

removed. The latter band together in this as in other matters, and will receive from the stockyards company stock to the amount of their value to the yards that pro rated on the basis of the agreement with the "Big Three." In other words, it is worth $3,000,000 to the yards to retain the plants of Armour, Swift and Morris, with the profits accruing therefrom. Therefore it is worth as much to retain the smaller packers as their business is worth, compared to that of the "Big Three," the $3,000,000 paid the latter being a unit. All the plants of the packers will remain at the Union yards.

The use of either the Tolleston lands or the Stickney tract at any time in the near future for stockyards or packing purposes will be determined by concerted action on the part of the three sides of the triangle to which the Union yards and the harmonized packers, big and little, can now be likened. The deal is closed, the papers signed, sealed and delivered, and nothing remains to be done but to rate the value of the small packers to the Union yards and pay them the money.

OWARDLY BANKER'S ACT.

Persecuting His Pretty, Poet.
STENOGRAPHER.

ATLANTA, June 14.—A sensational story was suppressed in the news papers here Saturday last after it had been put in type. About a week ago Miss Bertha Pierson, of Detroit, Mich., arrived in Atlanta to accept a situation as stenographer with J. D. Tolleson, president of the new bank opened in the Kimball house. Tolleson was cashier of the famous Mercantile bank, which failed several years ago, and spent a year in jail for contempt of court because he would not disgorge. The young lady had been recommended highly to Tolleson. Her appearance and behavior were in keeping with her recommendations. Miss Pierson secured board in a family in which Frank Weidon, a newspaper man, a member of the Constitution's staff, was also a boarder. Several days ago, the lady of the house told Mr. Weidon that Miss Pierson was being daily insulted by Tolleson; that she had no friends here, and was compelled to endure the behavior because she did not have money enough to go home. Mr. Weidon, in company with Remsen Crawford, at once called at Tolleson's bank and the three went into a private room, when Weidon indignantly notified Tolleson that unless he immediately ceased his persecution of his stenographer he would handle him in such a manner as he desired. Hot words ensued, and Tolleson drew a pistol on the newspaper men. The attention of the young lady, who was in an adjoining room, was attracted. She ran in and, recognizing Mr. Weidon and realizing the situation in a minute, snatched the pistol out of the banker's hands. She then accused him openly of his perfidy; but breaking down, entreated the newspaper man to let the matter drop, for fear of more serious results. Miss Pierson was, of course, discharged by Banker Tolleson, who succeeded in keeping the affair out of print.

Carnegie Grinding His Men.

PITTSBURGH, June 14.—One of the most bitter contests between labor and capital in recent years is expected to begin at the Homestead steel works of Carnegie, Phipps & Co. The 3000 workmen have until the 24th instant to decide whether or not they will accept a scale of wages which, they claim, will reduce their earning capacity from 10 to 40 per cent. They have not formally rejected the new scale, but no person expects them to accept it, and the active head of the Carnegie interest is the man who broke the last coke strike and disrupted the cokers' organization. He counts upon repeating the experience at Homestead.

The Pensions Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—In the senate, the pension appropriations bill was reported back with amendments. It carries a total appropriation of $146,737,550, and increase of $11,921,234 over the house bill and $11,522,565 more than last year. The principal items of increase are $11,907,634 for army and navy pensions.

Wonderful Results

Results often follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Severe cases of scrofula, upon which other preparations have been powerless, yield to the peculiar energetic powers of this medicine. Distressing cases of dyspepsia, excruciating complaints of the kidneys and liver, agonizing itches and pains of salt rheum, rheumatism, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood, and at the same time tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives strength to every faculty of the body. Give it a trial.

General Oblivion

For four years my wife suffered with large tumor lumps on the glands under the arms, and general debility of the whole system. She became so poor in health that we were on the verge of despair regarding her recovery. Physicians did not seem to understand her case, at all events she never derived any benefit from their treatment. She finally concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The immediate effect was so marked and satisfactory that she continued to take it, and this is the result she has gained in weight.

From 84 to 111 Pounds and in strength and in better health than she has been for years. The lumps under her arms have diminished, and we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla will be too much for them in time. J. J. NORCROSS, 228 Commercial Street, Boston, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by druggists. $1, six for $5. Prepared by D. D. HOOD & CO., Apolthoosier, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

THE ILLINOIS CYCLONE.

