WESTERN TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION.

NEW YORK, N. Y. May 6.—The advisory board of the Western Traffic Association began its session this morning. All lines were represented except the Southern Pacific.

SCHOONER LOST.

SAULTE ST. MARIE, Mich., May 6.—The schooner Atlanta has foundered off Sable bank and five of her crew were drowned while trying to reach the shore. The vessel was coal laden for Ashland.

HOSPITAL BURNED.

MUNCIE, Ill., May 6.—The county infirmary, five miles east of this city, was totally destroyed to-day by fire. It is reported four helpless inmates perished in the flames.

BIG FIRE IN PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 6.—The Seventh street fire is still burning, but the flames are under control and no further damage is apprehended. Over half a million dollars' worth of property was destroyed.

FOREIGN.

DEMOLISHED BY DYNAMITE.

LEIGE, May 6.—A dynamite cartridge was exploded in front of the residence of a well known capitalist of this city, demolishing the doors and windows, and causing a panic. The explosion is said to be the work of extremists of the labor party.

AN AMERICAN INSULTED.

FLORENCE, Italy, May 6.—William Jacques an American from Newton, Mass. was out driving with his daughter yesterday, when a mob of people pursued his carriage and pelted it with stones and severely injured his daughter who interfered in his defense.

GOT ONE YEAR.

LONDON, May 6.—Captain Verney, the member of parliament, today pleaded not guilty to the charge of procuring governess, Miss Brackett, for immoral purposes, but pleaded guilty to conspiracy to procure her. Captain Verney was then sentenced to one year's imprisonment without hard labor.

WANT THE REGIMENT REMOVED.

FOURMIES, May 6.—Workingmen's delegates called yesterday upon the prefect and made a request that in view of the peaceful attitude of the inhabitants of Fourmies since Labor day, and in order to avoid the possibility of any further trouble, the regiment of infantry which fired upon the populace on May day should be removed to some other part of France. The prefect acceded to the request, saying he would recommend the government to send the obnoxious regiment to some other part of France.

Debate in the deputies upon the Fourmies riots has considerably embittered the strikers, who have now increased their demands for higher wages. Renewed scenes of disorder are feared in the near future, should the demand of the strikers be refused.

FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

LONDON, May 6.—Employes of the public works in Madrid, Corruna, Saragossa, Cadiz and Alcante, have struck. No disorder, however, prevails in any of these places.

The famine in Madras continues. It is feared the monsoon will fail, in which event the distress will be intensified.

BOYD, OF NEBRASKA, OUT.

Report of the Grand Jury of New Orleans.

THE PRESIDENT AT TACOMA.

Burglars at Corvallis, A Hospital Burned, An American Insulted in Italy, Foreign News, Etc.

BOYD, OF NEBRASKA, NOT ELIGIBLE.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 6.—The supreme court yesterday rendered a decision in the Boyd-Thayer quo warranto case, ousting Boyd (dem.) who at present holds the office, and declaring Thayer, his republican predecessor, legal governor of Nebraska. The opinion recites the fact that Boyd was legally elected governor of Nebraska, but is disqualified on the ground of non-citizenship. Boyd accordingly turned over the office to Governor Thayer, who had in the meantime taken the oath of office and filed his bond. It is stated Boyd will carry the case to the United States supreme court. Boyd's ineligibility consists in the fact that his father, who was a native of Ireland, failed to ever perfect his citizenship in this country, and thus, Boyd is not an American citizen.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY OF NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—After six weeks' investigation the grand jury completed its labors in the Italian case, and yesterday afternoon presented a voluminous report to Judge Marr. The report recites the killing of Chief of Police Hennessey, the trial of the Italians, etc., and referring to the verdict rendered, say: "We cannot be mistaken in the assertion that the verdict was startling, amazing, a bitter disappointment, shocking to public opinion, provoking repeated accusation that some of the jury have been unfaithful to their office,"

