The Town Moeting.

In New England the body of March meeting at the call of the A. Briggs, on Church and Creed. selectmen. It is as much their duty To the same number Col. Theodore F. J. CHENEY & CO., to remain all day and to take part in discussing the affairs of the town as to cast their ballots for governor or for presidential electors. The warrant for the town meeting notifies the townsmen of the business that will come before them. In addition to the articles relating to the regular and routine proceedings of the occasion are special articles which have been inserted in the warrant at the request of private citizens. Each voter has a printed copy of the town report. In contains a minutely itemized account of the expend itures of the past year. These items are criticised or detended by the town. The debate is general. Appropriations are voted. Usually there is a subject which breeds excitement. It may relate to a project for a new school house, to the opening of a new street, to the building of a new sewer. The work that shall be done for the coming year is determined. The manner in which the roads and bridges shall be repaired is prescribed. All the busi ness transacted in villages by the board of trustees is done by the townsmen themselves. Every one knows what is to be done, and how it is to be done. Every one has the lisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 E. opportunity to disclose what he knows of the misfeasances of the town officers, to suggest how work might have been better done, how of Passion," "Newport," "After-money might have been saved. -The results of this method in the fiscal affairs of localities and upon the character of state governments have been indicated as fully as is possible within a limited space. The influence of the town-meeting government upon the physical character and bridges, and upon the appear- ings of a New England seaport town ance of the villages is familiar to all to Ceylon. who have traveled through New England. The excellent roads, the stanch bridges, the trim, tree-shaded streets, the universal signs of thritt and of the people's pride in the outward aspects of their villages, are too well known to be dwelt upon. —A purer medicine does not exist too well known to be dwelt upon.

'and New England townsman knows how to transact public business. The first task of been imported into this country, every town meeting is the selection of a moderator. In a New England town nearly every man of prominence has presided at one time or another over the town meeting. Even they who have not must be familiar with parliamentary law and practice, for the clear and simple the majority of them are from Great practice, for the clear and simple rules of Cushing and Jefferson are elaborately discussed not only by the lawyers and the clergymen, but by the doctors, the store keepers, the mechanics and the farmers. It would be difficult to find in a New England community a man who England community a man who aspects, this transfer of important cannot take charge of a public meet-ing, and conduct its proceedings and practical way. It gives with some regard to the forms that are observed in parliamentary bodies. On the other hand, it would be country to find a citizen who has wealth, and contributes largely to not held office who has any knowledge of such forms and observances. In New England there is not a the who may not, and very few voters who do not, actively participate in the work of government. In the the work of government, hardly In New England there is not a voter other parts of the country hardly its works in the past, and undoubtany one takes part in public affairs except the office holder. The effect of this is precisely what may be quests for it to acheive. Evidently of this is precisely what may be anticipated.
