STRAWBERRIES AND ROSES.
Salem Will try to Hold an Exhibition,
IN HONOR OF THE CROWNED QUEENS
Of the Horticultural and Floral World—Details of the Fair.
The date is set.
The Fair will probably be held Friday and Saturday, June 12 and 13, as those days fall in the midst of the strawberry season. This was left to the principal berry growers. The place will be announced in the Salem papers and on the premium lists which will be issued soon. The committees have completed their work. A special committee, composed of T. McF. Patton and Mrs. W. W. Martin arranged the rose premiums Monday.
The Fruit Growers' Association set aside $10 for rose premiums and they are to be awarded as follows:
1. For the largest and finest display of roses, named varieties, $5.
2. For best and finest display of roses, named varieties, $3.
3. For best display any one variety, $2.
ROSE RULES.
The rose committee adopted the following rules for exhibits:
Each variety must be labelled true to name.
Competitors will be assigned a number. Name of exhibitor must not be attached to roses.
There will be great enthusiasm over roses and the display will be a large one, and well worthy of the Bonquet City.
THE STRAWBERRY PREMIUMS.
Owing to prospective shortness of crop of some varieties of strawberries the strawberry premiums have been rearranged as follows:
1st. Best display standard varieties, 1st $3; 2nd $2.
2nd. Best display new varieties, 1st $3; 2nd $2.
3rd. Biggest display all varieties, 1st $3; 2nd $2.
4th. Best sample canning berries not less than a peck (special prize offered by Salem Canning company) $5.
In addition to the prize offered by Canning company for best canning berry Seth Hammer, Esq., will give for same $2.50.
5th. For best plate of any new variety (special prize offered by Seth Hammer, Esq.) $1.
6th. Sweepstakes premium best plate any variety (special prize offered by T. McF. Patton). Winner's work on Pacific Coast Horticulture, 575 pages elegantly bound and richly illustrated in colors—a very valuable work, valued at $5.
7th. Jumbo prize by R. J. Hendricks and others, for plate of biggest strawberries, $10.
The rules governing the strawberry exhibit will be printed on the premium list. Indications point to an immense display of strawberries. Growers ought not need a prize to induce them to exhibit their fruit. They have a greater interest at stake than any one else, and every grower should make a personal effort to make this fair a great success. There is much to learn by all. This most lucrative branch of fruit growing is in its infancy. Let all take hold with a vim.
THE QUEEN OF THE ROSES.
Which shall be voted the Queen of the Roses at the coming rose show? That is going to be an exciting contest. That is going to be an exciting contest. That is going to be an exciting contest. That is going to be an exciting contest. That is going to be an exciting contest.

THE PORTAGE ROAD.
What the Treasurer and Governor Have to say Thereon
A JOURNAL reporter approached Governor Penney today as to the progress made in building the state portage road at the Dalles of the Columbia. He found the governor still reluctant about newspaper interviewing but gathered a number of suggestions from a free talk with his excellency. At present the Union Pacific railroad has a line of boats, and of railway on both sides, that virtually gives it a monopoly of all freight. It is to break this monopoly that the state of Oregon will build about a mile of narrow-gauge three feet railway to connect the river above and the river below the falls. This narrow-gauge road will be equipped and operated by the state. An independent boat is being built to run on the upper river, that will be completed as soon as the road is ready to open. The governor thinks the state portage road will cause a great reduction in freights on grain and wool from Eastern Oregon.
"I shall have some business for our new attorney general at once," said the governor. "We shall be compelled to exercise the power of the state to condemn land for a part of the right of way, and it will be done at once."
The reporter next accosted Hon. Phil Metschen, state treasurer, who has been giving the details of the portage road a good deal of attention. He said:
"It will be completed inside of sixty days and inside of the appropriation of $60,000. We are having a little trouble with one of the owners of land the road must pass over to get a good landing. The land he owns is worth about $500 and he asks $2500 for a ten years lease over it. The state will have to exercise its right of eminent domain and condemn according to law. Engineer Farley will go east to procure the rolling stock as soon as all the work of grading is well under way. The state will equip and run the road. The employees will work for the state. One locomotive and enough cars will handle the business at actual cost and we will see if the producers of Eastern Oregon and Washington will be prevented in getting their grain and wool to market at reasonable rates. The whole thing will be finished in 40 or 50 days. I look for great reductions in freight rates from Oregon's little Portage railway."
THE SCHOOL MA'AMS.—The quarterly examination of teachers for certificates to teach school in Marion county was begun at noon today in the court house, by Prof. D. W. Yoder. A few of the teachers from the city schools were among those undergoing the severe test for competency. The trustees have decided that all the teachers in district No. 24 must hold first grade certificates after the present school year closes. This move has compelled a few of the teachers in this city to make an effort to raise the grade of their certificates. The majority of the applicants are from the county. The following are the names of those laboring before the examining board: C. P. Strain, Price Massey, N. M. Learned, G. I. Caldwell, Noah Welch, A. B. Siegmund, L. Bineil, Hattie Starrett, Lida Thompson, Bertha Glaze, G. Kirby, Hattie Gunn, Ella Drake, Lucy Robertson, Ellen White, Helen Elgin, Alice M. Smith, Minnie Loose, Ora P. Skirvin, Ella Poble, Antonette Pellet, G. A. Hines, Grace Woodford, Gertrude Clever. Besides the above there are several more who prefer not to have their names appear.
BAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. David Steiner's handsome bay colt had a very bad accident a few days ago, which will make the animal useless for the season. It was turned loose in an old barn, where it pulled a milk-stool from a high stall, and in lying down jammed one of the legs of the stool into its hump about ten inches. The stool-leg was made of a broom stick and had a blunt end, thus inflicting a terrible wound.

