 Notice:
 Persons leaving town for the spring, seacoast or mountains, can have the DAILY JOURNAL sent to them without extra cost, by leaving orders at the office.
 ONLY IRON.—THE JOURNAL has a letter from a young man dated Corvallis, Sept. 7, relating to the alleged gold find. He says: "Yesterday I went out to the place of the supposed gold mine which has caused some little excitement here lately, but which is now generally believed to be a 'fake.' A man was digging a well and at the depth of seventeen feet struck a vein which was supposed to contain gold, but those who know something about minerals say that it is nothing but iron, and consequently it amounts to nothing."
 STATE FAIR.—It will be a great success. The tide of travel to the fair grounds is daily increasing, and the electric line is reaping a great harvest. About a hundred people are already camped there, restaurants are running, horses are trotting, buildings are going up and a great deal of life is manifest. Parties wishing space in the pavilion cannot act too soon.
 MORE TRAINS.—Monday evening a new time card went into effect on the S. P. road, by which a new night freight is put on. Salem, Oregon City and Woodburn get each a night operator, J. J. Chamberlain taking the position at this city. Owing to the increasing business on the Southern Pacific a through freight has been added, but the table has been slightly changed at some of the stations.
 PORTLAND MARKET.—Eggs are quoted 22c; fancy dairy butter 27c; hops are summed up thus by the Telegram: "It is not known to what extent Oregon has been affected. No one, however, believes that one-half will be lost. Prices for October are now 15c@16c. They would be twice this, were it thought we would lose half a crop." The produce market continues stiff all around.
 RECORDER'S COURT.—The case against Bynon and Bechtel for wrongfully swearing out marriage licenses was continued to 3 p. m. and will probably then be settled by general consent. A vagabond was brought up and ordered to leave the city, which he did, on the blind baggage.
 THE ARTISTS.—All Salem artists who desire to join in an exhibit at the state fair, and to encourage a better display of art are invited to meet Thursday at 4 p. m., at the Willamette reading room.
 G. A. R. C. AND W. R. C.—Restaurant, at old Aurora restaurant, fair grounds, during fair week. Good, warm meals, 50 cts. Special rates to families. 9-8-dw-1f.
 CANNING PRICES.—Pears and prunes fetch $1. per hundred at the Salem cannery. Apples for drying 35 cents per hundred. Tomatoes are coming in on contract.
 BUTTERCUPS.—The sweetest flowers of the meadow—and the latest thing in confectionery, fresh made and just placed on the counter at Jones & Bernard's candy palace—new Bush block.
 Rings the bell every time—the Patton bookstore on school supplies. Clothing at cost at the Capitol Adventure Co.
 For Rent.—Several good office rooms for my store on State street, M. T. Rineman.
 Westcott & Irwin have engaged a third set of cooks and waiters, so as to be able to serve meals all night long.
 Window shades—Wm. Sargent.
 Pure tea coffee and cocoa. Sroat & Gile.
 Hats at cost at the Capitol Adventure Co.
 The choicest fresh creamery and dairy butter at Clark & Eppley's today.
 Baskets of all kinds—Wm. Sargent.

THE METHODISTS RECEIVE.
 The Miracle of the Leaves and Fishes Need Have Been Repeated Last Night.
 An enthusiastic thousand of people gathered in the great auditorium of the First M. E. church Monday evening and the program announced in THE JOURNAL was carried out with a few additions. Among happy things not on the schedule of entertainment was a solo by Mr. Ross. President Whitaker showed breeding as a gentleman by arising and remaining standing during the address of Mrs. Supt. Grabbe, which was delivered in a graceful manner on behalf of the stummi. General Odell surprised all by his touching and eloquent review of past and present. He sketched the history of the school and traced its struggles in fervid words, making an appeal for the Willamette of the future. It was a short speech but it touched the hearts of all and was the keynote speech of the evening. President Whitaker was now introduced and revealed his powers as a speaker in an effective manner. Other clergymen of the city were on the platform and spoke.
 The meeting was a successful one, and indication of great public interest in this school.
 The Farmers Awake.
 Following is a sample of the interest one most progressive farmer takes:
 WILLARD, Marion Co., Or., September 6, 1891.
 ED. JOURNAL: I am much pleased with the idea of the fruit palace at the coming state fair. It will advertise the Willamette valley and especially Marion county, as a fruit growing region, more than any thing that has been done in the past.
 I should have been at the court house meeting which arranged the matter only for my harvest work. I will furnish some very fine fruit for the palace and you can so state to the chairman of the committee. If the palace is properly arranged it will be the most attractive feature of the fair, and great credit is due THE JOURNAL for its enterprise in the matter.

OREGON FRUIT PALACE.
 Genuine Enthusiasm Over Its Success—Contributions of Fruit Needed.
 Mr. Stephens, with a force of carpenters, has the skeleton of the Fruit Palace pretty well up at the state fair grounds. It will be completed so far as the carpenters are concerned Wednesday evening, and then will come a struggle to cover the building with fruit. The outside decorations will be entirely of apples. Apples will cover the roof, columns, panels and arches. The octagonal roof will be covered in sections of different colors, like a boy's toy ball cover—red, green, yellow, russet, etc., and the columns variegated. Experience alone can show how the colors can be arranged most effectively. All the apples will have to be sized and sorted as to color before being put on. It will take two hundred bushels of apples to cover the outside, and requires ten men three days to put them on properly. Mr. VanEaton was out all day Monday looking up proper varieties to make a fine show. There is a scarcity of bright red apples, and persons having such if only a bushel are requested to bring them in. All kinds of fine fruit are wanted, and it will take several hundred bushels to fill the interior properly. This is the farmer's and fruit-grower's opportunity to show to fifty thousand visitors what this country is capable of and they should assist vigorously.
 The committee have not half concluded a canvass of the city for funds. Only about $200 is raised and $300 more is needed. Business men and fruit growers should not wait to be asked to contribute, as this is a purely voluntary and not a money making effort.
 Remarkable Rescue.
 Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. She bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottle of this great discovery at Fry's druggists. Large bottles 50c and $1.
