lived at Lockwood, Wash., not far from Spokane, and two sisters live in Minnesota. She was tried as accessory to highway robbery of Conductor Richardson, but acquitted and the other case against her was dismissed. She was set free today, and says she will return to her home and lead a respectable life hereafter. Her father is expected on the train. The events of the last few days have, of course, been a terrible strain on the nerves of the young woman who swaggered like a pirate when in trousers, but whose womanly nature asserted itself when she donned the attire of her sex. While in the rooms of the Woman's Christian Temperance union this afternoon Helen suddenly gave a shriek and fell in a dead faint. At the door stood a strange lady, who proved to be her sister, Mrs. Andrew Colden, of South Minneapolis. Mrs. Colden had come on unannounced to do what she could to reclaim wayward Helen. The scene was an affecting one. Helen was in hysterics for awhile and all the women were much excited. The erstwhile highway lady to whom Helena took off its hat and held up its hands is in charge of friends and will probably be heard of no more.

THE BLYTHE CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—A morning paper says there is a strong likelihood that the Blythe case, involving its millions of property, will be brought to an abrupt conclusion within the next fifty days. On December 19th Miss Florence Blythe, the legally recognized heir to the vast property, will attain her majority. Within a week, perhaps on the following day, a compromise with the other claimants will be made, and so the litigation will be brought to a close. It is said that Miss Blythe will go as far as $1,250,000 to end the case. It is now on appeal to the supreme court, but a compromise would quash all proceedings so far as the more important claimants are concerned.

TIN MINE IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 7.—Last July Warren Wheatley located some deposits of tin ore on the eastern slope of the Laguna mountains, sixty-five miles east of this city. He has been engaged in making preparations to develop the mineral. Yesterday he returned with a quantity of ore, which a local assayer shows run over 56 per cent. in tin. Wheatley states the deposit may be traced by croppings for over two miles and that nine locations have already been made. San Francisco capital is promised, to a very large amount, to develop the mine.

POWDER MILL BLOWN UP.

FROM SANDWICH ISLANDS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—A. B. Speckels, en route to New York to meet his father, Claus Speckels, who is to arrive from Europe, is in the city. "The Hawaiians are a discouraged lot," said Mr. Speckels, "and cannot see their way clear to prosperity in any other way than by annexation with a removal of the tariff on sugar, and the offering two cents per pound for all sugar produced in the United States. The island has lost the advantage they had over producers in Cuba and the Philippine islands. The natives are dying out, and the islands have to depend on Chinese, Japanese, Portugese and laborers from other countries. While the people regard this government as one most friendly to them, they think faith was broken with them in taking away this advantage, and the object of King Kalakaua's visit to this country was to intercede in behalf of the sugar interests, when death overtook him in San Francisco." Speckels also said the house of Speckels would never be coaxed into the sugar trust.

HOWELL LUMBER CO.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 7.—The United States grand jury, which has been investigating the dealings of the Howell Lumber company which failed several months ago, has returned six indictments against I. R. Howell and Geo. W. Howell. The indictments charge the Howells with having effected arrangements with W. D. Mott and Edward Tibbits, both of Atchinson—Atchinson agent and weight master respectively for the Rock Island road—whereby they were able to get a difference in cost of lumber, whereby they were able to sell below all competition. They charge the action of the Howells to be in direct violation of the provisions of the inter-state commerce law. Warrants have been issued for their arrest.

MONTT ELECTED PRESIDENT.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A dispatch from Valparaiso yesterday says: "Admiral Jorge Moutt was unanimously elected president of the republic of Chili."

FROM CHILE.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 7.—Newspapers here for several days, have been publishing wild stories about a conspiracy among refugees at the American legation to kill General Canto. A notice was circulated yesterday for a special meeting of the people in the plaza to denounce the conspiracy. Mr. Egan, United States minister, informed the junta that threats had been made to attack the United States legation and capture the refugees, and warned the junta that it would be held responsible for such action. Later in the day several thousand men assembled in the plaza and applauded several incendiary speeches, in which the supposed conspiracy and the United States legation were denounced. The junta, upon receiving Mr. Egan's letter, sent a troop of cavalry to guard the legation, and as the meeting in the plaza closed the intendent published a notice saying that the stories of a conspiracy were devoid of foundation. Serious trouble doubtless was avoided by this notice, although the government did nothing to prevent trouble until receiving Mr. Egan's protest.

CORK YESTERDAY.

