

August Flower

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES B. DEDRICK, Sanger, N. York.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.

IN LOVERS' LANE.

All wreathed around with Virginia's bowers,
And gay with glancing, and
All covered with laughing leaves
And verdant with the vine
Through myrtle's misty you rise as fair
As when with Mary Jane
I found your jittles' periods,
O dear old Lovers' lane.

'Twas there that Cupid kept his court,
'Twas there his arrows hung
Above our happy, laughing heads
The building beams among
'Twas many a cruel wound was dealt,
'Twas many a fair was slain,
While last and latest lovers
In dear old Lovers' lane.

'Twas there we put the purple on,
And breathless loved's ampler air,
'Twas there a kiss conferred a crown
Upon a royal pair.

'Twas there our love forgot
Life's petty and paltry
And earth became a Paradise
To us in Lovers' lane.

Ah, my! beneath those heading boughs
Full many a ghost appeared
Of youthful hopes that sprang, alas!
To perish, drowned in tears.
What time faith's altar rain
The casals built in Spain
Long, long ago, when swallows straddled
At eve in Lovers' lane.

Though hands and hearts grow gray, men go
All gladly back, in dreams,
To youth's last glory yet to glean
Some faint reflected beams:
Even he who limps Life's path along,
What time faith's altar rain
Beats round, recalls some rose that bloomed
Long since in Lovers' lane.

REPORTS OF GEORGE III.
George III once gave a hard hit at Lord Kenyon, one of the most uncomfortable noblemen in the English court. He came into the royal presence one day in great excitement, and seeing the surprise depicted on the face of the monarch said in self defense: "I have lost my temper."
The king was quick at repartee, and without waiting for the explanation which was to follow said: "I congratulate you. I hope you will find a better one, for your old one was the worst I ever knew."
The courtiers laughed, and even Lord Kenyon could not hold out against the general merriment.—New York World.

Automatic Lens Tube Governors.
The photo-engraver has long felt the want of a means of automatically taking care of the exposure of the photographic apparatus, especially in the gallery containing several cameras. An invention has now been brought into requisition which automatically opens and shuts the lens tube of the camera and gives such a length of exposure to the plates as is determined by the setting of a movable contact piece upon the periphery of a clock dial at a number corresponding to the number of seconds required for the exposure.—New York Telegram.

Lesson from the Henery.
Mrs. Suburb—My! Such a time as I have had today! Every now and then the hens would get into the garden, and the more I tried to drive them out the more they wouldn't go, but just squawked and cackled and fluttered and went hither and yon in every imaginable direction but the right one. No matter which way you try to drive a hen, she's bound to go some other way.
Mr. Suburb (thoughtfully)—I don't believe roosters would act like that.—New York World.

The Origin of the Badouin.
To Adam were three sons—a farmer, a hunter and a Badouin. To the latter, for his livelihood, Adam gave a camel. The Badouin came to Adam and said: "My camel is dead. What shall I do now for a living?" To whom Adam, "Go thy way, and live of what thou canst fish from thy brethren."—Saturday Review.

Terrible Effect of Eloquence.
An unfortunate man has obtained access to rich Baron Rappinow. He depicts his misfortunes, his misery in so moving a manner that the baron, with tears in his eyes, and his voice choked with sobs, calls to his servant: "Jean, put this poor fellow out into the street—he is breaking my heart."—Exchange.

The constitution of New Hampshire was adopted in 1776, and has been amended twice. Vermont's constitution bears date 1793, and has been amended four times. Rhode Island lived under its royal charter until 1842.
