THE JOURNAL has been asked to express an opinion about the financial platform adopted at the St. Louis Industrial conference, which is as follows: 1. We demand a national curency, safe, sound and flexible, issued by the general government only, a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and that, with out the use of banking corporations, is just, equitable and efficient means of distribution direct to the people at not to exceed 2 per cent. Interest, be devised as set forth in the subtreasury of the Farmers' Alliance, or some better system; also by payments in discharge its obligation or public improvements. We demand the free and un-imited coinage of silver. I. This first plank is unusually sound, clear and practical. The only element of doubt will center about the proposition to loan money at 2 per cent,, etc. But this is not fatal. That expression is employed in the effort of many good men to solve the problem of bridging over he financial stringency caused by currency at the time that crops are moved. For about three months every fall there is required three or four times s much currency to handle the products resulting from the other nine months' labor of the farmers.

Cough Remedy, and I think with other business as may properly some Now, if we grant that there is a sufficient volume of currency for manufacturing, trading, fransporting, banking, paying taxes, and the other thousand and one requirements of the business affairs of sixty millions of people, how shall that volume be increased during the three months to enable the farmer to market the bulk of his products? The fact that the bulk of his products? The fact that the bulk of the year's crops are sold in September, October and November must be plain. That it takes an unusual amount of currency to handle those crops is certainly. That the very movement of those crops causes an increased demand of currency and causes a fair of sixty millions of people, how shall had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" stringency enhancing the purchasing power of money at the very time when the average farmer is forced to sell-putting the producer's head in chaucery by depressing prices just at the time when he is at the mercy of the buyer-is not this plain to every thinking man?

This is the problem which reformers seek to solve. It is, so far as the farmer is concerned, the greatest problem of the age. It is the duty of the government to supply an adequate national currency for all the business wants of the county. A FAITH CURE CASE.

SPOKANE, March 13.-It is reported that sensational dispatches have been sent from here concerning the death of Mrs. Henry W. the savings department of the Washington National bank, Mrs. Fitch was a Christian scientist, a great increase of foreign trade under reciprocity, which is simply same. There is no reason why our free trade under restrictions that regovernment shall make a discrimination between gold and silver.

The primaries are called for the purpose of electing ten delegates from each of the precincts named to papers investigated this report, and it to be entirely without and the report gained circulation foundation. Mrs. Fitch had been ill for several days, but the day before her death was as sound as usual, and wrote several letters. Her death was entirely unexpected, and gave rise to the sensational report above mentioned. One of the most reputable physicians in the city attended Mrs. Fitch through her Illnesss. Owing to the fact that her grandmother once narrowly escaped being buried alive, on account of suspended animation, it was decided to defer the burial of Mrs. Fitch's remains until all doubt of her death should be reremoved. George Wisemann's saloon, on Fourth street yesterday. Phleger was seated at a table reading a newspaper when Palmer, who had been drinking heavily for some days entered the room. Seeing Phieger he pulled his pistol, and without warning, fired five shots into him. He snapped the pistol for the sixth shot, but the chambers had been emptied. Palmer has been denouncing Phelger because of matters growing out of the embezziement cases, brought by Senator Fair against Palmer in connection with the management of Yolo ranch. Palmer had threatened to kill his wife and other parties within the past few days. Palmer and Phleger were partners in the ranch at the time when Palmer bccame superintendent of Fair's Knight's Landing ranch. In many criminal and finally in a civil suit instituted by Fair against Palmer, whom he claimed had appropriated more than $50,000 of the ranch revenue, Phleger was a witness for the prosecution. Finally Judge Catlin, of Sacramento, in the superior court of Yolo, at Woodland gave a heavy judgment against Palmer in favor of Fair. A compromise was then agreed upon, Fair taking Palmer's interest in the ranch owned by him in conjunction with Phelger in satisfaction of the Catlin judgment. The criminal prosecutions then standing were dismissed here and in San Francisco, and it was supposed that the long controversy was settled, but it would seem Palmer never forgave Phleger,

Bun into by a Train.

THE DALLES, Or., March 18 .-Jack Woodson, a laborer, aged about 35 years, was run into Caturday morning by the west-bound pessenger train about two miles east of the Cascade Locks. He was picked up and taken to the Cascades and returned to The Dalles by the next passenger train. An examination by the company physicians here found him severely injured about the head and face, with possibly concussion of the brain. Strange to say, no other injuries were found on any other part of his body. He was sent to the St. Vincent's hospital in Portland.

Her Hand Sawed Off.

KELLOGO, Or., March 13 .- Mrs. Tom Nicholson received a painful injury Thursday afternoon by having her hand severed from the wrist by a saw. She had been sitting in the mill sewing where her husband was working, and started to the house. On passing by the saw the sewing which she had in her left arm was caught and her arm jerked on the saw. Her husband bound up the wound and ran to their