"We are led," continues the report, "to conclude that the jury undertook to try the case when it was submitted, by their own estimate of the value of statements made by parties not called as witnesses. With strange unanimity they dwelt upon what they knew by reading and heresay of certain incidents of the assassination prior to the trial, and made those the basis of powerful persuasion for giving the accused the benefit of the doubt, and concluding deliberations in their favor. We take occasion to say it was not expected to obtain any evidence of undue influence from members of the jury, for those who were uncorrupted had nothing to reveal, while others would not make themselves particeps criminis, yet in their numerous statements much was obtained having direct connection with and supported by the great volume of testimon elicited during the course of the inquiry. It is clear, as brought out by evidence of jurers, that as affecting three of the accused, Politz, Scaffedi, and Monasterio, the jury engaged in deliberation four or five hours, and on repeated ballots stood six guilty to six not guilty. This is a clearly defined indication of conviction that the evidence was sufficient to justify six jurors who stood resolute and determined for a verdict of guilty, making it well-nigh impossible to reach any other conclusion than mistrial. The three accused named above were probably unwilling actors designated by the leaders of the conspiracy to execute a villainous part in which they had neither personal motives nor interest. Following this investigation it was quickly learned that talesman had been approached in various manners, vile work even being carried forward in the court room during the trial. One favorable expression was that big money might be made by going on the jury and doing right.

Among talesmen a number of our citizens have nobly come forward, relating their experiences and furnishing some of the missing links in the chain of circumstantial evidence drawn around an organized band of jury-bribers. It is not to be questioned that the work was systematically executed after careful preparation. Necessity was imperative for a complete list of talesmen, and the grand jury knows that a list of talesmen was in the hands of O'Malley and Adams at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Feb. 22, though trial judge had issued orders that the list should not be made public or given to counsel of either side until Monday. It is not shown by whose hands the list was secured, but enough is secured to confirm the secret and powerful influence of a so-called private detective agency and Counsel Adams to handle the machinery of the court. The evidence shows a list of names that were tampered with when drawn for the jury and before they reached the jury box in court. O'Mally was put in possession of the list almost immediately after the names were drawn and before they reached the district attorney's office. Influential friends alone could accomplish this, but it was secured in the person of one of the jury commissioners lately removed. It is further learned that in the office of the detective agency is kept a book of names and addresses of jurymen. Of three hundred names drawn for February, a panel of thirty-two were on O'Mally's list, and late as the talesmen were drawn, many more names appeared that were on that list. Truly, business of this enterprising detective agency was facilitated when thirty-two names of their selection could be drawn on a panel of three hundred jurors from a wheel containing one thousand names.

Sufficient evidence, however, was offered by voluntary and reliable witnesses to justify the indictment of six men, as follows:

Thomas McCrystol and John Cooney, with D. C. O'Malley, for attempting to bribe talesmen, and Bernard Glaudi, Charles Granger, and Ferneard Armant, for attempting by each to bribe three different talesmen. These parties are clearly shown to have been intimate with O'Malley, often in his office, informed of all doings, and were active workers in jury fixing business generally. We are forced to the conclusion that D. C. O'Malley is chargeble with a knowledge of and participation in most, if not all, of the unlawful acts in connections with that celebrated case. Without his assiduous and corrupting influence, we believe the verdict would have been radically different, and, as a natural consequence, the tragic occurences of the 14th of March last, never would have been recorded. We cannot fail to refer to the intimate relations existing between a class of ward politicians and the prime mover in all these infamous doings. We have almost direct evidence that a person holding the position of inspector of weights and measures was often at the agency and was seen coming to the court house in company with a talesman the day he was accepted as a juror.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The report of the New Orleans grand jury has excited no surprise here. The attempts to palliate the infraction of law by offsetting alleged attempts at jury fixing is deprecated by the legal department, but there well-defined opinion on the whole outcome of the case will be beneficial in its effects upon the turbulent foreign element included in the state. The report will, it is expected, reach Secretary Blaine in the course of time and make quite a figure in official correspondence between the United States and Italy. The report finds eight of them naturalized American citizens and that one had declared his intentions to become naturalized.

THEY DO NOT LIKE IT.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Speaking of the result of the deliberations of the New Orleans grand jury "Il Progresso" to-day remarked: It is an outrage that these men should escape punishment for what they have done." Among Italian residents the same sentiment is expressed.

THE PRESIDENT.

