NO USE FOR HIM.

How the Encyclopedia Fling Struck a Terror to Book Agents.

"Is the editor in?" The speaker was defiant and robust and was the advance terror of a one hundred and nineteen volume compilation in letters and arts known as the unlimited, irreconcilable encyclopedia of stereotyped information.

"The nineteenth edition of this valuable work is now before the public."

"Do you wish a personal or an ad, or in what manner can we serve you?" said the bouncer who is always employed about a well regulated newspaper office.

"This work, as you well know, is indispensable in any newspaper office."

"This office, sir," said the managing editor looking severe, "has no use whatever for any patent-lighting-double-back-action-patent-process of stealing ancient information. The JOURNAL is not made up of out of encyclopedias, but is called daily fresh from the great moving fields of life and activity you see spread out on every hand before you in this beautiful Capital City of Oregon—"

"Hold on! For heaven's sake!" exclaimed the excited agent, trying to escape. But he was held firmly in his chair for a moment, to make him realize the awfulness of his offense.

"This office not only has little use for an encyclopedia, but all can spell well enough to scarcely ever require a dictionary. But facts and news we are after with a long pole."

Begging the sublime pardon of the entire establishment, the behemoth among book agents, slowly passed out.

The Oregon State Fair.

The prospects for a good state fair were never so flattering as they are this year. The premium list has been revised, and in many important points the prizes have been increased.

The entries in the speed department are the largest and best ever known in the history of the fair. The state fair is under the management of the State Board of Agriculture, and over $15,000 in cash is offered in premiums for exhibits of stock, poultry, agricultural products, fruit, etc., works of art and fancy work, and for trials of speed.

The board is making every preparation for a great meeting. Many valuable improvements have been made, and the grounds have been cleaned up and greatly beautified.

Electric and horsecar lines now run from Salem to the grounds. All persons wishing a premium list for the fair of 1891, can obtain it by addressing J. T. Gregg, the secretary, at Salem. The fair begins on the 14th of September, and will last one week. Send for a premium list and prepare something for exhibition this year.

DIED.

HUFFMAN.—At his home near Salem, July 10, 1891, at 10 a. m. Hon. John A. Huffman, of paralysis. Deceased was an old resident of this county, coming from California about thirty-five years ago. He has served in various public offices and was at one time county commissioner. His estate comprises considerable real estate.

He leaves a family of eight children, all grown but two. His sufferings extended over nearly a year, all of which he bore with the fortitude becoming to a man.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings on the glands of the neck; causes painful runnings on the arms, legs, or feet; develops tumors in the eyes, ears, or nose; often causes blindness or deafness; is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" and fastening upon the lungs causes consumption, and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How CAN CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and palliative medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula or impure blood, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, some breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been afflicted with scrofula since he was born. Last spring he was covered with sores from head to foot. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have obtained it. The result is that all have been entirely free from sores, and all sorts of my children look bright and healthy! W. B. ARBERTSON, Pascale City, N. J.
