MISCELLANY.

THE ACCIDENT ON THE N. Y. C. R. R. POCOCKKERSIE, Dec. 29.—Timothy Herick, father of Albert Herick, the fugitive New York Central brakeman, saw his son in New York on Saturday, and had a long talk with him. He says he urged his son to go to the railroad officials and tell his story, but he would not do so because of the excited state of public feeling. Then the father got him to make a written statement, which was sent to Superintendent McCoy.

In his statement young Herick says that when his train slowed up, but while yet moving, he dropped off and placed two torpedoes on the rails, then ran back to the train, which was still moving, but as it slowed up more he took his lights and started down the track to stop the Croton engine, then nearly due. When half way down he placed a torpedo on the rail and then walked on to the station. When he got there he placed his light on the platform, the red light showing south, and went to ask how the local was. The agent did not know, and Herick sat down and remained there from three to five minutes, when he heard a train coming and started for the door, believing it to be the local. As soon as he saw the train he knew it was the express; he grabbed up his light and tried to attract the engineer's attention, but it was too late. He followed on up the track and soon met a man who told him about the wreck. He did not deem it prudent to go to the wreck, so turned about and came to New York. He adds that he fully realizes the awful position he is placed in, and can only say that he felt sure that the train to come first was the local.

GABRIELA'S BAND. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 29.—The revolutionary outbreak of Gabriela on the border has reached a stage inspiring both the governments of the United States and Mexico to exert every means for its suppression. General Stanley, commanding the department of Texas, has received orders from Washington to do his utmost to run down Gabriela's men and prevent further violation of the neutrality law as well as to bring the revolutionists to account for their political crimes and shedding the blood of American soldiers. This vigilance is supplemented by activity on the part of the state rangers, who are also in the field. The Mexican consul here is in receipt of a number of telegrams from the Mexican authorities on the frontier, which show the whereabouts of the revolutionists, and which he has referred to General Stanley. If mobilized, Gabriela's forces would be no inconsiderable force, and there is much more sympathy with him in Mexico than will dare be admitted.

ROUGH VOYAGE OF THE ARAGO. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—The steamer Arago, which arrived here from the north yesterday, had one of the roughest voyages of the season. On her last trip down she encountered heavy storms and had to be thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The repairs, judging from the battered condition of the vessel, will have to be all made over again. The Arago left Coos Bay on Christmas morning. Before she reached Cape Blanco, however, a breeze from the southeast sprang up, fresh at first, but afterward increasing in velocity to a gale. But little progress could be made against the heavy wind, and Captain Langhorn bore his vessel to under lee of the cape. For thirty-six hours the engines were idle, and a melancholy Christmas was spent by those on board. At the end of that time the sea had quieted somewhat.

The Arago made another start, but the favorable weather did not stay with her long. The wind veered around to the southwest again, and the sea was higher and heavier than ever. The deck was flooded from stem to stern, and everything movable was washed overboard. It was impossible to remain outside, and the only one above deck was Captain Langhorn, who stood on the bridge, wrapped in oil skins, for forty solid hours.

The sea washed over the ship completely burying the vessel and smashing against the smokestack with a force which threatened to tear it from its fastenings. Waves pounded against the deckhouse, and into the cabin, saloon and galley, completely gutting all three departments. All day Saturday and all night long the steamer was tossed about, but the staunch little craft weathered the storm, and on Sunday morning there came a lull, and the storm gradually subsided.

The steamers Columbia and Oregon were bound at Astoria several days, but finally managed to get over the Columbia bar on Christmas morning. They experienced a heavy head wind and saw all the way down, reaching here this morning twenty-four hours late.

The steamer Oregon and Columbia encountered the full force of the storm which has been raging during the past week. On Saturday afternoon a huge wave pitched over the Oregon's bows smashing in the windows of the pilot house, breaking the skylight over the forward hatch, and breaking in the forward companionway to the lower deck. The Oregon will sail again tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The officers are rushing things in order to discharge her cargo and freight. She was 1024 hours making the usual run of forty-eight hours. After leaving the Oregon a number of passengers met and adopted resolutions highly complimentary to Capt. Pooleman.

$100 Reward. $100. The readers of the CAPITAL JOURNAL will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is cancer. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75 cents.

WALT WHITMAN'S CONDITION. CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 29.—The condition of poet Walt Whitman is somewhat improved yesterday, but he is still extremely weak and his physicians say that death may come at any moment. The vital force of the aged poet is surprising. At a late hour last night it was said that he was resting comfortably.

MARRIED A NEGRO. SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Dec. 29.—The Rev. Robert W. Wallace, the evangelist, who has saving souls by the score in the Canadian "Soo" for some weeks past, created a sensation by marrying one of the converts, Miss Rachael E. Ross, a negro. The bride is well known.

NOTHING HEARD OF HIM FOR A MONTH. ASBURY PARK, N. J., Dec. 29.—Silas E. Cheney, a large property owner and a heavy stockholder in the New York Tribune, has been missing over a month, and his relatives are alarmed. The missing man was a brother-in-law of Horace Greely.

STRIKE ON A TEXAS ROAD. SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 29.—The entire system of the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass railway was tied up yesterday by a strike of its employees, who went out the night before. The trouble was caused by the discharge of a conductor for alleged violation of orders.

The operators say they have been poorly paid, and by the system of removals and reductions inaugurated by the new superintendent, Sands, several station telegraphers' salaries were cut, and fearing other cuts, the order of telegraphers appointed a grievance committee. The management refused to meet the demands, but claimed that no general reduction of wages was contemplated. The demand of the telegraphers was backed by all the other operatives. A paralysis extends over 600 miles of the system. Nothing approaching a settlement has yet been reached. Receiver Yocum is in Galveston, and Receiver McNamara is in Mexico. Business is blocked on the entire road, and 850 men are out.

