"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt House, Lewiston, and the Tontine Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at his stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market." ⓘ

POPLAR LEAVES.

The wind blows down the dusty street,
And through my soul that grieves—
It brings a sudden odor sweet,
A smell of poplar leaves.

O leaves that herald in the spring,
O freshness young and pure,
Into my weary soul you bring
The vigor to endure.

The wood is near, but out of sight,
Where all the poplars grow;
Straight up and tall and silver white,
They quiver in a row.

My love is out of sight, but near;
And through my soul that grieves,
A sudden memory wafts her here
As fresh as poplar leaves.
—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Napoleon and the Scientists.

Napoleon was fond of the society of scientists, and rewarded with prizes and honors the most noteworthy of scientific discoveries. Although at war with "perfide Albion," as he was wont to call England, he drew the line at scientists, and pardoned English prisoners at the simple request of Joseph Priestley, after all other means had been exhausted, and acceded to the award of 3,000 francs by the first class of the Institute to Davy for his celebrated memoir of 1806. It was Bonaparte who proposed to award a gold medal to Volta, after reading his memoir on galvanism, and later induced Volta, by emoluments and titles, to surrender his Italian professorship for a residence in Paris.

When the memorable expedition to Egypt set sail Bonaparte took with him many savants and academicians. After the wager of battle had turned against the great soldier, and he was transported to the lonely St. Helena, he must have felt that the last tie to France had been severed when, in 1817, he felt forced to resign his chair in the Academy of Sciences.—W. C. Cahall, M. D., in Popular Science Monthly.

Dangerous Knowledge.

A certain illiterate man had married a woman with just enough education to want to air what little learning she did have. As she became older, the habit of using big words grew into a mania. The pocket dictionary did great service in perplexing her associates, and many a disgusted reply did she receive from delayed grocerymen who were in haste to get back to business, but she only moralized the more upon the "illumination" of mankind.

Suddenly her husband became very successful in his lumber speculation, and his wife seemed to think that bigger words would add to the dignity of her new position.

One day a former townsman visiting in the town congratulated the lady upon her brighter fortunes. He was rather taken back at the reply, "Oh, yes, Joshiah and I have had quite a boomerang since you were here!"—Lewistown Journal.

A Problem About Corn.

Here is a puzzle in geometry. It does not require a skilled mathematician, however, to solve it.

It is required to demonstrate (geometrically) that a larger crop of corn can be grown on an acre of level ground than on an acre of slanting ground. The stalks of corn are supposed to grow perpendicularly in both cases, and all other particulars, such as fertility of the soil and the like, to be the same.

The ingenious reader will probably have no trouble in solving the problem without assistance.—New York Tribune.

True Gentleman.

Old words are continually receiving new definitions. Two negroes were talking about their respective employers.

"Well, now," said one, "nobody can't say but Mr. Loftus is a real gentleman."

"Oh, no," answered the other, "he's well enough. But he ain't no such man as my boss. My boss is always jes' so. Why, I see him step on a bananer peel t'other day, an' it didn't frustrate his dignity the leastest bit."—Youth's Companion.

Never purchase glasses from a peddler or a jeweler. Even opticians, except the most careful ones, practically allow the customer to make his own selection, and if he is near sighted he commonly selects glasses which are too strong, while if he is far sighted he selects such as enlarge the print, or else are of too low a number, from the false idea that this will favor a long preservation of his sight.

Arguing from the measurement of the fifty-second parallel of north latitude, between Valencia, Ireland, and Orsk, Russia, the conclusion is reached that the earth's surface on this parallel is not that of an ellipsoid of revolution. This confirms the conclusions reached in this country when the forty-second parallel was measured, and shows that the earth is not a perfect spheroid.

In Elizabeth's reign the English army wore a variety of colors, but a change occurred in 1584, when some of the troops for Ireland wore coats of motley and others of "sadd greene or russet." The cavalry at this time wore red cloaks and breeches, and the infantry who went to low countries wore red coats.

