

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Judge Gresham Will Likely Accept the Nomination.

ONAHIA, Neb., July 1.—Delegates to the People's party national convention are arriving in large numbers; the indications are that every state in the union will have full delegation. The convention will have 1770 delegates. And notwithstanding the diversity of opinion among the delegates it is believed harmony will prevail. Among arrivals this morning were General B. Weaver, of Iowa. Weaver says he is for Judge Gresham if the latter will accept. In the event of Gresham's declination however, Weaver says he is in the hands of his party. The reunion of the blue and gray is to be one of the leading features of the convention.

Gresham Will Run. VALPARAISO, Ind., July 1.—N. J. Bozarth of the People's party candidate for Supreme Judge, has received positive assurance from the Indiana state central committee that Judge Walter Q. Gresham has promised to make the race, and that Judge Walter Q. Gresham is the nominee of the People's party. The judges' son said "I know of no reason why he should not except the honor he tendered him, he believes in most of the doctrines of the new party; still I cannot say authoritatively the nomination will be effected or accepted."

In the Senate Today. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—The senate voted to adjourn from today until Tuesday. Owing to objection of several senators no vote was taken on silver bill, matter went over without agreement as to time for taking vote. Conference on river and harbor bill have agreed to only two points in dispute, senate amendment providing for the Dalles boat railroad and Lake Washington canal. The senate conferees received from both with proviso of a board of four army officers and three civilians to be appointed to re-examine both railway projects.

Goddard—McAuliffe Contest. SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—General consensus of opinion seems to be that the Goddard—McAuliffe contest was one of the most awkward unscientific affairs ever witnessed here between men of such prominence. McAuliffe's defeat is attributed to defective headwork. His star has set. The Australian is acknowledged to be a determined forceful fighter but he has added nothing to his reputation by last night's victory.

The Sparta Robbers. UNION, Ore., July 1.—Trial of Frank Hart, R. J. Harris, James Comstock and W. L. Wells for participating in the Sparta robbery was completed in the circuit court here yesterday. W. L. Wells was set free. James Comstock pleaded guilty to theft of a saddle and was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of three years. Hart and Harris were each sentenced for a term of five years.

Storm in Philadelphia. PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday a terrific thunder and lightning storm, accompanied by torrents of rain and a heavy wind, passed over this city, doing considerable damage to houses and trees, killing one man and injuring several others.

A Lock Out. PITTSBURGH, July 1.—Three thousand men of the Homestead works are idle. The firm forestalled the men and discharged all the employees at midnight last night, and thus have cleverly forced all men to sing it a lockout instead of a strike.

Enormous Crop of Wheat. TOPEKA, Kansas, July 1.—The Kansas farmers are having great difficulty getting enough hands to harvest the enormous crop of wheat now ready for cutting. It is believed the field will be largest in the history of the state.

Flooded. NEW ORLEANS, July 1.—The entire country along the Atchafalaya river from its mouth to Port Vincent sixty miles is flooded to the depth of three feet. Business is wholly suspended. Many families are leaving the hills. Crops are almost wholly destroyed.

Yale Won Triangle. NEW LONDON, July 1.—Yale won the triangle two mile straightaway race by two and half lengths, Columbia second, Harvard third. Unofficial time, Yale 12:03; Columbia 12:30; Harvard 12:28.

For Best Wheat. LONDON, July 1.—At the international millers exhibition the champion gold medal for the best wheat was awarded Manitoba for exhibit of Red Fife.

Briot in Toledo. TOLEDO, June 30.—Yesterday afternoon a riot occurred between the workmen of two street car companies as an outcome of the legal war. It resulted in the arrest of 200 men.

The First Passed. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—The house has agreed to a conference report on the agricultural bill. This is the first general appropriation bill passed this session.

LOOKING FOR CLUES.

A Mob Wishes to Wreak Vengeance on Wilson.