FLOUR ADULTERATED. ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 29.—The scandal arising from the discovery of adulterated flour here is apt to make trouble for a number of people. The consignment comprised 7,800,000 English pounds of barley flour purchased from dealers in Liban with a view of regulating the price of wheat in the St. Petersburg market as well as to afford relief for the famine sufferers. Investigation proved the entire consignment was adulterated with chalk dust and other substances. They comprised such a large proportion of the consignment that the use of the alleged flour would constitute a very dangerous menace to the health, if not to the lives of those who partook of it.

FIRE IN A THEATRE. LIBERTY, Ind., Dec. 29.—During the performance in the grand opera house last evening the building caught fire. A panic followed. The crowd rushed for the windows, and before they could be prevented several jumped, but it is thought they were not seriously injured.

HANGED FOR MURDER. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 29.—Leon Jones was hanged at Oliver Springs yesterday for the murder of his wife and child last year. On the scaffold he said drink was responsible for the crime. He was a deacon in the church and county superintendent of schools.

A DEGRADED PROFESSOR. PITTSBURG, Dec. 29.—Blairsville is excited over the discovery that Professor Ennis, for ten years superintendent of schools, has been demoralizing boys and poisoning their minds. Flight or ten of the largest pupils in the town have been receiving the most startling revelations. Ennis was arrested, but was afterwards released and has gone west. Before leaving he made a written confession, praying for leniency. Ennis is 54 years of age, and has always been prominent in church and social circles.

TONY, THE COIN DETECTOR.

Remarkable Performance of an Ordinary "Yaller" Dog in Cheyenne. They've got a dog in Cheyenne, Wyoming—just a plain, everyday dog, half mongrel, and the rest pure "yaller." When a stranger strikes town the Cheyennites, however, that are resting themselves at the big depot point out this dog with great pride. If the stranger says, as he generally does, that he fails to see any points about the animal different or better than those possessed by dogs in general, the obliging natives tell what his dogship can do. The stranger usually doubts it, and six times out of seven there is a fight.

The other day, after the usual pugilistic encounter about Tony, for this is the dog's name, some genius suggested that the station loungers back up their statement by ocular proof.

Tony was in sight, asleep on a chair. A vigorous whistle awakened him. The case was submitted without waste of words. It had been represented by the home talent that the dog could detect counterfeit silver coin; that out of any sort of a field of dollars the dog would select the American coin of the dandies; that the animal would absolutely refuse to touch other than a standard silver dollar.

So an investigating committee was told off. At the rattle of coin Tony was wide awake. They resorted to every ruse that could be conceived to trick the animal. Half a dozen varieties of dollars were tossed in the air. The instant they landed Tony pounced on the correct coin and carried it to his master.

A bank attaché produced an excellent counterfeit dollar, at which the dog sniffed disdainfully. A jubilee piece almost fooled him. Four coins were shuffled right to the spot and a bad one placed on his nose. At court he let it fall to the floor. Only the good dollar would be tossed and caught. Peppermint was brought from a saloon and this odor used, but without effect. As a final test the dog was blindfolded, but he could not be beaten.

A national bank here threw out as spurious a dollar in the deposit of a business house. It was taken to Tony, who promptly accepted it. Chemical tests proved that the money was all right. Something about the milling or stamping was faulty. No one attempts to explain the remarkable work of the dog. No special effort was made to instruct him.—San Francisco Examiner.

Power of the Sun. When we come to observe the matter there is a wide variety in the pace at which the sun can give a color or change it. A winter apple may be a month in reaching its ruddiness; a peach may ask only a week wherein to flush into its mantle of maturity. But the most nimble work of the solar ray in its decoration of the flower is not to be compared with what it accomplishes in other departments. When its power was brought to bear upon some familiar chemicals it was found that its action was reduced from days to seconds.

Up on this discovery turn all the wonders of photography. At first silver nitrate or lunar caustic, as it was commonly called, was used in the camera. From time to time other substances of greater and greater sensitiveness to light have been produced, every one of them successively giving the solar beam a wider play and more astonishing power.

Today, with the exposure of a photographic plate for only the one hundred and twentieth part of a second, not only are the beatings of an insect's wings caught in the camera, but also the path of a cannon ball, the skyward flight of exploded rock and the sinuous glint of lightning.—Youth's Companion.

Just Needed a Balance. It is well known that most animals, quadrupeds, are natural swimmers, but I know of an exception which is as well authenticated as it is peculiar. A gentleman of our neighborhood had a foxhound which was mortally afraid of deep water and could swim but a few strokes. His head would invariably go down and his hindquarters up, when he could have to be rescued. A friend who well knew the dog's falling made a bet with the owner that the unfortunate beast could not swim across a good sized stream which they had to cross. When the stake was put up the proprietor of the phenomenon calmly attached a good sized stone to the canine's tail, and with equilibrium thus restored in this novel manner he successfully swam the stream with head and shoulders triumphantly poised, winning the wager for his ingenious master.—Forest and Stream.

A Chicken of Many Springs. "Plymouth Rock is awfully mad because you awarded only honorable mention to that spring chicken of his up at the poultry show." "What does he want anyhow? That hen has taken first prize every year now for five years. He ought to be satisfied."—Puck.

Looking Forward. Old Bullion—That black velvet is very becoming to you. Young Wife—Oh, I knew black was becoming before I married.—Good News.

Where She Lived. Mary—Do you live in a flat? Julia—Ma says we live in a state of desperation.—Ram's Horn.