CORK, Nov. 7.—Yesterday was to settle the question of the succession to the seat in the house of commons from the city of Cork, made vacant by the death of Charles Stewart Parnell. The Parnnellite candidate is John F. Redmond, while Martin Flavin stands for the McCarthyite interest. The days work opened with vigor, 1500 votes being cast in the first hour. The streets are full of noisy horse-playing, but, so far, fairly well behaved crowds of people. Nevertheless the accustomed blackthorn peeps from beneath many coat tails, and there are not wanting evidences that many hundreds of the throngs who patrol the streets are anything but averse to an exchange of blows. Priests, members of parliament, candidates for political honors, are incessantly driving from booth to booth, encouraging their followers and looking after the interests of their respective factions. As the leaders go from place to place, behind gesticulating drivers and flying horses, they are greeted with commingled cheers and groans. After each stop, and before each fresh start, some five or ten minutes is wasted in remonstrating with voice, fist and whip against the attempts of all the way from three to a dozen persons, who wish to get upon the conveyance and ride along to the next station. There are plenty of police guards in close proximity to the voting booths, and strong reserves are held in readiness for prompt service at the station houses. In addition to these precautions, there is ample military in the city prepared to immediately reinforce the police should such a course become necessary. The soldiers are strictly confined to their barracks, through the gates and from the windows of which hundred of them watch the boistering crowds passing to and fro.

AFRAID OF FENIANS.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—The British police authorities have increased the police force, owing to fears of a revival of Fenian operators.

M'CARTHYITE SUCCESSFUL.

CORK, Nov. 7.—Martin Flavin, candidate for the seat in parliament for Cork city left vacant by the death of Charles Stewart Parnell has been elected by a plurality of 1512 over the Parnellite candidate John E. Redmond.

WEATHER REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Forecast for Oregon and Washington: Light showers in Southeastern Washington and Northeastern Oregon.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

The Heroism of Childhood.

There is something very pathetic about the heroism of childhood, where we mean by heroism something of really independent daring and presence of mind, something beyond mere steadfast trustfulness which is a sense natural to childhood. The inquest held before Dr. Macdonald, M. P., coroner for northeast London, on Henry James Bristow, aged eight years, illustrates precisely what we mean. Mrs. Bristow, who lives at Walthamstow, had left this little boy alone in the room with a younger sister of only three years of age in order to go on an errand. She returned before 6 o'clock to find that the little girl had climbed on a chair to reach a small paraffine lamp, and had upset it over her clothes, which of course caught fire at once.

The boy immediately tore them off her, and laid her upon the bed, but in lifting her on the bed his own clothes caught fire, and it took the child a long time to tear them off. At last he succeeded, but not till he was so seriously hurt that, though taken at once to a hospital, he died within a week from the result of the injuries. His little sister's life he had succeeded in saving; at least she was said to be doing well at the time of the inquest on her brother.

The coroner very justly spoke of the boy as quite a little hero, and he was a hero in precisely the sense in which it seems to us that the word, as applied to a child of eight, carries a profound pathos with it, because it implies a presence of mind, a promptitude of purpose, a self command and fortitude and steadfastness which are usually quite beyond a child's imagination, much less its practical achievement. — London Spectator.

Where Flowers Look Best.

There is no place where flowers show to such advantage as in the home. The flowers and plants should be placed in their proper shading so as to produce the best effect. Never overcrowd in floral decorations. This is very important. The most popular way of decorating the home consists in placing beautiful foliage plants in different shades of green in corners on small stands and etageres. Flowers are used with long stems and their own foliage, put in cases. A very neat thing is a small number of miniature vases and cut class bowls, placed on little tables and filled with different colored carnations, lilies of the valley, mignonette or other seasonable flowers. Each specimen should be set by itself. This produces an exceedingly pretty effect.

The fireplaces should be well filled with potted plants, such as ferns and variegated foliage plants. Over pictures and doors a neat effect is obtained by draping long trailing ferns and passion vines in bloom. To keep flowers fresh as long as possible be sure to cut a little of the stem each day. A hard crust forms on the end of the stem which prevents the water from ascending, and this should be cut away each day. A little charcoal in the water in which the flowers stand will sweeten them and keep them fresh longer.—C. F. Klunder in Ladies' Home Journal.

He Loved Sausages.

A correspondent sends from Michigan a true story of a farmer's dog who has been found guilty of obtaining goods under false pretenses.

He is extremely fond of sausages, and has been taught by his owner to go after them for himself, carrying a written order in his mouth.

Day after day he appeared at the butcher's shop, bringing his master's order, and by and by the butcher became careless about reading the document. Finally, when settlement day came, the farmer complained that he was charged with more sausages than he had ordered.

The butcher was surprised, and the next time Lion came in with a slip of paper between his teeth he took the trouble to look at it. The paper was blank, and further investigations showed that whenever the dog felt a craving for sausage he looked round for a piece of paper and trotted off to the butcher's.

The farmer is something out of pocket, but squares the account by boasting of his dog's intelligence.—Youth's Companion.

John Smith's Queer Name.

There is a quaint old man in Manchester, England, who goes by the unique name of Gagadig Gigadab. His original name, so the story goes, was John Smith, but many years ago he began to brood over the possibilities of mistaken identity involved in such a common name. The name figured frequently in the criminal records, and he became abnormally apprehensive lest he might be confused with some of these bad John Smiths.

At last what he feared so much actually happened. One morning the papers recorded the capture of an accountant in a bank for embezzlement, and through some blunder of the reporter the identity of the embezzler was confused with the subject of this paragraph, who was also a bank accountant. Then and there he determined to assume a name like unto no other ever borne by mortal man. And in Gagadig Gigadab most people will agree that he has done so.—Chicago Herald.
