noble title of Countess of Meran, although she was never recognize as an Austrian princess. Her son inherited her rank, not his father's, and both lived to endure the miseries that follow the mesalliances of royalty. The countess, forsaken by her husband, spent most of her time in educating her son, and he, in turn, proved a faithful companion to his mother. His death is the last chapter of the story.

SUICIDE OF A MERCHANT.

CAMDEN, N. J., April 8.—John M. H. Stow, a Philadelphia commission merchant, living at 374 Micke street, this city, committed suicide this morning at his home, by shooting himself through the heart. He loaded an old gun and placed the muzzle at his heart, and with a poker struck the trigger. Death was instantaneous. Stow was engaged in business on Dock street, Philadelphia.

BEHRING SEA PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The president this afternoon issued a Behring sea proclamation.

EDMUNES RESIGNS.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Senator George T. Edmunds, of Vermont, who has been in the United States senate since April 1866, and has nearly, if not quite, all of that time been one of the republican leaders, has resigned to take effect the first of November next. In his letter to the governor, he says: "In this terminating of my offical relations with the state I beg to express to her steadfast, intelligent and patriotic citizens my profound gratitude for the long and unwavering confidence and support they have given me, covering an eventful period of a quarter of a century, in my effort to promote and defend so far as I have been able their honor and welfare, in common with that of all people of the United States. In ceasing to be a senator I am proud that I continue to be a citizen of our beloved commonwealth, and that I may, with my fellow citizens in a private life, continue to strive for maintainance of those principles of liberty, equality and justice in the government, which have without a shadow of turning animated them from the foundation of the republic."

The senator also sent a letter of notification to Vice President Morton.

EDMUNDS' RESIGNATION.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., April 8.—The resignation of Senator Edmunds was unexpected in Vermont, and was a surprise to his constituents. The appointment of his successor devolves upon Governor Page as the legislature is not in session. The candidates are Secretary of War Proctor, Congressman Powers and ex-Governor Smith.

CHICAGO REPUBLICANS.

CHICAGO April 8.—Yesterday was the most exciting election held in Chicago for many years, and according to the returns at midnight Hempstead Washburn, republican, is leader in the mayoralty fight by a safe plurality.

The democrats had a formidable split in their ranks by the independent candidacy of ex-Mayor Harrison, but the republicans were no better off owing to a citizens' movement, led by Elmer Washburn. Both Harrison and Elmer Washburn, particularly the former, polled a vote amazing to party politicians. Harrison is said to have the secret support of a large number of the wealthy men of the city, who are backing the world's fair. His old-time strength with the foreign-speaking populace, especially Germans and Bohemians, also returned to him heavily.

Elmer Washburn's vote, while a surprise to machine politicians, was something of a disappointment to his friends, being confined more closely than was expected to the members of American societies. The turning point in the contract was to a considerable extent the Irish American vote.

The day was marked by a number of bloody affrays. Even the bootblacks fought over politics. Frank Gallio, aged 14, was stabbed and seriously injured by another boy named Clements, because Gallio abused Clements' candidate. Thos. Haskell was shot and fatally wounded at the polling place by Ben Suppie, in a political quarrel. In a free-for-all fight, James Scott, colored, was shot and fatally injured. J. D. Clark became involved in a dispute and was fatally beaten.

Four hundred and fifty precincts give Creiger, 38,657; Harrison, 36,-502, H. Washburn, 41,733; E. Washburn, 20,755; Morgan 1781.

CHICAGO IN DOUBT.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Comptroller Onahan said to an Associated Press reporter: "At this hour (11:30) it is believed that Creiger is elected, but it will evidently take official returns to determine conclusively." The city press association says Hempstead Washburn is elected by 1100 plurality, with seven precincts to hear from.

