to make merciless war on the Hebrews. The latter defended themselves with the energy of despair, but the strikers had the best of the conflict and a number of the Hebrews were killed, as well as several of their assailants. The Russian troops, who were called to the scene, favored the rioters, and the latter continued to carry on the attack until wearied out. Much property was destroyed. The number of lives lost is not stated.

WARSAW, May 12.—In consequence of the socialistic labor riots at Lodz, the authorities have expelled 300 foreign workmen from Lodz. Forty of the leading rioters, including a number of socialist agitators, were sentenced to long terms in prison.

THE WAR IN VENEZUELA.

Both Armies Waiting for Reinforcements.

BARCELONA, Venezuela, May 12.—The situation in Venezuela is not materially changed. Desertions continue from the government army. The deserters are principally peasants and laborers recently conscripted. Several skirmishes have taken place between the advance posts of the revolutionists and the government forces, but there has been no important fighting reported since the battle at Pailto, in which the troops sent out from Puerto Cabello Palacio's general were defeated. At Laguayra and Puerto Cabello all is quiet at present, and there is no longer any difficulty in discharging or loading cargoes. The normal condition of affairs is largely restored. No definite news has been received from the seat of the revolution. It is generally supposed, however, that the cause of the rebellion is progressing favorably. In all likelihood the next big battle will be fought at La Victoria. The revolutionists surrounded the town on all sides, preventing communication between it and Caracas. Palacio's troops cannot render any aid to the besieged town. Crespo's men occupy all the commanding heights around La Victoria. The lull now existing cannot last long. Crespo continues to receive arms and ammunition. When a full supply shall have been obtained, he will assume the offensive. Until now he has been content to maintain his position around Valencia and La Victoria.

A Woman's Downfall.

DENVER, May 12.—Mrs. Lucy Hall, the wife of a rich citizen of Boston, became a victim of the morphine habit a few years ago through the influence of the son of a prominent New York physician and a friend of the family, and, in spite of the protests of her husband and friends, she came to Denver with her infant child. She entered a low house and sank rapidly to the lowest grade of the morphine fiends. A year ago she was married to a miner at Breckinridge. The father of the child has, since the separation, been unremitting in his efforts to recover his child. In Fairplay on Monday he had succeeded in getting possession of the child, and with it left for Boston that night. A warrant was issued for Mrs. Hall's arrest on a charge of bigamy.

BALTIMORE, May 12.—Mary E. McComas, colored woman, died at the city hospital yesterday. Her avoirdupois had increased in a remarkable way since her admission two weeks ago. She then weighed 250 pounds, but soon commenced to grow abnormally fat. In two weeks she gained 150 pounds and weighed 450 pounds when she died. Her heart was as large as a man's hat and weighed twenty-six ounces. Her entire body was covered with a layer of fat five inches thick. She died from a peculiar form of dropsy.

Dyspepsia

Makes many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a taint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia doesn't get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently yet effectively. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and, by thus overcoming the local symptoms, cures the Sick Headache, Heartburn, Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, painting, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Dedication of Printer's Home —The Great Memphis Bridge, Etc.

A TOWN IN DANGER.

The Powder River Threatens Baker City.

BAKER CITY, Or., May 12.—The Powder River above this city is higher than for years on account of the unusual rains and melting snow. Portions of the Sumpter Valley railroad were washed away and are now only held by the Union Pacific grade. Four inches more will put the town in danger. A logging train on the Sumpter Valley road has just returned after a fifteen-mile trip of thirty hours. The threatened cut-off below town was averted by lowering the Kenedy dam. The river is still rising, and a feeling of uneasiness exists.

THE PRINTER'S HOME.

Appropriately Dedicated Today at Colorado Springs.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., May 12.—The Childs-Drexel home for printers was dedicated here today with appropriate ceremonies. The building is four stories high, 144 by 90 feet with all modern conveniences and cost $80,000. It is the gift of George W. Childs and A. J. Drexel, of Philadelphia, to the international typographical union. The rooms in the building were furnished by the unions in St. Louis, Chicago, San Francisco, New York and one by the Chicago Inter Ocean. The gathering of a free library has already been begun. At the dedication today Hon. Iva G. Sprague, mayor of Colorado Springs, delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the city, Governor John L. Routt delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the state, Hon. Geo. W. Childs, one of the co-donors of the institution spoke briefly.

The Methodist Conference.

OMAHA, May 12.—At the morning session of the Methodist conference the matter of the constitutionality of the admission of lay delegates to the conference, was discussed pro and con at great length in ten minute speeches, considerable warmth being developed at times. Dr. Buckley finally moved to postpone the matter until the next general conference, after a sharp wrangle the motion was carried 233 to 190.

No time has been set for the consideration of the bill.

Pottery Burned.

TRENTON, N. J., May 12.—Maddock and Sons's pottery, burned this morning, loss $175,000.

