J. P. Blaise, a real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during the recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review.

Mr. Blaise had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm. Inside of an hour he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaise sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaise regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles sold by Geo. E. Good, druggist.

IMITATING BRITISHERS.

Our Dumb Animals has some striking illustrations to show how the aristocrats and anglo-manics of eastern cities are imitating British eads who mutilate their horses' tails. It calls them the docktail cavalry and rightly scores the inhumane practice of docking horses. Geo. T. Angell, president of the American Humane Education society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, 19 Milk St., Boston, offers three prizes for writers as follows: In behalf of "The American Humane Education Society" I offer three prizes of fifty dollars, thirty dollars, and twenty dollars for the three best comic songs, adapted to the most popular music, on "The Man (or Dude) with the Docktailed Horse," "The Docktailed Cavalry," "The Docktailed Infantry," or similar subject, the object being to have them sung in the equestrian drama of "Black Beauty," and on the stage and elsewhere to awaken public sentiment in regard to the ridiculous folly as well as cruelty of the life mutilation of horses by docking. All wishing to compete for prizes are kindly invited to write him for more full specifications and suggestions.

A LITTLE SILVER RECORD

Marion county has a large number of free silver coinage men, who should organize a club.—SALEM JOURNAL, Rep. Yes, and then they should all, individually, if not as an organization, vote against the Republican party. To organize a silver coinage club, and then go and vote the Republican ticket is like building a house one day and tearing it down the next day. However much or little hope free coinage men have from other parties, they have not the least from the Republican party.—Portland Telegram, Dem.

They have more hope than from the Democratic party. The last Republican congress passed a bill increasing the coinage of silver, if that is what is needed. The Republicans did that with only about nine majority in the house. The Democratic house with nearly one hundred and fifty majority has just killed one silver bill, and that too when Democratic platforms in twenty-eight states had pledged those members to vote for a silver bill. We sympathize with Colonel Moffett of The Telegram and invite him to join a better silver party.

HE IS NOT "IN IT" NO V.

In this week's issue of "Judge" we find this title to a very strong front-page cartoon by Gilliam, Cleveland, dressed up like an English drum-major, is playing that song which the boys are whistling on the street: Boom ta-ra-ra! Boom der-ay! David B. had his way; Everything is coming my way. Boom ta-ra-ra! Boom der-ay! The words of the music to be sure are changed a little, for we do not find in the original the saying "David B. had his way," but the American version, politically speaking, has a great deal finer tendency when sung in connection with this picture. The noise of the great drum gives poor David a headache, and he is no longer the formidable little bag-pipe player that he once was. It will pay you to send in a three-months subscription to the Judge Publishing Company, 110 Fifth Avenue, New York, or order it direct through your regular newsdealers.

SUGGESTED COMMENT.

THE JOURNAL proved a prophet in Pennoyer's case.

Robert A. Lincoln will be the next president after Harrison.

The present seems to have been a backward season nearly everywhere.

Arrangements for the annual rose and strawberry show will be made Saturday.

A Sunday closing ordinance is before the Eugene City council for action.

Those Turner liquor petition case cost this county altogether too much money.

President Harrison seems to have a firm hold on the quiet people of this country.

The Marion county legislative ticket is conceded to be the best ever put up by any party.

The handshaking season is on and there are four separate installments on the market.

Some of the Discomforts of the Pioneers.

COLUMBIA CENTENNIAL.

Second Day of the Celebration at Astoria.

PORTLAND, May 12.—The opening day of the Columbia river centennial celebration, on the whole, passed off very pleasantly, and it is the general opinion that it was a success. The accommodations at Astoria are entirely inadequate for the number of visitors who are there, and much dissatisfaction was expressed by those who were not fortunate enough to secure a place to stay. To add to their discomfort, many arrived in a cold, drizzling rain, and had to wander up and down the city in search of lodgings. The members of the Pioneer association suffered the most, as they are now old men and women, who are unable to put up with the hardships and inconveniences which younger people would not mind. Most of them spent the first night sitting on the chairs and camp stools of the steamer. To occupy their time and to make the best of their miserable situation and experience, a meeting was called at 1 a. m., which lasted two hours. The meeting was presided over by John W. Cochran, and some excellent addresses were made by the pioneers from different parts of the state. The speakers related their varied experiences and eulogized the memory of those who are no longer among the living.

The program arranged for the first day was not fully carried out on account of the confusion and disorganization of state affairs.

In the evening a grand musicale was given at Ross' opera house under the direction of J. B. Wyatt. The entertainment was given by the local talent of Astoria, assisted by the Marine band of Portland. The fine banquet and the enjoyments of the day put every one in a good humor, and the troubles of the first night were speedily forgotten. A number of prominent citizens of Portland and other cities are present in Astoria, and are doing their share toward making the celebration a complete success. F. X. Matthieu, of French prairie, who came here in 1842, is said to be the oldest pioneer in attendance. The government crabsers Baltimore and Charleston still continue to be the chief features of interest and all are anxious to see the warships which have attracted so much attention. Captain Whitehead, of the Baltimore, when asked in reference to his ship visiting Portland, could not give any decided answer. But later advices state that official orders have been given to have the vessels make the trip.

PULLED A JEWS NOSE.

Cause of the Riot at Lodz, With Its Fatalities.

VIENNA, May 12.—Further details have been received of the attack on the Jews by a mob of strikers at Lodz, a town of Poland, seventy-five miles from Warsaw. It appears that the Polish people of Lodz have been for some time jealous of the increasing number of Jews in the linen and woolen mills. Many of these were driven from the interior of Russia, having been driven from their former homes by persecution, and they were willing to work for very low wages. This was one of the causes that led to the strike at Lodz. During Passover week some enemies of the Jews circulated the report that they had stolen and murdered a Christian child in the course of the Passover ceremonies. This report was not believed by the intelligent, but it created great excitement among the ignorant. When the strike began the Jews continued at work, and this increased the irritation against them. For a long time it has been customary for the more malignant of the Jew haters in Lodz and other towns to go about pulling the beards and noses of the Jews. Many of the Jews submitted meekly, unless the pulling was too severe, when they retaliated, and an incident of this kind is said to have been the immediate cause of the riot at Lodz. One of the strikers meeting a Jew with an unusually developed nose, gave it an extra twist, which provoked the Hebrew to madness, and he resented by making a desperate attack on his persecutor. The latter raised a cry that the Jews were attacking the Christians, and then the strikers to the numbers of thousands started