CREIGER ELECTED.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Colonel Nye, chairmen of the republican campaign committee, went before the election commissioners this morning and requested that two members of his committee be permitted to remain on guard over the vault in which the returns and documents are preserved, day and night until the official canvass has taken place. "My reason for asking this" he said, "is amply sufficient. I have been informed upon unquestionable authority that Mayor Cregier has declared no circumstance can remove him from office for two years." At 1:40 p. m. Comptroller Onahan said his figures made late last night and gone over today by other persons and that the result is unchanged. Giving victory to Cregier by 235 votes.

P. T. BARNUM IS DEAD.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. April 8.—P. T. Barnum died at 6:22 Tuesday evening.

Phineas Taylor Barnum was born in Bethel, Conn., July 5, 1810. He went into business at the early age of 13. He was married in 1829, and a short time thereafter commenced the publication of a weekly newspaper, entitled "The Herald of Freedom." Later Mr. Barnum travelled through the South with small shows, which were generally unsuccessful. In 1842 he first heard of Charles S. Stratton, of Bridgeport, Conn., then less than two feet high and weighing sixteen pounds, who soon became known to the world, under the directorship of Mr. Barnum, as Tom Thumb. He also introduced Jenny Lind to the American people, thereby making a fortune. He was the founder of "P. T. Barnum's Greatest Show on Earth." He was four times a member of the Connecticut legislature and mayor of Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Con., April 8.—Deep and profound sorrow prevails throughout the city to-day over the death of P. T. Barnum. Flags are displayed at half mast and emblems of mourning can be seen everywhere. The funeral is to be held Friday afternoon. Barnum leaves an estate of over $5,000,000 by will, largely to his legal heirs.

KANSAS REPUBLICAN.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 8.—The results of the municipal elections in Kansas yesterday as shown from the latest returns indicate that the majority of offices in the towns were carried by the republicans, with the exceptions of Kansas City, Topeka and Leavenworth. The women's vote was very light.

BACK IN THE RANKS.

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—Elections were held in Kansas today in all cities of first and second classes. Although without general political significance, the result of the election is regarded with considerable interest for two reasons.

First, because the citizens' alliance has tickets in the field and is fighting all other parties. The returns from several cities show that the citizens' alliance did not cut much of a figure, excepting where it endorsed the democratic nominees. In those places they were successful in electing the democratic nominees. Abeline is the only city reporting a citizens' alliance victory. Returns from Leavenworth show that the entire republican ticket is elected. This is the first republican victory for six years in that vicinity. At Lawrence the republicans were also successful. They elected their full ticket with the exception of two members of the council, which were elected by the citizens' alliance. At Clay Center, the republicans defeated the citizens' alliance, and at Wichita the democrats carried everything. Atchison elects republican officers, with the republicans in control. At Ottawa all parties combined against the republicans, but the latter were successful.

COLORADO DEMOCRATIC.

LEADVILLE, April 8.—Leadville has elected a republican mayor and aldermen, while Trinidad gave everything to the democrats. Returns from various points in the state show something like a democratic landslide.

DENVER, Colo., April 8.—Denver today has a democratic mayor for the first time in her history.

WHEAT WILL GO UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—A. C. Paulsell, a prominent grain merchant, was interviewed by the Evening Post regarding the report of the promised shortage in the European wheat crop. He said: "This would improve prospects in this state for good prices for our wheat crop. Everything seems to indicate that the price of wheat will be larger this year than last. The acreage of wheat this year is very large."

SUICIDE AT THE DALLES.

THE DALLES, April 8.—R. C. Patterson was arrested last night by the marshal, who supposed he was drunk. Soon after being lodged in jail the man died. The coroner's jury found that death resulted from an overdose of morphine. He was formerly a locomotive engineer and leaves a family at Yaquina bay.

DROWNED IN THE SANTIAM.

ALBANY, April 8.—Mrs. Mary McHale was drowned at Coe, on the eastward line of the Oregon Pacific railroad, Sunday. In company with two other women she attempted to cross the Santiam river on a log, when she slipped and fell in. The body was carried down by the swift current, and although rescued within half an hour, a mile below the scene of the accident, was frightfully mangled by contact with the rocks. She was a widow, recently from Michigan, and had taken up land there. The remains were brought to this city last evening.

