BURTON BROS.—Have a display of pressed brick that would compare favorably with the best from any part of this broad land. Two sizes and three styles are shown, including both plain and fancy. A piece of wall is laid up with three styles of mortar joints, which shows off to wonderful advantage what can be done with this beautiful product. This firm are running bigger crews of men and turning out more brick than ever. The supply shall not run short if Burton Bros. know it. They say their superior article of brick is sought on every hand by builders, and they feel safe in keeping a large stock on hand.

A CRIME.—Word comes to this office that some reckless young men from town make a practice of disturbing the meetings of the Free Methodist church in the old North Salem school building. This is a crime, for which the offenders can be severely punished, hence the boys had best desist.

FRONT STREET.—A force of twenty-five men and teams are making grade on Front street, and really are accomplishing a great improvement there. The street is being leveled up to grade about sixty feet wide. If proper arrangements are made for sub-drainage there is no reason why it will not be a good street.

THE RAINS.—At 5 a. m. Friday rains began to pour down and dampened the fifth day of the fair so as to cut down attendance and spoil racing. The crowds were forced into the city all the forenoon while gentle drizzles filled the air.

THE MILLS.—Wheat opens Friday at 78 cts. and there is good prospect of steady advances. Only a fraction of the crop has been marketed. Inquiry at the Capitol mills revealed the fact that they will be nearly ready to do grinding by Oct. 1, and the S. P. Co. track will be finished down there at that time.

NEARLY HALF A CENTURY.—Tomorrow will be just forty-six years since Fabritus R. Smith, landed in Salem. He came through from Independence, Mo., with four yoke of cattle in less than five weeks. He left his caravan in the Waldo Hills and walked (and swam) to Salem Sept. 19th, 1845.

MARRIAGE.—A license has been issued to J. W. McDonald, of Ellensburg, Wn., and Mrs. Nancy C. Bales, of Stayton, daughter of Levi Davis. The ceremony will be performed at Stayton Sunday, Sept. 20th.

STORE ENLARGED.—John G. Barr, 106 State, now occupies the whole floor with his large stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and silverware. A fine repair department. Give him a call. 9-17-45t

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Salem is well policed but poorly side-walked in the residence portion. It is always the man who owes you a bill that has his pocket picked.

Chas. Wilson of Eola was the man who was hurt by hanging out too far while riding on the electric line.

J. W. Young and family have moved back from Bay City, and will again make their home in Salem.

The people from the fair grounds yesterday did not all get in before midnight.

Mrs. B. C. Kindred of Astoria lost her purse on the race track. She has advertised for it, but it may have been stolen.

J. M. Coulter, the surprise fruitrier man, had his purse stolen with about $50 in coin.

Leon Cohen, a noted turf man from Montana, is attending the fair. A handsome catalogue of the Mountain City Business college is received from Wiley Bros., of Chattanooga, which speaks volumes for the progress of that school.

Deputy Sheriff Haley, of Pendleton, arrived this morning with a patient for the asylum.

Many fair visitors are leaving today, although many are still coming.

Colonel J. L. Ashby, of Iowa, has invested liberally in Salem, has two growing meat markets, has made $600 on real estate, and has $1400 in a bank to corral a cottage for a home. There are few as enterprising rustlers landing here from the East as the colonel.

Hon. W. W. Baker, of the Rural Spirit, had taken pains to button his coat tightly about him, and had changed his purse from his hip pocket to his left trousers pocket, but the artist got it just the same on the evening car.

Running the cars an hour over the track, averaging sixty persons to the car, the electric line has earned money this fair week at the rate of $30 an hour, or about $400 to $500 a day.

A lot of fruit palace photos were sold Thursday as fast as they could be handed out. The society could have sold a thousand on that day if it could have had them—but there was some hitch in the crowded photographer's and printer's establishments.

A state fair gate-keeper gave a lady a man's check this forenoon as she went out. He saw his error and as there was a crowd, called and reached for her, which caused her to drop her purse, and a dollar rolled thro' a crack. After an altercation the dollar was paid her.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Parrish feel proud of five first premiums on red polled cattle, and two ribbons on sheep. The head of his flock is Prince, 3 year old, weighing about 1400 pounds, and he has very beautiful flocks. He got his stock of L. K. Cogswell, who also had thirteen head at the show. Mrs. Hillary and Henry Keene have also this stock.

