I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. The secret of successful work under these conditions is said to be in the use of unslacked lime, in mixing the mortar in small quantities at a time, being made up immediately before use. The mortar must be put in place before it loses the heat due to the slacking of the lime. The lower the temperature the larger the quantity of lime required, so that below 12 degs. Each Age Its Own Criterion.

The coarseness of one age is not tolerated by the next. About's resuscitated Napoleonic troupier discovered this. There is progress in refinement, although it is accompanied by cant and false delicacy. But the suggestion is this, and it is in a sense independent of the question of art and morals or the nonmoral quality of art: Every generation has its rights, and among them a right to protect itself against anything it dislikes or that offends it. It does not concern itself much about abstractions, but it knows what | 1 influences best serve its ideals of a better life. On the whole it is as good a judge of what is good for it as the more enlightened novelists.-Charles Dudley Warner in Harper's.

How He Pronounced It. There is a story of two gentlemen who, in a hot argument as to how the word "neither" should be enunciated, appealed to a passer by with the question, "Do you, sir, pro-
