THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Will Have a Candidate in the Field.

PITTSBURG, April 29.—Senator Leland Stanford, of California, passed through Pittsburg yesterday on his way to Washington. "The people's or independent party, will certainly have a candidate in the field this fall," he said. "With a national debt of $2,000,000,000, an enormous railway indebtedness, half the land mortgaged, and the load growing heavier, it is time that measures of relief be taken. In the West, particularly, people need more money, or freer money. The people's party hope to get it. I do not know who their candidate will be. I presume Mr. Harrison and Mr. Cleveland will be the respective candidates of their parties. That is the general impression in the West." Regarding his university at Palo Alto, the senator said he was making accommodations for 500 more pupils.

From the Philadelphia Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—In all nine persons lost their lives in the theatre fire Wednesday night. Lorella, the actor, met death in a heroic attempt to save the life of his wife. He escaped safely from the theatre, supposing his wife preceded him; not finding her, he returned to the theatre, and without heeding the remonstrances of those about him, plunged into a dark, smoke-filled alley and did not reappear. No attempt at recovery of the bodies has yet been permitted, owing to the dangerous condition of the ruins.

Men are at work on the debris in front of The Times annex night and day, and the dangerous wall, eight stories high, overhanging the streets will be pulled down; the work of recovering bodies will be commenced. None have died, and all injured are reported doing well.

The Times' loss is considerably smaller than first reported. As the cellar had double arches they preserved the press from the weight of a hundred tons of debris, so the presses and other machinery, valued at $200,000, escaped with comparatively little damage. The building was valued at $149,234, and is a total wreck; the fixtures which cost $40,000 are also ruined. The building will be rebuilt at once. The Times carried $110,000 insurance.

Proprietor Gilmore of the Grand Central theatre, is overcome by the tragedy. He received a number of telegrams from theatrical managers offering sympathy. The Academy of Music has tendered a house for his benefit, and the "Devil's Auction" company has accepted gratefully for the company, but declined on its own behalf. The theatre will be rebuilt at once.

Hanged, But Now Alive.

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.—The Picayune's Harriston, Miss., special: Coleman Blackburn, colored, stands today without a rival for strength of neck. On the 20th instant he was hanged for murder, and now he is about, walking around the room and conversing with friends. After having hanged for thirty-six minutes and being pronounced dead by three local physicians, the supposed corpse was turned over to relatives and taken to Franklin, thirty miles distant. While en route to the family burying ground a noise was heard in the coffin, and when it was opened the supposed dead man was found to be breathing. Physicians were summoned, and the patient is pronounced now out of danger.

Charged With Embezzlement.

MILWAUKEE, April 29.—K. A. Linderfelt, librarian of the Milwaukee public library, was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzling $5000 from the city. He is accused of duplicating bills for books and other supplies. Linderfelt is president of the National Library association, and a highly educated man, being master of six languages. Ambition to live high and maintain a home beyond his means, is given as the cause of his downfall.

"Thick and Glossy."

THE PRODUCTION of an abundant growth of hair, of a silk-like texture and of the original color, often results from the use, by those who have become bald or gray, of Ayer's Hair Vigor:

"I was rapidly becoming gray and bald; but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—M. Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"A trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me of its merits. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be abundant and glossy, but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all that I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. M. A. Bailey, 9 Charles st., Haverhill, Mass.

THE TRAIN WRECK

On the Southern Pacific Railroad This Morning.

NO ONE KILLED.

The Fireman and a Tramp Badly Injured.

MYRTLE CREEK STATION, Or., April 29.—The north bound California express was wrecked a mile north of here this morning. The wreck was the work of train wreckers, two ties having been placed crosswise on the track, and the engine and mail and express car were ditched. Engineer Morris jumped and was cut and bruised about the head, otherwise he was uninjured. Fireman Geo. Colling was caught between the tender and cab, his leg was broken in two places and he was severely scalded. There were five tramps between the express and mail cars, one was caught and badly injured. The accident was fortunate from the fact that no one was killed.

The engine lies on the right side of the track, the tender is jammed into the cab, the mail car is partly on the engine, one side being entirely torn away. The postal clerk escaped unhurt by a miracle. He was in the back end of the car tying up the Roseburg mail. Express Messenger Applegate was standing before the desk when the crash came, he seized the rod over his head and swung himself off the floor. The freight was all thrown into the front of the car. The messenger says: "I would have been killed sure, if I had stayed on the floor."

