You did not see reat difference involved by overnment sending the Matta ar to all the legations of Chili, requesting its several ministers blish the discourteous language the publication throughout the zed world. That you did not ly with Chili's request to pub here is the strongest proof of own disapproval of the note.

regard to Egan, you com ed many times, and very bitter me especially, that he was de ing of censure, you thought, for communicating to his govern the brutal murder of some ng men who were slain by order almaceda. When next day I ved you a dispatch of Egan's king of the incident in general roper terms, you acknowledged were mistaken. I thought you ld be satisfied, but you again ke disparagingly of Egan, and I somewhat vehemently: "Why you not demand his recall instead constantly disparaging him?" ending thereby not to favor his ll, but to stop too frequent men of Egan's name. Referring to question, you remarked: "You re pleased to acknowledge the vernment of Chili had the right ask a change to be made." Un btedly she has that right, pro ed she assigns a reason. FLOATING MACHINE SHOPS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Orders were received by Chief Engineer W. A. Morley, of the United States navy, detaching him from government inspection duty at the N. F. Palmer, Jr., works, of this city, and assigning him as chief engineer of the chartered steamer Ohio. Chief Engineer Morley has of late been engaged in inspecting the machinery for the new armored cruiser Maine. His assignment to the Ohio is looked upon in naval circles as a high compliment to the ability of that officer. Chief Engineer Morley's recent work in the shops of the company has been particularly gratifying to Commodore Melville, and is the cause, in a great measure, of the present orders. Mr. Morley is the officer who handled the machinery of the much-maligned Dolphin during that vessel's cruise around the world. The Dolphin was the last vessel on which he saw service. The Ohio is now at the Charleston navy yard. A number of the new machine tools recently received at that navy yard will be placed aboard her, and thus equipped, the Ohio will make her appearance among the American vessels operating off Chili as a veritable machine shop afloat. It is thought likely that a naval constructor will be assigned to duty on the Ohio, to have charge of all hull-repair work which it may be found necessary to make.

TWO FIRMS CONSOLIDATED.

PORTLAND, Jan. 29.—Staver & Waler and Mitchell & Lewis, two of the largest firms in the Northwest, dealing in agricultural implements, wagons, carriages, etc., have been consolidated into one new firm. The new firm is to be known as Mitchell, Lewis, Staver & Co. The only Northwest agency of Mitchell & Lewis, whose main house is at Racine, Wis., is included in the new firm.

Dyspepsia

Makes many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently yet efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and, by thus overcoming the local symptoms, cures the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, painting, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS.

PORTLAND, Jan. 26.—When the convention re-assembled at 2 p. m. yesterday, a general air prevaded the hall that boded ill to President Ayer.

The first gun of the opposition was fired when the committee on resolutions reported. Their report was to the effect that the present constitution of Young Men's State Republican league was inefficient, and they recommended the revision or adoption of a new one which would give local clubs power to manage their affairs as the peculiarities of their section required. The bursting of this shell caused consternation in the Ayer ranks, as they perceived that the formation of a new constitution would take the scepter from their hands. The reading of the report evoked two or three motions in quick succession, and numerous speakers endeavored to gain recognition during the hubbub.

When the confusion was at its height, the committee on credentials was announced. They were then allowed to read a supplemental report. They reported that the first ward was entitled to be represented by T. E. Harris, vice president of first ward club. This immediately brought W. T. Hume, who held a proxy from that ward to his feet. He claimed that Harris had no authority to represent the first ward club, which had elected four delegates to the convention, all of which he could substantiate by referring the committee on credentials to the minutes of the club's last meeting. He moved to again recommit the report to the committee on credentials.

