WHAT THE MAYOR DOES NOT TELL.
Mayor D'Arcy, of Salem, has vetoed a bill for improving Chemeketa street because the city is already in debt $100,000, and he thinks there should be a stop—Albany Democrat.
The mayor's message was so full of misrepresentations that it has done the city a great harm, more than can be counteracted in many months perhaps.
It is just such items as the above, quoted by the public press against Salem, and going abroad without explanation, that does this city incalculable injury. It is not so much what the mayor tells, as what he does not tell, that does the injury abroad.
The mayor does not tell the outside world what the items are that constitute nearly the entire $100,000 of Salem's city debt.
He does not tell the public that $20,000 of it is bonds issued to help build a free bridge over the Willamette which was swept away by the biggest flood in twenty years.
He does not tell the world that another $20,000 of it was Salem's contribution to erect the present steel bridge and that the city has the use of the bridge and so long as it stands it is a good investment.
The mayor does not tell the public that another $20,000 is for sewers which the city had to build and has them today.
The mayor does not tell the public that for many years this city has anticipated one year's revenues and that accounts for the fact that warrants are issued nearly a year in advance of the tax that is collected to pay them off. That may be a bad practice but it is not a good argument to use to defeat much needed public improvements.
The mayor does not tell the public why a five per cent. tax is almost unavoidable in this city when under our peculiar assessment laws fully three fourths the value of all property escapes the assessor. Two per cent. on a just assessment would produce more revenue than five per cent. at present.

Executrix Notice of Final Settlement.
NOTICE is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that the undersigned executrix of the estate of Calvin Neal, deceased, has filed her final account of said estate in the County Court of the state of Or. for Marion county and that Saturday, June 5, 1892, at one (1) o'clock p. m. of said day, at the County Court room in the County Court house in said Marion county, has been fixed by the court as the time and place for the hearing of the same, and objections thereto.
Dated this 28th day of May, 1892.
ANN ELIZABETH NEAL,
Executrix of said Estate.

Sealed Bids
Will be received until noon of Saturday, April 23, 1892, for the purchase of the site story frame dwelling, situated on the east side of summer street, between Court and Chemeketa streets in this city. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. A liberal time will be given for the removal. For further particulars apply to
FRANK E. HODGKIN.

SUGGESTED COMMENT.
Has anyone seen the Democratic ticket for Marion county?
A new Cumberland Presbyterian church has been dedicated at Albany.
The Willamette valley has been ignored too long in river and harbor bills.
By the way, May, 1892, ought to be a good month to get a government building for Salem.
Our mayor is trying to imitate Grover Cleveland and Governor Penneyer on a small scale.
More than a majority of the property owners on Chemeketa street say they want the street improved.
It seems to be a go-as-you-please campaign in Oregon without any particular leadership on either side.
Ex-Senator Slater will thrive on the Oregonian's abuse and if it will only keep it up Ellis will be defeated.
If Salem can get two streets well improved, the people on any street city in the will want to get rid of the mud holes and malaria ponds.
New houses by the hundred are going up in all the suburbs. Hundreds of men and teams are working on street railway extensions and street improvements. Salem is the live city of the valley.

The platform is sound, and ought to receive the endorsement of the honest voters of Oregon, irrespective of party.—Dispatch, (Dem.)
But you do not believe they will. You do not in your heart believe that it will receive the endorsement which you say they ought to give it. You give the whole thing away.
The Salem JOURNAL is fighting Mayor D'Arcy in a red hot style, on account of his recent veto of an ordinance providing for the improvement of Chemeketa street.—Albany Democrat.

THE JOURNAL is fighting to have the people of this city get any street improvements at all, as has been promised them by the council, and as was pledged to them by the mayor in his first message, whose friends claimed that he was a progressive young man and argued that the man he ran against was a moss-back.

LITERARY NOTES.
An interesting and valuable article on "Wrestling," by Casper W. Whittey, is published in the current number of Harper's Weekly. The article, which is historical as well as descriptive, is accompanied by twenty-six illustrations, delineating not only the "Catch-as-Catch-can" style of wrestling—the only style in vogue among amateurs in this country—but the prevailing methods of wrestling practiced in England and on the European continent in both modern and ancient times.
As a companion to the famous Don't, Mrs. Oliver Bell Buncie, the widow of the lamented author, has written a dainty little volume entitled What to Do. This contains helpful and practical explanations of social usages and rules. It tells the reader how to entertain and how to be entertained, and it sets forth the etiquette of engagements and marriages, introductions and calls. This serviceable little book is published by D. Appleton & Co., in a style uniform with the Boudoir edition of Don't.

