DO YOU FAVOR Building up a Strong, Independent Paper for the People in Oregon? A PAPER THAT WILL NOT SELL OUT—Printed at the Seat of Government LOOK AT THE RECORD OF THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.

During the recent session of the legislature it was the only paper in the state that stood squarely for the federal dictatorship in Oregon politics. It successfully opposed all the measures of the legislature in the interests of political bosses. It advocated the law that passed giving the Oregon railroad commission power to fix just and reasonable rates of freight and power to enforce its decisions. It successfully advocated retention of the old railroad commission as best qualified to enforce the law. It labored for all measures to open rivers and thus secure to the people the right to free and unrestricted use of the waterways.

ITS PLATFORM. THE CAPITAL JOURNAL favors a reform in national finances, to the end that the present expensive monopoly system of supplying an inadequate currency may be replaced by the government issuing direct to the people an adequate supply of legal tender money, with a coin basis subject to conform to sound banking principles. It favors election of all officials who legislate for or are directly responsible to the people, by direct vote of the people. It favors raising all state revenues by a tax on the gross earnings of corporations, both foreign and state. It favors opening all waterways to the sea and to the people, and the free navigation thereof. It favors the free use of the land of the producer shall secure for his labor the full value of his production.

If you favor retaining all powers possible in the hands of the people and government in the interests of the people, circulate this paper. For terms, see elsewhere.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 6.—This morning a freight train on the West Shore railroad going west broke into between Port Byron and Montezuma and the fast train following crashed into rear parts. A brakeman and ten Italians en route to Niagara Falls in the smoking car were killed and seventeen others in the same car were injured. Some of them will probably die. The sleeping cars burned and it is supposed nearly all the passengers were rescued. The injured were brought here and are being cared for. Among the injured was a member of an opera company who died on his way here. Trainmen say a large and heavy piece of timber left in the smoking car which Italians were. The wreck took fire and the passenger train burned with the exception of three sleeping cars. None of the passengers in the sleeping cars were injured.

Beware of Quinments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury. Catarrh will surely destroy the system of health and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, price 75 cents per bottle.

American Idea of a Battle Ship.

The first and chief characteristic of a battle ship should be its ability to destroy its adversary, and this depends on the strength of its armament. The second should be its ability to prevent being destroyed, and this depends on the strength of the armor with which its hull and battery are protected. The third feature should be its speed, and the fourth its coal endurance. These last are necessarily subordinate features. Acting near the base of supplies, it would be useless to load the bunkers of our ships with 900 tons of coal, the usual allowance to English battle ships of a similar size. We think it better to take 500 tons from coal and put it into armor and armament. A further saving of weight lies in our moderate freeboard. Steering a middle course between the low hulls of the original monitors and the towering proportions which have been attained by an extravagant reaction from that system, resembling the great four-story structures of three centuries ago, we have placed our 13-inch guns eighteen feet above the water line, to enable our ships to fight bows on in almost any sea, while above them are the 8-inch guns, twenty-five feet from the water, which could be fought in a hurricane.

The Safe's Worst Enemy. Some months ago correspondence was carried on by experts as to whether it was possible to open a safe by the aid of a blowpipe, using compressed oxygen. A man calling himself "Mr. Grant," of Antwerp, registered at a hotel in Hanover, the lower floor of which was occupied by the Bank of Saxony. He was accompanied with a room overhead. One fine morning "Mr. Grant" disappeared, and it was discovered that he had penetrated into the bank offices by breaking up the floor and descending by a rope ladder. After having attached an India rubber tube to one of the gas jets he blew a current of oxygen with it from a reort brought with him, using the blowpipe, and succeeded in melting an opening through the door of that great steel safe used by the bank for holding smaller ones. He was in the act of operating on the smaller inner safe when he must have been disturbed, for he decamped. The safe contained some $250,000 in gold and notes, besides securities. The heat caused by such a flame will melt any metal; even the hardest platinum cannot stand it. It is too evident that owners of safes where valuables are stored need to be cautious about their neighbors' tenants. —London Bankers' Magazine.

Wonderful Intelligence of Birds. Dr. C. C. Abbott says that in experimenting on the intelligence of birds he placed a number of pieces of woolen yarn—red, yellow, green, purple and gray in color—near a tree in which Baltimore Orioles were building their nest. The pieces of yarn were all exactly alike except in color. There was an equal number of threads of each color, the red and yellow being purposely placed on top. The birds chose only the duller colors, taking all of the gray and a few threads of the purple when the nest was nearly done. Not a single thread of the yellow or bright red was touched, the birds seeming to instinctively know that such loud colors would make their domicile too conspicuous. Again he experimented by girdling the branches upon which nests were located, causing the leaves to shrivel and blow away. Although they had laid their eggs, the birds invariably left their nests. If the nests contained young when the leaves dried up, notwithstanding the exposure, they would feed the little ones until they were able to take care of themselves. —St. Louis Republic.

How Lincoln Refused. Judge Glenn W. Scofield was a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln. A Warren county private, having knocked down his captain, was tried, convicted and sentenced to the Dry Tortugas. His friends urged Scofield to have him released, so he went to see the president and told his story. Listening attentively Lincoln replied: "I tell you, judge, you go right down to the Capitol and get congress to pass an act authorizing a private soldier to knock down his captain. Then come back here and I will pardon your man." The judge says that there was such an air of quizzical earnestness and desire to serve him about the president's manner that they both broke out in an outburst of laughter. The judge did not press the case further. —Harrisburg Telegraph.

Refreshing His Memory. "Johnny, who discovered America?" "You'll be switched if I know." "You'll be switched if you don't." "Under the circumstances, then," said the boy, "I should say that Columbus the man." —New York Truth.

Just as Good. "As some dealer who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself." BY THE WAY.—If you are looking for reasonable groceries, fruits, or vegetables, call at Squire Farrar & Co. They have what you want.

Tuesday night by a misplaced switch. The train was about thirty minutes late, and came into the yards at a lively rate with a double-header. A switch was open, and the train dished in on the side track which was filled with boxcars. The engine and several cars were wrecked, but no one was badly hurt.

A YOUNG MAN REAPPEARS. JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 6.—At the time of the flood there lived in this city a young man named James Springer. He was never seen after the flood, and his friends thinking he had been drowned, packed up his clothes and other articles and sent them to his mother in Alliance, O. A dispatch from that place says that the mother yesterday received letters and papers that thoroughly established the fact that her son is alive. The letters were from James, and he tells a strange story. He says he escaped, but was dozed by the events of the flood that he went with a number of negroes to Mary land. A few weeks later he shipped as a sailor. He says he hardly knew what he was doing nor who impelled him to leave without advising his parents that he was alive. He has since traveled all over the globe, but had recently returned to the United States. He had trouble of a serious nature before the flood, and it is supposed that, unnerved by the terrible destruction, his mind became unbalanced and this led him to disappear. He drank heavily.
