ART OF EXPRESSION.

Professor Estella Ames of Willamette Delivers a Lecture to the Students.

Expression as an art the speaker said, was progressive. Elocution as a rule, was a revelation of sound and show rather than of feeling and expression.

Painting was the first christian art. Then came music and literature to paint the colors of the soul and bringing out the divine impulses of the age.

Physical art reached out after great physical development and perfection of physical beauty. Christian art seeks to reveal the warm throbbing of the heart and inmost impulses of the soul.

The first essential in expression is thought. The intellect is the balance wheel, next comes the heart—the emotional element was indispensable. Culture was next in importance.

We should study expression to be able to better talkers. No one can escape the talker. Expression gives a test of power. A special reason for the study of physical culture was to acquire power, adaptability and flexibility.

Miss Ames was introduced by Prest. Whitaker and listened to by a large concourse of students and a number of visitors.

No SUCKER.—I am no sucker Jones, because I patronize the shoe store that gives away a piano as it is music for me to save six dollars in six months on my shoes as I am now doing. I used to buy six pairs of cheap John shoes in six months at $1.50 a pair, making $9 in six months. I am now wearing a pair of $3 shoes I bought six months ago at 275 Commercial street, where they give away a piano, a saving of six dollars in six months. Now do you think I am a sucker, Osborn Jones? Of course we did not mention the racket in our conversation the other day but the shoe seemed to fit there and they wore it.

If you will examine the shoes and notice the prices at the New York Racket you will see why our competitors take so much interest in them.

FOR SALE.—Forty feet front on Commercial street. First-class business property. Enquire of Wm. E. Burke, one-half block south of Bush's bank—up stairs.

Have you seen the 2-cent fast black samples here, at the New York Racket. Buy a pair and try them.
