cratic institutions. So "Vive la France" was frequently heard from Russian lips, but not "Vive la Republique."

STEEL RAILROAD CARS.

CHICAGO, July 28.—There is now on exhibition in the Grand Central passenger depot a train of five steel cars. Four cars are ready to go into service, and one car remains uncovered so as to show its construction. This unique special train is looked upon as the first sign of a complete revolution in railway car construction. It was the first train of all steel cars ever run in the world, and left the shops at Desplaines, where the cars were built, yesterday afternoon. One of the passengers was Mrs. W. W. Green, wife of the inventor, F. H. Foster, who is having a palatial private car of steel constructed for his own use in the south. He has been here for some days preparing for a celebration of the successful completion and arrival of the first train. This celebration will take place Tuesday afternoon at the Grand Central depot. Addresses will be made by prominent railway officials.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 28.—Last evening, at a crossing of the Erie road, near Eldridge park, three persons were killed and two fatally injured. Rev. Wellington White started out to drive, having with him Mrs. White, their three children, Hattie Hastings, daughter of a neighbor, and Susie McCarthy, the nurse girl. Approaching the crossing of the railroad, a freight train, which had been cut in two to allow entrance to the park, occupied the nearer track. Seeing and hearing nothing indicative of danger, White drove between the halves of the freight train upon the other track just in time to be struck by a passenger train. White, his daughter Lilian, aged 9, and Susie McCarthy, aged 12, were instantly killed. Mrs. White and child 2 years old received fatal injuries.

THE MISSOURI.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 28.—Unless influence is brought to bear upon the Missouri river to prevent the inroads being made at a point west of this city, known as Belmont bend, the town of Elwood, opposite St. Joseph, and a territory of about six square miles of farming country will be submerged and the bridge and railroad tracks be rendered useless. The neck of land separating the river above and below the bend has been reduced to a width of 1600 feet, and the banks are caving every day. Should the river cut through the Kansas bottoms this city would be deprived of three of its most important lines of railroads for months at least. The iron bridge now spanning the stream at this point would be rendered useless.

MANSLAUGHTER.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 28.—William Jelliott, former proprietor and editor of the Sunday Capital, who with his brother P. Jelliott, killed Albert Cosborn a reporter on the Sunday World and W. L. Hughes, a bystander, besides wounding a number of people during the shooting affray on High street on the afternoon of February 23, last, were convicted this morning of murder in the second degree. Trial has been in progress since May 11. The crime was the direct result of personal journalism.

ARMS FOR CHILI.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—The Chronicle states that notwithstanding the misadventure which overtook the cargo of the schooner Robert and Minnie, which transferred arms and ammunition to the Chilean vessel, Itata, large quantities of ammunitions of war are being shipped to the insurgents from this port, these shipments it is claimed are being made in bales of hay.

AN APPOINTMENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.—Gen. Daniel McCauley, of Indiana, has been tendered the office of chief of the appointment division of the treasury department vice E. Moore resigned.

FARMER'S ALLIANCE

ST. LOUIS, July 28.—The farmers' alliance and Knights of Labor of the third and fourth congressional districts of Texas are holding an encampment at Sulphur springs to continue during the week. Among the prominent persons present are Senator Pfeiffer of Kansas and Powers Prest, of the Indiana alliance. Speeches so far all favor the people's party movement some quite of an intemperate character. L. R. Hoods, of Vauzant county, predicted a revolution in event the relief fails though the ballot, he said John Brown succeeded Lloyd Garrison and that the people intend to break the reign of plutocracy peaceble, if they can, forcibly if they must.

SEVERE FOREST FIRES.

SONORA, Cal., July 28.—The forest fire has assumed large proportions. It swept over the McPhersons place leaving ruin in its wake, next followed P. M. Triests and J. C. Keefes at Gold Springs, and several other places all which succumbed to the destructive element, then Columbia brewery was destroyed. The fire rushed onward and at this writing is near and partly around Columbia. Men from this place have gone to lend their help to save Columbia and still the cry comes for more help.

GAS EXPLOSION.

SEATTLE, July 28.—The gas in the vault in the sheriffs office today exploded and seriously wounded Bookkeeper Mott and a deputy sheriff named Hunt.

THE FRENCH COLLISION.

