

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.
CALDWELL, KAN., Aug. 29.—As a result of President Harrison's recent order permitting Cherokees to hold cattle in the strip, provided that they can show that the cattle belong to them. J. B. Mayes, chief of the Cherokee nation, with twenty-five leading men of the tribe, arrived here, and held a conference today with cattlemen now herding cattle on the strip. It was arranged that the cattle now grazing there shall be transferred to individual Cherokees by bills of sale. When the time for marketing comes, the cattle to be transferred back at sufficient advance to meet grazing charges. By this agreement the half million cattle on the strip will be kept there, and as many more will be brought as the Cherokees care to take.

ACT OF MISCHIEF.
BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 29.—Anson L. Pratt, fireman of the Campbell lumber yard, was killed yesterday, and John Calvin, engineer, and an unknown man fatally injured. Pratt and Calvin, in making a train, left one car at the top of the steep grade placing a block of wood under one of the wheels to hold it, while they pulled another car from the siding. Two young men coming along, knocked the block from beneath the wheels and the car started down the grade. One of the young men was on the car which he had helped to start, but becoming frightened at the speed it attained, he jumped, and was fatally injured. The car smashed into the engine and wrecked it, also the car being wrecked.

MORE RECIPROcity.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—For some time Sir Julian Pauncefote has been anxiously endeavoring to arrange a basis of negotiation with Britain with respect to the reciprocity trade between Canada and the United States, but with indifferent success. Premier Abbott sent a secret commission, a few weeks ago, to make an effort to establish entente cordiale. This agent, when at Washington, submitted Sir Julian Pauncefote's memorandum to the effect that the present dominion government was willing to have a reciprocity trade with such articles as are not imported into Canada in large quantities from England.

Sir Julian now feels in a position to offer the United States reciprocity in coal, grain, meats, cattle and live stock, leather of all kinds, glassware, agricultural implements, flour and meat, paper manufacturers, kerosene oil, cars, carriages, fish, metal goods, vegetables, fruits, hats and caps, rubber goods, fertilizers, earthenware and chinaware, and a number of other important articles.

A DESERTER FALLEN HERO.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 29.—Thomas G. Wren, a New York city lawyer, is here today in search of Frank D. Snyder, a young man who has been in St. Paul for several weeks, masquerading under the name of Edward Jones. Snyder worked for lumbermen in Minneapolis for a month or so, and since he came to St. Paul has been doing all sorts of odd jobs. Lawyer Wren wants Snyder to go to New York and take possession of property valued at $25,000, left him by his father who died there recently. Since last Friday the young man has not been seen. It was discovered yesterday morning that he is a deserter from Company I, First artillery, and a reward of $60 is offered for his apprehension. Wren says Snyder joined the army as a result of quarreling with a girl to whom he was very attached. He is well educated, and at the time of his army escapade was holding a good position in a Jersey City bank. An effort will be made by Snyder or out of his present difficulty. If he attempts to claim his newly-acquired wealth, however, he will be arrested and tried for desertion.

LOST OVERBOARD.
MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 29.—Captain E. L. Marshall, a wealthy real estate man of Seattle, Washington was lost overboard from the steamer Arago which left San Francisco for Marshfield on Monday evening. The captain was last seen on Tuesday night standing by the rail of the steamer. It is supposed to be a case of suicide.

THE SANDBAGGER.
ALBANY, Aug. 29.—One of the men wanted for sandbagging a party in Salem last week was arrested in this city last evening by Chief of Police Hoffman. He gives the name Rodgers, and was lodged in jail.

BRUTAL HANGING.
LIVERPOOL, Aug. 29.—John Conway, a steamship fireman, convicted of murder of the boy whose body was found floating in a sailors bay in the river was hanged this morning. The hanging was a terrible affair the man's head being almost torn from his body by the heavy fall.