Galva Almost Swept Away—The Chicago Tornado.

GALVA DESTROYED.

Loss of Life Heavy—Meagre Details.

PEORIA, Ill., June 14.—Reports from the cyclone at Galva are meagre. The town contained about two thousand people. Reports are to the effect that almost the entire town is swept away. The cyclone struck the town about 5 p. m., the temperature fell rapidly and many fled to cellars, scores found after the storm in cellars and wells where they had taken refuge. Telegraphic communication is cut off, but reports obtained say it is estimated twenty or more are killed. Dead bodies are strewn over the devastated fields mingled with ruins of houses. PEORIA, Ill., June 14.—Full details of the cyclone at Galva, Ill., are not obtainable, as all wires are down. It is known several are killed but names can not be learned. No news was received here of a reported destruction of the town of Wenona, in Marshall county.

Wrecked by a Cyclone.

PEORIA, Ill., June 14.—Word has just been received in the city that Galva town, Henry county, forty-five miles north of here, was last evening wrecked by a cyclone. Several persons are known to be killed and many buildings destroyed.

Tornado.

GALESBURG, Ill., June 14.—A destructive tornado passed through the northern part of this county last night. North of Altona much damage was done. Eight houses were blown down, barns destroyed, orchards uprooted and crops ruined.

A Town Burning.

PITTSBURGH, June 14.—A dispatch just received from Chicago, Butler county, Pa., says one hundred buildings are already burned, and the whole town may be destroyed. The water supply has been cut off.

VESSLS BURNED.

Set on Fire by Lightning Which Ignited Petroleum.
BORDEUX, June 14.—Appalling accident occurred this morning on the River Corondo near Blaie. The British Steamer Petrolia, loaded with petroleum, from Philadelphia became filled with fumes from the cargo, which being accidentally ignited caused tremendous explosion scattering the deck and upper works in every direction and setting fire to the vessel. The burning petroleum floated on the water and set fire to number of other vessels in the river and they burned to the waters edge. The Petrolia was destroyed and 20 of 40 men comprising her crew perished in the flames. The other twenty were rescued with difficulty some of them being badly burned. The vessel was set on fire by lightning.

A LARGE FIRE

At Baltimore.—Loss Already Half a Million.
BALTIMORE, Md., June 14.—Fire broke out this afternoon on the Norfolk boat, at Union Dock, where nearly a thousand barrels of whisky and other inflammable merchandise was stored. A large schooner caught from the steamer, and getting loose, flames communicated to the Fruit Packing houses of Boyer & Company. People are fleeing from the water front on account of the intense heat. Loss already $500,000.

THE STATE ELECTION.

Only One County Still Remains to Be Heard From.
PORTLAND, June 13.—All the counties of the state have now been heard from, officially or otherwise, with the single exception of Curry. The vote of this county judging from present appearances, cannot possibly affect the result as it now stands. Chamberlain still holds the lead.

Geo. E. Chamberlain.

PORTLAND, June 14.—The official count of Multnomah reduces Webster's majority over Chamberlain, for attorney-general, 77 votes from that heretofore credited to him. Unofficial returns from Multnomah county gives Chamberlain a majority of 34. Harney county is democratic by 100 majority. This would give Chamberlain a majority of 329 votes. While Curry county is expected to give Webster a small majority, it cannot save him from defeat. Chamberlain's majority will be close to 300.

The Last County.

BAKER CITY, June 14.—Official returns from Grant county gives Moore 588, Bennett 436, Walker 254;

CYCLONE AT CHICAGO.

Springer on Blaine—Penoyer on Cleveland, Etc.

STORM IN CHICAGO.

Most Severe Storm For Years.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The city was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the most severe storms in years. It lasted only a short time, but one person is known to have been killed. Many were painfully injured and much damage was done to property. The Wigwam on the lake front, in which the Democratic national convention is to be held, was badly wrecked.

Blaine Was Foolish.

