BASEBALL AGAIN.—Foul and out. That is, Salem was foully and shabbily dealt with in regard to joining the Northwestern league, and was left out. What should be the result? Let the representative men from Salem, Corvallis, Eugene, Albany and any other town desiring to join, meet and organize a valley league and have ball of our own. Let the nine be composed of home players, strengthened by professionals, the same as Salem's club was last year, and good enough ball will be furnished to suit anybody. If anything is to be done, now is the time. Have enclosed grounds prepared and a schedule arranged so that about ten games a month can be played at each place and the admittance receipts will cover expenses. Baseball is our national game and everybody enjoys it. Good ball is just as easy to get as that of the "yellow," only it requires a little more energy. Will it be played ball this summer or not, Albany is to the bat, how many other towns are on deck.—Albany Sunday Telescope.

REVIVAL.—Salem has another. Presiding Elder Barclay, Rev. Williams, of Portland, and Rev. Gwynn, of the United Brethren church, are holding a series of revival meetings at the Cumberland Presbyterian church on High street. The little church is going to be jammed full, and the work has the warmest encouragement of the local clergy. The preachers in attendance are perfect gentlemen, and are not engaged in any church controversy. Rev. Williams, of Portland, preached a beautiful sermon, and there was a good congregation present. Rev. Barclay will speak tonight, and is known all over the state as one of the best common-sense talkers alive. Rev. Gwynn, a Welshman, (not our Salem Gwynn), is also a good preacher, as all Welshmen are, and leads the meeting at 3 p. m. Tuesday afternoon. Regular services each afternoon and evening this week. Do not fail to attend.

TO ORGANIZE.—The public meeting to promote kindergarten education is to be held Wednesday evening, at kindergarten hall at 7:30. All interested in better work being done for the little ones, should attend and help organize a strong public kindergarten educational association.

Mrs. E. C. Baker's dressmaking parlors are open and all who desire work, or to see the styles are welcome. Salmon eggs, Salmon eggs.

SALEM ROD AND GUN CLUB.

First Annual Monthly Shoot—Members of the Organization.

The first monthly shoot of the Salem Rod and Gun club began Monday afternoon at 1 p. m. A regular monthly shoot has been arranged for the season and the membership of the club largely increased.

ACTIVE MEMBERS.
The following is the present membership: M. E. Pogue, A. H. Forstner, C. D. Gabrielson, J. C. Griffith, H. P. McNary, B. W. Harritt, L. F. Conn, Frank Howe, H. N. Cottle, A. W. Childs, C. L. Gleason, Wm. Brown, H. W. Cox, O. F. Taylor, Will W. Brooks, Wm. Warner, E. C. Wagner, G. M. Bassett, M. W. Hunt, W. Bryman, F. A. Turner, E. F. Parkhurst, F. N. Derby, John Moerer, Geo. H. Williams, M. Durbin, Channery Lockwood, Ed. Cross, Thos. Ryan.

FUN ON THE RAIL.—At 7:30 Tuesday morning a force of men went with a flat car to lay the rails in front of the Dane grocery in South Salem on the electric road. The rails had been left out to accommodate the grocery delivery wagon. As the men began work, Mrs. Dane warned them off, threatening to shoot. No attention was paid to her demands until she reappeared on the scene with a bull dog revolver and half of the crew scattered, leaving the other boys to hold the fort. Mrs. Dane was finally satisfied and the work went on.

ILLUSTRATED ALASKA.—It is not often that the citizens of Salem have the opportunity of being more pleasantly entertained, and instructed withal, than they will have on Friday evening of this week, at the Presbyterian church. On this occasion Mr. Geo. M. Webster, an excellent photographic artist, who spent a summer in Alaska, will exhibit for the benefit of Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church, a series of splendid views of that picturesque region, with a descriptive lecture. Admission 25 cents. dt

FOR DIRECTOR.—The naming of W. L. Wade, of North Salem, at the annual school meeting for director to succeed A. E. Strang meets with universal satisfaction. He is a clear headed business man and takes a deep interest in the work of our public schools. It is generally understood that there will be no other candidate.

