J. P. Blaize, a real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during the recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm. Inside of an hour he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store an got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles sold by Geo. E. Good, druggist.

A NATIONAL CURRENCY.

National Economist: We demand a national currency! Currency is the money or circulating medium used as money of the entire nation, both paper and coin, or in any other form. Why demand that the currency be restricted to a national currency? Because national money alone can be made a legal tender, and the legal tender quality of money is the best guarantee of stability in its function as a medium of exchange. Second—Because if corporations or associations either state or individual be allowed to issue the currency of the nation, they are thereby given special advantages in the use of their credit, which is the very worst form of class legislation, and they are placed in a position whereby they can by acting in concert increase or diminish the volume of circulating medium at will, raising or depressing the price of all commodities accordingly, and as a result ruining all productive enterprises. Third—All forms of currency not legal tender are simply forms of credit, or subjects of barter; and since a legal tender money can only be issued by the supreme power, its issue is strictly a function of government. Again, since the legal tender money is the only true money, its issue is a monopoly per se, because it necessarily carries with it the power to levy tribute to the highest point compatible with life itself. And this is a function of government which cannot be delegated to any individuals or association of individuals without making all the remainder of the population slaves. Fourth—To go back to local issues of currency would be to take a step backward forty years in material progress and adopt a system that had been thoroughly tried and found wanting. The uncertainty and losses from wild-cat money are too well remembered by business men to be again tolerated in this age of progress.

A PLUTOCRAT'S TOOL

It is reported that Whitelaw Reid has come from France to assume command of the Republican forces of New York in the interest of President Harrison. Tom Platt will be ousted from the leadership, as he has proven his inability to unite the Republican factions of that state. Mr. Reid will make smooth the path of President Harrison to a renomination, and as a reward for his services the administration will so shape the destinies of the party that Mr. Reid himself will secure the nomination four years hence. It is a nice little program they have mapped out, says an exchange.

What is Whitelaw Reid? One of the four hundred. A man who has prostituted the New York Tribune and his own brilliant services to the uses of the Vanderbilts, Jay Gould and the Wall street millionaires generally. No such man can ever be president unless the country wants a revolution.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE OREGON SENATE.

Under the constitutional provisions of the state but one-half of the whole number of the thirty members of the senate are chosen at one time, but this year, owing to the death of Senator Eastham, of Clackamas county, there will be sixteen new members to elect for a term of four years. Those elected two years ago are now holding over are as follows:

Henry Blackman, Dem., of Grant, Morrow and Harney counties.

Tod Cameron, Rep., of Jackson county.

F. M. Cross, Rep., of Clackamas county.

O. M. Dodson, Rep., of Baker county.

C. W. Fulton, Rep., of Clatsop county.

Gates, Rep., of Polk county.

Ed Hirsch and J. B. Looney, Rep., of Marion county.

Jeff Myers and J. K. Weatherford, Dem., of Linn county.

W. F. Matlock, Dem., of Umatilla county.

Willis, Rep., of Multnomah county.

R. M. Veatch, Dem., of Lane county.

There are nine Republicans and five Democrats.

Multnomah will choose four senators this year and the Republicans anticipate electing them despite all opposition, relying upon party fealty and the importance of securing a victory during a presidental campaign year. The opposing political forces are equally confident of defeating the Republican nominees at the present time.

There are strong men nominated on both tickets for the sixteen vacant seats in the senate, and it is going to be a hard fight, but the chances are in favor of the Republicans. In 1887 the senate stood 9 Democrats and 21 Republicans; in 1889, 7 Democrats and 23 Republicans. The next session is most likely to be 10 Democrats and 20 Republicans.—Astoria Town Talk.

SUGGESTED COMMENT.

A. W. Dunbar has retired from the Astoria Town Talk.

Salem wants neither to boom nor to languish. Salem should go ahead in the Salem way.

More work on the rock-pile and less board at $1.00 at the expense of the city.

The Parr boys of the John Day country are where all desperadoes should be—behind the bars.

