

ALL THERE.—Cherrington Bros. are planning to make a large group picture of each branch of the legislature and for this purpose have photographed nearly every senator and representative. They have also a group of the oldest and youngest in the senate and the tallest and shortest in the house. They are on exhibition at their gallery. It d&w

In addition to their stock of groceries, Messrs. Fishburn & Co. have placed on their shelves a nice stock of crockery, glassware and table cutlery, consisting of queens ware and the best imported semi-porcelain ware, also some of the atest patterns in glassware.

UPHOLSTERING.—Keller & Marsh in addition to their immense line of furniture, have put in a fine upholstering department and have an expert engaged. Any one needing upholstering done will do well to see Keller & Marsh.

LOOK AT THIS.—Until March 1st, no longer, the Court street jeweler will sell Elgin or Waltham stem winding watches in dust-proof-silverine cases at $8.10. Some in jointed cases $7.85, other goods in proportion. 1-27-t f. d&w.

SEVEN DOLLARS PER DAY.—The Corvallis Times, speaking of the salaries of Oregon's legislators, says: While bills are being introduced by the hundred and acted on by our wise legislative assembly at Salem, some of the members are not neglecting their own individual welfare, for a bill has been introduced asking that the pay of members be increased to seven dollars per day. This must look large to some of our granger representatives. Just think. Seven dollars equals about eleven bushels of wheat. Eleven bushels of wheat per day for forty days would make 440 bushels. If this bill passes, the members from the rural districts can go to Salem, and in forty days accomplish the same thing that usually takes a whole year at home.

Miss Willis, Oregon's greatest soprano, at opera house to-night.

CATTLE DYING.—Reports from some parts of Eastern Oregon say that cattle are dying around Moro in considerable numbers, and there is a fatality among horses. One man has lost one-half of his band of cattle, and another twenty head, and both fed from the same straw stack. Believing it to be some poisonous weed in the feed, the hay has been burned; but the fatality still continues. The state veterinary surgeon has been asked to go to the vicinity and ascertain if possible the cause of the disease and prevent it from spreading.

TIMBER AND TIMBER LANDS

I have 800 acres of good timber land for sale, one of the best sites for a mill in Oregon. This tract of timber is located one mile from R. R. I also have three other small tracts for sale of 160 acres each. I also make a specialty of locating homesteads and preemptions and timber claims in favorable localities. Parties wanting government land will do well to consult me as I am well posted in all the land laws and latest decisions of the general land office. I have three relinquishments for sale that are well located, handy to O. P. Co's R. R. Will be sold cheap. I can be seen at my residence one block east of Cook Hotel, Salem, Or. W. W. HEPBURN.