At this critical juncture it was moved and carried that all four of the delegates from the first ward be admitted. The opposition then strengthened their position by admitting eleven delegates from the sixth ward and eight from Garfield club. Elated with their success the opposition then turned its attention to the resolution which was pending when the committee on credentials entered to make a supplemental report. After much confusion, the resolution was put to a vote. Ayer's supporters, with the desperation of drowning men, called for an aye and nay vote. When the calling of the roll was completed, the vote stood, for the resolution 128, against thirty. The house of Ayer had fallen, and its reign was over. The motion was made unanimous, and at the close of the stamping of feet and clapping of hands that followed some unfeeling delegate asked the chair if he understood him to say that he had resigned. The president retorted that he never resigned or turned back.

The next action of the convention was to elect seven delegates, one from each judicial district, to prepare a new constitution in accordance with the resolution just passed. The election resulted in the choice of H. B. Miller, Grants Pass, from the first district; H. B. Cockerlin, Eugene, second district; Geo. G. Bingham, Salem, third district; J. F. Caples, Portland, fourth district; W. W. Barrett, Hillsboro, fifth district; E. VanSlycke, Baker City, sixth district; F.P. May, The Dalles, seventh district.

The convention then adjourned until 9 a. m. today.

The Jas. G. Blaine club of this city held an enthusiastic meeting in Masonic hall last night. Many delegates to the Republican club convention were in attendance. Speeches were made by Hon. J. F. Caples, president of the club; Hon. J. H. D. Gray, of Astoria; Lydell Baker, of this city, and many others. Mr. Gray referred to the great Columbia river and the vast resources tributary to it. He said the Republican party ought to use all its influence toward opening the Columbia river especially at The Dalles. He recommended the building of barges between the cascades and The Dalles, on which cars on the portage would be transported to the cascades and there landed again. He closed by saying that Clatsop county would give from three to five hundred Republican majority at the election. A colored quartet was presented, and furnished music for the occasion.

PORTLAND, Jan. 29.—Today's session of the Young Men's Republican clubs was in striking contrast to yesterday's stormy session. Calm pervaded the whole session. After the convention was called to order, the committee of seven chosen yesterday reported the new constitution which was adopted. The constitution gives to each local club the privilege of conducting its affairs as required by the exigencies of its situation. President Ayer then addressed the convention, reviewing the work done by him and his executive committee. He said he was ambitious to have the glory of putting the machinery of the Young Men's Republican clubs into operation. The office he would have now be knew he could not get, and what he could get he did not want. He was content with the honor of being the first to put the organization into working order. The convention then elected the officers provided for by the new constitution, as follows: President, Thos. H. Tongue, of Hillsboro; vice-president, B. B. Beekman, of Portland. At this juncture, Beekman, in the absence of Tongue, took the chair, and Boss Ayer's rule was ended. The following executive committee was then chosen: Geo. B. Hughes, of Salem; J. B. Eddy, of Pendleton, and C. M. Idleman, of Portland.

MINISTER MONTT BLAMED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The Herald's Santiago special says the administration is not feeling comfortable over the situation of the controversy between the United States and Chili. Pedro Montt is blamed in a measure for misleading the government here as to the state of affairs. Well known prominent men advised the government some time ago to go slow in this trouble, but their advice was not heeded. The course pursued seems to have been actuated by a fear of the radicals, among whom Matta is the central figure. It is rather ludicrous to note the change in the tone of the remarks on Egan in Santiago and Valparaiso newspapers. The Porvenir, which hitherto has been heaping abuse on him, is now full of the most amicable comments on the American minister. With other papers it is the same thing.

BECAUSE SHE LOVED HER.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 29.—Alice Mitchell, the murderer of Freda Ward, talking with her counsel, said she killed Freda because she loved her, and Freda refused to marry her. On all other subjects the girl seems perfectly rational, and does not see the enormity of her crime. She says she asked Freda three times to marry her, and the murdered girl finally consented. Later Freda returned the engagement ring, whereupon Alice was miserable. "I could not bear to be separated from her," said she, "and resolved to kill her." Letters from Freda are full of the most ardent terms and go to show that the girl eagerly looked forward to the time when she could make Alice her wife. Strange to say, from what can be learned, Freda seemed to be infatuated with Alice, and willing to propose marriage, the affair to be in the nature of an elopement.