PARIS, July 28.—The official statement of the St. Maude railroad collision makes the number of dead forty-three, and injured 104. People began to flock to the scene by thousands, many seeking friends who had not returned from the fete. By daybreak there were 20,000 persons around the station, and the schoolroom and town hall, where the bodies were lying, were besieged by the distracted people. Inside there was a constant succession of heart-rending scenes as the identification of the charred and mangled bodies proceeded. Among the injured sent to the hospital, a number died immediately after admission, and many more are expected to succumb. Inquiry into the cause of the accident shows that the second train left Vincennes at the regulation interval of five minutes after the first train. The latter train was delayed at St. Maude, owing to the enormous crowd of excursionists. The station master at Vincennes blames the driver of the second train for the accident. When this train was starting the station master advised the driver to go slowly as there was a train in front of him, but the man paid no heed to the advice and went ahead at full speed. This driver at first alleged all the signals indicated "line clear," but inquiry confirms the report of the officials at St. Maude and Vincennes, that danger signals were shown. The driver asserts he has been the victim of an act of revenge on the part of some one who cut the pipes of the air-brakes, thus preventing them from being used to bring the train to a standstill.

The terrible excursion train collision at St. Maude near this city is still the feature of popular interest here. The newspapers of this city and the provinces are filled with harrowing details of the disaster, such ghastly railroad accidents not being every day occurrences here. The funeral of the victims will be held in the cemetery at St. Maude and be at the expense of the commune. The master at Vincennes and the driver of the second engine have been arrested. The lady announced as being among the victims of the disaster was not Marquise de Monteferata, but Madame Blancey or Blanchet, of New York City. Up to the present, official inquiry has failed to establish clearly the real cause of the collision which is attributed in turn to revenge, malice, carelessness and incompetence, according to the revelations of the hour. The action of the firemen in drowning the roasting and wounded people imprisoned beneath the wreck is most severely condemned. Seven additional victims of the collision died last night, making a total of fifty dead accounted for.

LOSS OF EQUIPMENTS.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The confidential agent of the insurgents at Panama makes public the following bulletin received from the minister of foreign affairs for congressional party at Iquique. On July 3 the ship Maipo foundered having aboard complete equipments for infantry, cavalry and artillery for 25,000 men.

STABLES BURNED.

CHEBANSEE, Ill., July 28.—The large and costly stables covering the training track of Leroy Paine, liveryman, were burned this morning with their contents. The loss is heavy, including $10,000 worth of paintings in the office. One hundred and thirty of the horses were saved.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 28.—Edward Malley, the wealthy dry goods merchant of this city, claims that the suit brought against him for $25,000 damages for an alleged breach of promise of marriage by Mrs. Marie Reinhart, of New York, is an attempt at blackmail. Mrs. Reinhart has engaged C. S. Hamilton, of this city, as her counsel. The plaintiff says she has ample proof for her case in letters written to her by Mr. Malley. These letters have been deposited in the vault of the Yale National bank in this city. Mr. Malley has given bonds for $25,000, William Neely, the New Haven drygoods merchant, being his bondsman. The plaintiff, who is about 30 years old, is of graceful figure, and has a refined and pleasing face. She became governess at Mr. Malley's mansion a few months after the death of his second wife, who was Miss Burke, a New York lady of wealth.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE.

BOULOGNE-SUR MER, July 28.—"Has Mrs. Frank Leslie fully engaged herself to enter another matrimonial alliance?" is the question frequently asked just now. A correspondent says the reason for the query is her alleged attachment for William Wilde, the elder brother of the esthetic Oscar Wilde. The story, which is cabled, is common talk at the hotels and in society generally, and is this: William Wilde has left London to visit Mrs. Leslie here. He is really engaged to the lady, although it has until now been kept a secret. William Wilde is a tall, handsome, manly fellow, and a great society man. He has a house at West End in London, and is a shining light at the Carlton and Pelican clubs. He is a professional journalist, and is connected with the Daily Telegraph. Above all he is a frank, honorable man, devoted to Lady Wilde, his mother, who sees in him the image of his honorable father, Sir William Wilde. The young man is poor, however.

BEATEN TO DEATH.

PULLMAN, Washington, July 28.—A young German named Paul, was killed at Chris Martin's ranch, near here, by a fellow workman named August. Paul arose early and woke August, threatening him with a pitchfork if he did not get up. He then returned to his work, cleaning his horses. August ran out of the house and got a club and followed Paul into the stable, and hit him on the head twice while he was stooping and cleaning the horse's legs. Paul died in the evening. August was brought to Pullman by Washington and was taken to Colfax yesterday for examination. Paul worked for Martin about a month, and August only two days. No cause for the deed is known.

DEATH OF MRS. STOMBOUM.

PORTLAND, July 28.—Mrs. Christina Stomboum, who was shot by John W. Scott Saturday evening, died at 2:40 yesterday afternoon. her death was not unexpected. The funeral will take place from the house of her son-in-law August Plegstra, on the East drive, Carter's hill.

Scott, whose carelessness was responsible for the death of the old lady, was arraigned in the police court yesterday, charged with manslaughter. That was two hours before Mrs. Stomboum died, but District Attorney Stphens had been informed that she had not long to live, and anticipated matters. The case went over until today.

