intention of joining, and it is presumed that when the two courses met an explosion occurred. Persons who were at opening of the slope pronounced the concussion as terrible, it being sufficient to at least throw a coal car some distance from a point where it was standing near the entrance. Great volumes of afterdamp and smoke rolled from the entrance, making the approach dangerous. As soon as it was possible to enter, work was begun, but progress was impeded by smoke and damp, which the tunnel continued to emit. At 4:30 o'clock the first bodies were reached, being those of John Bone and John Campbell. After this the work progressed more rapidly, and at 6 o'clock two other bodies were brought out, and at 7:30 two others, all terribly bruised and mutilated. The names of the rescued bodies are, Tom Brennan, Tom Rees, A. Pollard, John Bowen, H. Campbell, and Wm. Hogue. As progress was made the frightful execution of the explosion became more manifest. Timbers were torn out for hundreds of feet, and the whole interior fearfully wrecked. It is thought the fire was started in the lower level, and arrangements are being made to turn on water as soon as the fact is developed. Air fans are working to their full capacity, and every effort is being made to recover the bodies of the imprisoned men. All miners in camp able to work are working in shifts.

The recovered bodies are terribly bruised, and burned, indicating that death was instantaneous. The lower floor of the city hall has been converted into a morgue. The rescued bodies are being viewed by crowds. A sad feature of the disaster is that a large proportion of the victims leave large families, and as they had not to exceed two days' work per week during the past year, many of them are in straitened circumstances. The scenes about the mouth of the slope are sad in the extreme. Men, women, and children are standing about in a dazed condition, and the piteous lamentations of negroes add to the horror.

The work of recovering the bodies is very slow and dangerous, owing to the large body of gas, and it is probable no more bodies will be brought out for four or five hours. It is believed every man in the mine is dead and the total will reach forty-eight.

WAR IN THE FORT.

Soldiers and Prisoners In Serious Dispute.

CHEYENNE, May 11.—Early last evening one of the Texans confined at Fort Russel was, with the cattlemen, engaged in drinking at the canteen with a sentry. A dispute arose between them, which angered the Texan, so he threw a beer bottle at the soldier. The bottle struck the sentinel on the nose, felling him to the floor, where he bled like a pig. Instantly another soldier standing by grabbed up a gun and charged upon the Texan. Somebody grabbed the soldier, which probably saved the Texans life, for he would have been pinioned to the wall. As it was, the bayonet tore through the Texan's side, ploughing through the flesh covering the ribs and making a painful wound. The Texans rapidly hurried to the bowling alley, which contained their friends, while the soldier was removed to the hospital. The affair created a great commotion among the soldiers, who gathered about the bowling alley yelling for powder, and threatening to shoot the whole outfit. Major Egbert appeared and had some trouble in quelling the men, but finally succeeded in doing so. He promised to fully investigate the matter. The soldier was able to leave the hospital late at night, but his face is a mass of mutilated flesh.

Dyspepsia

Makes many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a taint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently yet efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and, by thus overcoming the local symptoms, cures the Sick Headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

Heartburn

Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, painting, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. FAUR, Watertown, Mass.

THE MINE EXPLOSION.

Heart Rending Scenes—The Work of Rescue.

ROSLYN, Wn., May 11.—Morning dawned upon the weary and grief stricken watchers who kept all night vigil at the scene of yesterday's explosion. At midnight, much to the regret of the rescuers, they were compelled to cease labor, owing to the excessive accumulation of fire damp. Early this morning the work of rescue was resumed. There are seven drifts in the slope, and the fourteen bodies thus far recovered were found between the first and fifth, the sixth and seventh has not yet been reached. The rescuing party are building braces which has caused several hours delay. It is expected a large number of bodies will be found when the last two drifts are reached, as most of the men were at work there at the time of the explosion. The work of rescue proceeds slowly, men are carefully using canvass and lumber to head the fresh air to the front, where it is being pumped into the mine.