SEVERE STORM.
SANBORN, N. Dak., Aug. 29.—A rain storm which swept over a wide strip of country south of this place yesterday afternoon laid waste seven thousand acres of grain.

NEBRASKA INDEPENDENTS.
HARTISBURG, Neb., Aug. 29.—The independent state convention organized. There are 709 delegates, representing seventy-six out of eighty-nine counties. Addresses were delivered. At the evening session, after a lengthy debate, a platform was adopted. It endorses the Cincinnati platform, favors abolition of the national bank notes and substitution of greenbacks therefore; advocates loaning government money to private individuals; free and unlimited coinage of silver; government control of railroads, steamships and telegraphs and telephone; condemns congress for extravagance in other lines, and failure to provide for old soldiers; demands service pensions and pensions for all prisoners of war; equal distribution of soldiers' bounties; enhanced appropriations for soldiers; calls on congress to forfeit title on all lands held by aliens and railroads in excess of actual needs, and closes reiterating the fealty of farmers to the cause of the people and old soldiers. J. W. Edgerton, of South Omaha, was nominated supreme judge.

THE SEATTLE RACES.
SEATTLE, Aug. 29.—The races at Kent track yesterday were witnessed by 3000 people. The track was in fine condition and the weather perfect. The sensation of the day was the performance of Cour d'Alene, owned by S. G. Reed, of Portland, in distancing the field and smashing the 4-year-old record for Oregon and Washington. Misty Morn's mile also breaks the North Pacific record for that distance.

Dannie McIntyre was thrown from his saddle while scoring on the Queen in a half mile dash, and was severely bruised about the face.

Running half mile dash, $420; Smooth Wire won, Queen second, Red Dick, third. Time 50 seconds. Trotting 3 minute class, $900; Caution won, Dombey second, Sterling Wood third. Best time 2:39. Trotting, 2:35 class, $500, Cousins d'Alene won, the distanced. Time 2:25. Running mile dash, $500, Misty Morn won, Malcolm second, Idaho Chief third. Time 1:45. Trotting, 2-year-old, $500 entrance, $550 added. Vanquish won, King Patchen second, Alma third. Time 2:52.

ROWING MATCH.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Henry Peterson, the oarsman has received the following message:
"NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C.
"Will you come here September 23, and row Hanlan and O'Connor, $1000 to first, $4000 to second? Open to the world."
"E. D. PORT"
Peterson, after consultation with his backer, Mulrhead, decided to take part in the regatta, for he has always believed that he could defeat Hanlan, and he has been looking for a chance to retrieve his defeat by O'Connor under unfavorable conditions.

ALLIANCE NEWS.
DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 29.—In the state alliance, now in session here, a bitter fight is being made on the sub-treasury question, but it is evident a majority of delegates favor the sub-treasury scheme. A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee whose duty it shall be to ascertain the exact number of bales of cotton produced in Texas this year, for the purpose of protecting planters against the false report of speculators.

RICHMOND Va., Aug. 29.—The newspaper reporters were not allowed near the hall yesterday while the alliance was in session. A resolution was adopted that the alliance deem it to be both patriotic and judicious to pay our taxes in money, and not in coupons, and earnestly beseech the taxpayers in the large cities not to sacrifice our state upon the altar of commercial cupidity. The alliance appreciates the importance of settling the state debt, providing it can be done without enhancing the rate of taxation.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 29.—The predicted light on Livingstone failed to materialize at yesterday's session of the state alliance. The resolution endorsing him passed with only one dissenting vote.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 29.—The state farmer's alliance convention in session here endorsed the Ocala platform and sub-treasury scheme.