The Roslyn Disaster.

ROSLYN, Wash., May 12.—There is no evidence showing that ex-Superintendent Ronald resigned because there was danger of explosion. His brother was one of the miners killed. Experts agree that in running a new level having no connection with the air courses there was danger of fire-damp. The miners worked with naked lamps, and an accumulation of gas could easily have reached the flame from the new level.

The burial of the bodies begins today. The Northern Pacific Coal Company is defraying all expenses, besides supplying food to the destitute families. All bodies will probably not be recovered in two days yet, and the coroner's jury has adjourned till all are reported found.

No Use for the Sign.

BERKELEY, Cal., May 12.—A party of four Palo Alto men were surprised in the act of nailing a large sign advertising the magazine "Palo Alto" to the gymnasium of the university. Some of the Berkeley men suddenly came upon the scene and a lively scrimmage ensued. One Berkeley man was knocked senseless, but has recovered. One Palo Alto man was severely, but not fatally, injured by a loaded cane in the hands of a Berkley student. The Palo Alto men escaped. It is not known who they were. The Berkley men are keeping the matter quiet for fear of arrest.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Lawyer E. Ellery Anderson, a member of the Democratic provisional state committee, anti-Hill, is quoted as follows: "We, who are in the midst of the political movement in this state, have known that Cleveland is stronger than in '88. We know since that time the people of this state have been wakened so as to understand correctly the oppressive effects of the tariff."

THE CENTENIAL.

Yesterday's Proceedings—The Great Day.

"THE COLUMBIA."

The Mimic Representation of Capt. Gray's Landing.

ASTORIA, May 12.—One hundred years ago yesterday Captain Robert Gray entered the mouth of Columbia river in the ship Columbia.

At the centenial celebration this event was reproduced. The four-masted barkentine Chehalis, Captain Watts, personating the ship Columbia, drew away from the wharf with a number of invited guests aboard, among whom were a number of pioneers, and passed the United States cruisers Baltimore and Charleston lying in harbor, the band aboard playing "The Red, White and Blue." The ship representing the Columbia proceeded to the end of the government jetty. Returning she dropped anchor in the exact spot where Captain Gray anchored one hundred years ago. Indians with painted faces came out in canoes bringing salmon, just as they met Captain Gray. Numerous vessels steamed around and saluted the Columbia. The Columbia answered the saluting by dipping her ensign, while the cheers of thousands rent the air. A flag was then presented to the vessel by Mrs. M. J. McKinney, of Astoria. Three cheers were given as the flag was hoisted to the mizzen mast.

Anchor was then weighed, and the Columbia proceeded on the voyage to Astoria. When the Charleston and Baltimore cruisers were passed they saluted with a tremendous chorus. Amid the whistling of steamers, mingled with the thunder of cannon of the men-of-war and the batteries on shore, the dipping of flags, cheering of thousands and waving of hats and handkerchiefs, the Columbia arrived at the dock without mishap.

At 1:30 yesterday afternoon a grand street parade was had. Col. Anderson, U. S. A., was grand marshal. The procession was one mile and a half long, made up in the following order: Col. Anderson and aids, police of Astoria, brass band, troops from Fort Canby, sailors from the United States cruisers, First Infantry band, civic societies, pioneers, fire department, guests and citizens afoot and in carriages. Late in the afternoon literary exercises were held. The centennial oration was delivered by Prof. John Fiske, of Harvard university. The day's exercises closed with a torch-light procession of steamers and fishing boats

TO UNITE THE METHODISTS.

Conference Receives the Proposition With Applause.

OMAHA, May 12.—Bishop Joyce presided at the meeting of the Methodist conference yesterday. The committee on the centennial of the general conference reported, recommending a special service to be held as a centennial service on May 17, and that efforts be made to collect facts connected with the conference of 1792, as the official journal of that conference had been lost. The report was adopted. A resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to meet the delegates to the Presbyterian general assembly who would pass through Omaha on their way Portland, Or., and invite them to the general conference. The resolution to relieve the general conference of the appointment of official editors, secretaries of auxillary departments, superintendents of book concerns, etc., by vesting the authority of appointment in the various boards, was referred to the committee on temporal economy. The resolution calling on the committee of episcopacy to consider the advisability of districting the whole church territory into as many districts as are bishops, except the senior bishops, and assign to each a district for four years, was referred to the committee on episcopacy. The resolution seeking to have the time limit of itinerary removed was referred to the committee on that subject. Mr. Shinkle, of Kentucky, offered a resolution calling on persons having funds in their possession to assist in defraying the conference expenses, to produce the same promptly. The resolution was adopted. A resolution for the appointment of a committee to revise the opening chapter of the discipline which treats of the origin and history of the church, was referred to the committee on revision of discipline. A resolution was introduced declaring that the missionary funds were not properly distributed, and that the conferences that paid the most were not fairly treated in the distribution. It was referred back. A resolution calling for an earnest effort to unite the two branches of the Methodist church—North and South—was referred to the committee on the state of the church, amid applause.

