IMPORTED EGGS.—More eastern than domestic eggs are consumed at Salem at 30 cts a dozen. There is a good bit of nonsense talked about it being "a shame and a disgrace," etc., for Oregon people to ship in eastern state eggs by the carload. It is a fact that eggs are sent from the middle northern agricultural states to the east, to the south, and especially to all the states and territories west of the Rocky mountains. Eggs were imported into the United States for the year ending June 30, 1890, to amount of $2,074,912 worth. In view of these facts it seems unjust to cast reflections on Oregon. It is a mere law of trade.

A MERITORIOUS LAWYER.—Among the members of the legal fraternity in this city deserving special mention as being thoroughly learned in the law and of a clear thinking mind, is Seth R. Hammer, whose extended acquaintance throughout the surrounding country makes him one of the best collectors as well as a successful practitioner in real estate, probate and othe matters in courts of record. Mr. Hammer takes great pains to serve his clients with as little expense as is consistent with his profession.

NO TRAINS.—Heavy rains have flooded all the railroads north and south, and "No mails" was conspicuously posted in the postoffice this morning. Much of the S. P. railroad route is over soft ground, and bridges have become undermined and unsafe. It shows great wisdom on the part of the managers not to attempt operating trains until all is safe.

KEELEY INSTITUTE MOVED.—The Oregon branch of this wonderful institution for the cure of the opium and liquor habits, which has been located at Portland during the past year, has this week been removed to Forest Grove. In its future home it will be better prepared than ever to relieve the suffering of this unfortunate class. The management will remain the same as in the past and Frank Davey, formerly of this city, is still secretary.

CRACKS HIS CELL.

A Professional Burglar Makes a Remarkable Escape From States Prison.

Thos. Whalen is a free man.

He worked his way out of the states prison last night, went through the foundry office and disappeared.

He was sent up from Portland this year, sentenced to seven years for burglary. Several keys which he has made have been taken from him at different times. His first act last night was to pick the lock of his cell, raise himself up to the ceiling where contractors on the new cells had cut holes through into the attic. He drew up a

ROPE AND TACKLE,

broke out a ventilator, got out onto the roof, and let himself down into the prison yard by the pulley. He now went through the foundry where he has worked, rummaged over Superintendent Kuhen's office, secured a complete change of clothes including Bookkeeper Fleming's hat, and got up on the roof of the furnace building where he removed a ladder with which he went down and scaled the prison wall. It was

A BIG NIGHT'S WORK,

but rollcall showed him absent this morning. Superintendent Downing has telegraphed to all points and sent out details in conveyances to scour the country for the missing convict.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

Two Bold Riders Hold up a Farmer and Relieve Him of His Coin.

The first news of a daring highway robbery, committed in this county, reached Salem Monday evening after THE JOURNAL had gone to press. A farmer left the city in the evening for his home near Aumsville, He was riding in his buggy and was just about to cross Mill creek near the Reform school when two men came out of the brush and ordered him to halt or he would be shot. He was at the approach of the bridge and the robbers were mounted. One dismounted and went through Mr. Miller's pockets. Three $20 gold pieces and a lot of silver, in all $71.75, were secured.

NAMED LEWIS MILLER

THEY DISAPPEAR.

One stood guard while the other rifled Mr. Miller's clothes. The robbers then fired a pistol and scared Miller's horse so that it dashed into the stream with the buggy and was soon swimming and Mr. Miller was in danger of his life being lost in the flood. He was in the icy water an hour and finally got to the Governor Moody farm house about 7 o'clock, and secured dry clothes, and then proceeded to Turner. No trace of the man has been found.

SPECIALIST.—Dr. T. L. Golden has been a practicing oculist and aurist of about twenty-five years' experience. He makes a specialty of treating the eye and ear and has met with good success in many difficult cases. His office is on the first floor upstairs, next to Wade & Co., on Commercial street, Salem. Office hours 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

FROM BEHIND BARS.—A select musical and literary program has been arranged by some of the talented prisoners at the Oregon state prison for Wednesday forenoon when a free entertainment will be given all the inmates. At 7 p. m. the program will be rendered for the benefit of visitors to whom tickets will be issued.

