CLOSING SCENES IN THE SENATE.

This morning at an early hour the Oregon senators, who are noted for small hands and large hearts—(but oh my, what a grip!) met in the senate chamber, and proceeded to pack their grips and prepare for the long looked for journey homeward.

This session of the legislature is one that will long be remembered by the people of Oregon, although it has been charged with many extravagant appropriations, yet no unnecessary appropriation has been made.

Of the officer, of the senate the JOURNAL is free to state that nowhere could a more gentlemanly set of officials be found, from the president including all the clerks, to the seargeant-at arms.

While the JOURNAL has not approved President Simon's actions altogether, yet as an impartial and efficient presiding officer, we can truely say his equal would be hard to find.

Chief Clerk O. P. Miller by his efficiency and untiring efforts greatly facilitated the legislative work of the senate.

A. B. Watson, first assistant, is one of the best journal clerks, and we opine that the records of the senate will bear us out in this statement.

J. B. Eddy, the reading clerk, is one of the best readers it has been our good pleasure to hear. He never makes a mistake and can read any thing that could be made out by a Philadelphia lawyer. He can get that position whenever he asks for it.

Frank Middleton, the calendar clerk, has so performed his work that it will show a complete history of every act, bill or resolution of the legislature.

Sergeant-at-Arms Pomeroy has made an excellent officer and has at all times been found efficient and faithful.

Least in age but not in service are Pages Carl Nicklin and Lyman Keady, who have each proven themselves perfect gentlemen.

A word of commendation is due the janitor for the faithful manner in which he has discharged his duty. He has always kept the house neat and tidy, kept the room comfortably heated and well ventilated.

THE AMERICAN EDITOR AND GEORGE WASHINGTON.

February 22nd! It is a remarkable day and, why? Asks the diurnal recorder, the daily editor. The 22nd of February, ah, yes! We must write a special editorial in honor of the occasion—Washington's birthday.

The birthday of the great heart who watched over the birth throes of our great nation is indeed worthy of our too humble recognition! The calm quiet grandeur of a hero, who won from the clutches of the past the ideal of a great republic and embodied it, is indeed an epic text that every pen should bow down to.

The very freedom which we so royally claim as our birthright and license, dates from the placing of this high name on the pages of history. The power of free born utterances which we claim as our own developed talents is but the reboundings of that one life which dropped into the wide sea of our national thought. Calm, lofty, self-possessed Washington, the Father of our Country, indeed, for see how his benign conception of human equality and freedom of the individual stilllives and is honored!

Hundreds of thousands of pens are afire with his praises today—tongues unnumbered speak his name, and hearts and heads bow down in prayerful love of home and fatherland, because one true man stood stoutly for the new-born nation until she might be self sustaining and honored abroad.

Can the poor pen soldier, say enough of the great general, whose country to defend was but a fledgling, and whose host but a weak band—strong in their love for freedom?

It comes home to a citizen editor as to no one else perhaps what a mightily planted rock our nation today is standing upon, and Washington's personality embodied this idea. In the whirl and pitching of our great national life, seen from the outpost of the newspaper, the ballast in the bottom of the ship must indeed be well gauged else she would have gone over long ago. The hold is big and the mast is high, and the hour is giving her all the wind she'll carry; but see, she rides bravely over the highest wave. Why? Because she's built true and fine and plumb and firm.

Then come, let us love the name of Washington together, let us assemble and honor him in word and song, for we are his sons in liberty and our everyday heritage fell from his bestowing hand.

And more than all others let him who realizes the deeper significance of the hour stir his fellows to the thought whether he be standing in the pulpit of the church or press.

Praise the name of Washington!

THE LEGISLATURE.

HOUSE—EVENING.

SALEM, Feb 20, '91.

BILLS PASSED.

No 225—By Fulton, to change the time of holding terms of county court in Clatsop county.

No 223—By Raley, to punish minors over 16 years of age for obtaining liquor by false pretenses.

No 97—By Willis, amending an act regulating the sale of spirituous liquors.

No 20—By Hilton, regulating salaries and fees of stock inspectors of Gilliam, Harney, Sherman and Polk counties.

BILLS LOST.

No. 175—By Raley, to provide for the funding of indebtedness of counties.

No. 214—By Sinclair, making eight hours a legal day's work.

Rep Welch moved indefinite postponement. Carried by a viva voce vote. Upon protest of Rep Paquet, the speaker recognized that gentleman, the vote was reconsidered and Rep Paquet spoke in favor of the bill. He made a brief but warm speech and called attention to the pledges of the members made last June. He said: It is a bill in the interests of the people of this state. We cannot afford to treat the laboring men in this way. Every man before me now stood up on the platform last June and pledged to the people who sent him here to support the eight hour system. No matter what party any member may represent here he is under the same pledge to the people of this state who demanded this in every platform which appeared in the campaign, and faithful to my pledge I vote aye.

No. 157—By Weatherford, amending section 213, Hill's Code, relating to debtors' earnings.

No. 114—By Tongue, by request, amending section 2, code of civil procedure, relating to time of commencing action for recovery of property.

No. 55—By Willis, relating to regulation of the insurance business in Oregon.

They concluded their work a little after 10 o'clock and put in the remainder of the time to 1:15 o'clock in passing resolutions tantalizing the senate and giving compliments to the members and causing fun to keep them awake.

At 1 o'clock a new bill was brought in from the senate and rushed through, creating a state board of equalization.

TIMBER AND TIMBER LANDS

I have 800 acres of good timber land for sale, one of the best sites for a mill in Oregon. This tract of timber is located one mile from R. R. I also have three other small tracts for sale of 160 acres each. I also make a specialty of locating homesteads and preemptions and timber claims in favorable localities. Parties wanting government land will do well to consult me as I am well posted in all the land laws and latest decisions of the general land office. I have three relinquishments for sale that are well located, handy to O.P. Co's R. R. Will be sold cheap. I can be seen at my residence one block east of Cook Hotel, Salem, Or. W. W. HEPBURN,

Notice.

THE Salem Lumber Co. this day dissolved by mutual consent. All persons knowing themselves indebted to said company are requested to make immediate payment to J. W. Carr, in charge of the books. Signed, A. R. DUNCAN. J. G. DORRANCE.

HE WAS ASHAMED

To Ask Again, but His Frank Letter Got It for Him.

A few months ago one of the unfortunate inmates in the San Francisco Almshouse was inspired by the sensational statements in the newspapers with the belief that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla would help him. But without money, how to get it was the question. Finally he wrote to the Edwin W. Joy Co., appealing to their generosity, and it was not unheeded, the coveted preparation being sent by the next parcel delivery. Its effect is best told in a subsequent letter, from which we quote the following:—

"I suppose you know me by this writing, and my circumstances and condition. Although improving, I ask of your generosity for another bottle of your Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Its laxative action is perfection itself. It has so thoroughly regulated my system that my catarrh, rheumatism, constipation, and headaches are all better. I feel ashamed to ask in this way, but what shall I do? I thought I might not need any more, but I am now so anxious to keep it up, but you see how it is."

It was sent, and he can get more if he needs it.