Allowed His Vanity to Overcome His Judgment.
NEW YORK, June 14.—In an interview in the Times, William Springer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives says: "If Blaine had retired from Harrison's cabinet a year ago instead of on the eve of the convention, without any tragic or stage effects, I do not doubt he could have had the nomination. As it was, under all the circumstances of his February letter and his sudden resignation, his nomination would have caused serious disturbances, if not open ruptures in the party. Under all conditions Harrison is the stronger candidate. I do not know that Blaine acted treacherously toward Harrison. Blaine has been greatly impaired in body and mind many months, and he listened to the flowery representations of those on whose judgment he relied, to the effect there was a great popular demand for him as candidate. This demand was imaginary. Harrison's nomination was a fair one, and he is a fair representative of the republican principles, but McKinley's nomination would have been a more honest acknowledgment of their faith in protection, and would have made it a distinctive part of the republican policy. With the present uncertainty as to the popularity of Mr. McKinley's bill, the republicans hesitated, even feared to make him the representative of party policy. With Harrison as a candidate, we can make tariff reform the issue. If Blaine had been nominated, we would have had an insincere republican campaign, full of bombast, recidivism, personalism and sensationalism. Blaine was overreached. That which he supposed a demand was only another means of expressing personal resentment to Harrison by some of the leaders of his campaign. The delegates to Chicago will be men cool-headed and their judgment will not be moved by any imaginary demonstration of popular enthusiasm, but they will exercise their judgment as to what best to do. If, after weighing the situation carefully, they come to the conclusion Cleveland can carry New York state and the country, they will nominate him. Those states which are doubtful and essential are New York, New Jersey and Indiana. It is absolutely essential for us to carry those three states. In Illinois the popular sentiment is for Palmer first, Cleveland next. I think Palmer has a good show for the nomination. He is a man of the people, is right on all great issues, in good health, available, has a good record, and can carry Illinois without a doubt and render Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa extremely doubtful. He is my personal candidate. If we lose this election I do not expect to live long enough to see the tariff reform."

Storm in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The city was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the most severe storms in years. It lasted only a short time, but one person is known to have been killed. Many were painfully injured and much damage was done to property. The Wigwam on the lake front, in which the Democratic national convention is to be held, was badly wrecked.

Blaine Was Foolish.

Allowed His Vanity to Overcome His Judgment.
NEW YORK, June 14.—In an interview in the Times, William Springer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives says: "If Blaine had retired from Harrison's cabinet a year ago instead of on the eve of the convention, without any tragic or stage effects, I do not doubt he could have had the nomination. As it was, under all the circumstances of his February letter and his sudden resignation, his nomination would have caused serious disturbances, if not open ruptures in the party. Under all conditions Harrison is the stronger candidate. I do not know that Blaine acted treacherously toward Harrison. Blaine has been greatly impaired in body and mind many months, and he listened to the flowery representations of those on whose judgment he relied, to the effect there was a great popular demand for him as candidate. This demand was imaginary. Harrison's nomination was a fair one, and he is a fair representative of the republican principles, but McKinley's nomination would have been a more honest acknowledgment of their faith in protection, and would have made it a distinctive part of the republican policy. With the present uncertainty as to the popularity of Mr. McKinley's bill, the republicans hesitated, even feared to make him the representative of party policy. With Harrison as a candidate, we can make tariff reform the issue. If Blaine had been nominated, we would have had an insincere republican campaign, full of bombast, recidivism, personalism and sensationalism. Blaine was overreached. That which he supposed a demand was only another means of expressing personal resentment to Harrison by some of the leaders of his campaign. The delegates to Chicago will be men cool-headed and their judgment will not be moved by any imaginary demonstration of popular enthusiasm, but they will exercise their judgment as to what best to do. If, after weighing the situation carefully, they come to the conclusion Cleveland can carry New York state and the country, they will nominate him. Those states which are doubtful and essential are New York, New Jersey and Indiana. It is absolutely essential for us to carry those three states. In Illinois the popular sentiment is for Palmer first, Cleveland next. I think Palmer has a good show for the nomination. He is a man of the people, is right on all great issues, in good health, available, has a good record, and can carry Illinois without a doubt and render Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa extremely doubtful. He is my personal candidate. If we lose this election I do not expect to live long enough to see the tariff reform."

Thunder Storms in Europe.

MADRID, June 14.—Terrific thunder storms prevailed in many parts of Spain yesterday. Churches in particular suffered from lightning strokes. At Burgos the famous old cathedral founded in 1221 was seriously injured. At Mucientes a church filled with worshippers was struck; five being killed and 10 hurt. At Melias there was a similar occurrence, and one was killed and 28 hurt seriously.

Settled Their Differences.