Conductor Cook collected fares for 175 persons on one electric car for the fair grounds Thursday evening. There were twenty-eight on the rear platform. At 150 pounds each the load weighed over thirteen tons.

Just received—Another shipment of fresh venison and large Eastern oysters, at Davison & White's.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shroat, pastor Brethren church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and an sound and well."

Arthur Love, manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottle at Fry's druggists. Regular Size 50c. and $1.00.

"The Best." THE EAGLE SCREAMS.

The Eagle Woolen mills, of Brownsville, Or., occupied the center of the pavilion at the state fair with a beautifully arranged pyramid of their goods. W. R. Kirk, president, and J. Montgomer, spokesman at Portland, attended and politely set forth their merits. Their exhibit was a great attraction at the fair and the judges after a very close inspection of all exhibits placed the blue ribbon on the blanket with the big eagle. The greatest attention was attracted by the fine textures of the wools used, the combinations of colors and their artistic arrangement. The samples of chevrons, tweeds, cassimers, piqueets, doekstus and broadcloths were the peer of any goods produced in the civilized world and Oregonians might well be proud of them.

The display of ready made clothing cut to fit, well sewn, in all styles, right from the mills, was what caught the eyes of all beholders. A large stock of these solid goods is always to be found at 164 and 166 Second street, Portland, and at E. C. Small's, the Salem clothier.

Mouldings—Wm. Sargent.

STATE FAIR NOTES.

Livery and hack men complain that the business to and from the fair grounds is poorer this year than at any previous time.

A tranger lost $180 at a shell game last evening.

B. F. Castleman is again in the pavilion, serving out samples of his wonderful Radium Microbe Killer. Try it and be healthy.

Portland's men of prominence were numerous at the state fair Thursday.

There is said to be a female pick-pocket on the grounds.

Thousands of people are taking their meals at the generous filled tables of Wilkins great home cookery restaurant on the fair grounds.

The Hereford were well represented by three herds. They are great beef cattle and their friends claim as great milking friends, as do nearly all breeders of beef cattle.

Jas. Finney and Louis took first premium on their O. K. Grubber. It is a machine of great practical use attested by many who have it in use.

The horse show at the grounds this morning was excellent, and is praised by everybody. Many good draft horses (and innumerable fine colts) were shown. For quantity and quality this show has never been excelled.

Will Allen, a clerk at G. W. Johnson & Son's, had his pocket picked Thursday of a small amount.

Considering the $3000 crowd at the state fair grounds Thursday, there is every reason to believe that Salem is a successful place to hold a state fair.

Mrs. A. H. Lafolet was robbed of her pocket book on the grounds Thursday evening.

LOOK OUT.—The police report only a light run of criminals last night but as the rains are filling up the city, and as they say "turning their feathers the wrong way" look out for depredations tonight.

TO WILLIAMS, who was up for using profane language on the fair grounds, paid $10.00 this morning and was released. About 6 o'clock last night in the jam at the West gate on the fair grounds Judge Strahan of the Oregon Supreme Court was relieved of his purse. Sheriff Croisan and Marshal Minto stopped the car and searched nearly all the occupants, but in vain, the Judge's money was gone and he had to borrow enough to pay his fare home.

MORE LIGHT.—In their efforts to meet the growing demand for electric light the company have suffered losses right along. Several converters were burned out last night, and new eight-light improved transformers are being put in by a force today.

WAR MEDALS.—One of the state fair visitors was Henry Pulsky of Gervay who wears badges showing services of 42 years in the English and Russian and American armies. He bears medals from the Crimean, Turkish and Federal campaigns.

IN PROBATE.—In the matter of the estate of Macky W. Smith, Lowell Smith, administrator, presented to the court his final account. The matter will be heard on the 21st day of October.

ENJOYING LIFE.—Here we go to Davison & White's market, on Court street, to get another roast of delicious venison, and two more quart cans of those large Eastern oysters and we will have a Sunday dinner.

NEW CROP.—Just arrived from Japan for the fair, the people of Salem and vicinity, a large importation of Japan Tea, basket fried and uncolored, the purest and most healthy in the market. "Capital" brand, and is selling at the low price of 50c per pound. Clark & Eppler, 100 Court street.

LUMBER.—Large shipments of lumber are coming in almost daily from the Santiam and other points for the various dealers of our city. This is a common occurrence, and only one of the many evidences of Salem's rapid growth.

Wall paper—Wm. Sargent.
