posed of in short order by testifying that they knew nothing of the article that had offended the dignity of the Silver Bow county court, or its authorship. Mr. McKnight proved a very good witness on the stand. He declared the offensive articles ascribed to "An Old Montanian," was a composite article, being the id as expressed in conversation with many people in Helena at the time of the application for a change of venue in the Davis will case. He could not remember exactly who had suggested the various ideas it contained. Mr. Ingalls' remarks to the court in his argument of the motion suggested one phrase, "deadly bias," and in conversation with another gentleman he had derived the idea that republicans and democrats had united in seating Judge McHatton for his well known partiality which would be of use in keeping the Davis estate in this county in case of a contest over the estate. He refused to disclose this informant's name. This was the only individual authority he could remember and the case was adjourned for McKnight to get permission from this gentleman to give his name.

CARLOAD OF DUPES.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—A Southern express car at the Union station is the present abiding place of an odd assortment of white and colored excursionists from Birmingham, Ala. The excursion originally numbered about 400 people, who paid $10 and $15 for tickets to Chicago and St. Louis and return. The excursion was engineered by a white man named Packett, and the notorious "Doc" Kennedy, a negro, who has achieved considerable renown in the South as the originator of financial hoaxes. When the party reached West Point, Miss., $600 additional was required to make the trip. This was $3 more per person, for those intending to go on to Chicago when the party reached St Louis. About this time the majority of the dupes of Kennedy and his partner refused to pay any more. A few, however paid the required $3, and they started for Chicago. The excursionists were induced to leave home with the understanding that work would be furnished them at Chicago and St. Louis at large wages.

A MAN MISSING.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Detectives are still unable to find the whereabouts of F. W. Quick, the wealthy young Englishman, who mysteriously disappeared from the Grand Pacific hotel last Saturday. His luggage is in storage at the hotel, and he has not appeared at the First National bank to claim the money which was sent to him by cable from London Wednesday. Telegrams from San Francisco say that Quick arrived in that city from Australia July 9. While at the Cape of Good Hope the young Englishmen suffered from a severe hemorrhage soon after taking a bath, and since then, his friends claim, he has not fully recovered. During his voyage to America he told the officers of that steamer that he was going to do some work for the Canadian Pacific railway. He is a civil engineer by profession, and unmarried. It is also said that Quick drank heavily during the voyage, and this fact strengthens the belief of the detectives of Chicago that the Englishman is in bad company, and that he will appear as soon as he regains his senses. Dr. M. Luseron, an English physician who is making a tour of the world was a companion of Quick in crossing the Pacific. He remains at the Grand Pacific hotel, in the hope that his friend may soon return.

THE "HOLY COAT."

BERLIN, July 25.—The Pope has approved exhibition of the "Holy Coat" at Treves, and sanctioned forgiveness of sins of pilgrims who journey thither. Three steamers each with nine hundred pilgrims aboard have arrived from America.

MOTION DISMISSED.

ST. PAUL, July 25.—The motion to dismiss the cases against the trainers of Fitzsimmons and Hall was denied by judge and trial is now in progress.

COL. COMPTON'S TRIAL.

WALLA WALLA, July 25.—The court martial on Col. Compton was ended yesterday. The findings of the court will be reported to the secretary of war before being made public. The opinion prevails that the court will find Compton guilty of neglect of duty, but that a recommendation that the punishment be light, will be made.

CRUISER NO. 6.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The first rivet in Cruiser No. 6 was driven yesterday by Henry T. Scott. The cruiser will be the largest marine contract ever let to the Pacific coast. She is to be a protected cruiser of 5500 tons displacement, and 340 feet in length. The test of speed is to be not less than 20 knots per hour.

BIG FIRE IN TEXAS.

DALLAS, Texas, July 25.— Fire broke out in J. B. Cowan & Co.'s liquor house on Commercial street early this morning, and spread rapidly to the Bembrook School Furniture Co., the Brewerst Storage Co. warehouse, and Wolfe & Co.'s cotton gin. Five hundred bales of cotton in the gin were destroyed. Estimated loss, $2,000,000.

GOVERNOR BOIES' ACCEPTANCE.

DES MOINES, July 25.—Governor Boies' letter accepting the democratic nomination was given press today. The issues of the campaign are discussed, special stress is laid on prohibition an tariff but is somewhat non-committal on free coinage of silver, which was endorsed by the democrats at the Ottumwa convention.

