Blanc, Monte Carlo. The meeting was one succession of quarrels. Finally Dreyfus, jumping from the platform, began to thump one of the electors, who had been most prominent in interrupting him. VON MOLTKE DEAD.

BERLIN, April 25.—The death of Von Moltke is announced.

Von Moltke attended a session of the Reichstag yesterday afternoon. His death was very sudden, and the physicians who were summoned announced that it was caused by failure of the heart. He passed away at 9:45 p. m., quietly and painlessly.

[Count von Moltke, whose death is announced, was born Oct 26, 1800, at Parchim, in Mecklenburg, and educated at the military academy of Copenhagen; entered the Prussian army in 1822, and was appointed a member of the staff in 1832. He procured a furlough in 1835 for several years, and entered the service of Turkey. He returned home in 1841, and returned to his military duties, and became chief of staff of the whole army of Prussia in 1858. In this position he made his name renowned as a general. Under his inspiring leadership the staff became a most convenient and effective means of commanding the army, and in subsequent wars his plans and dispositions resulted in an unbroken series of brilliant victories. In 1864, in the war against Denmark, Moltke led the army for the first time. Two years later, in the war against Austria, he entered a larger theater of action, and showed his talent as a strategist in the most brilliant manner, ending the war in six weeks with the great victory of Sadowa. Honors were voted him and he was elected a deputy to the North German diet. The brilliant success of the campaign in France in 1870-71 was largely due to his magnificent combinations. Further honors were showered upon him at the conclusion of the war, being created a count, given one of the five grand crosses of the Iron Cross, and made field marshal, besides receiving a grant of a large sum of money from the government. Although past ninety years of age his interest in national affairs was unabated, and he was keenly alive to the welfare of the great empire which he was largely instrumenta in forming.

VON MOLTKE FUNERAL.

BERLIN, April 25.—The will of Count Von Moltke who died last night states he desired his burial to take place at Croisau where his wife and child are buried. The funeral if the count's request is followed is to be strictly private but it is thought that possibly the emperor will overrule the dead soldier's wishes and that the funeral will be made the occasion for a grand military display. A great crowd of people respectful and sympathetic surround the count's residence and throng the streets. Many stores in the leading thoroughfares are closed and the city throughout is commencing to display emblems of mourning. Both houses of the Prussian diet have adjourned until Monday next.

In a telegram of sympathy Emperor Willim said: "The field marshal's death is a greater loss to Germany than the loss of an army corps would have been." The emeproor has summoned all the princes and crowned heads of the different German states to the funeral which takes place next Thursday and which will be attended by military ceremonies. The remains will lie in state, in the apartment in which the count died, until Thursday morning. Lessing, the famous sculptor, took a cast of the dead field marshal's face this afternoon.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S TRIP.

PASADENA, April 25.—The president and party were treated to a beautiful floral display yesterday during a two hours' drive through the principal streets of this "crown of the valley." They had a fine escort composed of local military and civic organizations. The president and Mrs. Harrison and Mayor Luckens occupied a carriage decorated with acacia blossoms and drawn by four horses wearing feathery plumes. A chilly Scotch mist pervaded the atmosphere during the morning, but it was not sufficient to dampen the enthusiam of the people who cheered the president all along the line. Business was generally suspended, and all the inhabitants of the city and surrounding country were on the streets.

SANTA BARBARA, April 25.—The visit of President Harrison to Santa Barbara yesterday afternoon was celebrated in the most ubique and characteristic manner. It is the first time in the history of this ancient Spanish city that it has been honored with the presence of the chief magistrate of the United States. A procession was formed at the station, composed of a cavalcade of Spanish citizens in their native costumes, the Army, and a brigade of children and citizens in gaily decorated carriages. The party was first escorted to the Promenade des Anglais, a beautiful drive bordered on both sides with mountains, dotted with picturesque villas. Here they witnessed a battle of flowers, participated in by ladies and gentlemen, in open carriages so covered with flowers and green that they were completely obscured. Each carriage was provided with a profusion of small bouquets, and as they passed each other in converging lines, the occupants threw flowers at each other with zest and precision. The president and party viewed the picturesque battle from a grand stand simply covered with flowers. There were four columns along the front, in the construction it is estimated that nearly 20,000 calla lilies were used.

When the battle was finished, the president and party were escorted by the late combatants and calvacade of ladies and gentlemen in Spanish costumes to the old Santa Barbara mission. The party were received here by Father O'Keefe, the superior, and his assistants, and shown through that historic edifice, by virtue of a special dispensation. After the reception a ball took place at the hotel, during which there were several old-fashioned Spanish dances by ladies in costume. The party left at midnight for San Francisco.

BATTERY OF BOUQUETS

FRESNO, April 25.—The president and his party arrived here at 8:30 morning. The president received a cordial welcome. He was introduced to the people by Judge A. R. Conkling and was about to respond when he was assaulted by showers of bouquets, and he was forced to seek shelter in his car. Seeing the president did not fancy this treatment, the people desisted, whereupon the president again advanced to the front of the car platform and again addressed them.