The scene at the morgue is one to touch the hardest heart. The sight of two little children walking hand in hand, looking for "papa," the weeping of women seeking husbands, fathers and brothers among the charred and mutilated remains is a most affecting one.

The mayor has issued an appeal to outside towns and cities for assistance, in behalf of the dead miners' families, many of whom are left in straitened circumstances.

General Manager Kangley, of the Northern Pacific coal company, has announced that the company will relieve all immediate wants of the distressed.

ROSLYN, May 11.—General Manager Kangley, of the coal company, arrived from Tacoma this morning, with a corps of undertakers, and a carload of coffins. Coroner's jury will not hold an inquest until all the bodies are recovered. It is certain that all have perished. Possible forty-eight hours may elapse before the lowest level is reached.

IOWA DEMOCRATS.

The Largest Convention in the History of the State.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, May 11.—The largest Democratic convention in the history of the state, assembled here today. Over eight hundred delegates are present. The convention is distinctly a Boies assemblage. Every mention of the name of the governor is a signal for tumultuous cheers. The convention was called to order by Chairman Chas. D. Fulton, of the state central committee. Hon. John C. Bills was made temporary chairman, and made a speech strongly arraigning the Republican party, of which he was a member until a few years ago, when he went over to the Democrats, on tariff reform and the prohibition question. J. E. Markley, Mason City, was made permanent chairman.

Just as Good in America.

NEW YORK, May 11,— James Wright, of the Inman line, said in speaking of the passage by the senate of the bill allowing the City of New York and the City of Paris to fly the American flag: "We believe we can build as good ships in this country as cheaply as is England. The great success of the American shipyards building the vessels of the new navy makes us believe equal success will follow in building large merchant vessels. The change of nationality in the City of New York and the City of Paris will, of course, take them out of the British auxiliary navy."

Collector Earhart Dead.

PORTLAND, May 11.—Collector of Customs R. P. Earhart died of Bright's disease at his home at 365 Twelfth street at 12:45 this morning. He had been ill for some time and his death was not unexpected.

PORTLAND, May 11.—It is not definitely decided when the funeral of R. P. Ecarhart will be held. Probably it will be on Friday next. The ceremonies will be conducted by the Masons.

Cattle Restrictions Removed.

MONTREAL, May 11.—A cablegram has been received announcing that all restrictions on cattle have been removed in Great Britain and Scotland. Canadian cattle can now move freely through those countries. There are 2500 head on the way to the English markets.

Forty Houses Destroyed.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 11.—Fire in the suburban town of Fairville has destroyed forty houses. Fifty-three families are homeless. Many of them are poor and will require assistance. The aggregate loss is $75,000.

The Twelfth Victim.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—Harry McCloskey, the twelfth victim of the Central theater fire, died at the hospital yesterday. Two others of the injured are still in a precarious condition.

New Hampshire Democrats.

CONCORD, May 11.—The Democratic state convention to choose delegates to the national convention met here today. Oliver E. Branch was chosen chairman. Ureh, of Portsmouth, created a sensation by saying: "I charge Grover Cleveland and his administration with disloyalty and unfaithfulness to the rank and file of the Democratic party." The speaker was interrupted by a storm of hisses and cries of "put him out!" The chairman ruled Urch out of order, and the convention proceeded to the election of delegates to the national convention. After the platform had been read, Urich created another breeze by offering an amendment to strike out the name "Cleveland" and substitute that of Hill. Amid much confusion his amendment was ruled out of order.

Not There for His Health.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 11, 1892.—It transpires Jay Gould's protracted visit was not solely for health The annual meeting of the Pecos Valley railroad stockholders was held here, and it is currently reported the road has passed into Gould's control.

This road is in operation from Pecos, Texas, to Eddy, N. M., heading for Albuquerque, where it will meet the road to Durango and thus make a thorough line from Galveston to Seattle. The possession of this road will give Gould the control of all the trade of southeastern New Mexico.