The beautiful Maltese lace, made of black or white Barcelone silk, sprang from the philanthropy of Lady Hamilton Chichester, who exhibited to the native lace makers a Greek coverlet and induced them to imitate its exquisite mesh.

Tuisco, from which the word Tuesday was derived, was one of the most ancient and popular gods of ancient Germany. The third day of the week was dedicated to his worship.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

The Chilian cruiser Errazuriz, which recently left Havre, is lying at Penzance. She is unable to procure firemen.

A dispatch from Colombo, Ceylon, says that the health of the Egyptian exile, Arabi Pasha, which has been steadily declining for the past two years, has now reached a state greatly alarming to his friends.

Charles B. Harlow, an ex-insurance agent of Stockton, Cal., who pleaded guilty to grand larceny for stealing a horse and buggy last February, was Saturday sentenced to nine years in Folsom.

Mrs. Thomas Lockridge, wife of a prominent farmer, living near Spring Hill, Tenn., is reported to have killed herself and two children. She has been in very bad health for some time and her mind is supposed to have given away.

Mr. Leuthstran, manager of the Carey-Lombard Lumber company, of Chicago, has been missing for more than a week and is supposed to be a defaulter to the extent of $10,000. He left Chicago with a young woman whom he has lately been keeping company with, deserting a wife and five children.

The Carson Appeal has opened a 10-cent subscription office, where money can be deposited for Mrs. Pratt, the San Francisco lady, who gave forty-five square inches of skin to save a life recently. Donations are already coming in rapidly, and other papers in the state are following suit.

A party of tourists, who insisted upon exploring the Adelsburger grotto without a guide, have met with a tragic experience. Two of their number fell into a lake within the cave and were drowned. It is stated by the dwellers in the vicinity that most of the party were more or less intoxicated when they began the foolhardy expedition.

Ed Brown, Walter Strader, John L. Medor, Dick Eaves and John Breme were drowned Sunday while seining in the Tennessee river, near Murray. Three others who were in the party, managed to save themselves. All the drowned men were well known citizens, belonging to old families in the county.

East bound passenger train No. 2 collided with passenger train No. 1 west bound, last night at Clark's station, twenty miles east of Reno, Nev. Three engines and a mail car were badly wrecked, and a tramp who was beating his way west on a brake beam was killed. The air brakes of the east bound train refused to work.

A pier attached to Sprague's dancing pavillion, at Coney island, N. Y., collapsed at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, precipitating eighty or ninety persons into the surf. It was high tide at the time, and an angry surf dashed against the piles. Intense excitement prevailed, but all were rescued from drowning. Several women were taken out of the water unconscious, while a number of men received serious injuries.

Benjamin R. Spellman, jr., recently cashier of the Twenty-sixth Ward bank, Brooklyn, has disappeared, and an examination of his accounts showed that on leaving the bank he was short $90,000. On account of intemperate habits he had been requested to resign, which he did May 30. He then went to Albany, and has now disappeared from that city. He was born in Albany forty-five years ago, and has been connected with the First National bank, of Albany. He was its teller when an offer was made to him to go to Brooklyn. He was well known in Albany and was always popular.

Wing Lee, the Chinese laundry man who eloped from Camden, N. J., with Lizzie Sprowit, aged 15, was arrested here Saturday night. He was found occupying apartments on Pell street with the girl. Though living as man and wife, the couple had not been married. The Chinaman was held for trial on the charge of abduction, and the girl placed in care of the society for the prevention of cruelty to children. The police in arresting the couple were opposed by the other Chinese residents of Pell street.