Instructed For Cleveland.

SEDALIA, Mo., May 12.—The dmocratic state convention met here yesterday. E. B. Horton, of Platt county, was chosen temporary chairman. When he mentioned the name of Grover Cleveland there was great applause, lasting five minutes. After the committees were appointed, the convention took a recess. The convention is unanimous for Cleveland and will instruct for him.

HIT HIM IN THE NECK

A Doctor Tells How He Saved Grant's Life.

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 12.—In a letter to the chief of police asking for protection from flower thieves and ball-players who use the streets for a park, Dr. Charles H. Bowen related an attempt to assassinate General Grant, which so far seems to have escaped public notice.

"I do not remember seeing a policeman at this corner after dark for thirty years," he writes. After telling of the consequences of this lack of protection in the form of broken windows and stolen flowers, the letter goes on to say:

"When General Grant was secretary of war, he resided on I street between New Jersey avenue and Third street. He was walking home from the war department, and when he arrived at the corner of Sixth street and Massachusetts avenue, an attempt was made to assassinate him. There was no policeman near, as usual. I saw the would-be assassin, with revolver in hand, make towards the general. I got between the general and the assassin, placed my left index finger under the assassin's nose and he threw his head back. I then dropped my left hand, drew back and plunged my fist with full force on his wind-pipe as hard as I could drive, knocked the assassin out and captured his revolver which I now have in my possession. If I had not been there at the time, General Grant would not have been president of the United States two terms and the whole history of the United States would have been changed. Washington would not be what it is, and I would not have had any flowers exposed on the street for police protection. He would have been gathered to his fathers long ere he was president of the United States."

Postal Affairs.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Postmaster General Wanamaker sent to Speaker Crisp a long letter containing some observations upon the postoffice appropriation bill. The postmaster general says the bill for the fiscal year ending June 30, '93, will seriously impair the postal service, and result in general dissatisfaction throughout the country. He says: "I deem it my duty to emphasize to you that crippling the operations of the department by withholding necessary appropriations will not only impair its efficiency, but prevent the earnings foreshadowed in my report.

An Evangelist Insane.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 12.—The Rev. John Smith, the evangelist, has become violently insane. On Monday he took strychnine to kill himself, but as he swallowed an overdose, he did not die. Mr. Smith has been greatly worried of late by the misconduct of a wayward sister whom he has tried in vain to reform.

Great Relief

IS instantly afforded sufferers from Bronchitis, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Either as an anodyne, to allay inflammation, or an expectorant, to loosen and bring away the mucus, this preparation has no equal.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which, by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thomas B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville Dist. M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

"My mother was sick three years and very low with bronchitis. We feared nothing would cure her. One of my friends told me about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. She tried it, has used eight bottles, and is now well."—T. H. D. Chamberlain, Baltimore, Md.

The Ulster Unionists.

LONDON, May 12.—The Ulster unionist members repudiate with amusement the rumor that they are secretly purchasing arms and drilling an army of defense. They possess, they say, three lines of resistance, of which the force of arms is last and least. The first line of resistance is a determined opposition in parliament to all stages of the home-rule bill; the second, boycotting the Irish parliament; and the third, an active resistance if the Irish parliament, tries to force its decrees upon them. They do not believe, however, that they will be driven to the extremity of active resistance, which they recognize is only justified in law by success, and must imply a willingness to take the consequences. Even such a course, they declare, would not involve a resistance to troops, if sent to restore order.

A Decisive Blow for Freedom

From the tyrannical yoke of these despotic allies, dyspepsia, constipation and liver complaint, is struck when the quondom victim of their galling supremacy has taken a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Then they vanish defeated, and health resumes its welcome way. Such is the invariable experience of those who use the ruling ally alike to get rid of those associate evils. Anti-dyspeptics, cholagogues, drastic cathartics are as the sands of the sea, numberless and—useless. The happy blending of remedial properties, derived from nature's botanic storehouse, with a pure, modified spirituous basis extant in the Bitters, not only initiate but effect the joint cure of chronic indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and perversion of the bile. The surest of the defense against malaria is this agreeable fortifier and preservative of health under unfavorable atmospheric conditions. It promptly acts a tendency to rheumatism, revives the atoneys and endows a debilitated, nervous invalid with vigor. Incomparable as a tonic.

A LUMBERMAN'S RENDEZVOUS.

This term might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central lines, at the gateway to the vast forest region which extends North to Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles without a break, on account of its vast timber interests. The Wisconsin River to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat affectionate title of "Old Wisconsin," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through its numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in the upper country, but it furnishes a water power that is second only to that of Neenah and Menasha, which cities are also located on the "Central." Millions of feet of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, it has numerous other manufactories; it is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central Lines are located.