A BOY DETECTIVE.
He Assists the Police in Running Down a Gang of Burglars Near Albany.
The police of this city, says the Herald, have been on the alert for some time for a gang of burglars, who have been operating throughout the Willamette valley.
Yesterday morning Chas. Spaght, a young man who always has his eyes and ears open, told Chief of Police Hoffman that he thought these cracksmen were camped below Albany.
The officer offered the boy $10 if he could locate the men, and would point out their camp to him. The boy started out on a detective search of his own. He carried a Winchester rifle and went out into the woods near the Jewish cemetery, where he had a suspicion they were stopping. He came upon two men camped in a position concealed from the road. The boy told the men that he was hunting pigeons, and sat down and talked some time. After observing closely the contents of the camp he returned and notified the police that he had found the men. Officers Hoffman, Lee and McClain, and young Spaght proceeded to their rendezvous. As they reached it one of the men was encountered in the act of leaving. Officer Hoffman covered him with a revolver, and he was soon in irons. Officer McClain came upon the other concealed near the camp. The fellow drew a revolver, when McClain quickly fired at him. The man started to run, but at another shot from the officer he fell, and cried out that he was down, and not to shoot. The officer desisted, but before they could reach him he had got up and run, escaping in the dense undergrowth. He had on neither hat, coat or shoes. It was afterward thought that he was not hit at all. Their camp contained revolvers, ammunition, keys, drills, saws, in fact a full kit of burglar's tools, besides stolen property, clothing, etc. Among other things were two silver watches, one of which completely identified the burglars as the men who robbed the safe of Whitney, Elder & Co., at Stayton, as it had a charm attached bearing the inscription: "U. Whitney, Santiam Lodge No. 25 A. F. and A. M. of Stayton. It is also believed that they were the men who robbed I. Beam's store in Albany.
The prisoner will be taken to Stayton for examination, in which county Stayton is situated.
KLEIN.—This is the German word for small. There is nothing small about Klein's store of shoes, except that they are sold at small profits. See his prices in this paper.

N. O. Parker who quite recently sold his farm a few miles south of Stayton, with his family was a passenger on the north bound train. He is on his way to Moscow, Idaho at which place he will engage in business.
LADIES.—See that new lot of leg-horn flats just received at Chas. Calvert's millinery emporium.
MARRIED.
VORHEIS-GROSHONG.—Wednesday, May 27th at the Capital City restaurant, by Esquire Batchelor, Mr. Frank Vorheis of Clackamas county to Miss Virginia May Groshong, of Marion county.

THE NEW FENCE.—A company has just been organized in Salem for the manufacture of the celebrated Crabb iron and steel fence. Mr. Crabb, the patentee, is here from Iowa to introduce the article, and has associated with him several substantial business men of this county. They propose to build fences on contract, sell material and county or local rights such as may be desired. Orders are all ready taken to build several miles of the new fence, which consists of the best steel wire of all styles and indestructible iron posts, all of which are bought and manufactured right here at home. This not only lessens the cost, but also adds a good industry to our community. Farmers and others should investigate this fence and see what it is for themselves. A specimen can be seen stretched in shape near the Court house in this city.
REDUCTION IN MEATS.—McCrow & Willard will sell at their markets on Commercial street, Nos. 316 and 205, boiling meats from 5 to 7 cents; roasts from 8 to 12. We invite the people of Salem to call and see our meats before buying elsewhere.
Those patent water closets at J. A. Bernardi's are the best and cheapest thing in the market. Shop under Steiner & Blosser's.
If you want sewer work done at living prices consult J. A. Bernardi's, under Steiner & Blosser.
SUGGESTION.—As Salem will have no formal celebration, the JOURNAL proposes a general picnic on that day of the people by states. Let Iowans, Kansans, Nebraskans and the other states hold assemblies.
A FOUNTAIN.—A fountain is needed in Marion square for the accommodation of cows, horses and pigs as well as dogs and people, in the opinion of some dwellers around there.
TANS AND GRAYS.—Fine tan, gray and brown hats in all shapes just in. New goods arriving weekly, at Mrs. Fiestler's, opposite opera house.
TO BE ONE.—License to wed was granted to Miss Virginia May Groshong and Frank Vorheis this morning.
A POINTER FOR LADIES.—The choicest lot of perfumes kept in the city at Brooks & Legg's State street drug store.

DON'T Buy a lot in
YEW PARK
Unless you want to build on it.
YEW PARK IS IN THE CITY.
The city water mains are laid through it. It is so near the Depot, University, Postoffice and business portion of the city that it is not necessary to ride, although the street cars run through it and leave every twenty minutes for Commercial street, North and East Salem. YOU CAN'T SPECULATE IN YEW PARK PROPERTY—the proprietors will attend to that; but you can buy a better home site there than in any other portion of the city for the same money. You will have no dust in Summer and no mud in winter. Its perfect drainage insures its healthfulness. The lots are large and many of them beautifully shaded with yew, fir, ash and oak. If you want to buy blocks of lots on speculation, and let them lie unimproved, and let adjoining property make them valuable, don't patronize Yew Park.
It Isn't Built That Way
If you want to speculate on options or blocks of eight or ten lots, go out in the country, North, SOUTH, EAST or WEST, or to the suburbs of Portland, Astoria or on the Sound, and invest in a paper town, or what is better, buy a ticket in the Louisiana lottery, but keep away from Yew Park.
Lots sold at low prices on long time and easy terms to home seekers.