W. B. SIMPSON,
District Clerk,
Salem, Or., March 7, A. D. 1892.

Inasmuch as the annual report of the directors had been published in the city papers, its reading was dispensed with.

A supplementary report of the directors was read by E. M. Waite, which recommended the issuance of $15,000 bonds and the levy of a four mill tax.

On motion of S. Farrar, a ten mill tax was voted for the current year, and the supplementary report was laid on the table.

The petition of East Silemites, signed by nearly two hundred taxpayers, asking for an eight-room building between 17th and 23rd streets and State street and Asylum avenue. A resolution to this effect was introduced.

A motion followed to strike out the clause of the directors' report which opposed the erection of any new buildings this year which carried.

Considerable discussion followed, which elicited some good points pro and con. A motion to table the resolution was lost as was also the motion to adjourn.

A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring member of the board, A. E. Strang, which by amendment also included the other members of the board.

Motions to build a sewer from the North Salem building and to donate $100 to the Electric railway company on their South Salem extension were lost.

W. L. Wade of North Salem, was placed in nomination as a candidate for director.

Rev. Wm. Hollinshead, Pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sparta, N. J., voluntarily writes strongly in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He says: "Nothing I know of will cleanse the blood, stimulate the liver or clean the stomach like this remedy. I know of scores and scores who have been helped or cured by it."

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet efficient action.

ARRIVED.—Ladies' Oxfords—the very latest at Wm. Brown & Co's.

Notice.
To whom it may concern: That hereafter nine hours shall constitute a day's work for the bricklayers and masons of Salem. By order of the union. 3-5-St

CLOSED.—J. E. Ross has closed his farmers' restaurant on State street owing to the nine weeks illness of his son, and has moved out to 21st street and Asylum avenue.

Oranges—forty for a quarter, at Clark & Eppley's.

BORN.

HOEYE.—To Mr. and Mrs. Joe. Hoeye, of Tacoma, March 6, 1892, a son.

Mrs. Hoeye is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. McCully, North Salem.

MABLETHORP.—At their rooms in the Cottle building, March 5, 1892, to the wife of James Mablethorp, a son.

DIED.

BUCKINGHAM.—At the residence of her son, A. L. Buckingham, at 17 Commercial street, March 7, 1892, Mrs. L. L. Buckingham, aged 81 years, 10 months and 7 days.

Deceased was the mother of the late Mrs. C. S. Woodworth and Mrs. S. A. Clarke. She was the grandmother of Mrs. L. L. Patterson, Mrs. N. H. Looney and W. J. Clarke.

She had been sick for over four years, and blind during most of this time. She was born in Ontario county, New York. She had been a resident of Salem for over thirty-five years. When she was young she was a pupil of Dr. Marcus Whitman, who was murdered by the Indians in 1847.

The deceased lady had a large circle of friends who cherish her memory as they prized her many lovely traits of character.

The funeral will be held at the Episcopal church Wednesday. Burial at Rural cemetery.

BIOGRAPHICAL.
Mrs. Buckingham and her two younger children came to Oregon and Salem in 1856, the two elder, a son who now lives in Kansas, and Mrs. S. A. Clark having crossed the plains in 1851. Mrs. Buckingham was an earnest and efficient member of the Episcopal church and unselfishly labored for others during a long life, doing much good in an unpretending way. She remained in good health until less than four years ago, when she lost her sight. Having been a great reader and indefatigable worker, this loss deprived her of almost all resources and she became entirely dependent for interest in life upon the devoted care and attention of her son, A. L. Buckingham and his wife, who sacrificed their own aims and objects in life to care for the mother who had been so much to them in the past. Since her loss of sight, has occurred the death of her two gifted daughters who were her pride and source of much comfort. It is not easy to do justice to the devotion of her son's family in caring for her in her last years, and I now speak the wishes and feelings of my own children, when they could not have done more and deserve higher respect for their performance of filial duty.