NORFOLK, Va., June 14.—W. R. Davidson was shot and killed Saturday by Rev. John Paynal, a crippled Baptist preacher. Considerable bad feeling had existed for some time between the men, growing out of a dispute between their families. It had been arranged to settle their differences in court, and the trial was to have begun Saturday. On the way to the court house Davidson and Paynal got into an altercation about the merits of the case, which resulted in the latter drawing a pistol and shooting his opponent.

The Race War Over.

GUTHRIE, O. T., June 14.—The threatened race war is over. The whites and blacks have been dispersed and no trouble is anticipated. Holly, the negro arrested for rape on a white woman 8 turday night, has been removed to Wichita jail.

More Destructive than at First Supposed.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 14.—Yesterday's storm here was more destructive to life than reported last night as indicated. It is now known at least seven persons have lost their lives and a score more hurt, some seriously, following is a list of killed: Gustav Doering, Emma Klima, John Michon, Charles J. Roberts, Hervey Stewart and three unknown men. Many buildings are more or less damaged. Telegraph and telephone service is prostrated.

Supposed to Be Lost.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The graduating class of the preparatory school of the Northwestern university, numbering ninety-seven ladies and gentlemen, took the steamer Viola at Demister street pier, Evanston, at 4 yesterday afternoon, for Highland park, where they were going for a picnic and a class jubilee. No word has been received from them up to 1 a. m., and anxious relatives of those on the excursion have spent the night telephoning and tel-

CYCLONE AT CHICAGO.

Springer on Blaine—Penoyer on Cleveland, Etc.

STORM IN CHICAGO.

Most Severe Storm For Years.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The city was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the most severe storms in years. It lasted only a short time, but one person is known to have been killed. Many were painfully injured and much damage was done to property. The Wigwam on the lake front, in which the Democratic national convention is to be held, was badly wrecked.

Blaine Was Foolish.

Allowed His Vanity to Overcome His Judgment.
NEW YORK, June 14.—In an interview in the Times, William Springer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives says: "If Blaine had retired from Harrison's cabinet a year ago instead of on the eve of the convention, without any tragic or stage effects, I do not doubt he could have had the nomination. As it was, under all the circumstances of his February letter and his sudden resignation, his nomination would have caused serious disturbances, if not open ruptures in the party. Under all conditions Harrison is the stronger candidate. I do not know that Blaine acted treacherously toward Harrison. Blaine has been greatly impaired in body and mind many months, and he listened to the flowery representations of those on whose judgment he relied, to the effect there was a great popular demand for him as candidate. This demand was imaginary. Harrison's nomination was a fair one, and he is a fair representative of the republican principles, but McKinley's nomination would have been a more honest acknowledgment of their faith in protection, and would have made it a distinctive part of the republican policy. With the present uncertainty as to the popularity of Mr. McKinley's bill, the republicans hesitated, even feared to make him the representative of party policy. With Harrison as a candidate, we can make tariff reform the issue. If Blaine had been nominated, we would have had an insincere republican campaign, full of bombast, recidivism, personalism and sensationalism. Blaine was overreached. That which he supposed a demand was only another means of expressing personal resentment to Harrison by some of the leaders of his campaign. The delegates to Chicago will be men cool-headed and their judgment will not be moved by any imaginary demonstration of popular enthusiasm, but they will exercise their judgment as to what best to do. If, after weighing the situation carefully, they come to the conclusion Cleveland can carry New York state and the country, they will nominate him. Those states which are doubtful and essential are New York, New Jersey and Indiana. It is absolutely essential for us to carry those three states. In Illinois the popular sentiment is for Palmer first, Cleveland next. I think Palmer has a good show for the nomination. He is a man of the people, is right on all great issues, in good health, available, has a good record, and can carry Illinois without a doubt and render Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa extremely doubtful. He is my personal candidate. If we lose this election I do not expect to live long enough to see the tariff reform."

Storm in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The city was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the most severe storms in years. It lasted only a short time, but one person is known to have been killed. Many were painfully injured and much damage was done to property. The Wigwam on the lake front, in which the Democratic national convention is to be held, was badly wrecked.

Blaine Was Foolish.

