GAMBLER KNOX HAD SAND. His Desperate and Unequal Fight with a Bad Band of Apaches. We were sitting one night at a freighter's camp fire, around which were drawn half a score or more of the freighters, who, with their outfits, were in camp for the night. Stories of old times when the Indians were bad, and of the bravery of the white pioneers, had gone around the circle until it came to old man Wilson's turn, who said: Talk about sand in a man! I tell you it takes sand in a man to try and stand off single handed forty or fifty Apaches when he knows just how the scrap will end, and that the end will be his own death; but that was just the kind of sand that was in Felix Knox when he was killed by the Apaches. You see, Knox was an all around gambler, such as the tenderfoot from the east soon so much and know so little about, but he had a heart in him bigger than any tenderfoot's head. Well, it was in the spring of 1882, Knox, with his wife and baby and a Mexican driver, were coming from Silver City to Clifton. They got to York's ranch, which is on the Gila river, about thirty miles from Clifton, all right, but were told there that signs of Apaches had been seen, and that they had better go in camp there for a few days, but Knox—who had fought the Apaches dozens of times and didn't know what fear was—said he wanted to make Clifton that day.

They drove on, and were about two miles from York's ranch when Knox saw an Indian come from behind a low, round topped hill, and feeling assured there were more of them, and that it was a fight to the death, he filled his pocket with cartridges, kissed his little sleeping girl baby and his wife for the last time, and with a 'goodby' to them, he jumped from the wagon and quickly turned the team, and told the Mexican driver to whip them back to the ranch, and that he would stand the Apaches off. As the wagon turned and was furiously driven away the Apaches, who now came in sight, fired a volley, but killed no one. Then Knox faced his foes and pumped the lead from his Winchester into them. The Indians gradually circled around Knox and the end came. The Mexican driver lashed his team back to the ranch, where both of the horses fell dead from wounds received from the Indians' first volley. A party, after a little delay, was made up and returned to the place where the fight took place, and there they found Knox's body, and the Indians, contrary to their usual custom, had not mutilated it in the least, but had taken a clean pocket handkerchief from Knox's pocket and carefully spread it over his face, and had fastened it there by putting a small stone on each corner of it to hold it in its place and keep the sun from the dead man's face. That was their tribute to the sand in Knox. Seventy empty shells were found that had been emptied from Knox's Winchester, and one of the raiding Indians afterward said their party numbered forty-two, and that Knox had killed seven of them.—Arizona Republican.

The Size of Hats. Said a dealer in goods' furnishing goods: "Men's heads, or at least their hats, are growing smaller. I have noticed it year by year in my business, and where a 7 1/2 or 7 3/4 hat formerly was not a miracle, today the average hat is a 7, and it is seldom we have a call for a 7 1/4. However, there is a reason for this. Besides the custom of wearing the hat perched on the corner of the ear, it must also be admitted that almost all of the men wear their hair closely cropped nowadays, and this makes a great difference. I don't believe people's heads are growing smaller."

Wizle's Great Head. "Our young friend, Wizle, must be improving rapidly. He tells me he has many compliments passed on his poetry nowadays."

SEATTLE, July 11.—A conference between the county officials and Gen. Curry and Col. Haines, of the militia, it was decided to reduce the force at the mines from five to three companies, leaving cavalry to the field. As Governor Ferry thinks the civil power has not been exhausted no further attempt will be made to disarm the strikers. Sheriff Woolery will send additional deputies to each mine. Sup't. Corley, of the Oregon Improvement Co., says the number of arrests at Franklin has been exaggerated, and that all have been surrendered. Shipments of coal from the several mines daily increase, showing the strike to be broken.

BRDY FOUND. SEATTLE, July 11.—The body of A. E. Potter, formerly proprietor of the steam laundry, was found dead in the woods near town. The remains were badly decomposed, and it is supposed that the man had been dead for two weeks. A bottle of strychnine was clutched in his hand, giving evidence of suicide. Potter came here seven years ago from New York, and was in great circumstances. He leaves a wife,

Why She Was Solicitous. A young man who recently married a Salem girl now knows how it is himself. This took place the other day: "Anything wrong with the coffee this morning, John?" "No, it is good enough." "Biscuits all right?" "I haven't any fault to find with the biscuits." "Steak cooked all right?" "I don't see anything wrong with the steak." "No complaint to make about anything?" "No." "John, I wish you would let me have 50 cents to buy some ribbon."

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY. OMAHA, Neb., July 11.—A special from Ellis, Neb., says: Tuesday night the most horrible tragedy ever enacted in this section of Nebraska occurred. Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Dr. Allen, of Beatrice, came to Ellis on a visit to her brother, John H. Paterbaugh, who lives one mile and a half south of town. She was driven to the farm, and knocked at the door but received no reply. She entered, the door not being locked, and found a horrible scene on the floor covered with blood; in bed was the mother, with a bullet through her head; in bed with her was her two-year-old baby, also shot through the head; another bed, was occupied by two young girls, one 13 and one 15, both dead, with bullet holes in their heads. How they met their terrible fate is yet unknown. The general belief is that the deed was the work of the husband and father, who afterward committed suicide. All seemed to have been killed while sleeping, and were shot directly through the skull.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR. MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—At the society of Christian Endeavor convention today a resolution was adopted favoring the action by the State Christian Endeavor unions regarding the closing of the World's fair on Sundays, and a committee was appointed to draw up a resolution to be presented tomorrow evening, and also to push the agitation of the matter after the convention adjourns.

