A TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLAR FIRE
The Scio Flouring Mills Destroyed—A Total Loss.

H. A. Johnson, Jr. had a private dispatch this morning to the effect that the Scio flouring mills, which $20,000 had burned; total loss, some insurance. The mill is a fine one with about one hundred barrels capacity. It is a severe loss to Scio and neighborhood.

Geo. Collins Dead.—That was the report on Thanksgiving evening and it was credited pretty generally, as the ex-alderman was not seen in his accustomed haunts that afternoon. He was first seen since by a reporter and denied the whole thing. He struck his breast and said he was pretty much alive from his belt up, like Jack Falstaff, he being unable to testify from his own knowledge by having seen any of the region below for some years past. To all appearances Mr. Collins is alive.

THE PRIMARIES.—At 1:45 p. m. Recorder Goodell sent the following boxes to the respective places of voting, and at 2 p. m. ballots were received. In the second ward at a late hour the names of Eb Lafore and Geo. Collins were placed on the primary Republican ticket.

WILL IMPROVE.—Senator Myers of Scio is in the city and says he will put in a lot of money ditching and draining his real estate—Myers' addition to Salem, and in the spring will spend several thousand dollars—$5000 to $6000—in erecting some nice cottages.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.—The public debate this evening at the insurance hall will be on the question of closing of the World's Fair on Sunday. Good debaters and several of the ministers will participate. A lively discussion will follow.

CANDIDATES.—Following are the tickets at the primaries in the respective wards: 1st ward, M. W. Hunt; 2nd ward, Col. J. Olmsted; 3rd ward, O. D. Hutton. The nominees in the second ward not known this forenoon.

G. W. Davis: "The Unitarians did themselves great credit."

Bread, the best in the city, always fresh at Strong's bakery.

The city is all excitement over the slaughter sale of pictures, mouldings and mirrors at Keller & Marsh's.

CHEAP LAND.—Thirty acres of good fruit land, twenty-four acres under cultivation, two and one-half miles from Turner, $25 per acre. The Oregon Land company, Salem, Or. Gray building. 11-21 end St.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Episcopal service at the asylum tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

The new improvements on the University make a fine impression from the passenger depot.

Tickets on sale at F. S. Dearborn's for Magic Pyramid and Faries Floral Festival.

Rev. Thomas Van Ness, superintendent for the Pacific Coast of the American Unitarian association, will occupy the Unitarian pulpit Sunday.

The cakes from Strong's bakery always taste just like home-made and are the delight of the weary housekeeper.

Private Secretary Munly went to Portland this afternoon to join his wife and spend Sunday there.

The Marion county alliance held its monthly session in Salem today. It was well attended.

Rev. W. H. Hicks, of Portland, will preach at the M. E. church tomorrow evening. All the other services as usual.

W. A. Munly took the afternoon train for Portland, to be gone until tomorrow.

T. J. Cronise made a flying visit to the metropolis this afternoon.

Mrs. McDonald, of Portland, who has been attending at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Davidson, returned home today.

Charley Henline came home today from a week's visit at Mill City.

O. P. Dabney took a trip to Portland today.

Hon. T. J. Black, of Halsey, is in the city.

Mr. Thomas, the Prohibition lecturer thinks the result in Iowa was not due to prohibition, but it was perfectly satisfactory to him. The Republicans deserved defeat, he thinks.

E. W. Johnson, of Sheldon, Iowa, an old time friend of Ed. Parkhurst, is in the city looking about for a future home.

It has got so that if a man suffers from the blues or is love sick he is liable to be sent to the asylum as insane.

The Thanksgiving ball at Silverton was attended by 300 persons.

Prof. Starr will preach at the South Salem church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Monday being St. Andrew's day there will be service at the Episcopal church at 10:30 a. m. and Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Everybody invited.

A few of those fine bamboo easels and fire screens still left. Take advantage of the closing sale at Geo. F. Smith's.

The ladies and members of the Unitarian society desire to acknowledge their obligation to the many kind friends who have aided them in the preparation and presentation of their entertainment, and to the public who so liberally patronized it.

The holiday goods at Geo. F. Smith's will be brought to the front and all will be sold at strictly cash.

A public meeting—at Reed's opera house, Dec. 4th.—M. P. and F. F. F.

A NEW SONG.—"O Thou lovely F. F. F." Grand chorus Dec 4th.

Mrs. A. E. Dismore, has gone to Portland, where she will make a home with her son, W. L. Dismore, who takes a position in the surveyor general's office.

Remember the fine piano will be given away Xmas week at Krause Bros.

Keller & Marsh's furniture store is full clear to the ceiling—low prices the rule.

Fresh taffies of all kinds just made at the Spa, 110 State street.

Chicken dinner at Strong's restaurant tomorrow.

See Keller & Marsh for low prices on furniture—their stock is immense.

F. F. F. ? Ask about it.

CLEVELAND'S MINSTRELS.

Mr. Cleveland has gathered together from the minstrel world its most clever products. The most popular members of the company are Messrs. Bob Slavin, Harry Woodson, Sheffer and Baker. The duet, "Rock de Ship" by the Conway brothers; "Old Black Joe" by Harry Woodson, "Comrades" by Edward Roscoe, the alto solo by James Blauphin, "Always Think of Your Mother," and the selections by the Neapolitan quartet are finely rendered and received merited applause. A beautiful "terstebendor" by the Conway brothers, the musical wonders, Weston and Latel, and the great comic sketch, "Nigar and the Bee," by Sheffer and Baker, are attractive. Mr. Slavin gives one of his very funny monologues with his usual success. Karrel, the wonderful drill artist, and Hilton, the wonder, go to make one of the greatest minstrel companies on the road. At opera house Monday night.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The societies held their regular election, Nov. 20th.

