Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Republicans and the Alliance.

Republicans and republican papers of the progressive sort are not unfriendly to the alliance. The Dalles Times-Mountaineer says:

The farmers' alliance may not be entirely composed of men of great financial ability, or of any large practical experience in managing finances on an extensive scale; but it must be recollected that very many of our farmers are men of judgment and education. Events in the last few years have had a tendency to impoverish producers because of high freights and lack of means of transportation. Consolidated capital has been riveting its bonds on the country, and no class suffers more than those who till the soil. Perhaps this oppressive power of capital has been experienced more in the northwest than in any other portion of the country, and the appeals for redress have been unheeded. For long years our producers have looked to the general government to give them an open river to the sea; but work at the locks has proceeded so slowly that the people have lost hope and become almost desperate. In this emergency they will not look to the old parties—which have not fulfilled the promises made in times past—but are willing to cast their fortunes with the farmers' alliance, or any other movement which is a departure from the old methods. Curtail corporate power over the different branches of government, open the navigable rivers of the country, and the republican party at the next election will carry Oregon with the usual large majority. This is true in every part of the country, and, while we believe in adherence to the party of one's choice, there are reasons for the existence of third parties, and it is well to carefully consider them.

Which is True?

In answer to an item in the Democrat that Portland people send immigrants to the Sound, the Oregonian says, in part: "The statement that "Portland people take pains to send newcomers to Puget sound rather than to the Willamette" is absurdly false and falsely absurd. Portland has worked and is working infinitely more for Oregon than for Washington." We would like to believe this true; but the almost universal verdict of people visiting Portland, who make observations on the matter is directly the opposite. The Oregonian takes occasion to write a sermon from the item asserting that "it is true that millions of dollars of Portland's capital have been sent into Washington for investments, but this is because Washington invites investment, while the laws of Oregon are most unfriendly and unfavorable to the placing of money in loans or in business enterprise." If the immigrant is to be cinched by enormous interest if he goes there, then why does he not come to Oregon where our laws protect the farmer and borrower generally. That's what surprises us in reference to this particular matter. Nevertheless we are getting a healthy immigration, and some day the Willamette valley will be the most densely populated section of the Pacific Coast, regardless of our usury laws. —Albany Democrat.

East Oregonian: When a few months ago there was a prospect of the enactment of a free silver coinage law, the Oregonian was sure there was no such thing as a creditor class, and that all outstanding obligations would be payable in depreciated silver money, to the great wrong of the money lender. Recently that same journal has discovered that "90 per cent of the farm mortgages are owned by moneyed corporations," and that "fully one-half of all the mortgage indebtedness of the country is in terms expressly payable in gold." The serious result of all this is, according to the Oregonian, that free coinage would send gold to a premium of 20 per cent, and that the borrowers would have to make the difference good in cheap dollars. In the early discussion of the subject the great man of Portland-on-Willamette was opposed to free coinage because capitalists were to be robbed. Now his opposition proceeds from the conviction that the poor man will be robbed. If that editor had just a little more cunning and a little less mendacity he would make a wonderful diplomat.

Children's hats for 25 cts. at Calvert's.

Spoiled Children and the Kindergarten.

A great many people do nothing for their little children but develope their tempers. The right development which such little tots need is best to be obtained by the Kindergarten method, which develops mind, heart, soul and hands. Screams and resistance are all that many people succeed in drawing out of a child by their profound ignorance of child nature, which is the only subject they are deep in—deep in ignorance. Just this sort of mis-development the Kindergarten will best remedy and supplant. The expense of a few dollars a month is as nothing compared to the limited talents and misery flowing from an evil temper which people bestow on a child by their own stupidity. The worst of it is, those who are best fitted to spoil a child have the least appreciation of what the Kindergarten can do for it.

Chained to the Rock.

Prometheus was chained to the rock while vultures gnawed his entrails. So are many people chained to the rock of prejudice while all manner of violent medicine inflict injury's upon the sensitive lining of the stomach and intestines. They are apparently immovable in the belief that to experience benefit they they must keep dosing with drastic medicines. Unless the action of these is powerful and excessive, they are not satisfied. They would distrust a remedy of gentle action, however effective. It is not by such purblind extremists as these that the acknowledged merits of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are recognized. That benign regulator of the stomach, the bowels and the kidneys appeals to the rational—not only appeals, but is awarded a just valuation. Constipation, liver complaint, dyspepsia and kidney troubles yield to its action. So also do malaria and rheumatism.

East Oregonian: The big, fat Oregonian consumes a great deal more than it really earns, and it well knows this would not be possible if its conservatism (?) was broken into by "cranks" and "anarchists." The Oregonian is a great vulture whose thrift is greatest when it has the most power over the people. It cares little or nothing about its influence with the people, because it well knows there is little in it. The power to take is the power it craves, wants and works for. It is the power of the age- the money devil's power—and this is the power the Oregonian regards; we will not say respects.

WOMEN AND MICE.

The reason why a woman is afraid of a mouse is a profound mystery—indeed, it has never been very clearly proven that she is. But some women are constantly in such a nervous, irritable condition that the slightest thing annoys and startles them. The cause of this unfortunate state of affairs is usually some functional derangement; some distressing or painful irregularity, some derangement or peculiar weakness incident to her sex; or, it may be due to inflammation, ulceration or displacement, of some of the pelvic viscera, or to other organic lesions peculiar to her sex. From whichever cause it may arise, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive remedy, so certain in its curative results that its manufacturers sell it, through druggists, under a guarantee of its giving satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" subdues nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other nervous symptoms attendant upon disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves anxiety and despondency.