HACKNEY PEDIGREE. NEW YORK, July 11.—The American Hackney Horse Society has filed a certificate of incorporation to-day. The objects are to preserve the record of the Pedigree Hackney Horses and publish a stud book of such horses in the United States and Canada and general to improve the breed.

FOSTER VS. POWDERLY. WASHINGTON, July 11.—Secretary Foster was asked today what reply if any he proposed to make to Powderly's open letter. The secretary said the letter was so abusive and untruthful it might be suspected of being a campaign document. He did not propose to enter a controversy with Powderly on such a basis.

THE IPATA. SAN DIEGO, July 11.—From information gleaned this morning it appears the Ipata will not remain under arrest much longer as Judge Ross has signified his willingness to release the vessel on bonds.

THE HEARST ESTATE. SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The appraisal of the estate of the late United States Senator George Hearst was filed in the probate court this morning. The entire estate is estimated to be worth $8,788,000.

KNOX'S EXPLOSION. VINCENNES, Ind., July 11.—A three-horse engine exploded this morning at Bruceville, John Fleck was instantly killed and Dick Price fatally injured. Five other men were horribly scalded.

HOW CAN HE. NEW YORK, July 11.—Coroner Levy stated today, he will have the body of Smiler who was executed at Sing Sing, exhumed and will hold an inquest over it. He asserts if it is true, as published, that it required several shocks to produce death the execution is contrary to law which says no torture shall be inflicted.

WRIT REFUSED. PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—The judge of common pleas court today refused to grant a writ of sequestration asked by the city against John Barbely.

STATE. PORTLAND RACES. PORTLAND, July 11.—Five-eighths dash, Abbie Rooney won, Lady Opal second, Ethel third; time, 1:34. Trotting: Democrat won, Challenger Chief second, Maud Knox third; best time, 2:22. Democrat is a horse owned in this city by W. S. Chapman, and sold in the field. Costello won two heats of the pacing race, when it was postponed until today. Best time, 2:24.

ALBANY STEEL BRIDGE. ALBANY, Or., July 11.—The county court yesterday appropriated forty thousand dollars toward building a high steel bridge across the Willametta at this city. The city council will furnish the remainder of the $53,850, which is the cost of the bridge. The contract was let last evening by the city to construct the same, at the price named, to the Portland Bridge and Building company, agents for the King Iron Bridge company, of Cleveland, Ohio.

the leader of a gang. It was their practice to see the lad to crawl through the windows and cool holes of the houses they wanted to burglarize. If he refused they threatened to kill him. Recently, when the gang supposed Charlie to be asleep, they planned a desperate burglary near Wheeling. The next day the boy heard that the old man they robbed was killed in the encounter. Charlie wanted to tell the Wheeling police, but was afraid, so he did the next best thing and ran away. Inspector McAlone is confident the boy is not telling a false tale, and has taken the case in hand.

HEARST'S PORTRAIT REMOVED. PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Acting under the orders of the president of the common council, the messengers have removed the admirable portrait of John Hearstley from the western wall of the council chamber where it has hung for years. The picture has been placed in the lumber room, and will doubtless pass into the oblivion that now envelops the original. The portrait was given a place in line with the honored presidents of the chamber, under a special resolution of the council. This is the only case that a portrait has been torn down for the disgraceful doings of a public officer or member of the council.

DREW RESIGNED. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—The comptroller of the currency this morning received the resignation of Bank Examiner Drew, and has given instructions for it to be accepted and to go into effect immediately.

HOLLAND GOT TWO YEARS. ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The jury in the case of ex-State Treasurer Holland returned a verdict of guilty of embezzlement, and fixed the penalty at two years in the penitentiary.

GREAT RACE. NEW YORK, July 11.—The Brighton Beach Association has offered a purse of $5000 for a race at one and one-fourth miles between Tenny, Eon, Longstreet, Riley, Loantaka and Tea Tray, Tenny to carry 137 pounds, Longstreet and Eon 124, Riley 122, Tea Tray 115 and Loantaka 118. The Morris Park people, hearing of the proposition, made haste to checkmate the Brighton officials, and offered a purse of $10,000 for the race, to be run at their track on Thursday. Michael Dwyer has signified his willingness to start Longstreet, and Philip Dwyer has accepted for Eon. Mr. McCourt, it is understood, will start Loantaka and Billy Lovel has had his confidence in Tea Tray restored by the good performance of that notorious rogue during the past ten days. Colonel Pulsifer, however, is shy.

"I will start Tenny at weight for age," he said, when questioned in regard to the proposed race. That is all he would say. However, he may think better of it, or the powers that he may let Tenny in at lighter weight than that originally stipulated. Such a race would draw an immense throng to the track upon which the contest would be decided, and it is safe betting, too, that Tenny would be the favorite despite the weights.

RESULT OF A FUEL. NORFOLK, Va., July 11.—The feud between McPherson and McRay families, in Warwick county, resulted in the murder yesterday of Leon McPherson and his 6-year-old daughter. The heads of the two families recently had a dispute over the ownership of certain ground. The two men came to blows, and a threat was made by McRay to shoot his antagonist if he built a fence on his ground, which McPherson swore he would do. Nothing more was said until morning, when McPherson took his toehold proper material, and proceeded to erect his fence in spite of his neighbor's threats. When his work had been nearly completed the little girl brought him his breakfast in a tin pail. He had scarcely opened it when he heard a noise behind him, quickly followed by the sharp report of a rifle, and the father lay lifeless beside the dead body of his daughter. A negro laborer, at work in the vicinity, saw the shooting. He called for assistance, and the dead bodies were carried to the house. The grief-stricken wife and mother came to this city in the afternoon. The murderer escaped a lynching party which went in pursuit of him.