Notwithstanding all our boasting, and the truly remarkable progress which American schools have made within the past few years, it is evident that our systems of education are yet scarcely beyond the formative and experimental stage. And in no respect is this more apparent than in the current multifarious ideas concerning the education of girls. What are the conditions and possibilities of the ideal school for girls, and whether, all things considered, the private school is generally to be preferred to the public, are problems which are to be solved only after careful and judicious consideration. An unbiased discussion of this subject, valuable as well for its suggestions as for its conclusions, will appear in the May number of Harper's Magazine in an able and trenchant article on "The Private School for Girls," by that well-known writer on educational topics, Miss Anna C. Brackett.

The recent discussion over Jewish immigration to this country imparts a timely interest to Joseph Pennell's graphic volume entitled The Jew at Home. This brilliant artist has visited and studied the Jewish towns of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, and the results of his observations will be found both in his text and in a series of striking illustrations. Mr. Pennell's work in art is so well known that it is unnecessary to emphasize the value of these studies of a life with which Americans are being brought into close relations. There has been no presentation of the subject of equal force. The Jew at Home will be published immediately by D. Appleton & Co.

CONGRESSIONAL.
New Posts—Chinese Bill and Dolph, Etc.
IN CONGRESS.
The President is Very Severely Criticized.
WASHINGTON, May 2.—In the house, Saturday, Post, of Illinois, offered an amendment to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill restoring Denmark as a separate mission, and fixing the minister's salary at $7500.
Blount asked unanimous consent that debate on the amendment be considered closed.
Cummings, of New York, objected.

After a spirited debate Blount withdrew the motion, and Cummings was accorded the floor. He said he would vote for the amendment as a rebuke to the house for the parsimony which it exhibited. The committee on foreign affairs, he said, had done injustice not only to the people of Denmark, but to the American republics of South America. This parsimony virtually meant legislation favoring the rich and against the poor, for reducing the salary of ministers and consuls the salary of educated laboring or professional men. He appealed to the house to not place the government in a position where it would be regarded as the one national miser of the world. (Applause.)
Blount said he would not press opposition to the amendment, which was then adopted.

Blount offered an amendment reducing from $50,000 to $60,000 the appropriation for meeting unforeseen emergencies arising in diplomatic and consular service. Opposition to the amendment brought the Italian question to the floor through criticism on the payment of the Italian indemnity out of the emergency fund.
Breckinridge, of Kentucky, and McMillin criticized the president for committing the government to the doctrine that the United States is responsible for a riot in a state, and for paying the indemnity out of a fund not intended for the purpose.
Hitt defended the president.

J. P. Blaise, a real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during the recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaise had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm. Inside of an hour he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaise sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaise regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles sold by Geo. E. Good, druggist.

TO BE ESTABLISHED.
Two More Military Posts on the Frontier.
WASHINGTON, May 2.—The senate committee on military affairs has acted favorably upon the proposition to establish two additional military posts on the northern frontier. Sites for the posts will be left to be determined by the secretary of war, but one of them will probably be opposite Rouse's Point on Lake Champlain. The other post, it is expected, will be put somewhere on Puget sound. Both posts are likely to be established upon land offered for a post to the government. It is not the intention of those who have most strongly favored the project that extensive fortresses shall be built, but merely that the posts shall be at available points where troops can be quickly distributed to various points along the frontier at short notice. It is the opinion of General Schofield and many military experts that if England should ever declare war upon United States the immediate points of attack would be along the Canadian frontier in New York, Vermont and New Hampshire. With an additional post at Rouse's Point on the northern frontier, the most thickly populated part of the county would be more effectively guarded. The proposition has received the unanimous approval of the senate committee and will be introduced as a proposed amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The Chinese Bill.
WASHINGTON, May 2.—The conference committee on the Chinese bill met again Saturday, with all the members present. It was agreed to deny bail to Chinese in habeas corpus proceedings. Chinamen convicted of being unlawfully within the United States may upon conviction be imprisoned for one year and afterwards deported to China.