PORTLAND WHEAT MARKET.
PORTLAND, Aug. 29.—There is little change in the wheat market. About twenty car loads of wheat have come in on the narrow gauge, and a few are coming in over the Union Pacific. Wheat charters are now about fifty shillings, or about $12.25 per ton. There is a limit above which they are not likely to rise. Freight from Eastern Oregon here is $5.75, which, added to $12.25 makes freight from Eastern Oregon to Liverpool $18 per ton. Wheat can be shipped by steamer from New Orleans to Liverpool for $5 per ton, which leaves $13 to pay freight from Eastern Oregon to New Orleans. Further rise in charters will tend to send Eastern Oregon wheat to New Orleans for shipment.

RATE WAR.
CINCINNATI, Aug. 29.—A big rate war has been inaugurated here to New York, caused by the Baltimore and Ohio making an extension rate of $15.50 to Atlantic City, which is less than the rate one way. The Erie notified the Baltimore and Ohio several days ago that if it did not withdraw the rate immediately, a rate of one fare would be made to New York. The Baltimore and Ohio declined to withdraw the rate, and the Erie announced a one-fare round-trip rate to New York, effective August 25. The "Big Four," Chesapeake and Ohio, and Pennsylvania, met the rate today. The action of the Baltimore and Ohio, it is alleged, is a direct violation of the trunk line agreement. The demoralization of rates will probably extend to other points. The Western lines, it is reported, have demanded differential rates.

A GIRL ABDUCTED.
HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 29.—Justice Cummings of this place has issued a warrant for the arrest of David H. Jaccard, a wealthy ranch owner of Hillsdale, on the charge of abducting Clara May Rawson, a daughter of Professor Albert L. Rawson, of New York city. The girl is said to be a granddaughter of Laura Keane, the famous actress. Jaccard, who is 50 years of age, is said to own several ranches in the West. He first met the girl while on a visit to Hillsdale. She is a handsome blonde. This was in November last, and the couple went away from Hillsdale and were supposed to have been married. Professor Rawson succeeded in getting his daughter away from Jaccard and took her to his home in New York. The girl recently disappeared and Jaccard is accused of having abducted her. When Jaccard was taken before Justice Herring he gave bonds to await trial. The girl is aged 15.

PALLIUM CONFERED.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29.—Cardinal Gibbons conferred the pallium on Arch Bishop H. Kettler today with most imposing ceremonies.

STAGE ROBBERY.
THE DALLAS, Aug. 29.—The Prineville and Canyon City stage was held up yesterday afternoon three miles west of Sbera's bridge by a masked man armed with a Winchester rifle. He ordered the driver, Chas. Adams, to throw out the mail sacks and five were given to the robber, when the driver was ordered to drive on.

Parties who visited the scene soon afterwards found two sacks, and the other three had been taken. The robber is described as a medium sized man, wearing blue overalls. The driver was so excited he could not tell whether he wore a coat or not. Two masks were found made out of a portion of oatmeal sacks. There were no passengers on the stage. The sacks contained money orders, registered letters, and two Indians started from Sbera's bridge, three miles from the scene of the robbery, immediately. They were well armed and struck the trail of the robber and are following it up with prospects of capturing the thief.

COLE BLOODED VILLAIN.
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—While dancing at a ball at Sandy Creek, in Jackson parish, Tuesday night, Miss Matilda Addison was shot by Wm. Murray, her partner in a waltz. Murray is a young man and had been forcing his attentions on Miss Addison. He tried repeatedly to get her to dance with him, but she excused herself on various grounds. Murray became angry and told some of the young men present that if she treated him again like that he would shoot her. To pacify him, Miss Addison, toward the close of the ball, accepted him as a partner. They were in the middle of the room and had just begun waltzing, when the report of pistol was heard and Miss Addison fell. Murray had fired the pistol without taking it from his pocket, and the latter was set on fire by the discharge. It was found the ball had struck the woman in the thigh, striking the bone and passing directly through. The young man was arrested, but denied all intention of shooting.

QUICKEST PASSAGE ON RECORD.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The White Star steamship Tonic arrived here yesterday morning from Liverpool. She made the passage in 5 days, 16 hours and 33 minutes; which beats the record by 1 hour and 35 minutes.

