MAJOR CAMP'S WILL.

He Leaves His Fiancée One-Half of His Estate.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 14.—The will of the late Major Camp was filed for probate yesterday. He left an estate amounting to $550,000, the beneficiaries named being Mrs. Lucy May von Wedelstedt, aged 22, his only daughter; Henry von Wedelstedt, her son, aged 2; and Mrs. Jessie D. Carr-Seale, of Sallina City, Cal., who is 41 years old, and who is given one-half of the estate. Major Camp was a widower, his wife having committed suicide last August. Early in the fall he went to California, and there met Mrs. Seale. The acquaintance ripened into a warmer regard, until at last the major proposed marriage and was accepted. The wedding was to have come off early next month, but death stepped in and prevented it. Soon after the betrothal the major made a will, leaving to Mrs. Seale one-half of his property. Mrs. Seale belongs to one of the best-known and most respected families in California, and is wealthy in her own right. Her husband, Mr. Seale, died four years ago, leaving an estate of more than $600,000, of which she was given about one-third. Her father is one of the best-known ranchmen in the state, and is worth probably $1,000,000. She is an estimable lady, and she was a much surprised as any one at the major's action, and she did not fear of it until some time after the will had been drawn. Then she protested vigorously, but without avail. The other heirs are very wealthy and will contest. The contestants of the will were not known, nor has Major Camp ever intimated that he was about to marry. Mrs. Seale's attorney drew the will and is executor.

Tornadoes in Kansas.

WICHITA, Kas., May 14.—The formation of three tornadoes struck here about 6 o'clock last evening. Two about six miles south and another about the same distance north-east. A dispatch from Augusta Butler county, says the northeastern twister struck there about 6 o'clock, demolishing fifteen houses and wrecking the Santa Fe stock pens. Nearly all the people in town saw the storm approaching and sought safety in cyclone caves, which it is thought prevented great loss of life. Telegraph wires are down and details unobtainable. Towards a few miles north of Augusta, was also visited by a tornado and half a dozen houses demolished. Towards was totally wiped from the face of the earth by a cyclone in March, and a number of people killed and injured. Citizens who had the courage to remain built houses, and these buildings were blown down. It is not known whether any one was hurt.

New Railroad for Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 14.—An important concession has been made for a standard gauge railroad, to run from this city to the Pacific port of Zihuatanejo, south of Mazatlan, a small but deep and safe harbor. The concessionaires are Campano, S. E. Haberstadt, Rudolph Weyer, Pedro Alcocer, and Juan Zalceva. The reported line may be built with a view of amalgamating with the old Vera Cruz railway, to be an inter-oceanic standard gauge line. It is also reported that it is Jay Gould's design to build from El Paso to this city, taking a route along the eastern slope of the Sierra Madre.

Dyspepsia

Slowly many people mislead, and after long suffering, find relief in the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures the stomach and other ailments, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus crowning the local Sick Headache, restores the more common symptoms. I had been troubled with dyspepsia, I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, as did the little food. After eating Hood's Sarsaparilla, I would experience a feeling of lightness, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, painting, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my stomach and I did not use an immense amount of food. At gave me an appetite, and my food satisfied and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced. GEORGE A. PAER, Waterbury, Mass.

THE WAR SHIPS.

They Arrived at Portland This Morning.

BALTIMORE-CHARLESTON. They Will Remain Several Weeks.

PORTLAND, May 14.—The United States cruisers Baltimore and Charleston arrived from Astoria at 10:30 a. m. At nine o'clock the First Regiment Oregon National guard and battery "A" marched down to the river followed by thousands, who covered the wharves and the steel bridge. At 10:15 the Baltimore was sighted rounding the bend in the river. This was the signal for cheering which was redoubled when the Charleston was seen to follow a few minutes behind. The cruisers steamed along slowly and passed the through draw of the Union Pacific bridge amidst the blowing of whistles, booming of cannon and cheers of the multitude. At the foot of the street the Baltimore dropped anchor, the Charleston anchoring a block below. From what can be learned the cruisers will remain here for several weeks. In an interview with Captain Whitehead, of the Baltimore, I asked the cruise he experienced no difficulty whatever during the trip. The least depth of water in the river shown by the soundings was twenty three feet. It is stated that the first time in the history of the United States that a war vessel has ascended a river to a distance of one hundred miles.