Allowed His Vanity to Overcome His Judgment.
NEW YORK, June 14.—In an interview in the Times, William Springer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives says: "If Blaine had retired from Harrison's cabinet a year ago instead of on the eve of the convention, without any tragic or stage effects, I do not doubt he could have had the nomination. As it was, under all the circumstances of his February letter and his sudden resignation, his nomination would have caused serious disturbances, if not open ruptures in the party. Under all conditions Harrison is the stronger candidate. I do not know that Blaine acted treacherously toward Harrison. Blaine has been greatly impaired in body and mind many months, and he listened to the flowery representations of those on whose judgment he relied, to the effect there was a great popular demand for him as candidate. This demand was imaginary. Harrison's nomination was a fair one, and he is a fair representative of the republican principles, but McKinley's nomination would have been a more honest acknowledgment of their faith in protection, and would have made it a distinctive part of the republican policy. With the present uncertainty as to the popularity of Mr. McKinley's bill, the republicans hesitated, even feared to make him the representative of party policy. With Harrison as a candidate, we can make tariff reform the issue. If Blaine had been nominated, we would have had an insincere republican campaign, full of bombast, recidivism, personalism and sensationalism. Blaine was overreached. That which he supposed a demand was only another means of expressing personal resentment to Harrison by some of the leaders of his campaign. The delegates to Chicago will be men cool-headed and their judgment will not be moved by any imaginary demonstration of popular enthusiasm, but they will exercise their judgment as to what best to do. If, after weighing the situation carefully, they come to the conclusion Cleveland can carry New York state and the country, they will nominate him. Those states which are doubtful and essential are New York, New Jersey and Indiana. It is absolutely essential for us to carry those three states. In Illinois the popular sentiment is for Palmer first, Cleveland next. I think Palmer has a good show for the nomination. He is a man of the people, is right on all great issues, in good health, available, has a good record, and can carry Illinois without a doubt and render Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa extremely doubtful. He is my personal candidate. If we lose this election I do not expect to live long enough to see the tariff reform."

Thunder Storms in Europe.

MADRID, June 14.—Terrific thunder storms prevailed in many parts of Spain yesterday. Churches in particular suffered from lightning strokes. At Burgos the famous old cathedral founded in 1221 was seriously injured. At Mucientes a church filled with worshippers was struck; five being killed and 10 hurt. At Melias there was a similar occurrence, and one was killed and 28 hurt seriously.

Settled Their Differences.

NORFOLK, Va., June 14.—W. R. Davidson was shot and killed Saturday by Rev. John Paynal, a crippled Baptist preacher. Considerable bad feeling had existed for some time between the men, growing out of a dispute between their families. It had been arranged to settle their differences in court, and the trial was to have begun Saturday. On the way to the court house Davidson and Paynal got into an altercation about the merits of the case, which resulted in the latter drawing a pistol and shooting his opponent.

The Race War Over.

GUTHRIE, O. T., June 14.—The threatened race war is over. The whites and blacks have been dispersed and no trouble is anticipated. Holly, the negro arrested for rape on a white woman 8 turday night, has been removed to Wichita jail.

More Destructive than at First Supposed.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 14.—Yesterday's storm here was more destructive to life than reported last night as indicated. It is now known at least seven persons have lost their lives and a score more hurt, some seriously, following is a list of killed: Gustav Doering, Emma Klima, John Michon, Charles J. Roberts, Hervey Stewart and three unknown men. Many buildings are more or less damaged. Telegraph and telephone service is prostrated.

Supposed to Be Lost.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The graduating class of the preparatory school of the Northwestern university, numbering ninety-seven ladies and gentlemen, took the steamer Viola at Demister street pier, Evanston, at 4 yesterday afternoon, for Highland park, where they were going for a picnic and a class jubilee. No word has been received from them up to 1 a. m., and anxious relatives of those on the excursion have spent the night telephoning and tel-

CYCLONE AT CHICAGO.

Springer on Blaine—Penoyer on Cleveland, Etc.

STORM IN CHICAGO.

Most Severe Storm For Years.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The city was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the most severe storms in years. It lasted only a short time, but one person is known to have been killed. Many were painfully injured and much damage was done to property. The Wigwam on the lake front, in which the Democratic national convention is to be held, was badly wrecked.

Blaine Was Foolish.

