"August Flower"

The Hon. J. W. Fennimore is the Sheriff of Kent Co., Del., and lives at Dover, the County Seat and Capital of the State. The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have "used your August Flower for sev"eral years in my family and for my "own use, and found it does me "more good than any other remedy. "I have been troubled with what I "call Sick Headache. A pain comes "in the back part of my head first, "and then soon a general headache "until I become sick and vomit. "At times, too, I have a fullness "after eating, a pressure after eating "at the pit of the stomach, and "sourness, when food seemed to rise "up in my throat and mouth. When "I feel this coming on if I take a "little August Flower it relieves "me, and is the best remedy I have "ever taken for it. For this reason "I take it and recommend it to "others as a great remedy for Dys"pepsia, &c." ③

Where Borax Comes From.

Borax is found in portions of central Asia, in Peru, in Transylvania and in Canada, but the finest and purest natural salts thus far discovered come from California, being found in what is now known as borax lake. This body of water, about 4,000 by 1,800 feet, though only some three feet in depth, is so heavily charged with the salt that the bed is covered with the crystals, in a state of such purity that they are ready for use in assaying and for like purposes. The general supply, however, is principally manufactured from the elements, boracic acid and soda.—Newton Norton in Good Housekeeping.

Masonic Intelligence.

"What do those letters stand for?" asked a curious wife of her husband as she looked at his Masonic seal.

"Well, really, my love," he replied encouragingly, "I presume it is because they can't sit down." She postponed further questioning.—Texas Siftings.

Manners—by a Boy.

Manners don't in it with mussul. When it kums to a pinch mussal is what counts.

Manners is mostly fur company. Ma doan't say so, but that's the only time she yuses any manners is when theys company.

Manners is all rite fur gurls. It doan't matter whether they appeer well or not.

Manners only pays fur boys when theys mince pi comin an yure like to git sent away frum the tabel if yer doan't act perlite.

I kno manners.

All yer haf ter do is ter drink soop out uv the side uv yure spoon and not laf wile the minister sez grase.—Detroit Tribune.

Obliging.

Aunt—Do you think such an inexperienced young man can cut off my leg?

Nephew—He says he is willing to try.—Brooklyn Life.

Inherited.

"Pa, can I have some money to go to the circus?" This was the modest and reasonable request of little Johnny Whittaker one evening last week, sent, at what he considered an auspicious time, in the direction of his sire.

"Hey?" said Mr. Whittaker.

Johnny proferred his request for the second time with faltering voice and indications of rain on his part. Johnny and the circus were zones apart at that moment.

"Want to go to the circus, hey! And you going to Sunday school every week! Don't you know that circuses are wicked? I never wanted to go the circus when I was a boy. (While this was not a deliberate lie on Mr. Whittaker's part, it was certainly a perversion of the truth for political effect.) And what do you want to see at the circus?"

"I—I—w-want to see the w-wild a-animals," said Johnny, beginning to blubber in earnest.

"Want to see the wild animals, hey? Don't you twist the cat's tail often enough? Where did you get your love for wild animals? I never cared for them."

"I—I inherited it."

"Inherited it! Well, I never. And who from, pray?"

"F-from N-Noah," sobbed the despairing hopeful.

The promptness of Johnny's reply, combined with the evidence that his religious instruction had not been wasted on the desert air, was too much for the "old man," and he came down at once with the necessary silver.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Sympathetic Financier.

A wealthy stockbroker was passing along the boulevards in the company of a lady when his handkerchief was abstracted by a pickpocket. But our speculator had his weather eye open and caught the depredator red handed. His first impulse was to call a policeman. On second thought, however, he decided to astonish his fair companion by his generosity, and said:

"Bah! let him go. I must not forget that I began in a small way myself!"—Nouvelles a la Main.

Great Fun.

Suburban Boy—Pop, won't you get me a sword, and a drum, and a gun to play soldier with?

Pop—I'll tell you how we'll fix it. We'll pretend every blade of grass on the lawn is an armed foe, and then you charge on them with Gatling swords and cut their heads off. Won't that be fun?

"Indeed it will. But I haven't any Gatling swords."

"No, but a lawn mower will do nicely."—Good News.

A Serious Injury.

Scene, auditorium of a theater. Spectator, intensely interested in the action of the drama, leans too far over the balcony rail and suddenly loses his balance, falling into the orchestra.

Excited Individual (hastening to the unfortunate's assistance)—Are you much injured?

Unfortunate (with considerable show of feeling)—Much injured! I should think I am. I have lost the best seat in the very middle of the front row.—Harper's Bazar.

A Mere Deception.

They were talking to Guibollard about the rise of the Seine, when he exclaimed, "It is all humbug. I went to Chatou yesterday; the water seems to have risen, but it is a mere deception."

"How so?"

"I had chalked a mark on my boat, and it's in the same place yet."—Telegraphe.

Not That Kind of Family.

Professor—This eccentricity you speak of in your daughter, isn't it after all a matter of heredity?

The Mother (severely)—No, sir! I'd have you to know, sir, there never was any heredity in our family!—Yankee Blade.

Attracted Them.

Dottie—Are you going to wear your red and white blazer at the seashore again this summer?

Lottie—No, indeed. I hadn't been there a week last year before I was proposed to by three barbers.—Cloak Review.

Been There.

Binks—I got a sure tip on the race yesterday.

Minks—That so? How much did you lose?—New York Weekly.
