CASTORIA is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me.

CASTORIA cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes a gain.

For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results.

The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known, that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it.

A SPLENDID DISPLAY OF OREGON FRUITS. Muscatine, Ia., Journal: I. M. Wagner, of Salem, Oregon, brother of Joseph Wagner, of Grandview, arrived last night on a visit to his friends in Iowa and Indiana, and called on us this morning with a splendid display of Oregon fruit.

Mr. Wagner informs us that he emigrated from Louisiana county, near Grandview, in 1862, first locating in California, where he remained seven years, thence going to Ashland in Southern Oregon, where he lived another seven years, finally locating near Salem, where he has lived for the past twenty-five years.

THE JOURNAL is not a politician's mouth piece, but a people's paper.

The interest of the people demands the harmonious development of state institutions.

The state board of education has held a number of meetings the past year, as THE JOURNAL is informed by one member.

The welfare of the Republican party demand that the Blind school be managed as a public institution for a public benefit.

The eight thousand square miles of land in the Willamette valley will support a larger population than the state of Connecticut.

For two weeks Parnell will hold attention in the obituary sketches of the press and magazines. In a month he will be forgotten.

Land-bombers are a detriment to any country. Speaking the truth about the Willamette valley will fill it with half a million people in twenty years, and there will be fifty-one acres to each person.

Railroad builder Jim Hill says of the Puget sound country: 'There is probably a greater area of land platted in townsites than there is cultivated for its profits, and the people living there are sending money away daily to buy food, fruit, etc., from Oregon and California.'

The press is calling attention to a generally violated Oregon law which provides: 'It shall be unlawful to sell, barter, trade, give, or in any manner furnish to any minor, under the age of eighteen years, any tobacco, cigars, or cigarettes in any form, or any compound in which tobacco form a component part.'

The Democratic press of this state labors only for party triumphs. No matter what fraud, jobbery, corruption or abuse in the public service is unearthed, it maintains only a stolid silence, that is never broken only to emit a coyote yell for the party. With Vanderhill these reformers say: 'The people be d--d.'

The beauty of American women is proverbial, and the destination is well merited. It is doubtful whether any country could show a more notable bevy of perfectly lovely women than those whose portraits are given in the November number of Demorest's Family Magazine, just received. Exquisite pictures of over a score of 'Famous Beauties of the South' afford a feast of beauty that everyone should enjoy, and may, by simply procuring a copy of this splendid number of this always excellent Family Magazine. And this is not its only great attraction. This magazine is published for $2.00 a year by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York City.

Annie Kilkowska was burned to death Saturday in a New York tenement house fire ours. This test could be made more cheaply than will be the expense incurred by other permanent pavement. It should be considered that it is of utmost importance to start in with the right kind of pavement. A start with a pavement that will need no argument in its behalf, but that is itself an argument, will advance street paving more rapidly than in any other way. A popular pavement, with few apparent defects, would obviate all present objections and instead of talking of injunctions present objectors would become its friends.

He has had trouble with the Thomas boys, J. R., David, Bones and Jake. They rode over to whip him Saturday about dark, and had him down, when his daughter Lizzie, who had been out horseback riding, came up. Seeing four men beating her father, she sprang from her horse, and, grasping one by the collar, threw him on his back. The flash of several revolvers followed, and the girl fell with the exclamation: 'Oh, cousin David!' It was the bullet of her cousin David which pierced her heart. The murderers fled, leaving the mother and father alone with their dead child. During the night hundreds of people gathered to see the body of the girl who had died in defense of her father.

Where no gunboat can go, the position of foreigners, unless in numbers, is very insecure. When soldiers get orders from their secret leaders, as at Ichang, they care nothing for their officers. The central government is powerless, for it has Hunan officials everywhere, and the troops everywhere are Hunan men, except Hi Hang Chang's disciplined force. To order him to suppress Hunan with these men is to start a civil war. The situation is very critical, and the only solution is for a foreign force to overawe Hunan, with the tacit connivance of the Chinese government. There will be no security for foreign life or property in China unless the rebellious Hunanese are suppressed by force.

The steamer Paohus arrived at Honkong on Sept. 6, with the Ichang refugees, twenty in all, all of whom lost everything except the clothes they wore at the beginning of the outbreak. Several bore marks of serious violence. The riot took place at broad noonday, without warning or provocation. The destruction was carried out with the utmost speed that no lives were lost. The Scotch missionaries owed their escape to the fact that they had gone boating on the river at the time of the outbreak. They hurried back, and were just in time to rescue the senior missionaries, infant children, and escape when the mob arrived. Roman Catholic sisters were buried over a steep bank into the river, where they were stoned and where they were severely hurt.

In Hankow things are stirring again. Yesterday there was a meeting of the anti-foreign element here, including a large number of magistrates and officials. They resolved that foreigners must be driven immediately from the central provinces. MISCELLANY.

THE METHODIST COUNCIL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—In the Methodist ecumenical council Saturday the subject for discussion was 'The Church and Scientific Thought.'

The first essay was one prepared by Percy W. Bunting, editor of the Contemporary Review, entitled 'Influence of Modern Scientific Progress on Religious Thought.'

The paper in part said that the modern mind has so steeped itself in scientific as to blurt out small extent its spiritual faculties. The question is not one of science, but one of philosophy. Treating of the spiritual history of man, Bunting says the evolutionary theory of religion is in strict accordance with very much that we are accustomed to believe. It gives boundless scope to faith and hope.

Dr. Buckley, of New York, paid a tribute to Bunting's paper, which showed, he said, that religion was not and never would be a matter of induction or observation, but of faith and heart. Science could give no help as to the fundamental questions of religion. Christianity was as false as the wildest superstition, unless the birth of Christ was a divine operation upon the woman without the agency of man (hear, hear). Nine-tenths of what high critics brought forward has been the subject of study by bible students for twenty-five years. The trouble lay in the arrogance of critics.

THE CHINESE RIOTS.

SA FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The North China News says editorially: 'There are points about the Ichang riot of serious importance. It was in no sense the work of a mob. There was indeed pretexts in the shape of the child said to have been kidnapped on the day of the riot, but this is evidently merely a subterfuge in order to give a shadow for an excuse for an outbreak. Evidence that it was directed and carried out by soldiers are only too numerous. The Chinese brigadier general at Ichang is a great friend of foreigners, but he was helpless in the presence of an order that evidently came to his Hunan soldiers to destroy all foreign property they could on that day.'