Frank Knoblock, a wood chopper, who came to town Saturday morning, was burned to death in a fire early this morning at the Chicago house, at Butte, a frame one-story hotel. He had escaped from the building after the alarm was given, but insisted on returning to his room to get a vest containing nearly $400, and was overcome by smoke in endeavoring to make his way out. He was 28 years old, a Bohemian, and hailed from near LaCrosse, Wis., where his parents lived on a farm. He has been in the state only a short time. Another man, named T. C. Smith, was severely burned before he escaped from the burning building.

Robert Howe, a young bookmaker's clerk, has been arrested on a charge of stealing a $10,000 case of diamonds from the jewelry establishment of Carl Warnicke, 12 West Twenty-eight street, New York City. The robbery occurred February 6, last, and since that time the police have been at work on the case constantly. On that date the prisoner, or a man who very closely resembles him, called at the jewelry store with a handsomely-dressed woman, who said she wanted to purchase some diamonds. They examined some rings, but finally concluded not to puachase and left the place. A tray of diamonds, valued at $10,600, was immediately missed, but the couple could not be found. Friday night, Howe, who answers the description of the thief, was arrested. The police are now searching for the woman.

DO YOU FAVOR
Building up a Strong, Independent Paper for the People in Oregon?

A PAPER THAT WILL NOT SELL OUT—
Printed at the Seat of Government

LOOK AT THE RECORD OF THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.

During the recent session of the legislature it was the only paper in the state that attacked successfully the Portland dictatorship in Oregon politics. It successfully opposed all doctoring the Australian ballot law in the interests of political bosses. It advocated the law (that passed) giving the Oregon railroad commission power to fix just and reasonable rates of freights and power to enforce its decisions. It successfully advocated retention of the old railroad commission as best qualified to enforce the law. It labored for all measures to open rivers and thus secure to the people the right to free and unrestricted use of the waterways.

ITS PLATFORM.

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL favors a reform in national finances, to the end that the present expensive monopoly system of supplying an inadequate currency may be supplanted by the government issuing direct to the people an adequate supply of legal tender money, with a coin basis sufficient to conform to sound banking principles. It favors election of all officials who legislate for, or are directly responsible to the people, by direct vote of the people. It favors raising all state revenues by a tax on the gross earnings of corporations, both foreign and state. It favors opening all waterways to the sea and a control of all common carriers to the end that the producer shall secure for his labor the largest net returns.

If you favor retaining all powers possible in the hands of the people and government in the interests of the people, circulate this paper. For terms, see elsewhere.

1,500 MILES.

But She Got It.—A Sample of Letters Daily Received.

Only those who have tried it can know what it is that prompts one to send 1,500 miles for it to get it again. Here is another of many such instances:—

DEAR SIRS: I send $5, for which please return a half dozen of your vegetable sarsaparilla. I have moved here from Sierra City, Cal. I took three bottles before leaving, hence I send all the way back to California for more. It was just before I left Sierra City about a year ago, that I began to feel very miserable. My skin was very yellow, and I was all pains and aches, especially under my shoulders and in my head. The doctor said it was my liver, and gave me some medicine which relieved me somewhat. One of my neighbors happened in and told me she had started to take Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and advised me to try it. I did, and with such good effect that I now feel like a new being. I have persuaded one of my neighbors here to take it, so part of this is for her and part for myself.

FOOTPRINTS OF THE WORLD'S HISTORY
By WM. S. BRYAN and JOHN CLARK RIDPATH,
The World Celebrated Historians.

The story of the nations is told in the brilliant deeds and grand achievements of the world's heroes and heroines. A rich store house of history, travel, adventure, and the weird and wonderful events of the "times that tried men's souls." Thrilling stories of the days of chivalry, startling heroic achievements of warriors and crusaders. Also a vast collection of the rarest gems of English and American historical literature. The most wonderful new book of the day, the great self educator; just the book the people want. Over 350 grand and historical illuminations, half-tone steel engravings, and brilliant oil-colored plates. Everybody finds it a bonanza of success. It sells without asking. No capital, no risk. Straight business and big profits. Splendid illustrated circulars and full particulars sent free.
