STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Chemeketa Work Progressing—What Will be Done With Commercial Street.

Contractor Mason put on another crew tearing up Chemeketa street this morning. He has but sixty days to do the work in and expects to have every competent laborer in the city who can be employed to good advantage at work. The inclination to enjoin has not materialized, tho' that may still be done. The city officials are spoiling for a fight in the courts and have made all their preparations for the mill if it has to be fought. It is understood that if this work is delayed by an injunction until the intersection ordinance is passed, that the council will order the intersections assessed up to the property and this will be over $75 additional tax on each lot. As it now is the city pays this. Alderman Collins and other progressive members of the city council propose to push the improvement of Commercial street. The plan is to grade the street so that no water can stand upon it and cover it with a foot of broken rock rolled down and tamped until the surface is smooth and even. This will cost about $4.00 a foot frontage and the council will promote the matter at its next session.

ARRESTED FOR ARSON.

Sheriff Croisan Captures a Man at Portland Who Is Bound Over.

Sheriff Croisan, of Marion county, returned Friday night with a man whom he arrested at hotel Rheinpfalz, and has good evidence that he is the person who burned F. Levy's two barns a few weeks ago. His name is W. C. Gradwis, age 25.

The barns are on a ranch located a few miles up the river from Salem and this party lived alone about a mile from the barns and there is some belief that he burned the barns through spite.

Wednesday morning he broke into the house of F. G. Scholl, in the same vicinity, and stole a couple of guns. After this he procured a small boat and went to Portland, where he was arrested disposing of one of the guns. He says he broke into Mr. Scholl's house. He did it, he said, not because he wanted the firearms, but through spite.

He was examined before Justice Applegate for larceny from a dwelling, plead guilty, and was bound over to the grand jury. He will probably be indicted by that body for arson also.

INJUNCTION PROSPECTS GOOD.

Papers Being Prepared to Stop all Proceedings on Chemeketa Street.

Interested parties were busy all the morning preparing to procure an injunction on the Chemeketa street work.

The movement has strong backers. Two of the most prominent attorneys were to be employed, and will handle it alone. Mr. Richardson will represent the city.

A bond of $20,000 will have to be given. Some of the people owning frontage on the street assessed for the improvement will be made plaintiffs and Contractor Mason and the city of Salem will be defendants.

The bond will have to be drawn to indemnify the city against all loss from stoppage of work or delay. The temporary injunction can be granted by Judge Boise, of the circuit court or Judge Davidson, of the county court. But Judge Boise being an interested party cannot hear the case. He will probably invite one of the Portland judges or Judge Pipes of Lane county to sit on the trial. The papers probably cannot be got ready until Monday.

Wm. Brown & Co. are head quarters for first-class shoes of every grade and description.

COMMISSIONERS COURT.

A Motor Line Franchise Granted For South Salem.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

D. W. Smith, John Newsome and Albert McCorkle appointed viewers to assess damages in Isaac Stevens road. They are to meet May 27th, James Bateson having claimed damage in the sum of $500.

Boundary of road district No. 58 changed to include intersection of Salem and Brooks road. Same omitted from district No. 40.

In road district No. 73 $45 was added to apportionment.

A STREET CAR LINE.

The court has allowed the petition of property owners of Nob Hill, Nob Hill annex, and Yew Park annex, G. W. Davis, J. H. Albert, Gray Bros., W. E. Burke, and J. Morlock, to grant themselves, associates and assigns the right to construct, maintain and operate a street railway, for the period of thirty years upon the following streets: beginning at the west end of Hoyt street, thence along Hoyt to Hazel thence along Hazel to Electric avenue, thence east to Berry, north along Berry and 11th to Cross, east to 13th; to be operated by electric house power and located subject to the approval of the supervisor of roads. Provided work shall begin on said proposed road within six months of date—March 8, 1902.

Right of way granted provides that the line be constructed in the middle of the street, the poles to be on the side of the street and the line to be planked at street crossings. The right of way is to terminate at the center of Cross street and along Cross to 13th—the city boundary line.

FACTS OF INTEREST.

It will be remembered that J. H. Albert has an interest in the Yew Park horse car line. The electric company have made all arrangements to run to the S. P. Co's depot. The plan of the owners of the present franchise is to give material aid to the first company that will make a connection so as to run around through the above additions and connect with the city. That will make a fine belt line through what will one day be the finest residence part of the city.

