Jerry Bailt Fortresses in Russia

Some extraordinary revelations have just been made at St. Perersburg as to the man-ner in which certain frontier fortresses re-Portland this afternoon and will cently constructed, and, as it was suppreach in the Presbyterian church built. It appears that even in this perilons field of enterprise the jerry builder has been resping a rich harvest. At two separate fortresses his frauds have been dotected. A commission of revision on inspecting the walls of the celebrated stronghold Novo Georgievah, formerly known as Modilo, and signated between Warsaw and the German frontier, found that the newly enustructed outer walls were not substantial than those of a piece of theatrical scenery. A thin outer layer of balf bricks concealed a hopelessly rotten fabric composed of the veriest rubbish-gravel, brick dust, sand and chalk-the whole being unterly Imapable of withstanding a cannonade by guns of the smallest callber. These facts having been reported to the minister of war, the chief constructor of the fortress was arrested and tried by court martial, but he escaped with so light a penalty as dismissal from the service, it having been proved that he suffered from a painful affection of the eyes. The chief constructor of the fortress of Doubno, the other stronghold concerned, was not so fortunate. The fortress was inspected by the Grand Duke Nicholas shortly before his illness, and he found the walls built so contrary to the rules of military engineering that they Mr. John Knight was down town were incapable of affording any real de today after a struggie with typhoid fense against modern engines of war.

In accordance with the report which he made to the emperor on the subject, an order was issued that the whole of the wells in question should be razed to their foundations and rebuilt. The chief constructor solved the problem of his own panishment by blowing out his brains, and all his subordinates who were in any degree responsible were sent to Siberia. A Womanly Protest.

Miss Clara Barton writes this pertinent criticism: "It is a good idea to give women a chance to be heard on topics outside of dress and fashion. It is humiliating to a woman of britins and opinions to arrive in a strange city, and, after being interviewed, find her dress and manners described at length, while her brain is not even mentioned. How do you suppose Chauncey M. Depew or a man of his feel to go into a town and find the cut of his trousers, the shade and pattern or design minutely described, with the style of vest, coat and necktie, and the hair on the head detailed at length, while not a word was said of his reputation as an orator or railroad man? It is just the same with women. It is belittling for women of wide experience to find their garb of more account than their opinions.