OREGON CITY, July 1.—Yesterday Chief of Police Purdon, accompanied by George Casler and William Kelly, went from Oregon City to Milwaukie, and to the home of Mike Walsh, where the statements of Mr. Walsh and his wife were taken, relative to the death of their daughter Mammie. They examined closely the clothing, and then taking Mr. Walsh and his son Richard, they went to Mr. Luelling's and obtained his statement of the case. From his house they followed the trail which Mammie was told to take to the berry patch, where, by previous appointment, they met detective George A. Reed and Frederick Bacon. The chief's object was to make a diligent search for the button torn from her drawers, and the pin that held on the collar. After more than three hours' systematic search, the button was discovered by Mr. Walsh who was searching around with a stick, in close proximity to George Casler and William Kelly, the others being near by. The party all rushed to the place, where the button lay partly hid by some weeds and a stick. Joe Purdon picked it up and remarked: "This is what we are looking for. It fits exactly the torn drawers and serves to fix the guilt upon Wilson." The button was found not more than 60 feet north from the place where Wilson was at work about 50 feet from where the hammer woman suffrage and equal pay resolutions were found Thursday. The marks upon the girl's forehead were evidently made by this hammer while she was lying down, instead of by a bootheel, as heretofore supposed.

WILSON WEAKENS.

OREGON CITY, July 1.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, in response to repeated calls by Wilson for a minister, the sheriff sent for Rev. E. Githens, the Methodist pastor, who immediately went and remained for an hour in the cell conversing with him. Wilson talked freely, but persisted throughout in asserting his innocence. He was evidently much distressed and in great fear, his body being all in a tremble. His principal fear seems to be of violence and he admitted that he contemplated suicide to escape from the hands of the mob, whom he believes intend to torture him in some manner before killing him. It is probable that he may yet be prevailed upon to confess, as he has shown evident signs of weakness. When told last night that he was likely to be attacked by a mob during the night, he asked to be buried in the same cemetery as Mammie Walsh, because she was innocent and he also is innocent. But he was assured that this would not be permitted. There are six other prisoners in the jail, and they refuse to enter the cell with him on account of their fear that he may do them violence.

A Double Suicide.

BALTIMORE, July 1.—A man and woman registering as F. St. Cloud and wife were found dead yesterday afternoon in a lodging-house. The room was in great disorder. Quantities of rough on rats, laudanum and morphine were found, and they are presumed to be the means of suicide. A bill was presented to the couple today, and it is presumed their inability to pay it caused the tragedy. Among their effects were papers showing St. Cloud was discharged from the grand jury of England, June 25, 1890. His linen bore the name of F. F. Londy. The wife is thought to be Irene Story, of Hagerstown.

Who Is Dangerous.

KEWNS, Cal., July 1.—The boiler of a threshing machine blew up at this place last evening at 7 o'clock, fatally injuring Ross Dinsmore, fracturing the jaw and internally injuring Thomas Wallace and scalding Fireman Johnson. The engine was an old one and had not been used for some time. The men knew it was dangerous and took it out in the field to try it.

A Pennsylvania Cyclone.

BELFONTAINE, Pa., July 1.—The report of a cyclone in the lower part of the county Monday has just reached here. The path was 1500 feet wide and six miles long, leveling everything in its course. Luckily there was no loss of life, but several houses were carried away and considerable damage done.

The Wall Gave Way.

LYNSBURG, Pa., July 1.—While workmen were engaged in building an addition to a large building on Main street yesterday the wall gave way and buried a number of persons. J. H. Winslow, owner of the building, and two colored men were killed. Seven colored men were badly hurt.

Policeman Charged With Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Police officer P. J. Thompson, who shot and killed Robert Kirkin, while resisting arrest Wednesday, was charged with murder yesterday. His preliminary examination will come up today, when he will probably be discharged from custody.

Secretary Foster at Work.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Secretary of State Foster was at his department promptly yesterday and began business without the least ceremony. Yale Won The Freshman. NEW LONDON, July 1.—Yale won freshman boat race Harvard & Columbia tie.

THE PROHIBITION PARTY.

General Bidwell Nominated for President.