The boys' boarding hall had an excellent turkey dinner.

Miss Lena Olsen, who has been visiting at Monmouth, has returned to school.

Gen. W. H. Odell and F. R. Smith were acceptable visitors at chapel, Wednesday.

The old stairways had an 8 1/2 inch rise; in the new stairs the rise is only 6 1/2 inches.

The rhetoricals were brief and good. Lloyd Reynolds recited "St. Michael's Spire," and John Reynolds a humorous melody on "The Faculty of Curiosity," mentioning incidentally the curiosity of the Faculty.

School was dismissed Wednesday at 3 o'clock for Thanksgiving.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday were employed by the carpenters in tearing out the west stairway and putting up studding so that no heavy pounding will have to be done on school days.

The Philodorian discussed political privileges of women. It will now be in order for the Philodorian to discuss what political privileges men are desiring of under the present status of national and state politics.

The Philodorian elected the following officers: H. N. Rounds, president; F. E. Brown, vice president; J. A. Coffey, secretary; John Whitaker, assistant; L. B. Austin, treasurer; F. J. Brown, censor; E. E. Porter, librarian; Frank Matthews, sergeant. The society hall in the University will be ready for use before long. The present plan is for two halls, one for the ladies and one for the gentlemen, with folding doors between so that the rooms can be thrown into one on special occasions. The societies suffered much by the fire, but they have already begun to seek money to replace their losses, and no doubt will succeed.

Third Party Prohibition.

A good audience attended the lecture of J. L. Thomas, of the national prohibition party. A club was organized with seventy-four members. Officers were elected as follows: Chairman, J. H. Rook; secretary, E. C. Minton; treasurer, John P. Robertson; vice president, H. S. Jory. These officers will select a place and time for the meeting of the club, when new members will be received and a plan of work outlined.

The following are appointments of Mr. Thomas' lectures: Monmouth, 28th; Independence, 29th; East Portland, December 1st. On the 2d the state convention will meet at Portland and Mr. Thomas will then deliver the last of his series of lectures in this state.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75 cts.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

The star has five points but emits only one ray of light. If it emitted a score of flames it would be more showy but would lose its grand simplicity. The tree has many branches but one trunk. The bayonet tree with many trunks does direct violence to our idea of a tree. Hence we regard it as a monstrosity or a brush heap. Our minds center upon units of thought. Nature is a multiplicity of expressions in units. Intelligent mankind tends to unity. No educated civilized race was ever capable of a polytheistic belief. We all grow in the direction of our individuality. That is the one most graphic outward picture of our real self presented to the world. We seek to sink it in the commonplace of custom. We may try to do so as the Romans much as we like, the one predominating feature of ourselves that will leave its impression on others will be our individuality. We cannot suppress it. It is the unit of our character to which our whole nature will tend and in which it will seek constantly to express itself. Individuality is the background upon which the most graphic image of our being pictures itself.

In view of this one decisive fact of our existence, how weak are our affections, how futile to be anything but ourselves. Nothing is so cheap and tawdry as borrowing affections that do not belong to us. Yet some lives are so overwhelmed with the borrowed plumage of affection that they resemble a crudely constructed artificial ostrich, the maker of which sought to supply all his ignorance of the real bird by heaping on a mountain of miscellaneous feathers. The country girl who buys cheap and showy frippery to make herself appear like a city lady only makes herself ridiculous. There is nothing sweeter or more wholesome than a plainly dressed, healthy looking country lass, her cheeks ruddy with the glow of health that comes from manual labor, life largely in the open air and no trivialities or dissipation. Such a young woman is certainly in greater danger of catching a sensible city husband than the one who went to town laced up like a wasp, and dressed in a flashy imitation of her city cousins. In the latter guise every sensible city youth will pass her by as ill-bred. The foolish young man may be caught by her affections, but she will not catch any other. Suppression of individuality at the back of affection will prove a costly indulgence. The young man from the country who apes the city boys will never win by it. He may smoke cigarettes, spending his money at the bars, or buck the tiger, he will be the country boy still. He has nothing to gain and all to lose by his exchange of individuality for affectation. There is no more honorable badge of citizenship today than a certificate of good character from the farm. The whole nation is bowing to the farmer. The world is taking off its hat to agriculture as an art. The writers and thinkers in all fields of science and political economy are giving their best energies to benefit and enable the avocation of farming. Then be a solid, sturdy citizen from the farm. Do not be a boor. Do not be low in your tastes. There is nothing inconsistent with being a perfect gentleman and a good farmer. Land is increasing in value. Broad acres will confer a nobility in time that the dweller in cities and towns can never imitate. In casting aside the individualities of his trade, the independence of life, generated by farming, you are contracting your broad acre manhood to the narrow limitations of town lot speculations. The young man from the farm, ambitious to play the part of a cheap town boy is belittling himself. In sinking his better manhood to follow fast town life he sells himself for a mess of bitter tithes.

Bad Blood.

Impure or vitiated blood is nine times out of ten caused by some form of constipation. It is the cause of that chronic ailment, the system, when the blood naturally becomes impregnated with the effete matter.

The old Sarsaparilla attempt to reach this condition by forcing the blood with the drastic mineral "potash." Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is modern. It goes to the seat of the trouble. It purifies the liver, kidneys and bowels and invigorates the circulation, and the impurities are quickly carried off through the natural channels.

Charles Lee, at Beahm's Third and Market Sts., S. F., writes: "I took it for vitiated blood and while on the first bottle became convinced of its merits, for I could feel it was working a change. It cleansed, purified and braced me up generally, and every thing is now working full and regular."
