never be prosecuted, as is sometimes the case now; in fact too often for the good of the tax-payers of this County.

I am also in favor of cutting down the clerks and sheriff's fees in this county. It is only within the last three or four years that the salaries of these offices have got to be larger than they should be. They have got so on account of the growth and increased business of the county.

Ten years ago we graded down the fees of the clerks and sheriffs of this county twenty-five per cent. I helped to do it then. This is a practical question, and it is one we must look out for time to time, so that these officers shall receive only a reasonable compensation for the services that they render. Any man whom you may elect to those offices will take what the law allows him, and the remedy for that evil lies with the legislature.

It has been circulated that I said some of the officers stole from the taxpayers. That was a mis-quotation. I did not say that at Macleay, and I have not said it anywhere else. What I did say was this; that some of the legislation of this state as carried on was robbing the people, and I said that the Tramp law robbed the taxpayers of this county and the people of the state of Oregon, and it did. Such legislation should be avoided in the future, and to this end laws should be carefully studied before being passed.

There is another thing I desire to call attention to: Our legislature's time is too much taken up with other matters than discussing the vital questions that should be discussed there in order that the people of this country may be benefited. There is too much time taken up in election of United States senators, railroad commissioners, etc., and I am in favor of amending the constitution so that the United States senators of the state of Oregon, and all other officers shall be voted for, and elected by a direct vote of the people. Then the people will pass upon them the same as they will pass upon us, and then our legislators can put in the forty days looking into the details of measures that will be to your best interests, and the best interests of our state at large.

In just 24 hours J. V. S. relieves constipation and sick headaches. After it gets the system under control an occasional dose prevents return. We refer by permission to W. H. Marshall, Tremble House, S. F.; Geo. A. Werner, 531 California St., S. F.; Mrs. C. Melvin, 136 Kearny St., S. F., and many others who have found relief from constipation and sick headaches. G. W. Vincent, of 4 Terrace Court, S. F. writes: "I am 40 years of age and have had constipation 23 years. I was induced to try Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I recognized in it an herb the Mexicans used to give us in the early 60's for bowel troubles. It came to me in 1920, and I knew it would help me and it has. For the first time in years I can sleep well and my system is regular. The old Mexican herbs in this remedy are a certain cure in constipation and bowel troubles." Ask for

HORR ON THE TARIFF.

The Opera House Packed Friday Evening to Hear Horr.

The opera house was crowded with the largest political audience of the season, to hear Hon. R. G. Horr's great speech on national politics.

The silver-haired veteran Republican was escorted in a carriage, to Reed's by E. M. Waite, president of the Salem Republican club, and the Second Regiment band discoursed sweet music for the occasion.

THE STAGE was profusely decorated by that gallant young Republican, J. J. Fitzgerald, secretary of the club. Immense bouquets of Marshal Neil and Jacqueminot roses almost hid from view the score of Republican veterans who occupied seats on the stage.

The U. S. flag, without which a Republican meeting is not complete, hung everywhere and immense applause greeted the rostrum form of the speaker as he stepped forward and was introduced by Mr. Waite.

HIS SPEECH was punctuated with wit and applause. He said he was one of the founders of the Republican party and knew the history of the party pretty well. He also knew as much of the history of the Democratic party as any good Democrat cared to have him mention in public. He would not refer to Democrats as tariff reformers, but simply as free traders. He would not use the term reformers as it tended to mix up such men as Dave Hill and Grover Cleveland with Martin Luther, Melancthon and John Brown.

He proceeded to illustrate the difference between the Democratic position for a revenue tariff, and the Republican position for a protective tariff. He called on tariff reformers to name any article that had been manufactured on a large scale in this country that had not been cheapened to the consumer. There was no response, tho' the speaker called repeatedly for a single article. He showed how under protective tariffs salt, nails, steel rails, hardware, farming implements, axes, crockery were cheapened under high duties. Under a protective tariff we made $68,000,000 worth of silk goods last year, employing 40,000 people at this work alone, and cheapened it more than one-half and cotton goods were sold at far less than in free trade times from 1850 to 1860.

The speech was a great event for Salem Republicans and leaves the best possible feeling in the ranks of the party here.

WHAT REPUBLICANS SAY.

Remarks of Our Legislative Candidates at Woodburn Friday.

Samuel Layman, Republican candidate on the representative ticket for Marion county, being at his home and speaking to his neighbors, deferred any argument on the political issues of the day.