TACOMA, May 6.—The president and party entered the state of Washington at an early hour this morning in a driving rain storm. This interfered materially with the arrangements for the reception at various places, but did not suppress the cordiality and enthusiasm of the people. It was 8 o'clock when the presidential special reached Tacoma, and the rain seemed to be coming down harder than ever. Notwithstanding this fact, the chief magistrate of this country and his advisors were given a splendid reception. They were met at the station by the governor of the state, the mayor of this city and committee of citizens, who escorted the party to the Gross block where the formal addresses of welcome were delivered. The line of march and the reviewing stand were handsomely and appropriately decorated. There were four grand arches on Pacific avenue, one made of fir blocks, another of coal, another of iron and the fourth of grain, all of native production. In his response to the addresses of welcome, the president said: "I would like to see some great steamship lines carrying the American flag enter the ports of Puget Sound. I believe we have come to the time in our development as a people, when we must step forward with bold progress, or we will lose the advantage we have already attained. We have within ourselves the resources and market of which the world is envious. We have been content in the years gone by to allow other nations to do the carrying trade of the world. We have been content to see the markets of American republics lying south of us, controlled by European nations. I think the period of discontent with these things has now come to our people. The time is auspicious for enlargement of our commerce with these friendly republics, the time is propitious for re-establishing on sea an American merchant marine that shall do its share of the carrying trade of the world."

SEATTLE, Was 6.—The President and party arrived at noon, coming from Tacoma by boat.

DO YOU FAVOR

Building up a Strong, Independent Paper for the People in Oregon?

A PAPER THAT WILL NOT SELL OUT—

Printed at the Seat of Government

LOOK AT THE RECORD OF THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.

During the recent session of the legislature it was the only paper in the state that attacked successfully the Portland dictatorship in Oregon politics. It successfully opposed all doctoring the Australian ballot law in the interests of political bosses. It advocated the law (that passed) giving the Oregon railroad commission power to fix just and reasonable rates of freights and power to enforce its decisions. It successfully advocated retention of the old railroad commission as best qualified to enforce the law. It labored for all measures to open rivers and thus secure to the people the right to free and unrestricted use of the waterways.

ITS PLATFORM.

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL favors a reform in national finances, to the end that the present expensive monopoly system of supplying an inadequate currency may be supplanted by the government issuing direct to the people an adequate supply of legal tender money, with a coin basis sufficient to conform to sound banking principles. It favors election of all officials who legislate for, or are directly responsible to the people, by direct vote of the people. It favors raising all state revenues by a tax on the gross earnings of corporations, both foreign and state. It favors opening all waterways to the sea and a control of all common carriers to the end that the producer shall secure for his labor the largest net returns.

If you favor retaining all powers possible in the hands of the people and government in the interests of the people, circulate this paper. For terms, see elsewhere.

BY HOFER BROS.

Business Education for Girls A Necessity.

Give your girl as good a business education as you do her brothers; it is not fair to do less. Train her to a knowledge of usefulness; not merely a district school education, but a knowledge of all the business branches. Teach her independence and self-reliance; then she will not grow up with the idea that she must get married before she is out of her teens in order to get her board and clothes, in securing which she will in most instances be compelled to work harder than if she undertook the battle of life alone. What if you do desire them to follow farming, is it any the less your duty to give them a good business education? I do not think it necessary to give them a collegiate course; it will not be of practial use on a farm, unless they want to understand the words printed in italics in dime novels. But methinks I hear some good brother say, "I have not the means to give both sexes a good business course, and the boys need it most," I say this is not fair; the girls need it as much as the boys. Mothers, demand for your daughters an equal chance with their brothers, I believe it their right; I believe it your duty.

When I see a girl who seems to have so little idea of womanly character as to suppose that dancing, dressing and having a good time is her sole mission in life, I am constrained to ask the question, might she not have developed into something better had the sphere been enlarged by being taught that life is full of earnest purposes and its goal, unselfish independence? If I have one hobby more than another, it is equal rights in education as well as franchise. I firmly maintain that if girls were more generally given a good independent education and if a better house training be given alike to boys and girls, there would be fewer boy and girl marriages and consequently fewer marriage failures.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble:" John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of the same place, says: "Fine Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me fdel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt like he had a new lease on life. Struck the "Golden Mean" as a Blood Purifier

Detroit Free Press: "Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, prepared by Wright Med. Co. of this city, has struck the Golden Mean in the treatment of blood diseases, and its success is evidence of that valuable medicine, is capable of attracting the attention of every family. There seems to be but one opinion as to its merit."

This is the secret of success of this remedy its action, in removing impure and poisonous matter from the blood. A thorough and effective blood purifier. For sale by Smith & Steiner.

Palpitation of the heart, nervousness, tremblings, nervous headache, cold hands and feet, pain in the back, and other forms of weakness are relieved by Carter's Iron Pills, made specially for the blood, nerves and complexion.