Vessel Lost.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 11.—News has been received from Astoria that that the Victoria schooner "Lottie" was found there bottom up. All hands lost. She was the smallest vessel in the trade.

THE RUSTLERS.

A Strong Woman.—A Brutal Murder, Etc.

MORE TROUBLE EXPECTED.

The Stockmen and Rustlers at It Again.

DOUGLAS, Wyo., May 11.—Interesting news may be expected from Northern Wyoming within a day or two. Rustler round-ups began in Johnson and Sheridan counties last Friday, which is earlier than allowed by law. The object of this is to enable the Rustlers to cover the entire range in advance of the regular round-ups and brand everything with hoofs and horns, so when the cattlemen come to gather and brand the increase, no increase will be found. The stockmen applied to the United States court last week which issued a temporary injunction restraining some forty or more defendants from instituting illegal round-ups. United States Marshal Rankin started for Buffalo accompanied by Jeff Carr, and both should reach Gillette today. When they arrive they will find the round ups well under way, and in an attempt to serve papers there will likely be trouble. The Rustlers will hardly submit to so small a force, and the marshal will probably be compelled to organize a posse or summon troops to enforce the orders of the court. The situation is critical.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

The Murderer Offered to Sell the Body to Medical Students.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 11.—A horrible murder was brought to light yesterday when the body of Lydia Ann Wyatt, colored, was found lying at home, in this city with her head crushed in, and signs of a terrible struggle in the room. James R. Moulton, colored, with whom she has been living, was arrested The police received information this afternoon that leaves scarcely a doubt that Moulton was the murderer, the motive being to gain possession of a small sum of money she recently received from the sale of some property. Last week he wrote to a medical student in Philadelphia, with whom he was acequainted, offering to sell him, for dissecting purposes, the body of a negro woman 73 years old. The student turned the letter over to the authorities at Philadelphia, who sent it here. Last week two officers, representing themselves as medical students, called upon Moulton and he made the same proposition to them, since which time the authorities seem to have done nothing. The woman had determined to enter the home for aged colored people, and it is supposed that Moulton feared she would leave his house before he got her money. He had $325 in his pocket when arrested.

OPIUM'S SAD EFFECT.

A Young Man Dies from the Drug

St Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the Dispensary at an early hour yesterday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and administered the usual restorative, but his patient did not rally. Grubb was a bright young man, who graduated at a law school and afterwards married. He had no estate and no practice, so he obtained a newspaper position to earn a living for his family. Generally he was steady, but he went on a lark Sunday night with a dissipated fellow who had led him into an opium den. About 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning the telephone in his newspaper office announced that Grubb had died at the Dispensary. Ten minutes later Mrs. Grubb called up the office and her message was: "When Mr. Grubb comes in send him home; our baby died today." Grubbs friends delayed as long as possible the mournful task of informing the widow that not only her babe, but her husband was dead. The news was broken to her yesterday afternoon, and last night she was almost frantic. Grubb was not an opium fiend. Sunday night was his first experience with the "pipe" but the drug caused heart failure.

Can Knock a Steer Down.

COVINGTON, Ky., May 11.—The United States court convened here yesterday, and 100 moonshiners—men, women and children—were up for trial. It was a strange-looking crowd. Most of the men, and all of the women, were barefooted. The women chew and smoke tobacco, and one of them, Jane Melton, is the most notorious moonshiner in the state. Her distillery is on Polecat creek, Leslie county. She can outshoot Borgardus, has whipped every man she ever attacked, can knock a yearling steer down with one blow of her fist, and for years has defied the United States revenue officers

Russian Wheat.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 11.—Reports received by the government regarding the condition of winter wheat, shows the crop is in a favorable condition in the Polish Baltic, the northwestern and southwestern provinces, central Russia, Crimea and the Caucausus. In Kherson the crop in an unsatisfactory condition. In the northern and eastern provinces the grain has not yet sprouted.