Allowed His Vanity to Overcome His Judgment.
NEW YORK, June 14.—In an interview in the Times, William Springer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives says: "If Blaine had retired from Harrison's cabinet a year ago instead of on the eve of the convention, without any tragic or stage effects, I do not doubt he could have had the nomination. As it was, under all the circumstances of his February letter and his sudden resignation, his nomination would have caused serious disturbances, if not open ruptures in the party. Under all conditions Harrison is the stronger candidate. I do not know that Blaine acted treacherously toward Harrison. Blaine has been greatly impaired in body and mind many months, and he listened to the flowery representations of those on whose judgment he relied, to the effect there was a great popular demand for him as candidate. This demand was imaginary. Harrison's nomination was a fair one, and he is a fair representative of the republican principles, but McKinley's nomination would have been a more honest acknowledgment of their faith in protection, and would have made it a distinctive part of the republican policy. With the present uncertainty as to the popularity of Mr. McKinley's bill, the republicans hesitated, even feared to make him the representative of party policy. With Harrison as a candidate, we can make tariff reform the issue. If Blaine had been nominated, we would have had an insincere republican campaign, full of bombast, recidivism, personalism and sensationalism. Blaine was overreached. That which he supposed a demand was only another means of expressing personal resentment to Harrison by some of the leaders of his campaign. The delegates to Chicago will be men cool-headed and their judgment will not be moved by any imaginary demonstration of popular enthusiasm, but they will exercise their judgment as to what best to do. If, after weighing the situation carefully, they come to the conclusion Cleveland can carry New York state and the country, they will nominate him. Those states which are doubtful and essential are New York, New Jersey and Indiana. It is absolutely essential for us to carry those three states. In Illinois the popular sentiment is for Palmer first, Cleveland next. I think Palmer has a good show for the nomination. He is a man of the people, is right on all great issues, in good health, available, has a good record, and can carry Illinois without a doubt and render Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa extremely doubtful. He is my personal candidate. If we lose this election I do not expect to live long enough to see the tariff reform."

Storm in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The city was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the most severe storms in years. It lasted only a short time, but one person is known to have been killed. Many were painfully injured and much damage was done to property. The Wigwam on the lake front, in which the Democratic national convention is to be held, was badly wrecked.

Blaine Was Foolish.

Allowed His Vanity to Overcome His Judgment.
NEW YORK, June 14.—In an interview in the Times, William Springer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives says: "If Blaine had retired from Harrison's cabinet a year ago instead of on the eve of the convention, without any tragic or stage effects, I do not doubt he could have had the nomination. As it was, under all the circumstances of his February letter and his sudden resignation, his nomination would have caused serious disturbances, if not open ruptures in the party. Under all conditions Harrison is the stronger candidate. I do not know that Blaine acted treacherously toward Harrison. Blaine has been greatly impaired in body and mind many months, and he listened to the flowery representations of those on whose judgment he relied, to the effect there was a great popular demand for him as candidate. This demand was imaginary. Harrison's nomination was a fair one, and he is a fair representative of the republican principles, but McKinley's nomination would have been a more honest acknowledgment of their faith in protection, and would have made it a distinctive part of the republican policy. With the present uncertainty as to the popularity of Mr. McKinley's bill, the republicans hesitated, even feared to make him the representative of party policy. With Harrison as a candidate, we can make tariff reform the issue. If Blaine had been nominated, we would have had an insincere republican campaign, full of bombast, recidivism, personalism and sensationalism. Blaine was overreached. That which he supposed a demand was only another means of expressing personal resentment to Harrison by some of the leaders of his campaign. The delegates to Chicago will be men cool-headed and their judgment will not be moved by any imaginary demonstration of popular enthusiasm, but they will exercise their judgment as to what best to do. If, after weighing the situation carefully, they come to the conclusion Cleveland can carry New York state and the country, they will nominate him. Those states which are doubtful and essential are New York, New Jersey and Indiana. It is absolutely essential for us to carry those three states. In Illinois the popular sentiment is for Palmer first, Cleveland next. I think Palmer has a good show for the nomination. He is a man of the people, is right on all great issues, in good health, available, has a good record, and can carry Illinois without a doubt and render Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa extremely doubtful. He is my personal candidate. If we lose this election I do not expect to live long enough to see the tariff reform."

Thunder Storms in Europe.

MADRID, June 14.—Terrific thunder storms prevailed in many parts of Spain yesterday. Churches in particular suffered from lightning strokes. At Burgos the famous old cathedral founded in 1221 was seriously injured. At Mucientes a church filled with worshippers was struck; five being killed and 10 hurt. At Melias there was a similar occurrence, and one was killed and 28 hurt seriously.

Settled Their Differences.