The War Ships.

PORTLAND, May 14.—From what can be learned, the cruisers will stay in Portland several weeks. A dispatch from Astoria last night said: "It was a fine sight at 1:30 this afternoon, when the Baltimore swung around in a circle not much greater than her own length and set her prow toward Portland. The Baltimore's pilot is William Patterson, the Charleston's William Smith. It was the intention of the war vessels to reach Pillar Rock at high tide and anchor there to await the next tide, if that were deemed necessary. They drew twenty-one feet of water. The Baltimore and the Charleston arrived at Rainier and anchored at 7:30 last night. The passage was made without any trouble, there being plenty of water on all the bars. The ships will weigh anchor at daylight and arrive in Portland between 10 and 11 this morning. The expectation is that the Baltimore will anchor in the stream just above the steel bridge. The ships will go from Portland to Tacoma and Seattle, and about July 1 will probably start on a tour of the Asiatic ports, thence back to New York.

Floods and Cyclones.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—The situation here this morning is more alarming than last night, a heavy rain storm came up about midnight and it continues to pour down the storm extends as far north as Davenport, Iowa. T., May 14.—This section has suffered heavy losses by the storm, rivers are of their banks bottom are flooded. A reported cyclone visited eastern Oklahoma, yesterday afternoon, twenty houses were blown to pieces in Canadian county, a number of school houses destroyed. No deaths reported, but a number are seriously hurt.

KANSAS CITY, May 14.—The Missouri river continues to rise, going up over half a foot last night, with prospects of continuing to rise until Monday or longer. The damage to property increases hourly. The Kaw river overflowed its banks this morning, doing great damage to the packing interests of Armour Dale. The Argentine water burst the reservoir, so there is no public supply, and the electric light plant is flooded, so there will be no light tonight. All houses on the bottoms are flooded to the second stories.

MARSHALL, Mo., May 14.—The Missouri river rose ten inches last night. At Arrow Rock, east of this place, the water covers a thousand acres of farms, the damage to grain is hundreds of thousands of dollars.

OTTERIE, O. T., May 14.—The heaviest rain in many years fell last night, accompanied by hail. Much damage was done to crops. All traffic on the Santa Fe was suspended during the night. Many bridges are in a dangerous condition.

Hill Has His Say.

New York, May 14.—A Washington special quotes Senator D. R. Hill as follows: The statement I intended to sound an alarm in the senate of the present proneness of the Democratic party to excessive expenditure of public funds is absurdly false. Tom Platt made a great mistake by not holding the mid-winter convention. Had he done this he could have had his own way and had his delegates where he wanted them. It is now too late for him to do anything against Harrison. Referring to the sharp criticism upon the omission of Grover Cleveland's name from the platform of the New York state mid-winter convention, Hill is quoted thus: "Why, as far as the reasonableness of the thing goes, the convention might as well go back a few years and commend the administration of Buchanan."

The Work of a Crank.

HARLTON, Pa., May 14.—The Grand opera house, Valley hotel Leigh valley freight depot and number of other business houses burned this morning. Loss a hundred thousand. It is supposed it was set on fire by some crank to prevent the giving of a sacred concert there on Sunday as contemplated.

NORFOLK, Va., May 14.—At Simmons Creek coal mines, a white man named Justis, struck a negro named Wells, and a black mob pursued Justis, ran him into a house, and shot him to death, a white mob then chased the blacks, killed Wells and wounded two others.

LOVED HIS GOLD.

Committed Suicide Because He Did Not Get More.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 14.—John Boettcher, of this city, committed suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself through the breast with an old army musket. He was 72 years of age, some weeks ago he sold a farm of $3000, and since then had carried the money in gold about his person. Every night he would retire to his room and spend hours counting his money. Finally he became so avaricious and so afraid of his wealth being stolen that he would not associate with the members of the family, and kept to himself day and night. Boettcher learned today that coal had been discovered on the farm he had sold, and that it was now valued at $10,000. He became frenzied at the news and the thought of his lost opportunity of being rich, and finally shot himself. His $3000 was found on his body.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The Delegates Object to a Negro Layman.