OREGON CROPS.

OREGON CROPS.

PORTLAND, Or., July 25.—The crop buletin issued by Oregon weather bureau today says:

Weather conditions have been favorable to the ripening of grain. Harvest has now begun all over the state. Wheat in every section is turning out better than was expected. In a few sections rust is reported, but not to any extent. The oat crop will be a good one. The codlin moth is doing damage. Hops are quite promising. The peach crop will be the largest on record.

LARGEST POWER HOUSE.

MILWAUKEE, July 25. — Henry Villard, by another deal consummated today, has control of every interrational transportation line in this city except on the short electric road. Villard's people have erected the largest electric power house in the world here, more than sufficient for all purposes yet developed, with the control of all street car tracks.

TRIBUTE TO CLEVELAND.

SANDWICH, Mass., July 25.—Sandwich today expended an cordial reception to ex-President Cleveland who has chosen Cape Cod as a place of residence during the summer months, the occasion was not confined to local bounds of Sandwich and Bourne but to all Cape Cod, whose residents irrespective of politics and summer visitors united in welcome. This morning a special train having on Governor Russell and staff and other invited guests stopped at Buzzard Bay, when ex-President Cleveland was escorted here. The procession as formed was headed by the band and Cleveland was escorted to a large tent, where the reception was held.

In welcoming ex-President Cleveland on behalf of the citizens of Cape Cod, General Russell warmly eulogized Cleveland's administration and closed with the assurance that Massachusetts believes in sound currency. In replying to the toast "Our Neighbor" the ex-president returned thanks for the neighborly intentions of the inhabitants of Cape Cod, and speaking of the presidency said he had again returned to the people to assume the ordinary duties of citizenship, subject to the same rules of behavior which apply to his fellow countrymen, and in return should be accorded the same fair and decent treatment. Many people, however, appear to believe once out of office we are constantly engaged in plotting for our own benefit and ends, not only to destroy the party to which we belong, but to subvert popular liberty and utterly uproot free American institutions.

U. S. LAUNCH BLOWN UP.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The World published yesterday morning a letter from Callao, Peru, containing the information that June 1 a steam launch from the United States man-of-war Pensacola was blown up in the harbor of Africa by the Chilian torpedo boat Condell. Every man on board the launch, six in number, were killed. The Chilian cruisers had mistaken the launch for an insurgent boat. After the terrible mistake had been discovered the Condell dipped her colors and sent her chief officer aboard the Pensacola. Such apologies as could be offered were made, but the feelings among the comrades of the dead sailors was very bitter.

NOT SO.

WASHINGTON, July 25. — It is stated by officials of the navy department that there is no foundation whatever for the story published this morning the steam launch of the Pensacola had been blown up by the Chilian vessel Condell.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—The immense cotton and wool mill of Campbell & Elliot was completely destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated between $600,000 and $750,000, and is believed to be covered by insurance. The fire was one of the fiercest ever seen in this city. The building was about 200 feet square and filled with imflammable material. Over 450 men, women, and children are thrown out of employment by the destruction of the mill.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

BOSTON, Mass., July 25.—This city will be represented at Detroit encampment by fifteen hundred Grand Army men not pledged to any candidate for commander in chief. It is generally understood the the candidate will be selected from the West this year.

THE ALLIANCE MOVE.

NEW YORK, July 25.—A reporter interviewed W. C. Crum, general manager of the New York bureau of the national farmers' alliance and reform press association, touching the so-called wheat trust combine among farmers. He denied any such combine had been formed. The suggestion was made, he said, some time ago that farmers would do well to hold their wheat for remunerative prices, in preference to allowing it to fall into the hands of unscrupulous speculators. Upon this advice, word was sent out through the bureau of reform press two weeks ago, advising farmers to hold their wheat. Several sub alliances in Illinois met and passed a resolution to this effect, which were published in alliance papers, there being no effort made to conceal the fact, whatever. Crum said the attempt to make it appear now as if some "traitor" had revealed the matter prematurely is in keeping with many similar attempts to invest certain ambitious leaders with an air of importance far beyond their ability or worth. Editor Crum, who is a practial farmer himself and thoroughly posted in the scheme as narrated, says he does not believe intelligent farmers will be caught with such chaff. He is convinced that schemers are trying to work the farmers' alliance for all it is worth of selfish and political purposes. As to a combination among farmers, Crum said:

