

main purpose being to reach Buenos Ayres. The weather was bitterly cold and the snow on the ground made traveling very difficult. Balmaceda rode a mule, which is the only animal that is of any use in the mountain passes through which he was making his way.

Tuesday morning the muleteers began to grumble and attempted to turn back, as the weather was becoming so severe and the snow so deep that they feared they would lose their lives. Balmaceda, knowing that almost certain death awaited him if he returned, refused to turn back, and in a fit of passion struck one of the muleteers, who retaliated by drawing a pistol and shooting the ex-president dead. His companion then killed Balmaceda's mule, and after rifling their pockets, made good their escape by their bodies, according to the story and here, were found by a party of muleteers and returned to Los Andes.

No further particulars could be obtained. The news created great interest in the city, but no one seemed surprised, as it was generally believed that the unfortunate man would either be killed or perish with the cold before he reached a place of safety, if he tried to make his escape by crossing the Andes.

Finally, after considerable debate on the motion of Commissioner De Young, of California, and amended by Massey, delegate, it was voted to appoint a committee of three to confer with the Sabbath Union delegation, and fix an hour during the day session at which the commission would hear the memorial. After hearing reports of the board of control, the president and directors, a general recess was taken until 3 o'clock.

The national board of lady managers of the Columbian Exposition met here this morning and elected Mrs. Susan Gale Cook secretary in place of Miss Couzins. "August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deadly sickness at the stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. Signed, JOHN B. COX.

EGAN TO COME HOME.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—It is reported that Minister Egan has been ordered home. Two reasons are assigned for this action. One is that the administration is dissatisfied with his silence regarding Chilean affairs, and the other that he is to be given leave of absence, anticipatory of arbitrary action on the part of the new administration in Chile which threatens to give him his passport on account of his sympathy for the Balmaceda party.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS.

Willis Bland of Reading, was chosen temporary chairman. In his speech Bland said the campaign will be fought on local issues not on national. No body doubts that the people of Pennsylvania love the teachings of their prophet Grover Cleveland (Tremendous applause). It is our duty to the people that we turn out the Republican vampires who are proscribing the public offices all over the state.

The platform says "We are in favor of an honest economical administration of the public affairs, of limiting expenses and reducing taxation to meet the actual necessities of the government, of sound and stable currency based on gold and silver coined and circulated in such proportions as to keep them on parity, and of reform and a revision of the tariff." The Republican party is also denounced for the plunder of the state treasury by Bardsley of a million and a half dollars.

THE SAVIOR'S COAT.

TREVES, Sept. 3.—The holy coat pilgrims have to undergo irritating hardships during their stay in this city. The weather is so warm that living in an ordinary manner would be sufficiently uncomfortable, but it is made so much more so by the way in which the people are crowded together, two or three beds in one small room being the rule, but in some cases it is worse. One landlady has crowded nineteen beds in three moderate-sized rooms. For accommodations of this kind the charge is 4 shillings a night. Food is about three times the usual price. All sorts of souvenirs of the holy coat are on sale, in all materials from gold to wool. Every second house is a restaurant or a beer shop, and one beer shop bears the name of "The Holy Coat of Treves." In order to facilitate the exhibition, the papal order that every pilgrim is to say five paternosters before the relic in order to obtain absolution, has been altered by the bishop, so that now every pilgrim may say them during the march through the cathedral.
