

over draft of either Charleston or Baltimore. T. F. OSBORN, President Chamber of Commerce.

PORTLAND, Or., May 13, 1892.—Captain Reamy, cruiser Charleston, Astoria, Or. On the behalf of the citizens of Portland, the chamber of commerce earnestly invite you, your officers and ships to visit Portland. T. F. OSBORN, President Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the above communications, Mayor Mason telegraphed to the commanders of these vessels this afternoon tendering them the freedom and hospitality of the city.

The officers of the Charleston as well as those of the Baltimore are as anxious to come to Portland as the people here are to receive them. They would feel sorely disappointed were they to receive orders to the contrary. As the discretionary power lies with them alone, it can thus be seen that they would assist rather than resist any attempt to bring their vessels to this city.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Wanamaker Before House Committee. WASHINGTON, May 13.—The house committee on reform in the civil service yesterday resumed its investigation of the charges that certain federal employees in Baltimore had violated the civil service law without incurring punishment.

Postmaster General Wanamaker appeared, bringing with him, at the request of the committee, the report of the postoffice inspectors, giving the result of their investigation into the Baltimore postoffice. He desired to say, in view of comment upon the time that elapsed between the investigation and denial of the charges that more than four months elapsed before the commission's investigation report reached the president, so that the men had no opportunity to make an earlier response to the charges. He further said that he had no disposition to defend these men.

Boatman said: "It appears that these parties were before the commission authorized to make an investigation and admitted their guilt, but the postmaster general, whose duty it was to dismiss them, took no action and when the matter came to you (Wanamaker), instead of acting upon the confession of the parties, you instituted another investigation for the purpose of enabling the people to deny what they had already admitted."

The postmaster general moved his hand in remonstrance while the question was being put, and then replied: "I respectfully protest against the statement that the investigation was instituted for the purpose of having the men deny the charges. It is not the truth."

It is: He wished to know why the postmaster general's department ignored the recommendations of the commission, and accepted the statements they made exculpating themselves.

The postmaster general quietly remarked that he had no information on the subject that he was not willing and anxious to lay before the committee.

Dyspepsia

Makes many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after meals, sour stomach, sick headache, nervousness, loss of appetite, a full, aching feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently yet efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and, by thus overcoming the local symptoms, cures the Headache, restores the Headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating a little food, I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, painting, and from being more or less shut up in a room with a Sour Stomach. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food did not distress me, and my bowels were completely satisfied. The curing I had so victoriously experienced." GEORGE A. PAON, Watertown, Mass.

N. B. If you desire to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

THE HIGH WATER.

Heavy Rains in Missouri and Kansas—Lives Lost.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., May 13.—The Missouri river continues to rise rapidly. Much valuable farming land is under water. All chance of raising a crop this year is gone. The river is changing its course to the south, last night a strip over half mile long was taken off.

LAWRENCE, KAN., May 13.—A heavy rain has been falling for the past twenty-four hours. Kaw river continues to rise and the city is almost flooded. The water is too high to run the waterwheels and the factories are shut down. If a further rise of six feet occurs the Northern portion will be flooded.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 13.—Grand levee is 20 miles wide at its mouth. Nearly all of Saline county is under water, fences are carried away and roads are washed away. The family of Peter Embury numbering five are missing. It is believed all drowned. James Galvin a railroad boss, was drowned last night. A heavy rain has been falling all over the Missouri valley for the last twenty-four hours and shows no sign of cessation.

OMAHA, May 13.—The Missouri river is ten feet above low water and rising rapidly. It has cut away hundreds of acres on the west bank above the city, and is within fifty feet of Florence lake. If it should rise another foot it will break into the old channel, and sweep down through to Omaha and do hundreds of thousands of dollars damage. It would leave the manufacturing suburbs of Omaha on an island.

A Jealous Husband's Deed.

ASTORIA, Or., May 13.—At 7 o'clock yesterday, W. W. Ward, a Sealand saloonkeeper, in the office of the Hotel Northern, fired two shots at his wife, one of which may prove fatal. Mrs. Ward, with her children, had come over to attend the celebration, and in order to see the marine procession, remained over night. Ward, who was of a jealous and cowardly disposition, hired a fishing boat and came after her. He met her as she was entering the hotel dining room, and before he could be prevented, leveled a revolver at her and fired. One bullet struck her in the arm and the other in the groin. Ward was at once seized and arrested. Mrs. Ward was taken in charge by the guests and a doctor summoned. The wound is very dangerous and may prove fatal.