Scott, in an interview published Sunday, said that Henry McCraken, the well-known merchant, fired the second shot Saturday. Mr. McCraken says that the statement is not true, and adds that he has been complaining for two months of indiscriminate shooting in the vicinity of his residence, which is near the house where young Scott lived. Inquiry among the neighbors confirms what Mr. McCraken said.

AN OLD PRINT.

BALTIMORE, July 28.—Samuel Sands died today in his 92nd year, he was probably the oldest living printer. His apprenticeship began in 1841 nearly half century ago. He published "The American Farmer" the first agricultural paper started in this country.

WANTED SOME TO LIVE ON.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 28.—Stephen A. Ryan, the young Atlanta drygoods merchant, who failed some time ago for $2,000,000 is behind the prison bars. Judge Gober sent him there for contempt of court. The judge says Ryan has cash assets in his possession to the amount of $120,000 which must be handed over to the creditors. The affair has created a sensation. Ryan declares he has no cash assets to turn over.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Micheal Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Fry's Drug Store, large bottles 50c. and $1.00

Don't Care to Eat.

It is with the greatest confidence that Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended for loss of appetite, indigestion, sick headache, and similiar troubles. This medicine gently tones the stomach, assists the digestion, and makes one "real hungry." Persons in delicate health, after taking Hood's Sarsaprilla a few days, find themselves longing for and eating the plainest food with unexpected relish.

Passengers destined to the prominent cities east of the Missouri river should patronize the Chicago, Union Pacific & Northwestern line. Magnificent Pullman and Wagner sleeping cars, elegant Pullman and Northwestern dining cars, free reclining chair cars, handsome day coaches and comfortable Pullman colonist sleepers. eod-aug

Dyspepsia

[illegible] many people miserable, and often [illegible] to self-destruction. Distress after [illegible], sour stomach, sick headache, [illegible] loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" [illegible], bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently yet efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and, by thus overcoming the local symptoms, cures the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, painting, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

Will Be Married in the Fall.

The people who were at the steamboat wharf in Bucksport Saturday noon when the steamer Lewiston left for Boston were treated to an interesting episode which was as rare as it was amusing to all concerned.

Two lovers became so engrossed in each other in the waiting room that the planks had been removed and the bow line thrown off before they realized the situation, but nothing daunted, the lovers started arm in arm at a double quick down the slip and leaped on board, while a friend followed with the trunk, which in their innocent bliss they had forgotten to have checked, and the boat baggage men had consequently not taken.

The best was to come, for the lover had meanwhile returned to the wharf, when the shrill voice of the maiden was heard above the din as the boat was swinging away from the pier, "Come here a minute."

The obedient lover again leaped on board mid the cheers of the crowd and the encouraging cry of those interested, "You have forgotten to kiss her good-by," and clasping the maiden around the neck in a loving embrace, implanted a hearty smack upon her lips, and with one last desperate leap again regained the pier, while the air resounded with the cheers, clapping, etc., from the witnesses on the wharf and the boat.

Some one remarked that the scene was good enough to put in the paper, when the lover with radiant face said, "I'll have something better than that for the paper by and by, for she has been up here for a fortnight, and I have taken her all around to my folks, and they all think I have made a fine choice—you just wait till fall."—Bangor Commercial.

Poor Working Women.

In the Boston daily papers have lately appeared vivid statements by Rev. Louis A. Banks of the condition of poor women who sew for a miserable living in this city. It is a match for anything of the kind in darkest England or darkest Africa. Every one feels that relief should be found somewhere.

On the same day that Mr. Banks' first sermon on the subject was published I had two letters. One was from central Massachusetts, from a farmer's wife who was suffering for lack of help. With a family of small children, thirty or forty cows and endless housework she could find no help.

Another letter came the same day from eastern Massachusetts with the same piteous complaint of "no woman to help." There were good homes in both these places—large rooms, good food, good air, good wages and physical comfort. This state of things exists to a large degree everywhere in country towns.

Now, what is needed is a bureau of information to bring the poorly paid labor in crowded cities into communication with the need of labor in the country. There would be small occasion for the pitiful exhibit so faithfully made by Mr. Banks if those who want work under good conditions could go where that kind of work is wanted. Let philanthropic men and women look to it.—Cor. Boston Woman's Journal.

The Reporter in the Dress Suit.

A few days ago a Philadelphia paper sent a reporter down to Staten Island to write up a fashionable morning wedding. The reporter hastened off. When he came back to the office he called together a group of reporters and said: "Say, you fellows, I don't think so much of those swells over in New York after all. I went down to that wedding in Staten Island this morning, and there wasn't a fellow there that knew enough to wear a dress suit but me."

The question of style depends largely on the individual point of view.—New York Evening Sun.