There is a steep bank sloping to the river, the train fell toward the bank and if the train had gone over the embankment the loss of life would have been fearful. Wrecking trains are at hand and the wreck is being cleared away. The track is torn up badly for two hundred feet.

There is no clue to the perpetrators. Robbery is supposed to have been the object, but was given up for some reason unknown.

A LATE SEASON.

Sheep and Grain Men Suffering From the Weather.

HEPPNER, Or., April 29.—Never in the history of Eastern Oregon has there been known such a season as the present one. Hardly a day has passed since the 1st of March that there has not been rain or snow and the temperature has ranged lower than usual. Fall sown wheat, though looking fairly well, is necessarily set back by the unusually severe weather. Sheep men have suffered greatly, the cold snap commencing just at the time lambing began and the percentage of increase will doubtless be far lower than for many years past. In addition to the loss in lambs, scab seems to have broken out among the flocks to an unusual extent. Shearing has fairly commenced throughout this region, but progresses slowly owing to the bad weather. The town is full of sheepshearers, and some branches of business are accordingly lively. Among the shearers is one Moreland, of California, whom, it is claimed, holds the title of being the fastest shearer in the world. He has a record of 276 sheep in ten hours.

CURIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Man Shot Through the Wall of a Building.

THE DALLES, April 29.—Col. J. E. Remmington, a veteran of civil war aged 70, was accidentally shot this morning by his grandson, a boy of 17. The boy was trying to shoot a squirrel near the house when the pistol was accidentally discharged and the ball passed through the outer wall of the colonel's residence striking him in the right thigh. Beyond the effects of the shock and danger of blood poisoning no serious results are apprehended.

Distribution of Food.

CORPUS CHRISTIE, Tex., April 29.—The distribution of food sent from this section to the famine suffers on the Rio Grande in the Rio Grande City section began yesterday when rations were issued to 500 people, some of whom were actually starving. Unless further assistance is soon had many sufferers will die, the greatest distress is reported from the county back from the Rio Grande where there are many people who had hundreds of cattle before the drought but are now destitute, their stock having died.

Two Children Married.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 29.—The eloping children, Bertie Ellison, aged 13, and Jackson McFarland, aged 15, who fled across the Ohio in a desperate attempt to evade their pursuers, but who were chased and caught, yesterday forced their parents to surrender. Bertie's father kept her in close confinement for twenty-four hours, but when she was released she became so unmanageable that her parents consented to the marriage. Yesterday afternoon the two romantic and determined young people were made man and wife.

The Twentieth Victim.

DENISON, Tex., April 29.—W. T. Sharmon, the only witness in an important murder case here, was shot to death by an unknown assassin while in bed last night. The case in which he was a witness grew out of an old feud, and he is the twentieth victim. He received a number of warnings that his life was in danger.

WHITECAPS AT WORK.

A Minister Taught a Severe Lesson by Angry Citizens.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 29.—Twenty men surrounded the house of Rufus Jenkins, a deposed minister, near Dandridge, and ordered him to surrender. He answered their summons by firing into the crowd with a shotgun. The house was set on fire and Jenkins surrendered. His face was filled with small shot and his body mutilated by the gang. The woman with whom Jenkins is charged with living has disappeared. This morning W. A. Givens, a merchant and influential citizen living at Dandridge, found posted on his door a document notifying him to remain indoors after dark or he would be foully dealt with. The whitecaps are a portion of the Anti-Lust and Laziness organization, formed in Jefferson county sixty days ago. They are believed to be composed of farmers who have become tired of the way in which some residents conduct themselves.

In the House Today.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—In the house this morning, the speaker called attention to the fact at the time of adjournment yesterday the sergeant-at-arms was given warrants for the arrest of absentee members, and called on that official for a report. He said nineteen warrants were placed in his hands, seven he was unable to find, the other twelve promised to be here this morning. Delinquent members were then summoned to the bar of the house to present excuses. Bowers, California, appeared first, a motion to excuse Bowers was made but many believing the arrest of members for neglect of duty was not mere childs play, and demanded the yeas and nays. Bowers was excused 130 to 65. The remainder of the delinquents were then excused on more or less frivolous grounds.

A Rear Collison.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., April 29.—A freight train on the Louisville & Nashville crashed into the rear of a passenger train standing at Moore station last night, Fireman Wallace and a negro were killed, and Engineer Holtner badly injured. The passengers escaped with a shaking up.

