Inspector Edmundson came out with the last body, but is reticent as to any discoveries made, Several of those who were found in the lower level gave umistakable signs of having lived a few moments after the explosion, death resulting solely from suffocation. Two of the men were found with their and one other had a piece of his shirt stuffed in his mouth. Three others were in a position which showed that a desperate struggle had been made to gain entrance to the slope from a main way. On account of the great number of casualities and the limited means for earing for the dead, it was determined to make three burlal days, those who were recovered on Wednesday being the first consigned to the tomb. The coal company is doing everything to alleviate the distress in desolated households. Provisions and clothing are being furnished when applied for, and free transportation will be given bodies which terred on Friday and Saturday.

Portland, Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia, Ellensburg and a number of other places have telegrapeed assistance.

The excitement of the past three days is wearing off, and murmurs against the company are growing less as the men realize that the accident was one which could not be averted.

Insurgents Blowing up the Public Buildings.

CARACAS, Venezuela, May 14,-Two more attempts were made yesterday to blow up the government buildings with dynamite bombs, sought to wreck, but, although the bomb was exploded alongside the building, no damage was done. The scene was the military headquarters, and it was a most daring attempt. All the panes of glass in the building were shattered, and the large number of soldiers who were in the building at the time were very much frightened. No one, however, was killed or seriously injured. One man has been arrested on suspicion of knowing something about the explosions.

The commision sent out by the government to the insurgent chief has returned to Caracas. It reports that it has utterly failed in its mission. General Crespo bluntly and called congress and ordered the elections to take place immediately. Crespo's forces, according to latest secounts are daily growing stronger,