CHINESE AND EXCLUSION.

Troubled Because They Think It Shows Contempt.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—John Russell Young, formerly, United States minister to China, has arrived on a visit to the Chinese minister, with whom he had a long interview. After the interview Mr. Young said the Chinese were troubled over the new law, not so much because it interfered with immigration, which was in English and not Chinese interests, but because the manner of its passage showed contempt for the Chinese. It was curious to see how much feeling was with the Chinese upon what might be called a question of form rather than of fact. It had grown upon the Chinese mind that the attitude of the Americans was that of antipathy. "You can perceive the misfortune of this," said Mr. Young, "when you understand that the Chinese are the proudest and most sensitive people in the world." In answer to a question as to whether the Chinese would suspend diplomatic relations, Mr. Young said this depended upon the prime minister. He was a dominant, haughty statesman, and had showed a degree of arrogance in refusing to receive Blair which might prepare us for any policy, however extreme. Mr. Young added:

"The Chinese minister in Washington is a conservative and an amiable statesman, who understands the affairs in the United States, and especially the embarrassments of the president in a nominating year, and he knows likewise that Mr. Harrison represents the kindliest of American sentiment toward China."

Mr. Young did not believe China would do anything to annoy the president. Moreover, the minister felt that great consideration was due to those Americans who had been strenuous friends of China. It would be an abandonment of them, in a moral sense, to eliminate Chinese influence from American affairs. Therefore, unless the Peking authorities were out of temper, and beyond reasoning with from Washington, the answer of China would be: "Silence and patience." China has, Mr. Young claims, always shown these virtues.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Four Hundred Delegates at Washington.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Nearly four hundred delegates to the federation of women's clubs, which is about to hold a biennial session here, are in the city. Their headquarters are at the Palmer house, and a number of meetings were held yesterday. Today the convention will hold its session in Central Music hall, and will be called to order by Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Brown, first president of the federation. Many well known women will attend. The object of the federation is to discuss and compare methods of conducting women's clubs throughout the world in order to mutually benefit each other.

Great Relief

IS instantly afforded sufferers from Bronchitis, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Either as an anodyne, to allay inflammation, or an expectorant, to loosen and bring away the mucus, this preparation has no equal.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which, by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thomas B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville Dist. M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

"My mother was sick three years and very low with bronchitis. We feared nothing would cure her. One of my friends told me about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. She tried it, has used eight bottles, and is now well."—T. H. D. Chamberlain, Baltimore, Md.

A Decisive Blow for Freedom

From the tyrannical yoke of those despotic allies, dyspepsia, constipation and liver complaint, is struck when the quondom victim of their galling supremacy has taken a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Then they vamose defeated, and health resumes its welcome way. Such is the invariable experience of those who use the ruling alterative to get rid of those associate evils. Anti-dyspeptics, cholagogues, drastic cathartics are as the sands of the sea, numberless and—useless. The happy blending of remedial properties, derived from nature's botanic storehouse, with a pure, modified spirituous basis existent in the Bitters, not only initiate but effect the joint cure of chronic indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and perversion of the bile. The surest of the defense against malaria is this agreeable fortifier and preservative of health under unfavorable atmospheric conditions. It counteracts a tendency to rheumatism, rouses the kidneys and endows a deliberated, nervous invalid with vigor. Incomparable as a tonic.

A LUMBERMAN'S RENDEZVOUS.

This term might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central lines, at the gateway to the vast forest region which extends North to Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles without a break, on account of its vast lumber interests. The Wisconsin River to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat affectionate title of "Old Wisconsin," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through its numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in the uppur country, but it furnishes a water power that is second only to that of Neenah and Menasha, which cities are also located on the "Central." Millions of feet of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, it has numerous other manufactories; it is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central Lines are located.