Suicided Through Shame.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 29.—The body of Peter Rupp, a prominent young attorney who came near election as judge of the supreme court, was found in the river this morning. As the guardian of a minor child he was an embezzler and it is supposed he suicided through shame.

Two More Bodies Found.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 29.—A search among the ruins of the Central theatre this morning brought to light two more badly charred bodies. One of them was identified as that of Mrs. Flora Lorella.

New York Delegates.

ALBANY, April 29.—Messrs Hiscock, Platt, Depew, and Miller, "the big four," were selected as delegates at large to the Minneapolis convention.

$10,000 For Slander.

BOSTON, April 29.—Rev. W. W. Downs has recovered $10,000 in his famous suit for $50,000 for slander against several members of Bowdoin Square Baptist church.

Receiver Appointed.

INDIANS KICKING.

They Write a Threatening Letter to Washington.

SIOUX INDIANS OBJECT.

They Claim That Congress is Violating Its Treaty.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., April 29.—Several thousand dollars were sent to Crow Creek agency a day or two ago by the government for distribution among the Indians. Chief White Ghost and other leaders at the agency refused to receive the money, and White Ghost has now sent the following threatening letter to the commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington:

"The Indian agent at Crow Creek agency is making a cash payment of about $3 per capita. Myself, seven other chiefs and a majority of the Indians have hesitated to receive this money, and if we refuse to accept it we are threatened by the agent that we will be deprived of seeds for this season's planting. I can get no satisfaction from the agent as to where the money, now being distributed, comes from, nor do I know what rights we may be surrendering when we receipt for the money, so I write to you for information and ask you for an immediate reply to me in person, and not through the agent.

"When the Sioux Indians signed the recent treaty by which they ceded a large part of their reservation to the government, there was an unwritten contract, but in honor just as binding, to the effect that the Indians of Crow Creek agency were to receive about $187,000 in consideration of the fact that their diminished reservations left them less land per capita than Indians of other Sioux reservations. What has become of that money? And has the appropriation been made by congress?

"Again, we Sioux, when the treaty referred to above was signed, were promised, in addition to cattle, horses, etc., $50 per capita to assist us in building houses. That promise, too, seems to have been forgotten, and many of my people are living in decayed log houses and tepees, exposed to the inclemency of the weather. This is bringing on diseases and sickness.

"Why will the government be so unjust? Why will it not give what is due and promised us, instead of doling out small payments like that now being made? Does the government wish more bloodshed, and will it refuse us justice unless demanded at the muzzle of a gun? Is not the bloodshed at Wounded Knee a sufficient reminder of the wrongs practiced upon us, and the desperate attitude into which we have been driven?

"I beg you, Mr. Commissioner, to lay these facts before the nation's legislators and demand justice for us at their hands."

CORDAGE COMPETITION.

John Good Proposes to Fight the Trust For a Time.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The National cordage company, popularly known as the Cordage trust, has been paying John Good, the millionaire inventor and twine manufacturer, $200,000 to keep his mills shut down, and it has held an option for $7,000,000 on his plant, which included a new twine machine that is expected to revolutionize the trade. The trust announced officially some time ago that his option had been taken up, but it has leaked out that Mr. Good had notified the trust that he did not consider his contract as binding and that he would again open his mills and keep them open.

"As to the reason for terminating the contract," said Mr. Good, "a very large number of my customers are anxious for me to resume operations, and as I am in a position to make a profit at prices which would not pay the cost of production to the National cordage people, I can make as much money as they are paying me, if not more.

In a very short time I can perfect arrangements to turn out enough rope and twine to supply half the demand of the United States. In this connection I may say I am going to fight it out on that line for many summers."

One of the stockholders in the Cordage trust said Mr. Good's move was for the purpose of compelling the purchase of his works.

THE KEELEY CURE.

Boss Tweed's Son on a Spree—A Peculiar Case.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 29.—William Tweed, "Boss Tweed's" son, who has been undergoing treatment at the West Haven Keeley institute, got beastly drunk in this city. He loudly protested in a saloon that he didn't want to be cured and called repeatedly for drinks. Finally the proprietor gave positive orders that no more drinks be given him.

At the institute it was said that Tweed was treated there two weeks. His case was peculiar, and the physicians decided to withhold the remedies from him for a time, in order to note the effect. It was anticipated that he would drink again, and this occurrence confirms the opinion of the doctors concerning how the case must be treated. The doctors say that in a very short time Tweed will be permanently cured.

