

convention by any means. You see there never was a convention containing so many unrepresented delegates. Now, as to myself, I'm a delegate from Iowa, but I'm not instructed, and I will not say what I shall do till our delegation gets together and talks it over. I shall be guided entirely by what the party in my state wants."

"How will the nomination be brought about?"

"To my mind, the candidates will be named by the states which are doubtful and which we most care to win. The situation is critical, and no mistake may be made, because the margin is very small. The house is Democratic already, and we must have a man who can carry the doubtful states. The states as a general thing, have not instructed their delegates. For that matter, a very large number of delegates from the South are unrepresented. I think what states like New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Iowa, Indiana and Wisconsin say will have weight in deciding the question. They are states which may be considered close, and in which the battle must be fought."

ANOTHER INTERVIEW.
NEW YORK, May 22.—The Telegram quotes John S. Clarkson as saying: "My political judgment is that Blaine is the strongest man in the Republican party today, and is the man who can sweep the country."

DEADLY EXPLOSION.
Four or More People Killed Saturday.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 22.—Yesterday afternoon the factory of the Aetna Pyrotechnic company blew up with a tremendous noise, which shook the city, and was heard some miles. The contents of the building were blown into the air. The body of J. L. Sibley, a well-known Hartford citizen connected with the company, who was at the works paying off, was the first taken from the wreck, apparently killed instantly. Anna Tarbox, Emma Tregunza and Maggie Capen, employees, were found in the ruins, recognizable only by their clothing. They were fearfully blackened. Geo. Zinsch and one woman are missing. The building was fired by the explosion, but the flames were soon under control, and men are at work removing obstructions to get at the victims.

Weather and Crop Report.
PORTLAND, May 23.—The weekly report of the Oregon weather bureau says the hot weather on Friday with a maximum temperature of 81 to 83 degrees scalded the grain on wet land and baked the soil. Otherwise the weather is just what is needed. Spring seeding is being pushed rapidly. Fruit that was damaged by April frosts is now falling, and the damage done is apparent. Hops are doing well, but there is danger of the hop loss again. The Columbia river is slowly but steadily rising. Reports indicate a large quantity of snow in the mountains and on the upper rivers. People are expecting very high water.

He Could Not Swim.
UMATILLA, Or., May 22.—Ed Gibson, a 15-year-old boy, was drowned in the Umatilla river near the railroad bridge yesterday. He went to take a bath and as he did not return, a search was made and his clothes found on the river bank. His body has not yet been found. It is supposed he stepped in a deep hole and could not swim. The boy's folks live at Mayville, Or. About six months ago he came here, saying that his father, who is a painter, had given him $10 and told him to strike out, as he didn't want him around. The boy has been working in a hotel here since.

Absolutely the Best.
"I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as absolutely the best," says Mr. F. B. Kemp, assistant business manager of the Youngstown, Ohio, Daily Telegram one of the most influential and valuable newspapers in the Buckeye state. Mr. Kemp also says: "I have found it a certain cure for the cough usually following an attack of the grippe, and always keep a bottle of it in the house." 50 cent bottles for sale by G. E. Good, Druggist.

SCROFULA
Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings on the glands of the neck; causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," and fastens upon the lungs, causes consumption, and death. Being the most ancient, is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can SCROFULA Be CURED?
By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and powerful medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula or impure blood, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sore breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was swarmed with sores from head to foot. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of our children look bright and healthy."

PREBYTERIANS.

Mission Work Among Freedmen—Dr. Briggs Arrived.

PORTLAND, May 23.—This morning the devotional exercises of the assembly were led by Mr. Buchanan, of New York. Dr. Bartlett, of Washington, presented a report on Indian schools. It was recommended that henceforth all public monies for Indian schools should be expended by a government official, and that appropriations for sectional schools should absolutely cease. The report of the standing committee of missions to freedmen was then presented. The report showed that 87 missionaries had been sent out during the year; that 300 churches and missions had been aided, and eighty parochial and fourteen boarding schools had been maintained with a total of $22,000. Receipts amounted to over $172,000, with expenditures almost equal. The board has also undertaken to charge 278 Sunday schools with 18,231 scholars. Two new school buildings had been erected at a cost of $36,000. Property for church and school purposes had also been purchased at Richmond, Asherville and Little Rock. Ten new churches have been organized during the year, and $250,000 are asked for the coming year. Dr. Briggs, of New York, arrived this morning.