OMAHA, May 13.—Bishop Goodsell presided at today's session of the Methodist conference. It is the gospel of the conference hall that the laymen will defeat the effort to elect more bishops. Rev. Thomas Hanson, introduced a resolution declaring the church should come out squarely on the struggle between capital and labor. He declared the church has not shown enough sympathy with the toiling millions and laboring classes drifting away from us. The resolution was referred.

When only 5 years old his widowed mother removed with her family to Missouri, where all but four of them lived and died. These four came to Oregon in 1847, one of the boys dying on the way, within three miles of Oregon City. They suffered many hardships on their journey and lost nearly all their stock. Their teams were worn out that when they reached the summit of the Cascades the main body of the party had to remain there till fresh teams from the valley came to their rescue. Mr. Mulkey first settled in Benton county, whence he removed to Polk in 1857. His six children and twenty-three grandchildren all live in Polk county.

What cured they for the wrongs of the victim as he lay stretched upon the rack? Not the tortures they inflicted as hard as stone, nor whose tortures is excessive, often gave no pity on themselves—voluntarily incur life long torture by neglect. Blameless, the most obstinate of complaints is perhaps, more aggravated than any other, the preliminary stages being set down as a "cold in the nose" which will pass away of itself. Fatal delusion! THE ROSLYN MINE.

Funeral Services Held Over the Remains Yesterday.

ROSLYN, Wa., May 13.—The climax of thought as to the awfulness of the terrible calamity that befel this camp on the afternoon of Tuesday was reached yesterday. Sadder or more distressing scenes are seldom chronicled than were witnessed from early morning until late at night, and those who were present either as spectators or who aided in the work will never care to again pass through a similar experience.

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning the relief men at work in the slope came on two more bodies, those of Sidney Wright and Herman Danster, and a few minutes later the bodies of eight or ten others were exposed to view. The dead wagon began its roll and from the mine to the city hall about 6 o'clock, and steadily throughout the day, at intervals of 40 or 50 minutes, the corpse of an unfortunate was brought to the surface, loaded in a wagon, and transported to the morgue.

Several bodies found in the lower level gave unmistakable signs of having lived a few minutes after the explosion, the condition of the bodies evidencing this fact. Death resulted from suffocation. Two of the men were found with their faces buried in the floor of the level, and one other was discovered with a piece of his shirt in his mouth. Three others were found in a position that showed a desperate struggle had been made to gain entrance to the slope from the main way, and another was found in the lower level with his face buried in the floor close to the side wall. The afterdamp was sure and quick, however their agony was short. State Mine Inspector Edmunds went into the slope at 7 o'clock, came out and remained all day. He refused to be interviewed at this time, but gave assurance that the matter would be subjected to a careful and rigid examination.

Yesterday afternoon the funeral services were held over the remains of the fourteen miners whose bodies were recovered yesterday. Owing to the fact that accommodations are limited and the dead embraced among its number the representatives of nearly all nationalities and religious creeds, it was decided to hold but two services, those of the Roman Catholic and the Protestant. The former assembled in the Catholic church, and Rev. Father Kuster, of Ellensburg, performed the rites in accordance with their faith. At Unity had an appropriate discourse was delivered by Rev. Dr. Davis, Baptist minister, of North Yakima. The afterdamp is troublesome in the slope, and it is uncertain when the remaining twenty-four bodies will be reached.

Methodist Conference in Omaha.

OMAHA, May 13.—Bishop Newman presided at the session of the Methodist conference yesterday. A large number of resolutions of significance were introduced and referred. They then laid aside the regular order and took up the discussion of constitutional revision. The matter of the constitutionality of the admission of lay delegates to the conference was discussed for and con at great length in ten minute speeches, considerable warmth being developed at times. Dr. Goucher offered a substitute knocking out nearly all the preamble in the report, declaring that the section of the law enacted in relation to lay representation partook of the nature of a legislative enactment, and that the