Twenty-one acres of good land three miles from Salem, 18 acres cleared, house, and five acres set to fruit. Price $1500, a bargain. Enquire at the Globe Real Estate office, Bush & Breyman block upstairs. 12-29-3t.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—Necktie and apron social at the Good Templars hall on Thursday evening, Dec. 31st. Ladies bring neckties and aprons. Admission free. 2t

THE BEST OF BOOKS.—The yearly meeting of the Oregon Bible society was held at the M. E. church Monday night. Nearly all the pastors of the Salem churches were present, and the annual election of officers was as follows: F. H. Gwynne, president; J. M. Martin, secretary; James Aitken, trrasurer and depository. Executive committee: C. L. Talbot, Congregational; Prof. E. B. McElroy, Christian; Mr. Cook, Friends'; H. Frickney, German M. E.; W. W. Brooks, Baptist. Rev. P. C. Hetzler, district superintendent of the American Bible society addressed the meeting. The bibles which the society has for sale are at James Aitken's grocery store, and to be arranged in a nice case. The following collections were taken Sunday: M. E. church, $4.85; Presbyterian, $7. The report of the treasurer for the year is: books donated, $2.30; books sold, $54.90; books on hand, $121.80; cash on hand, $65.75.

THAT R. R. SOCIAL.—Last evening the new Unitarian church edifice was for the first time thrown open to the public who were pleasantly entertained by a so-called "Railroad Social." The program consisted in taking a ticket with ten coupons, on each of which a question would be fastened by the respective station masters, each question must be answered before the holder was allowed to proceed to the next station. When all were correctly answered the ticket was good for a supper, which was served in neat style by the young people. The church interior is attractive and cosy to say the least. The seats, consisting of opera chairs, will be in place very soon and the building will be ready for dedication early next week.

FIRE AT ALE.—The home of Mrs. A. E. Neal at Ale, Oregon, was discovered to be on fire at about 2 o'clock this morning. The family were all asleep, but were aroused by the intense smoke in time to save themselves, although the 19-year-old son Johnnie burned his feet severely by carrying several of his sisters from a burning room. One of the girls was slightly injured by jumping from a window. The floors and furniture were considerably damaged before the flames could be extinguished. Mrs. Neal was absent from home, and feels very grateful to her family for their great efforts to save the home.

THE BEST ROUTE.—There is at present much talk of a railroad from the Cascade mountains to the sea. The way the country and cities are settling up rapidly, the best route would be from Mehama to Salem, Forest Grove and Astoria, the future great seaport city of the coast. The press of Western Oregon should unite in pressing the merits of this route, and by energetic pushing it can be built in 1892.

UNITED WORKMEN.—Valley lodge, No. 18, A. O. U. W., conducted election of officers as follows: John Kirn, P. M. W.; Wm. Buck, M. W.; John Knight, G. F.; M. J. Connor, O.; D. L. Green, recorder; John Wright, receiver; W. T. Bell, financier; C. W. Zaenker, guide.

The Only Explanation.

There was quite a wind some parts of last night. This morning one neighbor asked another:

"Did your house blow over last night?'

"No. It would have but my contractor left so many cracks the wind passed right through."

THE NEW MARKET OPENED. T. H. Blundell has his fish market and poultry market nicely stocked up, next door to State Insurance Co. office on Chemeketa street. He has a choice lot of turkeys and other poultry which he will deliver to any part of the city. Give him a call.

The Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. have cash and paid up values guaranteed in each policy. Don't insure in any other company. J. L. Mitchell, agent. 11-25-tf

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Trains got through from Portland this forenoon.

This morning the river was rising at the rate of one-third inch per hour.

The rains and bad weather have been very severe on the street car drivers, lines and horses.

Admission to the Mouse Trap social at the armory tonight, 25 cents.

Come in and see a pile of twenty thousand copies of New Year's papers at THE JOURNAL office.

The school board is holding a session this afternoon, and the pay roll's for December will be audited.

A $200 silver plated national cash register is being set up at J. G. Wright's Pioneer Grocery, and his announcement in THE JOURNAL explains the reason.

Salem Rod and Gun club has challenged the Albanys for a forty bird trap shoot at Salem, New Year's day. That bid will hardly be taken.

Chas. Wolz's happy home was made happier Saturday last by the arrival of a Christmas present in the shape of a fine healthy daughter.

Both Salem flouring mills are shut down owing to high water in the Willamette.

E. F. Osborn, proprietor of the Racket store, and daughter are confined to their rooms by la grippe.

W. L. Davis, editor of the Newport Times, returned yesterday after spending Christmas and Sunday with his little son Lee, and the family of A. W. Dennis.