T. T. GEER'S SPEECH.

Hon. T. T. Geer, being pressed for time, was compelled to say about six things in five minutes. On the tariff question he said that an old German at Mehama had made the strongest protection speech he ever heard. He said that the cheapest pants he could get in that country were $1.25 per pair; he paid the same for his shirts that he did here; we asked him what his wages were, and he said $30.00 a year, and he had to get up at three o'clock in the morning. The very same pants that he paid $1.25 for there, only cost us here from seventy-five cents to one dollar.

Now the young gentleman on my right (referring to John Star) says that he is in favor of making the clerks office a salaried office. He does not know that when Mr. Ford and I were in the legislature twelve years ago, we favored making that a salaried office. The supreme court of this state decided that it was unconstitutional.

While on this campaign I have been attacked on the subject of my railroad bill. I am proud to say that I was the author of that bill. Mr. Jory says that the bill is full of loopholes. I have to say that it is the law of Iowa, and it has been pronounced good there. The railroad company employed the best counsel possible for the purpose of defeating that law, and it has stood the test, and it is the saving of thousands of dollars to the people of Oregon today.

McCrow & Willard have just completed a fine cold storage plant in their lower Commercial street market, which is now working to perfection. Mr. Chas. Booth, of the Oakland iron works, has been here and put it in. The refrigerator consists of three rooms in the center of the market made of eight inch walls containing dead air spaces. Above these rooms are about 500 feet of pipes containing the cold currents, from which the cold air comes down, while the warm air is allowed to raise and escape above.

HOW IS THE COLD PRODUCED? This plant is the ammonia compression system, by which liquid ammonia is placed in a tank and allowed to expand through the pipes. Owing to the great expansive power of this chemical and consequent rarified condition produced in the vacuum, frost is formed on the outside of the pipes, thus producing the cold. The next process is the condensation and compression of this gaseous ammonia back into liquid form, which is done by running the pipes through a tank of cold running water. Then the engine pumps it back into the feeding tank, and thus it is continuously re-used. For this purpose a four-horse upright steam engine is used, which always runs a large meat chopper, spice mill, steam lard tank and agitator, all of which are in a room at the rear of the shop adjoining the smoke-house and sausage room.

With all these new additions McCrow & Willard have two of the best markets on the coast. Mr. Willard, the manager, can feel duly proud of his success in building up in five years a fine trade by keeping a first class establishment. Mr. Booth frankly admitted that he had met with no better shop in all his experience. A neat balcony office has also been added, which is a great convenience. A track with rolling books runs from the front door of the shop, on which a quarter of beef or a whole hog can be hung and rolled back into the refrigerating room with the greatest ease. Here the meat can hang for weeks in a steady temperature of about 40 degrees. There is no shrinkage, and the meat retains all its juices and at the same time the fibres are so reduced as to make the meat both delicious and tender. Mr. Willard will take pleasure in showing any visitors through their refrigerating rooms and market at any time, and it is truly worth seeing.

FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

COMMANDER'S ORDERS.

All members of Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps, No. 1, and all members Sedgwick post, No. 10, G. A. R. are hereby requested to meet at the hall in the Insurance building on Monday, May 30th, at 1 o'clock p. m. sharp, and march to the cemetery to take part in the exercises of the day and to decorate the graves of our departed comrades. All old soldiers and sailors are requested to join us in the exercises of the day and all citizens are especially invited to be present on that day.

FOR CHURCH.

Members of Sedgwick W. R. C., No. 1, and Sedgwick post, No. 10, are requested to meet at the hall, Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m., and march in a body to the church. By order of James Batchelor, post commander.

THE PROGRAM.

arranged by the G. A. R. includes a procession at 1:30 p. m. from the post hall; the ritual at the graves of the veterans; interspersed with music and singing; decoration of the graves, etc.

IN THE EVENING.

there will be an appropriate program at the opera house, including music, addresses by Mrs. Supt. Grubb and P. Prest, Whitaker, B. and H. Co.'s, O. N. G., will take part in the parade and all civic societies, school children and public are invited.

CARS WILL RUN.

An extra force of men have been at work all day getting the track in shape to have electric cars run to Rural Cemetery on Decoration day. One walk over the viaduct is also completed and an approach is to be built at each end to form a carriage way across.

NO PROCESSION.

Since publishing the above, the committee inform us that it has been decided to abandon the procession to the cemetery, but it will form and proceed to Marion square instead. A detail will decorate the graves.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The annual sermon before the Sedgwick Post G. A. R. and the Sedgwick W. R. C. will be preached by Rev. H. H. Brown at Unity church at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow from the text, "Why This Waste?" There will be excellent singing as the choir has been reinforced by volunteers from Salem's best singers and the ladies of Unity church have taken great pains in decorating the church and hope to equal if not excel any similar decorations in our city. Two hundred extra chairs are provided and all who thus desire to keep the day will be welcomed. Mr. Brown's evening discourse will be upon "One Religion, Many Creeds."

MR. FORD'S REMARKS.

Mr. Ford, after mentioning some of the issues between the parties of a national character, said that what we all desired was the best possible government at the least cost which should be equally borne by all alike, war, farming implements, axes, crockery were cheapened under high duties. Under a protective tariff we made $68,000,000 worth of silk goods last year, employing 40,000 people at this work alone, and cheapened it more than one-half and cotton goods were sold at far less than in free trade times from 1850 to 1860.

The speech was a great event for Salem Republicans and leaves the best possible feeling in the ranks of the party here.

IN ADJOURNED TERM.

The Champagne road was ordered repaired.

Father Adelhelm, of Mt. Angel was allowed $300.

Court adjourned to meet in regular June term on Wednesday, June 8th.

WOOLEN MILLS FIRE.

Flames Started in a Drying Room Nearly Cause a Conflagration.

At 1:45 an alarm reached the Tiger engine house, and in a few minutes both engines and the fire department were flying thro' clouds of dust to the Salem Woolen Mills.

Before their arrival the employees had the pumps working and a three-inch hose playing on the flames checked their spread. The engines got streams on the buildings very rapidly and the stiff southeast wind rendered the situation an extremely dangerous one, as the wool drying room where the fire originated from steam pipes was at the southeast corner. The timely arrival of the Salem fire department was a source of great satisfaction and caused a feeling of perfect safety for the immense plant.

THE LOSS to the company, including damage to material by fire and water will not be over $1000, and is covered by insurance. Work will not stop owing to the fire.

A great many people were disappointed at not hearing Mrs. Lense, who was announced to speak at Salem this afternoon. Mrs. Emory came however.

Lebanon Advance: Notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Lense is possessed of masculine boldness in the discussion of political issues, which may suggest to little men and puny natures that she has usurped the authority of the sterner sex, she embodies all the graces and instincts of pure, genuine womanhood. She has reared a family of children, one of whom, a son six years of age, accompanies her, as she remarked, "to keep me from getting homesick."

There is no city in the United States exempt from the dangers of malaria. Ayer's Ague Cure neutralizes all malarial poisons.

The Montreal Herald says: The "Cattle King" is a very meritorious border drama full of fun and pathos, abounding in exacting incidents and realistic situations, and may very well be recommended not only to those who love this peculiar style of drama, but to the general play-going public, for in its construction is embodied the elements necessary to attract and amuse any audience. Mr. James H. Wallick is not by any means unknown in Montreal, and in his very clever portrayal of the duel characters of the American Cattle King and the champion poker player of the Pacific slope, is very successful. He is supported by a carefully selected company. The trained horses ridden on the stage by Miss Outback and Mr. Wallick are handsome specimens. The clever tricks performed by Mr. Wallick's steed are of a nature to excite wonder and amusement.

A REVIVED CHURCH.—The Cumberland Presbyterian church is being revived. Rev. J. E. Blair, who came to Salem a month ago, has been busy getting the church repaired and ready to be opened on the second Sunday in June, the 12th. The church was built 21 years ago and has altogether been used by the C. P. society not over two years in all. The work of this church at Salem is now to be revived and placed upon a good working basis. The work has been taken in hand at Salem by the Board of Missions at St. Louis, Mr. Blair being their missionary. At least a score of families in Salem are of this denomination, and $300 has been spent to make the building complete. Rev. Blair has been getting acquainted and gathering his people together and finds he will have quite a gathering. He is a pleasant and well educated gentleman and will be a strong addition to the clergyman of this city. He expects to fill the pulpit regularly as soon as the house is ready. Mr. and Mrs. Blair are making their home at S. A. Trimble's residence at 403 Summer street.

P. O. HOURS.—On Decoration day the Salem post office will be open until two o'clock p. m. Carriers will make morning and noon deliveries. No money orders or registry business will be transacted.

ON TOP.—Hart & Tallaferro are growing constantly in their reputation for fine suits. 68 Court street.

MILITARY MATTERS.

Col. S. L. Lowell has decided to move the headquarters of "I" Co. from Macleay to Salem. We will then have three companies in this city, and will be better entitled to an armory than ever before. All young men who wish to join Co. "I" can have their names with Percy Willis, at the Capitol Adventure Co. It is intended to make a crack company of the new organization.