"I would be very glad if the farmers could, by combination, secure good prices, especially for wheat. The report coming from St. Paul stating that Ignatius Donnelly was opposed to a wheat trust among farmers betrays demagoguery of the whole plot, for while championing the cause of farmers, he is well known as the knight of labor of the West. He is looking for the presidential nomination in 1892. He hesitates to urge a wheat combine, which would affect the price of bread. I favor any plan which will contribute honestly to the farmers welare. I have doubts of efficiency of policy of farmers holding too long upon their wheat. It takes money to move as well as to buy wheat, and if held too long and the world's crop turns out larger than anticipated, a crash is imminent."

VANCOUVER, July 25.—Brigadier General Kautz, the new department commander arrived at department headquarters this morning and assumed command of department.

Searles, the New York Architect and widow of Millionaire Hopkins of the Pacific slope died here this morning as a result of an attack of the grippe. GENEVA,July 25.—Henry M. Stanley, explorer, met with a serious accident at Muerren. He fractured his left thigh bone by slipping while mountain climbing.

FOREIGN.

NEWS OF THE VATICAN.

ROME, July 15.—It is stated on high authority the Holy See will not give its consent to the projected American review which is announced shortly to be published in Rome under the title of the Roman Messenger, to be devoted to various religious questions in the United States.

The Vatican declares the protocol of the new triple alliance will not contain a clause concerning the next conclave of cardinals. Monsignor Galimberti, the pope's nuncio at Vienna, having succeeded in preventing the introduction of the proposed clause in the new treaty.

The democratic views of Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland, that the bishops are the natural representavtives of the people and tho Holy See continue to make progress at the Vatican. It is asserted the secretary of state has made known to the presidents of the various Catholic national congresses that Catholics should before everything watch the interests of the people and cease to occupy themselves with dynasties.

The result of the investigation in the administration of St. Peter's pence will soon be made public.

The Vatican has been requested to publish an official statement of the position of the funds to tranquilize Catholic opinion, which, at present, is much agitated over the recent revelations. It is reported that Monsignor Folchi will shortly publish a pamphlet justifying his position in respect to the funds, but at the Vatican it is thought exceedingly improbable that Monsignor Folchi will commit such an error of judgment.

ROYAL MARRIAGE.

LONDON, July 25.—Advices from Sofia state that deep interest is felt in the Bulgarian capital in the outcome of the Coburg family council, which it is expected will be held at the estate of the Archduke Joseph in Hungary in a few days. The meeting is understood to most deeply concern Prince Ferdinand, inasmuch as it is believed to have been called to discuss the matrimonial prospects of the Bulgarian ruler. Prince Ferdinand and his mother are to be present, and the Princess Stephanie, widow of Prince Rudolph of Austra, and her mother the queen of the Belgians, will also attend, together with several others connected by birth or marriage with the Cobug family. Current gossip has it that the real purpose of the gathering is to discuss the possibility of a matrimonial alliance between Ferdinand and Stephanie, an event which would require the sanction of the emperor and empress and the king and queen of the Belgians, and probably arouse the opposition of many other courts.

TEMPLAR PILGRIMAGE.

QUEENSTOWN, July 25.—The City of Berlin, from New York, arrived yesterday with over 200 Knights Templar on board. The knights represent detachments from all parts of the United States, who are making a pilgrimage of Europe. They will return to New York, September 2.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Wonderful Results often follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Severe cases of scrofula, upon which other preparations have been powerless, yield to the peculiar curative powers of this medicine. Distressing cases of dyspepsia, excruciating complaints of the kidneys and liver, agonizing itch and pain of salt rheum, disagreeable cases of catarrh, and aches and pains of rheumatism, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood, and at the same time tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives strength to every function of the body. Give it a trial.

General Debility

"For four years my wife suffered with large tumor bunches on the glands under the arms, and general debility of the whole system. She became so poor in health that we were on the verge of despair regarding her recovery. Physicians did not seem to understand her case; at all events she never derived any benefit from their treatment. She finally concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The immediate effect was so marked and satisfactory that she continued to take it, and this is the result. She has gained in weight and is stronger and in better health than she has been for years. The bunches under her arms have diminished, and we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla will be too much for them in time." J. J. NORCROSS 226 Commercial Street, Boston, Mass.