The steamer Hoag returned to Corvallis this merning after transferring freight to the Bentley, which, at 11 o'clock, started for Oregon City with 150 tons of flour, and will lie there until the water goes down so that the locks can be operated.

The first boy sent from Marion county to the reform school is Milton Briggs, a fourteen-year-old lad with a bad habit of running away from home.

Grandma Stanley, one of the first pioneer settlers in the vicinity of Salem, died at East Oakland recently. She was the mother of Jas. Stanley and of Mrs. Wm. Syphert of Marion county.

Geo. F. Smith is still in it, having a few nice articles left for New Year presents.

A. O. Damon is among the victims of la grippe and suffering considerably.

F. S. Dearborn, 263 Commercial street, has a full line of blank books, diaries for office and pocket, calendar stands, art calendars and the largest and most complete stock of office stationery in the city, at bedrock prices.

NORTH HOWELL PRAIRIE.

Rev. Kershaw purposes holding a series of meetings at the church soon.

Ernest Wiesner and Willard Stevens are home from school on a holiday visit.

Reese Heninger of Woodburn made North Howell a visit and stayed over Christmas.

The waters are out over the roads at Parkersville shutting off communication from Gervais to Howell on the main road.

A shooting match is announced to be held at the grange hall this week.

Rumor has it that there is to be a wedding here this week. If this one really comes off we doubt not but that several pairs who have been undecided for years will be "struck with the spirit of the times."

A social and supper was enjoyed by many of the young people of the neighborhood, at R. L. Steele's on Christmas night given as a surprise for Andrew and Miss Cullie.

The Christmas tree at Howell was a success and speaks well for the performers and managers. After it was over the hall was cleared and those who enjoyed dancing stayed and tripped the light fantastic till about 3 o'clock next morn.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

Moneys Expended on State, City and County Institutions—The Outlook.

Salem being both the county seat and capital of the state, is the center of a vast distribution of public moneys, for state and county improvements. Following is the sums expended the past year, and it does not comprise many minor items:

MONEYS EXPENDED.

Blind Institute	$ 1,000
State house and grounds	5,000
Public Schools	30,000
City improvements	20,000
Reform School	20,000
Insane Asylum	34,000
State Prison	24,000
County Improvements	20,000
Total	$154,000

IN SIGHT.

New wings will have to be built on the state asylum and state prison in the course of the next two years. A new dome will be built on the state house, and a new blind school building will have to be put up. A new school house, new city hall, and other improvements are needed.

SALEM AS A SCHOOL TOWN.

A School Population of Two Thousand and Half a Hundred Teachers.

The following brief statistical showing will give strangers some idea of the size of Salem's school population:

SCHOOL STATISTICS.

	No. Teachers	No. Pupils
Public Schools	28	1485
Private Schools	4	160
Sacred Heart Academy	6	110
Willamette University	29	300
Totals	56	1995

Added to this is the prospect of Friends polytechnic institute at Highland.

Salem is quite a school town, as well as a safe haven for the business man and investor.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Real Estate.

In favorable mention of the real estate firms of Salem we cannot omit the notice of Catterlin & Martin, 156 State street. This is one of the most industrious and reliable firms of the city. They keep their own teams and are untiring in their efforts to show immigrants the surrounding country and the advantages of Oregon for the home. No new arrival should permanently locate until he has tested the courtesy and accommodation of these gentlemen and had an opportunity to see the land they are offering at low prices. City property of all kinds made a specialty.

This firm is now selling the celebrated Ankeny tract, which comprises nearly 3000 acres of rich rolling land at the remarkably low figures of from $15 to $35 per acres. Any desired quantity can be had from a town lot or a five ten or twenty acre tract and upwards. This land lies within ten miles of Salem, and is capable of producing anything that can be grown in soil, except tropical plants. We bespeak for this firm a large run of business in the future.

Write for further information direct to Catterlin & Martin, 156 State street, Salem, Oregon.

Cheap land, 30 acres, 3 miles from Turner, all good bottom land in cultivation, good orchard, two springs, good nine-room two-story house, hard finished, good barn and other outbuildings, $2500. The Oregon Land comany, Salem, Or. eod 8t

Women.

The common afflictions of women are sick-head-aches, indigestion and nervous troubles. They arise largely from stomach disorders. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the only bowel regulating preparation, you can see why it is more effective than any other Sarsaparilla in those troubles. It is daily relieving hundreds. The action is mild, direct and effective. We have scores of letters from grateful women.