The finest thing in nobby spring suits nowadays are the Salem young ladies. When it comes to being "nobby" the young men are not in it.

General Weaver is engaged for sixteen speeches in this state. He will speak once in each of sixteen counties. Mrs. Lease, the woman orator of Kansas who took J. J. Ingalls' scalp, is now in Washington, but will be here with General Weaver.—The Dalles Chronicle.

Marion county has four full tickets in the field—Democratic, Republican, Peoples party and Prohibition. And with all these tickets in the field, the Portland Dispatch says there were still some patriots left unprovided for by a nomination. Every man desiring a nomination should be accommodated, whether he knows anything, can be of any use to the people, or can be elected or not.

The republican county convention of Wallowa county has nominated Polk Mays for representative of that county. In the event of his election Eastern Oregon can count one solid vote for the dalles portage.

RINGING SPEECH.

The Republican Standpoint on Tariff and Silver.

HAWLEY SPEAKS OUT.

The Connecticut Republicans Make a Stand.

HATFORD, Conn., May 5.—The Republican convention reassembled yesterday. The committee on permanent organization reported a list of officers, headed by Senator Hawley as permanent chairman. They were elected.

General Hawley then addressed the convention. He began by predicting a hot campaign, and reviewed the party's history by referring to its achievements. He said: "In none of these things have we had the cordial co-operation of the Democratic party. In almost every one we had its vigorous opposition." Referring to the possible candidates at Minneapolis, the speaker said: "I am not here to say who should be the nominee of our party for president. I know a warm place in the hearts of many of you is always occupied by James G. Blaine; I know well that all Republicans are saddened by the announcement that he has withdrawn from the candidacy. As he has the genius to be loved, let him have the justice to be honored. Benjamin Harrison has proved himself one of the ablest statesmen in the line of presidents. He has conducted the treasury when the secretary was disabled; he become secretary of state when Blaine was compelled to close the portfolio. He is a well-qualified substitute for any member of his cabinet." General Hawley then paid a tribute to the wisdom of Harrison's appointments from the cabinet down, and the felicity of his speeches in his journey through the country. The speaker took up the tariff question, and said: "We are not deceived by the cry concerning free raw material. Iron ore at $3 a ton is 90 per cent labor. It is one man's finished product—as truly so as the exquisite hairspring of a watch is another man's. The wool of sheep is labor—a perfected product of the farmer. If there be any Eastern manufacturers who think the enormous wool interest of the country will consent to be left without any degree of protection, while upon finished woolen goods heavy duties are levied, let him undeceive himself after election. Tariff cannot create a monopoly in anything which 65,000,000 people are free to produce." Referring to money, these were the general's words: "In our humble judgment, not only as Republicans, but as coin men generally, those men do err, not only against economic experience but against morality, when they demand of a nation that it shall pay the holder of 70 cents' worth of silver ingots of old spoons coin that he may push upon the employes or other creditor for a dollar. The government has paid him his extra 30 cents or 43 per cent. profit, and it then holds itself bound to make good the aforesaid 30 cents to whoever carries the dollar. Our silver bill of 1890 does enough when it put out a silver dollar for every marketable dollar's worth of silver to the extent of 54,000,000 ounces a year, and when it pledges itself to make every dollar, of whatever kind, as good as any dollar of any kind, it is believed by the world that saw us make good our paper dollars issued in the agony of the war. We may not be true prophets in saying unlimited coinage would bring upon us a non-metallic silver currency, a premium on gold, derangement of our international commerce and disaster to our financial institutions, falling most heavily, of course, on the poorer people. We see no necessity for making an experiment so dangerous, in the face of the belief of the wisest financiers and wisest men of other lands. If all civilized nations will join us in a general attempt to readjust the relations between the two metals, we can carry our end of the bargain." The general closed with a strong appeal for coast defenses and a new navy.

PUPILS REVOLT.

Because Their Favorite Teacher Is Removed.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—Because Principal Caskey, of the Vaughan grammar school, was removed and Mr. Ballentyne put in his place, 500 pupils revolted yesterday and refused to go into the school. They gathered in front of the building