OMAHA, May 14.—Bishop Goodsell presided at yesterday's session of the Methodist conference. It is the gospel of the conference that the laymen will defeat the effort to elect more bishops.

Rev. Thomas Hanson, of the Pennington seminary, introduced a resolution declaring that the church should come out squarely on the struggle between capital and labor.

He declared, in his remarks, that the church did not show enough sympathy with the toiling millions, and "the laboring classes are drifting away from us." The resolution referred to the committee on lay delegates.

MUST HAVE A NAVY.

The Great Steel Industries Not to be Crippled.

THE SENATE YESTERDAY.

The Naval Appropriation Bill Was Up.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—In the senate the naval appropriation bill was taken up. The bill as it came from the house provides for one armored cruiser of about 8000 tons displacement, to cost (exclusive of armament) not more than $2,500,000. The amendment, as reported from the senate committee on appropriations, provides, in addition, for one sea-going coast line-of-battle ship of about 9000 tons, to cost not exceeding $4,000,000; one harbor defense double turret ship of modern type, about 7500 tons, and to cost not exceeding $3,000,000; four light draft gunboats of 800 to 1200 tons displacement, and to cost not exceeding $450,000 each; and six torpedo boats at a cost not exceeding $100,000 each.

McPherson, from the naval committee, offered an amendment providing for three harbor defense double turret ships of Monitor type, instead of one ship. After a long discussion the amendment was modified to strike out the house provision for one sea-going coast line-of-battle ship and for one harbor defense double turret ship, Monitor type, and substitute therefor a provision for three harbor defense double turret ships, Monitor type.

Gorman spoke of the great advance in recent years in building steel war vessels, which could be built here for within eight per cent of the cost of building them in the Clyde. The progress was due to the policy of building the new navy, which policy was inaugurated under the last administration. He was therefore, prepared to vote for a proportionate increase of the navy. He knew the financial problem is a serious one, and congress is being criticized for the great amount of money expended. The expenditures have grown from year to year, and now economy and careful appropriation would have to be the order of the day; if not, increased taxation would follow, and still he knew of no great appropriation that could be reduced without stopping the great works of the government and paralyzing the steel industries of the country. He, for one, was not prepared until the country should have a navy to be proud of, to allow the cry of economy to prevent him from voting for proper appropriations for it. There had been an increase every year, no matter what administration was in power, and as the country grows, and you go on with the construction of your navy, and open harbors and rivers and make great guns for the army and navy, these expenditures must increase. I understand my party to mean by economy and retrenchment, that it is in favor of every proposition that looks to the development and glory of this great country.

After further debate, and without action on McPherson's amendment, the senate adjourned till Monday.

SORRY THEY DID IT.

Two Girls Take Poison Then Call in a Physician.

BURLINGTON, N. J., May 14.—In one of the most miserable hotels in the city Mrs. Kate Myers and Miss Laura Everham are dying from the effects of a dose of rat poison, taken with suicidal intent. The young women, who are scarcely more than 18 years of age, had led a merry life and both of them had themselves out of work. Disgraced and despondent, they went to a drug-store and each purchased 5 cents' worth of the poison, which they took. They repeated their mad act later in the afternoon, when the poison began to take effect, and hastily summoned a physician. An antidote was administered and they seem to be improved; but a relapse occurred and they are now in a critical condition.

LUMBERMAN'S RENDEZVOUS. This tract might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central line, at the gateway to the vast forest region which extends from Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles without a break, on account of its vast lumber interest. The Wisconsin River to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat additional title of "Old Wisconsin," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through its numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in the upper country, but it furnishes a water power that is second only to that of Seneca and Menasha, which cities are also located on the "Central." Millions of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, it has numerous other manufacturing interests. It is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central Lines are located. For tickets, maps, pamphlets and full information apply to G. F. McNeill, C. P. and T. A.