NOB HILL.

THIS beautiful, elevated and slightly tract of land, on the new southerly extension of the Electric Street Railway, has been platted, surveyed and staked out in blocks and lots as an addition to the City of Salem, and the streets are now being opened. The grounds are clear and seeded in grass, soil is good, no gravel or rocks. The under current of pure water from the mountain ranges forced upward to within 40 feet of the surface by the underlying strata, in addition to a 75-foot pressure from the big reservoir of the Salem Water Co., insures a never-failing supply of pure water. This, in connection with the excellent natural drainage due to the elevation of the property, gives it all the advantages for desirable homes in a healthy locality. This property will now be put on the market at low prices for SIXTY DAYS, when it is expected the street car service will be in operation. Maps of the property can be seen at the office of J. C. Booth in Ladd & Bush bank block; Spalding & Rogers in the Bush-Breyman block, and the well known firm of Thomas & Johnson, next door to The Statesman office. Any of these gentlemen will answer all questions and show the grounds to persons wishing to purchase, or any application to the proprietor, who may be easily found, will be attended to.

GEORGE H. JONES.

THE PRESS AND THE COMMISSION.

The adoption by the Union Pacific Co. of nearly the entire schedule of freight rates as prepared by the Oregon railroad commission is a great victory for the people. It means the regulation and control of freight rates by the constituted agents of the state, whose investigations and decisions are backed by the law and courts of the state. They should be backed by the executive power and are so backed in other states. But so far the governor of Oregon has withheld his moral and executive support, unless it was in appointing an attorney general who has sustained the commission. The Oregonian of Portland has also steadily and persistently cast its influence against the commission. It wants no commission, no regulation or control, or at best a useless, inefficient powerless commission.

The commission has received no support or encouragement in its fight for reduced rates from the Oregonian. If that paper were to come out today and support the commission, it would do what no one expects it is capable of doing—taking the people's side on any question.

The Union Pacific R'y Co. has given up the fight on the rate case brought by the board of railroad commissioners in the circuit court of Marion county to enforce its order fixing reduced freight rates, but the Oregonian has by no editorial utterance done so. We look for a reprimand of that corporation for deciding to obey the law, and the managers may hereafter look for no favors for yielding obedience to state authority.

The stock rate as adopted by the board goes into effect in full. The wheat rate is modified. The new rates go into effect March 15. The company pays all costs in the case and also in the writ of review proceedings brought by the company.

The wheat rate, as now made, amounts to a reduction of $7.50 per car at the Dalles and all stations to and including Grant's and $5.00 reduction per car at all other points where the commissioners' rates amounted to that much or more. To where the commissioners' rates were less than that amount, they stand as made. This is all contrary to the orders of the Oregonian. If it could have its way it would from the commission out of existence, restore the old high rates, tax the traffic all it would bear and say with Jay Gould: "The people be d—d."

But all the newspapers in the state do not see the case through the Oregonian glasses. The Newport Times, a paper more influential in its own county than the Oregonian is in Multnomah, and representative of the people, which the Oregonian is not, says, in commenting on the victory for the commission: "The above article should be looked more deeply into than its worth as a news item would seem to call for. This board of railroad commissioners is distinctly a Republican creation. The Democrats of the legislature, backed by his Royal Highness Penney worked to defeat the bill from first to last and the Democratic state press has never lost an opportunity to ridicule the board, its work and its friends, saying among other things that it never would do any good and was a mammoth expense to the state for nothing. In this one case see what a saving to the producers of the eastern portion of our state! It means hundreds of thousands of dollars saved each year and distributed among the farmers, stockmen and other producers of our own Oregon. Enough will be saved in one year to pay the expense of the board for ten years, in this one case. Give the credit where credit is due—to the Republican party."

The Newport Times has been a Democratic paper and its language above makes a claim for the work of the commission which THE JOURNAL nor the commission itself has never made.