PECULIAR SHOOTING CASE.

Somnambulist Creates a Sensation in California.

SANTA ROSA, April 27.—Ed J. Livernash, the young man who created a sensation in San Francisco last October by appearing on the streets disguised as a negro woman, and who, the morning of October 29, created great excitement in Cloverdale by attempting to kill C. Etheridge, of that place, has been held to appear before the superior court for trial. Livernash's preliminary hearing was held before Justice Abraham, of Cloverdale, two weeks ago, but a decision was not rendered until this afternoon. The trial promises to be one of the most interesting ever known in California. Livernash claims to have been in a somnambulistic condition when he made his attempt to kill Etheridge, and that he knows nothing about the affair. The morning of the assault he went to Etheridge's house and ordered him to make a will in his favor, leaving him all his property. Etheridge demurred, and then Livernash fired four shots at him, two of which took effect, but only slight wounds were inflicted. Livernash was arrested, and told such wild stories about having put forty bullets into Judge Joachimsen, of San Francisco, who, he said, had assumed the person of Etheridge, that he was examined for insanity and committed to Napa asylum. A few weeks ago he was discharged from that institution and pronounced cured. He was then brought back here to answer to the criminal charge preferred against him. At the preliminary examination at Cloverdale Doctors Gardner and Robertson, of Napa, testified that Livernash was subject to a somnambulistic influence that made him capable of leading a dual life, and that when in his somnambulistic state he was not accountable for what he did. In their opinion he was in that condition when he made the attack on Etheridge. Opinion is divided upon the matter among the Sonoma county people, and the case will be stubbornly contested on both sides.

GOING TO KILL A GIRL

But Her Brother Was Too Quick and Shot Him.

STOCKTON, Cal., April 29.—Walter De Clark, a railroad man from Portland, Oregon, went to Tracy to kill Miss Tillie Ludwig, daughter of a hotel proprietor there, but instead was himself shot and dangerously wounded by the girl's brother, Henry Ludwig. De Clark had been engaged to marry Miss Ludwig, but the engagement was broken. He went from Sacramento to Tracy, and on the train attempted to shoot the baggage man, against whom he had a grudge. Arriving at Tracy, De Clark went to the hotel where Miss Ludwig was, and creeping to her room in his stocking feet attempted to enter at the door. He met young Ludwig and an officer who had been called, and De Clark making an attempt to draw his pistol Ludwig fired five shots at him, one taking effect in the side. A note addressed to Ludwig was found in De Clark's pocket. It states that Miss Ludwig's action in breaking off the engagement with him had made him desperate, and he had resolved to kill the girl. The wounded man said he was alone to blame, and did not want Ludwig prosecuted.

FROM DISTRICT FUNDS.

Appropriation For the G. A. R. Encampment.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—John Joy Edson, chairman of the citizen's committee of the twenty-sixth national encampment Grand Army of the Republic to be held here in September, has written a letter to Commander-in-chief Palmer, stating that the committee has asked congress to appropriate $100,000 from funds of the District Columbia to assist in paying the expense of the encampment, and that in consequence of an erroneous belief that the appropriation is asked from the general fund of the government, members of the G. A. R. have sent protests to congress against the appropriation. Edson says the misapprehension is embarrassing the committee, and asks that it may be rectified as far as possible.

Suicide at Port Angeles.

PORT ANGELES, Wash., April 29.—E. T. Thomas, signal service officer here, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head. He died half an hour later. His wife applied for a divorce a few days ago, and the case was to have been called yesterday morning. This and sickness from which he sought relief unbalanced his mind. The act was very deliberate. He took an observation at 9 o'clock, and prepared a report with great care. Insanity runs in the family.

DESPONDENT YOUNG FARMER.

Has Trouble With Sweetheart and Hangs Himself.

TEKOA, Wash., April 29.—Yesterday Otto Sevier, a young farmer, went to Albert Masterman's place for some feed. He drove his team to the barn and went inside. He remained some time, and the team finally started off. When Mrs. Masterman went to the barn to see why Sevier had not tried to stop the horses, she was horrified to find him hanging by the neck to a joist of the barn. She gave the alarm and when Sevier was cut down life was extinct. It is thought the cause of his suicide was the trouble he had with his sweetheart, a German girl to whom he recently sent money to come here, with the understanding that they would be married when she arrived. On her arrival she refused to marry him, and he has been very despondent ever since. He was an industrious young man and well liked in the community.