CHILI WANTS TO KNOW.

SANTIAGO, Chili, Jan. 29.—There is much more feeling here than was evident yesterday and during the past few days. Chilian officials, however, continue to express surprise at the ultimatum forwarded from President Harrison. The Associated Press correspondent had an interview with one of the most prominent official of the Chilian foreign office. The correspondent was courteously met, and the conversation was free and cordial. In the course of the interview it was shown very plainly that the foreign office would not say in a direct manner that Minister Montt had been deceived and misled in any note or word received by him from the American secretary of state; but it was evident the official thought so. He said Blaine had all along given Montt to understand that the settlement of the serious controversy between the two republics was being reached, and Blaine one month ago proposed submission to arbitration of the outrageous assault upon the Baltimore's sailors, and also agreed to accept Montt's terms for withdrawal of the Matta telegram. It is asserted here that Egan informed the Chilian government, one week ago that the questions at issue were being settled. Egan declares he said nothing of the kind. On the night of the receipt of the ultimatum a cable was received from Minister Montt advising the Chilian government to stand firm, as all was favorable in Washington. There is intense excitement as to the situation by everyone, from the highest official down to the most humble citizen wishing to know if America accepts the terms of Chili's reply to President Harrison's ultimatum.

WHAT WE WOULD HAVE DONE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—It was openly admitted at the navy department, now that there is no longer any reason for concealment, that the government was fully prepared to enforce its demands against Chili, in case they had not been secured by more pacific methods of negotiation through diplomatic ends. The entire available navy force had been concentrated so as to advance on Chili ports. The Pacific squadron, consisting of the San Francisco, Charleston, Baltimore, Boston, and Yorktown, would have been speedily reinforced by the South Atlantic squadron, now at Montevideo, consisting of the Chicago, Atlanta, Bennington, Essex, Philadelphia, and Concord, of the North Atlantic squadron, the two last named vessels now on their way to Montevideo. The Concord arrived at Bahi today and the Philadelphia is beyond that port on her way to Montevideo. The Miantonomoh, Newark and Vesuvius were held in reserve for possible service. At the same time great stores of coal, ammunition and provisions had been forwarded on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, so the fleet should be amply supplied in case foreign ports would be closed to them. Arrangements were made for the immediate use of a number of transports and auxiliary cruisers. Arrangements were made to secure the delivery of 10,000 tons of coal a month at a point convenient for the naval vessels. The plans contemplated the early seizure of some Chilian port for use as base of supplies.

These preparations entailed great expense, roughly estimated at about $2,000,000. The foregoing estimate includes coal, additional expense attending pushing up work on vessels now under contract, and extra work at the different yards and shops. The order of officers and men to the Ohio has been revoked, and the work of fitting her out is suspended. The department will now be busy for a long time undoing many of its preparations and restoring the naval establishment to its usual basis.

ARTIC SEARCH PARTY.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—Professor Angelo Hoilprin, who has been selected to head the expedition which the Academy of Natural Science will send to the relief of Lieutenant Parry, accompanied the original expedition to McCormick Bay, and is regarded by a majority of the members as a man pre-eminently qualified to command the expedition. Professor Hoilprin is engaged in drawing up the preliminary plans to be submitted to his committee. He said: "As to the plans for expedition, they are not as yet in any shape as to details. I have simply formulated the general plan, and the expedition will start from this city in June, and leave St. John's in all probability in the steam whaler Kite, the same vessel which took Parry and his expedition to McCormick Bay. I expect to reach Melville Bay at about the time of the earliest breaking up of the ice packs. This usually takes place about the third week of July, when a free passage is permitted northwestward to Cape York in latitude 75:56. Beyond Cape York the free north water is reached, and in a day and a half or two days sail I believe we will reach Parry, whom we hope to find safe at headquarters. Lieutenant Parry and his exploring party expected to return to their headquarters on McCormick Bay after the journey over the inland in the last week of July. They will be ready to leave on their return southward between August 1 and August 15. The relief expedition will reach Parry's headquarters about two weeks in advance of his time of departure. A year's extra provisions will be taken for Parry's party in the event of possible emergencies, compelling another year's stay in the Artic region." The personnel of the relief party, Professor Hoilprin said, had not been as yet decided on. That was a matter for the committee to consider, and he had not decided yet as to how many members their party would consist of. When asked about what he would do if Parry was not found at McCormick Bay, he replied: "The course of action in that event is being decided on. It would be almost useless to push inland across the ice, as we would have nothing to guide us. That we shall find the party at McCormick Bay, I am confident."