ABUNDANT CROPS PROMISED.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Statistical Bureau of the department of agriculture, says: "The year promises to be one of abundance in almost all lines of agricultural production. Preliminary returns of acreage made the wheat area about 40,000,000 acres. On that basis the crop should not fall below 525,000,000 bushels.

Oats are the least promising of all cereals. Acreage in rye is little changed, but the August condition is better, promising a larger crop. Barley acreage is apparently the largest ever seen, and the present condition warrants that the crop will be considerably above the average.

GOT HIM CORNERED.
HANSOVER, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Frank C. Almy, the murderer of Christie Warden was discovered in Warden's barn this morning. Almy fired fifteen shots at his pursuers slightly injuring one of them. They are now debating how to dislodge the murderer, who will probably be shot. The besieged man finally surrendered to the sheriff and was taken to jail.

FOREIGN.
CYCLONE.
PARIS, Aug. 29.—Meagre reports from Martinique Island which was swept by a cyclone yesterday the number of vessels lost as over 20. Official advices received here this afternoon announce the calamity the most severe since the year 1817. So far as can be learned there are nearly, if not quite, 60 deaths as the result of the hurricane visit, but it will be some time before the full extent of the disaster is known. At Fort De France about there are 12 lives lost and both Fort De France and St. Pierre to say nothing of the country districts where the numbers of people are injured. At St. Pierre five persons are known to have been killed. This number does not represent the entire loss of life, it is excessively difficult to get detailed news at present. As reports from various sections reached St. Pierre it becomes evident the extent of the hurricane's devastation has not been much exaggerated. Destruction of property and loss of life is reported from all parts of the coast. The damage done to shipping and property is enormous. About two-fifths is done to lands under cultivation and the mountain slope which was covered with forests all under cultivation and all forests in the path of hurricane appear to be swept away. Numerous sugar, coffee, cotton and cocoa plantations seem to have been utterly destroyed.

THE FRENCH FLEET.
LONDON, Aug. 29.—Most of the morning papers have editorials extending a warm welcome to the French fleet.

REMOVAL OF WAR.
ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—The heavy replenishing of the stores at military grain depots in Poland Lithuania and Lessarabia gave rise to rumors of Russian war preparations.

GLOMY.
CALCUTTA, Aug. 29.—A dispatch from the capital of British Burma state the harvest prospects almost throughout Burma are of the gloomiest description.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The grain market opened weak this morning rye showed no change while wheat is slight y lower.

THE CONSEQUENCE.
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The T. globant says: England's interest lies on our side should France and Russia edict the dreibund. The immediate consequence would be the expulsion of England from Egypt.

THE TREVES COAT.
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The city of Treves is packed with visitors from all parts of Germany to be present at the ceremonies on Thursday when the holy coat of the Savior will be exposed to public view. Thousands of letters have been received in which the writers beg permission to enter the church and to touch the holy coat for religious and healing purposes. The rector of the church at Argenteuil in France, which possesses the rival coat, has arrived there with two friends. He declares that the holy coat of Treves is not seamless, as has been represented, and as the description in the New Testament requires the coat should be, moreover, that it is a long cloak, falling from the shoulders to feet, which Jesus, being a craftsman, could never have worn. The French rector, who got the start of the Germans by exhibiting at Argenteuil on Sunday of the coat vouched for by Gregory of Tours, is impressed at the prominence given the coat of Treves. His presence is likely to cause trouble, as his marks have stirred up much indignation among the faithful.

NO DREIBUND.
PARIS, Aug. 29.—The Journal Debats warms the French government to be satisfied with the friendship of Russia and England, and not attempt the impossible task of forming another dreibund.