Committee on bills and overtures reported that it had not considered it wise in view of the present agitation in the church to proceed immediately with preparation of a shorter creed. This shoves the matter for another year. The final report of the committee on revision of the confession of faith was presented. Some of the changes proposed impair the integrity of the Calvinistic system of confession. The action proposed by the committee consists of twenty-eight overtures, each one covering a change of twenty eight changes in the confession. Thirteen are accepted to the points covered are preterition, creation, covenant, new chapters on holy spirit, man's fall, new chapter on gospel predestination, effectual, infant salvation, non-election and Lord's supper. The expiration of the hour caused the consideration of the report to go over as unfinished business which may come up at any time.

WORK OF FIRE-BUGS.

CHEHALIS, May 23.—Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock the fire fiend visited the city again, and now smoldering heaps, where a few hours ago were sightly structures, bear witness to the completeness of his work. The fire was started on the upper floor of the vacant building on Main street belonging to George Gregg, to which, for several weeks past, has been easy access, and which had on that account become a nest of tramps, loafers and drunks. The fire department and the citizens, who volunteered their assistance, made magnificent efforts to save the adjacent buildings, but with the miserable facilities at hand they were compelled to become powerless spectators of the destruction of the property. The chemical engine, the only protection against fire in the city, was charged and discharged as rapidly as possible, but it accomplished nothing. The fire spread as though endowed with wings. A strong north wind was blowing, and the block across the street, together with the buildings below, were enveloped within twenty minutes. Four blocks of wooden buildings were in a midst of a sea of flame within forty minutes after the alarm was sounded. The losses amount to $111,850 and the insurance was $34,600. The fire was beyond doubt of incendiary origin.

A Fortune in a Can.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—The tearing down of several old houses in Morton street just above Kearney, has brought a fortune to a laborer named John Johnson, who was employed in demolishing the buildings. The property belongs to Levi Strauss, and when the contractor took the contract to clear the lot so as to make room for a brick addition to a clothing store adjoining, the frame structures were sold to a restaurateur named Wilson. In the back yard among the rubbish was a giant powder-can which nearly every one had considered empty, or filled with worthless stuff, as it had been knocked around there for years, but Johnson is an old miner, and looked with more reverence upon the contents of the despoiled can. After making an investigation, he asked Wilson to give him $25 for the can and its contents, saying the metal might be worth something. The offer was promptly refused, as Johnson had expected. So Johnson carried the material over to the mill and received $6000 for the gold dust. That was what the can was filled with.

In the House Today.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—In the house the resolution of Watson, of Georgia, requesting the committee of ways and means to report the substitute bill, adopted. The bill granting pension to ex-Senator Geo. W. Jones, Iowa, was passed. The river and harbor bill with senate amendments was referred to committee on rivers and harbors.

NEW YORK, May 23.—A Syracuse special says: A soldier's movement has been started here which may have an important influence on the politics of this state. The plan is to organize veteran leagues all over the state and give them a distinctly political character local, as well as general.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Grotton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined that if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took it in all right bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottle free at Danl. J. Fry's, Druggist, regular size, 50c, and $1.00.

Congress Saturday.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—After routine business the bill appropriating $50,000 for a pedestal statue to the late General W. T. Sherman was reported from the committee on military affairs to the house, and passed on the calendar. The house then went into committee of the whole, with Leair, of Georgia, in the chair, on the sundry civil appropriation bill. Forney's amendment, providing that the board of managers of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers apply the excess over $5 a month pension to all inmates to the support of the homes, except where the inmates has a dependent wife, child, or parent, was adopted, 96 to 93, after vigorous opposition. After several unimportant amendments were presented and acted upon, the committee rose and the house adjourned.

They Consider the Epworth League Affairs.
OMAHA, May 23.—Bishop Andrews presided at the session of the Methodist conference. It was decided to elect two secretaries for the Freedman's Aid society instead of one. The report of the committee on the Epworth League was adopted. Dr. J. C. Hartzell and Dr. C. M. Grandison were chosen secretaries of the Freedman's Aid society. The discipline was amended to allow the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor to organize as branches of the Epworth League. After some further discussion on Epworth League matters, in which it was decided the presiding elders should carefully watch after the welfare of the league branches. Dr. Hays, of Tennessee, colored delegate, created a stir by accusing the Rev. Charles Parkhurst, editor of Zion's Herald, of Boston, of insulting the colored members through the columns of his paper. Rev. Parkhurst explained he only meant a little friendly advice, and matters were smoothed over.