From 84 to 111 Pounds

Mr. Barnes and the Bear.

Mr. Elisha Barnes, one of the early settlers of Henniker, N. H., stood looking out of his cabin door one day in early spring, when he saw a large bear passing along the upper edge of the snow covered clearing. He ran for his gun, but found it unfit for use. He seized an ax, therefore, and in considerable excitement started in pursuit of the bear.

As Mr. Barnes came up, the bear stopped and looked at him. He raised his ax and brought it down with what he thought stunning effect; but Bruin lifted his paw and struck the ax from the hand of his enemy, and then fell upon him, bitting him severely in the leg and thigh.

It was a dangerous situation—alone with the bear and wholly unarmed. When the beast opened his mouth for another bite, the unfortunate man, in desperation, pushed his hand between the jaws and ran his arm down the animal's throat.

Meanwhile Mrs. Barnes had run to the nearest neighbor's, Samuel Eastman, who seized his gun and hastened to Mr. Barnes' relief. He arrived very opportunely. Mr. Barnes was struggling with the bear, but was growing faint from loss of blood.

Not daring to shoot for fear of wounding his friend, Mr. Eastman took the ax and dealt Bruin a blow on the thigh. The animal turned, and then without ceremony lumbered off toward the woods, where he disappeared before Eastman could fire at him. On the following day, however, the bear was tracked and killed.

Mr. Barnes' injuries were so severe that months elapsed before he was able to perform any labor.—Youth's Companion.

Colored Fires.

For the production of red, green, yellow and blue fires, one-fifth part of the compositson is shellac. As this is a constant quantity it is apparent at once that the shellac has nothing to do with determining the color. It serves the purpose that charcoal does in the manufacture of gunpowder. It holds the other elements in desired form, and regulates the rate of combustion.

Another fifth part of these several compounds is the chlorate of potassium. This is used for the detonating effect; to startle the beholder with the crackling sound, and with the scattering of the fire. Of itself it would give a white light, and would burn with intense energy. It imparts "go" to the rocket.

The remaining three-fifths are what give color to the flame. They differ, of course, in the four compounds. For producing red fire nitrate of strontium is used; for green, nitrate of barium; for yellow, nitrate of sodium; and for blue, ammonia sulphate of copper. As we find nitrates used for the first three colors named, it is plain that the effect is determined wholly by the use respectively of strontium, barium and sodium. It is equally true that blue is the result of the burning of copper.

Violet and purple flames are composite. To produce the violet, lime and copper and sulphur are burned together. For purple, strontium and calomel are burned with just a little copper. The fumes of calomel are particularly harmful, and all these substances yield gases that ought not to be freely breathed. Very striking effects could be obtained by using nickel, arsenic and other similar elements, but their use would be dangerous to health. —Western Druggist.

Crack Walkers.

"Yes, sir, I am a crack walker," said a gentleman in a down town hotel. Several of his friends turned around and gave him a look that was mingled with surprise and inquiry. One of them said quickly, "What on earth is a crack walker?" The reply came: "Oh, a man or a woman who can't step on a crack without feeling nervous and frightened over it. Of course when one of us goes over a brick sidewalk the cracks don't count, but on a crossing or a big flagging we so arrange our steps as to avoid the cracks.

"I began it years ago coming down town just to occupy my mind, but it wasn't long before I had the habit so firmly fixed upon me that I am afraid I will never get over it. Now, let me inadvertently step on a crack and the cold sweat will stand out on me like beads. What do I do? Why, I go back and step over the spot again, carefully avoiding the crack. I don't know whether that does me any good or not, but I know I always feel better after it. It always seems to me that I shall not have good luck if I break my habit. I know lots of men who are crack walkers, and I have heard of some of them getting into such a state that they were forced to place themselves under the care of a physician."—Boston Globe.

Generating Steam by a New Process.

It is said that a new method of generating steam has met with remarkable success in England. The invention is adaptable to any ordinary Cornish, Lancashire or marine boiler. The apparatus for perfecting the combustion consists of an air tube placed on the floor of the furnace, perforated on each side, in communication at the outer end with a hot receiver or air diffusing pipes, where the air becomes highly heated and delivered by a large number of jets into the escaping gases from the fuel chamber. The air is obtained by means of a fan driven by a small engine.—New York Telegram.