WAS HE A REBEL?
A Captain Who Fought in Chili, but His Dozen's Know on Which Side.
Captain Kenneth Pritchard, of the British steamship Tangier, had quite a thrilling war experience while at Buenos Ayres. The steamer had been chartered to load cargo at Liverpool for Buenos Ayres, and arrived at that port shortly after the revolution had ceased. All large vessels, such as the Tangier, were compelled to remain out in the Buenos Ayres Roads, which is about fourteen miles from the port. The masters quartered themselves at the different hotels, and most of their business was done ashore until the vessels were loaded or discharged, as the case happened to be.

On May 1 some little trouble arose between the rebels and the government and another revolution was threatened. The troops began to fire at all rebels, and within a short while a firing was general on all sides. Captain Pritchard was anxious to see what was going on throughout the town, and meandered slowly in the direction of the arsenal. Before he had gone far, however, he was captured by two soldiers and led, at the point of the bayonet, to the arsenal.

He was given a Winchester rifle, and by command of the officers in charge, was compelled to join the warlike crowd. Without much complaint, but a great deal of nervous dissatisfaction, he began popping away at every object in the shape of a man who passed within range of the arsenal. Here he was kept at work with his rifle for three hours, when he was relieved and a picket put on guard.

An opportunity presented itself, and Captain Pritchard slipped around the wall and escaped from his captors. He had gotten but a few yards from the place when he heard some grape shot whiz by him, and upon looking around he saw two guns being used at the head of the street to keep it clear. Captain Pritchard, without much ceremony, dropped himself into a three-foot gutter, and there remained with the water streaming over him for about an hour, when the firing ceased. After that evening the captain did not trust himself far from the hotel until his steamer sailed.

He said he fought hard, but he has not learned whether he was a government soldier or a rebel, and he wasn't curious enough to ask.—Baltimore American.

The Women Conductors.
Dickens certainly made a mistake when he created Micawber of the mas culine persuasion. "Waiting for something to turn up" is a feminine characteristic. And after all, isn't it true that "all things come to those who wait"? They do turn up for woman if she waits long enough. Today, after waiting forty years, she beholds 400 occupations open to her. Forty years ago she did not need more than one hand to count all the things she was allowed to do for a living. But one of the things she never did expect has turned up, and this is the woman street car conductor.

She gives perfect satisfaction, they say, and she is certainly picturesque. She wears a blue flannel uniform, a white Panama straw hat and a long white pinafore with frills and innumerable pockets. In the pockets she carries tickets and change, while strapped over her shoulder she carries a small leather bag in which are the surplus money and tickets. She hands the passenger who pays his fare a yellow ticket, which he is supposed to destroy. For all that are missing she must hand over the money.

If there is any she can't account for, the money is deducted from her wages of twenty-five dollars a month. Of course this is not in New York, but it may come some day, since women have begun to enter service on the elevated roads in Brooklyn. It is in Chili that the woman conductor flourishes. After the war with Peru there was a surplus of women that had to be utilized, so they became, among other things, street car conductors.—New York Recorder.

Split the Difference.
An old farmer entered the grocery and asked, "What's strawberies, Zeb?"
"Hey y' got some?"
"That depends."
"Eight for good ones."
"I met old Brown yest'day; said he 'lowed they'd be 'bout nine."
"No, eight."
"Couldn't make it nine, Zeb, could y'?"
"Not now, Joe. Berries is comin' in right fast now'days."
"Will y' split the difference? Mand'y'll feel out y' 'bout it anyway. She 'lowed they'd be nine."
"How many y' got?"
"Three quarts, and they're 'Wilson's seedlin's, and 's good as y' ever clapped eyes on."
"Wall, I'll do it, seein' it's you, Joe. Bring 'em in!"—Chicago Mail.

An Alleged Cure for Cancer.
Professor Rosander, of Stockholm, claims he has found a cure for cancer. According to his statement he has cured four cases of this disease by the inoculation of the patients with some lymph of his own invention. His experiments were varied in so far as the place in which the fluid was injected is concerned, for two of the patients were inoculated in the breast and two in the face.—Philadelphia Ledger.