NORFOLK, Va., June 14.—W. R. Davidson was shot and killed Saturday by Rev. John Paynal, a crippled Baptist preacher. Considerable bad feeling had existed for some time between the men, growing out of a dispute between their families. It had been arranged to settle their differences in court, and the trial was to have begun Saturday. On the way to the court house Davidson and Paynal got into an altercation about the merits of the case, which resulted in the latter drawing a pistol and shooting his opponent.

The Race War Over.

GUTHRIE, O. T., June 14.—The threatened race war is over. The whites and blacks have been dispersed and no trouble is anticipated. Holly, the negro arrested for rape on a white woman 8 turday night, has been removed to Wichita jail.

More Destructive than at First Supposed.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 14.—Yesterday's storm here was more destructive to life than reported last night as indicated. It is now known at least seven persons have lost their lives and a score more hurt, some seriously, following is a list of killed: Gustav Doering, Emma Klima, John Michon, Charles J. Roberts, Hervey Stewart and three unknown men. Many buildings are more or less damaged. Telegraph and telephone service is prostrated.

Supposed to Be Lost.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The graduating class of the preparatory school of the Northwestern university, numbering ninety-seven ladies and gentlemen, took the steamer Viola at Demister street pier, Evanston, at 4 yesterday afternoon, for Highland park, where they were going for a picnic and a class jubilee. No word has been received from them up to 1 a. m., and anxious relatives of those on the excursion have spent the night telephoning and tel-

PACIFIC LAND AND ORCHARD CO.

FOR TOWN LOTS, FRUIT TRACTS AND FARMS.

$2.00
Per dozen for the finest finished PHOTOGRAPHS in the city.
MONTE BROS.
189 Commercial Street.

F. B. SOUTHWICK,
Contractor and Builder.
Salem, - - Oregon.

T. J. CRESS,
HOUSE PAINTING,
PAPER HANGING,
Natural Wood Finishing,
Cor. 20th and Chemsateka Street.

JOHN M. PAYNE & CO.,
Real Estate
and Insurance.
First street north of Bush bank.

JOHN IRWIN,
Carpenter and Builder,
Store Fittings a Specialty
Shop 65 State Street.

Typographical Union.
PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—The fortieth annual convention of the International Typographical union began here yesterday. Governor Pattison delivered an address of welcome, and Mayor Stuart tendered the delegates a cordial greeting on behalf of the city.

Nervous Prostration,
Sore prevalent, especially among women, results from overtaxing the system. The assimilative organs becoming deranged, the blood grows weak and impoverished, and hence "that tired feeling" of which many complain. For all such cases, there is no remedy equal to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take no other.

"Some time ago I found my system entirely run down. I had a feeling of constant fatigue and languor and very little ambition for any kind of effort. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did with the best results. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used."
—Frank Mellos, Chelsea, Mass.

"For months I was afflicted with nervous prostration, weakness, languor, general debility, and mental depression. By purifying the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I was completely cured."
—Mrs. Mary Stevens, Lowell, Mass.

When troubled with Dizziness, Sleeplessness, or Bad Dreams, take

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

25c Want Column.
Notices inserted for ONE CENT PER WORD EACH INSERTION. No advertisement inserted in this column for less than twenty-five cents.

WANTED.—A big horse, blind in the right eye, about 12 to 14 years old. Return to 30 and 32 James Street, 3 miles east of Salem, or leave word at this office. A liberal reward will be paid. 6-13-14

WANTED.—A situation in a small family by a married lady, whose husband is away for the summer. Mrs. Susan C. Cooper, Salem. 6-13-14

JOHN HUGHES,
Dealer in Groceries, Paints, Oils and Window Glass, Wall Paper and Border, Artists' Materials, Lime, Hair, Nails and Shingles, Hay, Feed and Fence Posts, Grass Seeds, Etc.

Proposals for Bids.
NOTICE is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the city of Salem, Oregon, at the office of the city clerk, at 10 o'clock p. m. of June 21, 1892, and at said time they will be opened by the undersigned committee. For the grade and macadamizing of the street between the bridge across South Mill creek to the foot of Court street, and all that part of Court street between the east side of 11th street and the east side of Front street, and all that part of Front street between the east side of 11th street and the east side of 12th street, and all that part of 12th street between the east side of 11th street and the east side of 12th street, and all that part of 13th street between the east side of 11th street and the east side of 12th street, and all that part of 14th street between the east side of 11th street and the east side of 12th street