WHERE MEN DARE NOT INTRUDE.

One Part of South American Dealers Reserved Solely for Women.
The great opera house, Teatro Solis, the pride of Montevideo, is an enormous building, with a pillared portico in front and a pair of huge oval wings, the whole covering an entire square. One of the wings serves as a splendid wine and billiard saloon, the other contains the National museum. On the second floor of the main building is a foyer of truly "magnificent distances," furnished with tables and chairs for those who wish to smoke and drink.

The oval shaped auditorium is very handsome, capable of seating 4,000 people, with five tiers of boxes decorated in red, white, green and gold. The fourth circle is the canela (gallery), reserved for ladies alone, after the peculiar fashion of all Spanish-American countries, as well as old Spain. Not even an archbishop or a dictator could gain admission to the sacred precincts of the canela, and neither after night it is filled with the beauties of Montevideo, escorted thither by their husbands, fathers and brothers, who leave them at the door and go away to spend the evening as they like elsewhere or take seats in the gentlemen's gallery above, but being dead sure to return before the close of the performance to see their ladies safely home.

Though men may not enter the charmed circle, no jealous rules can be vigorous enough to control the southern propensity to flirtation, which, like murder, "will out," the more surely because of the mistaken notions of seclusion, handed down from their Moorish ancestors, that environ aristocratic females. It is said that most of the matches of Montevideo are made, not in heaven, as the old saw goes, but in this gallery, though the ladies have no chance to extend their flirtations beyond the point of meeting eyes and telegraphic communications with fans and flowers and handkerchiefs—a language natural to youth the world over, as birds know how to build their nests without instruction.

Though a gentleman dare not speak to the fair enslaver whom he has been staring out of countenance night after night at the opera, he can follow at a respectful distance when the author of her being hurries her home, discover where she resides and thenceforth prance before her windows and become her shadow when she goes to church or promenades in the plaza. The mischievous god "laughs at locksmiths" in Uruguay as elsewhere, and though a lover may not call upon the object of his devotion, they manage it somehow—possibly with the more eagerness and success because no opportunity is afforded for acquaintance before marriage.—Montevideo Cor. Pittsburg Dispatch.

Not So Bad After All.
During a discussion between a traveled English lady and an American gentleman on the respective merits of railway travel in England and America the gentleman spoke of the danger of traveling on the other side, being liable at any time to be shut up alone in a carriage with some objectionable person.

"And even for men it is not an altogether agreeable idea," said the American; "there have been, as you know, terrible occurrences in those railway carriages. How would you feel yourself if you were shut up with a lunatic?"

"My dear sir," answered the Englishwoman sharply, "I really think it would be no worse than being shut up with fifty lunatics, as you are here!"

"Thank you," said the gentleman rather stiffly.

"Not at all," rejoined the Englishwoman in her most aggressive manner.—New York Tribune.

Sardon's Method of Composition.
Sardon receives callers before luncheon, and is invisible from 1 o'clock to dinner time, being absorbed in writing. He writes a very minute hand, corrects, changes and alters his work continually, and is far from being satisfied with what he has done, even when it finally leaves his hand. He is an incomparable stage director for his own plays, and often makes on the margin of his manuscripts rough sketches of the scenery and of the attitudes of the personages that he considers necessary for certain important situations.—Paris Cor. Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Big Reward for a Lost Diamond.
The most beautiful diamond by far that I have ever seen was the one found at Kimberley by a little American named Porter Rhodes. I paid twenty-five dollars just to look at it. The sight was a liberal education for a diamond expert. He afterward sold it to the Countess of Dudley for $200,000. It was lost once before it left Africa, and Rhodes presented the Zulu who returned it with a reward of $75,000.—Interview in Chicago Tribune.

"Yes," said the patient, "I'll need lots of it to meet your bill."—New York Truth.

Head-Aches

Sick-headaches are the outward indications of derangements of the stomach and bowels. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the only level regulating preparation of Sarsaparilla, it is seen why it is the only appropriate Sarsaparilla in sick-headaches. It is not only appropriate; it is an absolute cure. After a course of it an occasional dose at intervals will forever after prevent return.

Jan. M. Cox, of 725 Park Street, San Francisco, writes: "I have been troubled with attacks of sick-headaches for the last three years from one to three times a week. Some time ago I bought two bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and have only had one attack since that was on the second day after I began using it."