CONDITION OF THE ARMY.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—General McCook commanding the department of Arizona, says the army was never, during a time of peace, in better condition than at present to undertake war. The men, he says, are all on good footing, well drilled and well officered. He believed 50,000 men might be placed in the field within three months by enlisting thirty raw recruits for each company, and putting them in with trained soldiers, who would soon break them into soldier life. General McCook added:

"We would have to take the men away from posts scattered all over the country, but their places could be filled with newly enlisted men, while trained soldiers would be marched off to war. Meanwhile, recruiting and drilling would be going on, and as these men were taught how to shoot they would be sent off to fight, and in a little while we would have an army of 100,000 men in the field if we should need that many. The National Guard being a home guard, the only way its services could be called on for war abroad would be for the members to enlist in the service of the United States."

GRAVES ON BAIL.

DENVER, Jan. 29.—The supreme court this morning granted a supersedeas in the graves case. Graves will be released on bail.

HAVE SPLIT OFF.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A Washington special says: "Jerry Simpson, Watson and Otis of Kansas have split from the other Alliance members of the house because they objected to the proposition made by the latter, that they cast their lot with the Democrats."

INDORSING HARRISON.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—The Republican state committee today adopted a resolution commending President Harrison's ability in handling the Chilian dispute.

DEMOCRATIC POLICY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The Democratic majority of the ways and means committee by formal action this morning adopted Springer's policy and decided to attack the McKinley high tariff by various separate bill. Upon this policy the Democratic members of the committee have decided to act as a unit.

COMMITTEE PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Enough signatures have been secured to call a caucus of Democratic members of the house on next Friday evening to settle upon what action will be taken toward silver legislation. The senate judiciary committee was in session several hours today examing witnesses presented by those opposing the confirmation of Judge Woods.

TOUGH ON EGAN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Ricardo Trumbull, the member of the Chilian congress who managed the Itata affair, said before the Reform Club last night:

"It was believed in Chili Egan was Balmaceda's chief adviser. The congressional party also thought he manifested too great anxiety to have the $4,000,000 shipped on the Pensacola, when he could not but know Balmaceda by so doing was committing robbery. Mr. Egan honored me with his friendship, and I shall ever be glad to him for his offer of asylum for myself and family during the troubles of the times, but this does not blind me to his faults. He harbored and sheltered red-handed murderers, and not political refugees, and turned the American legation into an asylum for bloodthirsty outlaws, and when I think of it my American blood rises in indignation at the thought the stars and stripes should shelter such ruffians."

INDICTED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The grand jury at Trenton found four indictments against the agent of the Hamburg American Steamship company, and two against the agents of the Red Star Steamship company, for allowing debarred immigrants to escape.

In the Scotch ballad, was about to totter down the declivity of life with his aged wife. How it would have smoothed the rough places for the respected John and his venerable spouse could they have eased their growing infirmities with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that benign help to the aged, the weak and those recovering but slowly from exhausting diseases. When the lamp of life is on the wane men specially requires medicinal aid, a sustaining tonic, a wholesome corrective. The aged and the feeble are particularly susceptible to influences which produce disease, convalescence is too often interrupted by relapse. This standard American invigorant is eminently adapted to the needs of such persons, and it always "fills the bill." Dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism, kidney troubles and la grippe are among the troubles that it overcomes.