OPEN RIVER.

PORTLAND, April 8.—The meeting called by the chamber of commerce to devise means of overcoming obstacles in the Columbia river, met at 1:30 this afternoon. Delegates are present from all interested sections.

The organization was effected by electing Ex-Senator McConnell, of Idaho, chairman. All persons who came here for the purpose of attending the conference were admitted as members. President Osborn, of the chamber of commerce, stated the object of the conference and also gave his views briefly, as to the best means of securing an open river. He thought the work would have to be undertaken by a corporate body in order to give it legal standing. A general discussion of the subject was then begun.

G. A. R. AT ASTORIA.

ASTORIA, April, 8.—The department of G. A. R. began their annual encampment this afternoon. About two hundred delegates arrived this morning. The city is profusely decorated, also the shipping. A reception was given the delegates this morning at the opera house.

Hopeless, Yet Saved.

Took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me and I am now well and hearty." Trial free at Fry's Drugstore.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Every movement which aims to develope humane impulses and overcome brutality of feeling and action deserves general encouragement. All experience shows that the force of law is required to prevent cruelty by a certain peceutage of men. Of all forms of brutality practiced in civilized communities, perhaps none is more reprehensible than the maltreatment of the poor, dumb brutes which do so much valuable service for their masters and are so often requited by kicks and blows. A vicious temper in the human brute is apt to find its expression in acts of cruelty to the dumb animal. It is proposed to form in this city a society which shall have for its object the prevention of cruelty of this description. It will be organized on the same lines as those upon which similar associations are successfully working in other cities. Every reader will at once recall instances of cruelty to animals which have come under his own observation and for which there was no punishment. no one being especially authorized to interfere on behalf of the suffering animals and arrest the cruel perpetrators of the outrages. In all the large cities there have been organized societies to take up this good work, the members of which are by law empowered to make arrests, and the very best results have followed. Acts of cruelty to animals in cities having such societies are now rare, the punishment of fine or imprisonment serving as an effective check on persons inclined to brutality.—Seattle Telegraph.

SUGGESTED COMMENT.

E. W. Davis: Don't be surprised to hear of the organization of some more granges. People want something conservative, yet outspoken something with a history yet not moss covered; something purifying but not partisan; something earnest but not too hasty. They appreciate thoughtfulness, and the thoughtful farmer says: "I know the grange; it is true, it is tried; it is sincere; it is progressive."

Ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas says: "The existing political parties, however, may, by their platforms and candidates not initiated, make such concessions to the alliance as to cause its members to return to their respective folds with the belief that the evils that they seek to redress will be reformed in their households."

Astorian: The benefits of an open river can be appreciated when it is known that wheat brings 72 cents in Albany, nearly as distant from Portland as The Dalles, and only 62½ cents in the latter city. The reason for this, says the Times-Mountaineer, is the cheapness of transportation because of the river being free to producers.

Ashland Tidings: The Salem cannery people have contracted for 2,000,000 cans to be used the coming season. This cannery was only started last year but has met with such success that two carloads of new machinery will be added for the coming season's work and the output this year will be four times what it was last, and will employ 100 hands in the busy season.

J. S. Barbee, national organizer of alliances in California, writes this: "We fill up the vile, bloodyshirt chasm and walk smoothly over it into the White House in 1892. Do you ask what we propose filling this chasm with? There is only one material that could fill so vile a spot, and that is the miserable carcasses of rotten partisan politicians and political bosses."

The alliance managers generally do not talk as wild as Barbee. It is not the way to make friends for a good cause.

Two Chicago grain operators maintain a special wire to San Francisco to secure late pointers on the wheat crop. Of course, this is not done at their own expense, nor to benefit the farmers. It comes out of the producer. Is not this an argument in favor of government control of the telegraph? The telegraph is the life of all speculations on futures.