SOLDIERS KILL HUNT.

WALLA WALLA, April 25.—Last evening, at 9:15, D. J. Hunt, the slayer of Private Miller on Wednesday night, was lynched by soldiers from the garrison, and fell in the court house yard riddled with sixteen bullets, four of which entered his head.

The plans of the soldiers were carefully laid, as sentinels were posted at all the streets approaching the court house, with cocked carbines in their hands, who halted every passer by, and compelled him to retrace his steps under threats of instant death. After the shooting the soldiers all ran off, and Hunt was found dead within fifty feet of the court house door.

People who heard the shots knew what had happened, and in a few minutes 2000 persons were at the scene. It is difficult to identify those concerned. The coroner's jury found that "Hunt came to his death by sixteen gunshot wounds inflicted at the hands of a mob, who from a description of the clothing, were supposed to be soldiers, but no particular person could be named; also that the sheriff used every precaution in his power to protect the prisoner.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Those who are sick at the college are slowly improving.

Miss Ida Downing, of Silverton, has lately entered the conservatory.

A spirited discussion was engaged in last night by the Philodorians, on the New Orleans lynching affair.

Mr. Albert White, of Tacoma, who has been visiting Prof. Arnold, was present at chapel one day this week.

Owing to the fact that a number of the members of the Musical society will take part in the entertainment to be given by the I. O. O. F., their usual meeting for Monday evening has been postponed.

Prof. Jory has been absent this week on account of sickness in his family. His pupils hope soon to hear that they are convalescent, and that he may soon be in his place, which is now supplied by members of the different classes.

The students below the third year class recited their essays and declamations last Thursday before the various teachers, and were gratified to hear the announcement that they were excused from further duty of the kind for the year.

The graduating exercises of the law class promise to be an entertainment of high order, and the room will no doubt be crowded to its utmost capacity. Judge Bean, of the supreme court, delivers the commencement address.

The committee looking after the interests of the excursion for May 2d, will learn today what boat is to be had, and all necessary arrangements will be made. The band purposes to give a concert on the boat, and a good time will no doubt be had by all who are fortunate enough to hold one of the limited number of tickets.

SCROFULA

A great majority of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings on the side of the neck; causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; develops sores in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" and fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption, and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by its remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula or impure blood, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. D. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Improve Your Strawberry Stock.

TO STRAWBERRY GROWERS.

A Wonderful New Berry—Originated in Oregon—The Matteson.

There has been originated in the great strawberry region about Turner and Aumsville a new seedling variety, propagated by Matteson & Matteson, at their Red Hill Berry Farm. The first berries sent to the CAPITAL JOURNAL office, Salem, last year were of this variety, and they were the most perfect fruit in every respect that was shown in this city. The berry is of a deep red clear through, high flavor, yet sweeter than most kinds. An experience in producing the finer sorts of strawberries, leads the editor of this paper to say that he does not know of A SUPERIOR BERRY IN FINENESS OF QUALITY in every respect to

THE MATTESON.

He has secured the sole agency from the originators and now for the first time places a limited supply on the market. Testing the fruit, and a description of its habits, leads the editor of the JOURNAL to conclude that it has exactly those qualities that must be sought after to produce fine berries in Oregon. It is of high color, great sweetness, rich flavor, meaty, firm, not watery, no hard center, and exceedingly palatable.

DESCRIPTION.

The originators have been strawberry growers for more than twenty years and call this their "Best," because they have tried many new and highly recommended varieties and found this to possess more desirable qualities than any other. The Matteson is an accidental seedling originated from a single plant found on Red Hill Farm six years ago. It is coming four to six days before the Wilson. Ripens all its fruit quickly and is gone by the time the Wilson is in full blast. The berries are as large as the Wilson, but it does not "run to nubbins" so much. It is of a deep red color all over and all through. The berry stems are short, bearing close to the plant, thus often escaping early frosts which kill others (the Sharpless especially.) It is easy to pick and easily hulled. It is firm and the most meaty berry we have ever seen. It produces equal to the Wilson. It is a perfect flowering variety and does not need to be planted with another variety to get a full crop. The plant is healthy and stands drouth and freezing well. It is a sweet berry and retains its flavor well when canned. In concluding his description of this new berry, Dr. Matteson says: "Last season we had only two rows of these on our grounds. Old pickers said to new ones, when picking Wilsons, 'Don't eat these. Wait till you get on the other side; there are two rows of the best berries.' And we had to pick those two rows ourselves early in the morning to save any of them, and to keep pickers from gobbling them all up. They would not touch Wilsons if they could get these, and if pickers do not know what good berries are, no one does."

The originator has placed the sale of this new plant in our hands and orders will be booked at following prices:
