here, charged with attempting to assault a white woman at Chattanooga, on May 19. That is a commonplace statement that covers an exciting experience. Weims was arrested immediately after the alleged assault and was jailed at Chattanooga. The next night a mob captured the jail, only to find that Weims had been spirited away. His whereabouts were unknown for 24 hours, when he was located in Nashville. Mob spirit became rampant and a second riot followed in the capital city, in which a dozen men were hurt, one seriously. The police forced the crowd back, while Weims, in the garb of the jail cook, boldly walked out and joined the officers at the depot. Then began a race that outclassed anything ever seen in this state. Weims was taken to Gutherie, Ky., but was compeled to leave in an hour to avoid a mob. The telegraph operators along the railroads joined in and, as far as possible, kept the town ahead informed. Weims was taken to Clarksville Sunday night. A mob surrounded the jail at midnight, but Weims, Jailor Heind and Deputy Sheriff Sellar, of Chattanooga, all heavily armed with cocked revolvers, marched through the crowd to the depot. The train was fired on at every station on the way to Nashville. Late as it was, armed men paced the station platforms and made ugly threats. When Nashville was reached the officers refused to take Weims, and a start was made for Chattanooga. Every town along the route furnished menacing crowds, and guns were thrust through the car windows. Chattanooga had been informed of Weim's coming, and a mob had gone out six miles from the city to lynch him. The officers heard of it, and while the train was running twenty miles an hour Weims was thrown off the car. The officers jumped after him and they took to the mountains, tramping for eighteen hours. All through the night they heard their pursuers and saw their torches. At Oaltewah, which was reached at daybreak, they took a train for Knoxville, which was reached in the afternoon. Weims was denied admission to the jail, as he had been at other points, and was brought on to this place, where he was locked up.

In five days he had traveled 1000 miles, saw over 200 mobs ready to lynch him, was refused admission to a score of jails, was attacked in three, went twenty-four hours without food, during which time he traveled twenty-five miles over the worst mountains in the state; was thrown from a train; was shot at and visited three states, and was so near two others he could see them. If the story could be told with all its details, narrow escapes, exciting encounters, wild rides, lonely walks and agonies of suspense, it would outrival a novel. Weims claims the woman met him by appointment.

A Prominent Doctor Accused of Murder

A gentleman recently made a startling accusation in the hearing of the writer. Said he, "I firmly believe that Dr.———,intentionally or unintentionally, killed my wife. He pronounced her complaint —Consumption—incurable. She accepted his verdict, and—died. Yet since then I have heard of at least a dozen cases, quite as far advanced as hers, that have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Her life might have been saved, for Consumption is not incurable." Of course it is not. The "Discovery" will remove every trace of it, if taken in time and used faithfully. Consumption is a disease of the blood—a scrofulous affection—and the "Discovery" strikes at the root of the evil. For all cases of weak lungs, spitting of blood, severe lingering coughs and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public.

Merit Wins

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes That Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists; $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

McMINNVILLE FIRE.

The Presbyterians—The Baltimore Has Gone, Etc.

FIRE AT McMINNVILLE.

A Block Including the Postoffice Burned Out.

McMINNVILLE.—Fire broke out this morning at 2:30 in Bond & Co.'s butcher shop on Third street and burned all the buildings in the block except Manning's brick. The fire company did excellent work to confine the fire to one block. The losses are Jones & Adams, hardware, $3000, fully insured; James Fletcher, real estate, $1000, no insurance; Bond & Co., butchers, $2000, no insurance; Union Hardware Co., $2000, no insurance; Wm. Campbell, buildings, $1000, no insurance; Ballard candy store, $500, insured; J. C. Cooper, postoffice, $1000, insured.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Question of Revision—A Protest Will Be Formulated.

PORTLAND, May 31.—The reading of the minutes at the morning's session yesterday of the general assembly disclosed the fact that a protest against the precipitate action of Friday night upon revision will be formulated and introduced at a later date.

A resolution was adopted, reversing the decision of the New York presbytery in the case of Dr. Briggs and remanding the case to the New York presbytery for a new trial.

The report on theological seminaries was then taken up. Discussion on the report took up the entire morning sesion, and was not finished when the noon hour arrived. The assembly held a night session and expect to finish their business today noon, Washington, D. C., and Pittsburg are being talked of for the place of meeting next year.

At the afternoon session the rush of business incident to the closing hours began. It will be continued to the close, and an evening session was voted in order to secure adjournment by the usual time today.

The great interest of the day was in the "Supplementary" report of the theological seminaries committee. The matter had been recommitted to obtain harmonious action. The knowledge that the minority could not join in the other report avowedly led to a strengthening of the phraseology which in the interval had been adopted. In spite of the best efforts of the majority their report was superseded by an entirely new set of resolutions at the evening session.

In the discussion of temperance considerable importance was laid upon the recommendation of unfermented wine for use in the sacrament. A protest was made against the statement that no christian can conscientiously vote in favor of any party which does not avow as one of its principles suppression of the saloon and liquor evil. This sentiment was retained, upon division, by a vote of 216 to 206.

The Presbsterians.

PORTLAND, May 31.—The session of the Presbyterian general assembly for 1892 is fast drawing to a close and today will see the final adjournment. At a late hour last night the assembly selected Washington, D. C., as the place of meeting for the next year. The transactions of this morning's session was mainly routine. The first topic of general interest concerned the Columbian fair. Overtures from the presbyteries and synods on the Sunday opening led to the adoption of a resolution that if the fair shall be opened on the Sabbath, the exhibition of the Presbyterian church shall be offered only on condition that it shall be covered on that day.

A resolution was adopted saying "Our church holds that the inspired word, as it comes from God is without error. The vow of ordination recognizes the Bible as the only infallible rule of faith and practice." And it was recomended that those officers of the church who have ceased to hold this view should seek a congenial place outside the pale of denomination without waiting for discipline.

Tornadoes and Storms.

WICHITA, Kans., May 30.—Two tornadoes passed to the north of Caldwell last night. One man is known to have been killed. Much damage to property. Details not yet received.

STERLING, Kans', May 30.—A heavy hail storm, some of the hail stones, measuring seveal inches in circumferance last night caused great destruction to crops.

WELLINGTON, Kans., May 30.—The most terrible rain storm that ever visited this section fell this morning, adding to the misery and distress of the already miserable inhabitants, and ruining what was left of unroofed stocks of goods.

NEWPORT, Ark., May 30.—A tornado struck the little town of Auvergne last night. The academy building and the new Methodist church were blown down and other buildings damaged. There was no loss of life so far as heard from.

MEXICO, Mo., May 30.—A cyclone devasted the northern part of Audrain county last night. Barns and houses were blown down, crops torn up, orchards ruined, and trees uprooted. A cloud-burst followed the cyclone, flooding the devastated district.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS

Opposed to Hill—Met in Convention.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 31.—Democrats opposed to Hill and his mid-winter snap convention, met in state convention here this afternoon. They were called to order by ex-Secretary of the Treasury Chas. C. Fairchild, chairman of the state committee. John B. Kernan, Oneida county, was chosen permanent chairman. Platform adopted reads as follows: In regard to silver: "We approve the use of both gold and silver as money but demand all dollars, whether gold or silver, shall be equal in value to each other, in fact, as well as by declaration of law.

The platform then takes up the factional fight in the state, without mentioning names, denounces the methods employed in calling the mid-winter convention by Hill's friends and declares Cleveland the choice of the majority of the Democrats in New York and that the country may rely with confidence in his ability to carry the state in triumph in November. It gives a pledge to support the candidate nominated at Chicago, and instructs the delegation to act as a unit. After the appointment of committees the convention took a recess. Committee selected as delegates at large; A. E. Orr, of Brooklyn; F. R. Coudert, of New York; C. F. Bishop, of Buffalo; and D. C. Robinson, of Elmira.

They Drew the Color Line.

NEW ORLEANS, May 31.—The Decoration Day celebration here was entirely in the hands of the colored posts of the Grand Army of the Republic. The white people held memorial services at the churches Sunday, but refused to go to the National cemetery, and the Confederate veterans, who have presented floral offerings in the past, refused, to do so this year. declining to have anything to do with the negroes who, in consequence, monopolized the celebration.

The Day at Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Memorial day was observed here in the usual way. Appropriate exercises were held at the Arlington and Soldiers' Home cemeteries, and the graves of the 30,000 soldiers buried in and about Washington were decorated, as were the monuments of the Union leaders in various parts of the city. Later in the day special services were held at General John A. Logan's tomb, under the auspices of the Logan camp of the Sons of Veterans, the Illinois Republican associations and other oganizations.

In Spite of the Rain.

CHICAGO, May 31.—Memorial Day was duly observed here. In the morning the Grand Army posts proceeded to the various cemetries and decorated the graves with flowers, not forgetting 7000 Confederate dead at old Camp Douglass. The arrangements for an elaborate parade this afternoon were carried out in spite of the rain, which poured down incessantly for several hours.

The Cholera.

CALCUTTA, May 31.—The cholera at Serinager, Vale of Cashmere, has caused 1600 deaths the past week. There is a panic among the natives augmented by a fire which destroyed 2000 houses and rendered 8000 people homeless. The crops are almost a failure, food at famine prices. Europeans have all fled. The deaths since May 7th have been 2450.

From Hawaii.

HONOLULU, May 31.— Volney V. Ashford and Robert Willcox, the well known agitators were arrested together with eighteen others on May 21st after a meeting of the liberal party. They are charged with conspiring the overthrow of the present government and to establish a republic.

At Andersonville.

MACON, May 30.—Decoration Day was observed today at Andersonville, in the presece of not less than 7000 people. It was an orderly assemblage, however. Visitors were present from every state in the Union, and immense quantities of flowers were received from all directions. General John Temples Graves was the orator of the day.

The Day at Portland.

PORTLAND, May 31.— Memorial day was observed here in the usual manner. Yesterday afternoon there was a general suspension of business, and the parade was participated in by Grand Army posts, National Guard and officers and crews of the cruisers Baltimore and Charleston.

Heavy Rains.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31. — This city and central Indiana have had few such rains as fell last night and early this morning. In fact it was a cloudburst. Streets filled with water and flowed over the curbs into the yards. Rogue's run, which runs through the city, became a raging torrent and many people had to flee for their lives.

Carry the News to Mary.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Western Union Telegraph has arranged to send bulletins from the National conventions, in connection with the associated press, to all parts of the country, and give them to the public free of charge.

The Baltimore Has Left.

PORTLAND, May 31.—The United States Cruiser Baltimore left down the river at eleven o'clock today. She will be followed in a few days by the Charleston.

SLAVIN NO MATCH

For Jackson.—Whipped in Ten Rounds.

LONDON, MAY 31.—The national club was crowded to suffocation last night with spectators, anxious to witness the Slavin-Jackson fight. It was 10 minutes after 7 when Jackson and Slavin made their appearance in the ring to begin the fight.

In the first round Jackson led off with a light tap on Slavin's body Prolonged sparring ensued. Jackson, though he did not hit with much force, kept his long left arm constantly in Slavin's face. Twice Slavin clinched, and was ordered by his referee to break away. He then tried to land a right on Jackson, but the latter jumped away, and the round ended very evenly.

Second round—The instant time was called Slavin made a savage rush at his antagonist, as though he intended to annihilate him, but Jackson always had his long left arm in Slavin's face. Three times Slavin rushed to close quarters, with the same futile result. Jackson then took the initial, and drove his left and right in quick succession on Slavin's body. Slavin appeared to be tiring as the round closed.

In the third round Jackson kept prodding Slavin in the mouth and left eye, and the eye began to show signs of closing. In the last minute of the round a splendid rally occurred, when Slavin hit harder and Jackson struck more frequently. Both were hard at work when time was called.

Fourth round—After the call of time, Slavin was the first to get to work. Jackson seemed to have already taken his rival's measure. Every time Slavin rushed in he met the negro's left.

Fifth round—Both men started in and fought through the round at a terrific pace, each doing his utmost to win.

Sixth round—Slavin worked Jackson into a corner, and landed two heavy blows on his ribs. The negro jumped out, and landed a swinging left and right on Slavin's head.

Seventh round—Jackson time after time banged his left into Slavin's face, and before the round was half over Slavin's eye was nearly closed.

Eighth round—Jackson again banged away at Slavin for all he was worth, and had the best of the round at finish, odds of six to four being laid on him at the close.

Ninth—Slavin made a grand effort to keep on equal terms with Jackson, but received several more swinging handed blows on the mouth and eye. Jackson was shooting his right with great effect, and had the best of the exchanges when the two men were ordered to the corner.

Tenth—Slavin came up very game, but weaker than he looked. After a few exchanges, Jackson landed a swinging right-handed blow on Slavin's throat, sending him against the rope. Before Slavin was able to recover, Jackson was for him with both hands. Slavin became dazed from the effects of the terrible punishment. The negro fought him all around the ring, and succeeded in knocking him out in the first two minutes of the round.

Jackson was declared the victor, amid terrific cheering. Jackson tipped the scales at 193 pounds, and Slavin at 185 pounds.

Slavin, knowing the man he had to deal with, soon abandoned the running tactics in favor of cautious sparring. When it comes to out-fighting, Slavin is no match for Jackson, who displayed wonderful science; yet Slavin's sudden collapse in the tenth round was an utter surprise to the majority of the spectators who thought Jackson could win only by points.

Mine Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 31.—A terrible explosion occurred this morning in the West End coal company's mine at Mocanique, twenty miles distant. In a drift where eleven men were working, most of whom were seriously burned. Fire Boss John Pethroe and John Welter, a miner, were taken out dead.

"Puzzled The Doctors."

MOST of the cases cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla have been given up by the regular practice. Physicians are recommending this medicine more than ever, and with satisfactory results.

E. M. Sargent, Lowell, Mass., says: "Several years ago, my daughter broke out with large sores on her hand, face, and other parts of her body. The case puzzled the doctors. My daughter used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it resulted in a complete cure. Her blood seems to have been thoroughly purified, as she has never had so much as a pimple since taking this medicine."

"This is to certify that after having been sick for twelve years with kidney disease and general debility, and having been treated by several physicians without relief, I am now better in every respect, and think I am nearly well, having taken seven bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Maria Ludwigson, Albert Lea, Minn.

DECORATION DAY.

New York Has a Big Parade and Decorates the Graves.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Decoration day dawned bright and clear, but as the morning wore on the sky became overcast, and shortly before 9 o'clock a vigorous shower set in which continued several minutes. The weather was hazy and close, with occasional showers. The grand feature of the day was the military parade in which the regular troops, the militia, naval reserve, and the G. A. R. took part.

The procession consisted of a detachment of regular troops who marched at its head. Following came the First brigade of the militia, consisting of the Sixty-ninth, Eighty-ninth, Twenty-second, Seventh, Twelfth and Seventy-first regiments, the first and second batteries and troop A. Then came the naval reserve. 10 Grand Army posts in eight divisions. The regular parade started from Fifty-eighth street and Fifth avenue at exactly 9 o'clock and went down the avenue to the reviewing stand at the Worth monument, where it was reviewed by Mayor Grant; Thence to Fourteenth street, to Union square, north to Seventeeth street and to the plaza, where a marching salute was paid the grand marshal; thence to Fourteenth street to Fourth avenue, where the parade was dismissed.

After breaking ranks, the different posts and associations went to the various cemeteries, where they decorated the graves of fallen heroes. There were special servises at Gen. Grant's tomb at Riverside Park. General Horace Porter, chairman of the Grant monument committee, delivered a eulogy on the character of the hero. Members of the Loyal Legion were also at the tomb; also a number of ex-confederates, among them Colgnel Marshall, who delivered an address. At the conclusion of the ceremonies a number of G. A. R. posts strewed the tomb with floral offerings. The United States steamship Jamestown was anchoroed in the Hudson river directly opposite the tomb, and guns were fired every half hour.

Raves Mountain High—

Or somewhat less—threaten, during a storm to engulf the venturous voyager on the tempestuous Atlantic. Sometimes he is torn with deep despair at such a juncture, sometimes he is rather glad of it. The latter condition of mind obtains when he is sea sick. The diabolical qualms which he has undergone, and which are now aggravated ten fold by the pitching of the ship, render him in a measure indifferent to his fate. This picture is scarcely exaggerated, as people who have been violently sea sick will assure you. Travelers and tourists by sea and land should always be provided with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a means of countersting sea sickness and nervous disturbance or stomach trouble begotten of uncomfortable transit by land or water, or unwholesome food hastily swallowed at railway stations. Emigrants should supply themselves with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a family safeguard against malaria, stomach, liver and bowel complaints, kidney trouble and rheumatism.