CINCINNATI, July 1.—The majority report has the following finance plank: "The money of the country should be issued by the general government only, in sufficient quantities to meet the demands of business, and give full opportunity for the employment of labor. To this end an increase in the volume of money is demanded, and no individual or corporation should be allowed to make any profit through its issue. It should be made a legal tender for the payment of all debts, public and private. Its volume should be fixed at a definite sum per capita and made to increase with its increase in population. We favor free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold."

The tariff plank is as follows:

"Tariff should be levied only as a defense against foreign governments which levy a tariff upon or bar out our products from their markets, revenue being incidental. The residue of means necessary to the economical administration of the government should be raised by levying a burden on what the people possess, instead of upon what we consume." On option dealing the plank is as follows: "Speculation in margins concerning grain, money and products, and the formation of pools, trusts and combinations for arbitrary advancement of price, should be suppressed." Other planks urge laws for the suppression of the liquor traffic; woman suffrage and equal pay regardless of sex; demand government control of railroads, telegraphs, and other public corporations; further restriction of immigration and extension of naturalization, opposes acquisitions of land by aliens; favors the forfeiture of unearned land grants; prohibits all mob law demands trial by jury for all citizens; demands one day of rest in seven for all persons; favors arbitration and pensions; unequivocally stands by the American school system and the teaching of English; opposes grants of money to sectarian schools; denounces both parties for trucking to the money interests and saloons.

Prof. Dickie endeavored to cut debate, but ex-Governor St. John demanded that it continue. The chairman recognized Dickie on appeal from the decision of the chair, and it was reversed by a vote of 482 to 453, and there was a warm discussion on the silver question. St. John and Hill, of California, championing free coinage, and Cadden opposing it. Finally Hartz's amendment was beaten, and the minority report defeated by a vote of 337 to 316. A plank relating to finance was then adopted without division. A vote by states was then taken on the silver plank, it being rejected by a vote 335 to 286. After the free coinage men were beaten, an effort was made to strike out "unlimited" and adopt a resolution for "free coinage," but it was ruled out of order. The tariff fight followed, but it took only a few minutes to defeat the minority plank and adopt that of the majority.

The following was offered by the minority as an additional plank to the platform:

Recognizing and declaring that prohibition of the liquor traffic has become a dominant issue in national politics, we invite to full party fellowship all those who on this one dominant issue are as agreed in the full belief that this party can and will remove sectional differences, promote national unity, and insure the best welfare of our entire land. Mrs. Gouger, amid a scene of yelling and disorder, asked Wardwell, treasurer of the Standard Oil Co., if he made the statement that unless the convention adopt the plank he would walk out of the convention and desert the prohibition party. When the uproar had subsided, Wardwell denied the statement, which was greeted with enthusiasm. The platform as a whole was adopted, and afterwards the following by J. G. Evans, of Abingdon, Ill., was carried: Resolved, that we favor a liberal appropriation by the federal government for the World's Columbian exposition, but only on condition that the sale of intoxicating drinks upon the exposition grounds be prohibited and that the exposition be kept closed on Sundays.

On the motion of St. John it was ordered that the convention re-assemble at 8:30, and proceed to ballot for a candidate for president of the United States.

Ex-Governor St. John, of Kansas, at the request of the California delegation, placed before the convention General John Bidwell, of California. John Lloyd Thomas, on behalf of the New York delegation, nominated W. Jennings Demorest, Logan, of Ohio, put in nomination Gideon T. Stuart. Bidwell received 590 votes out of 974, Stuart, 129, Demorest 139. The nomination of Bidwell was greeted with cheers. Cranfill, of Texas, was nominated for vice-president.

STANLEY WAS HOOTED.

The African Explorer Treated Very Roughly. LONDON, July 1.—Henry M. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley tried last evening to address a meeting of Lambeth electors at Hawkins's hall. The crowd was uproarious from beginning to end. But little said by either of the speakers was heard. The police seemed to be powerless to quell the riotous demonstrations, and eventually the meeting broke up in a general riot, followed by persistent attempts to assault the candidate and his wife. As soon as Mr. Stanley appeared on the platform it was evident that trouble was brewing. There were groans and shuffling on the seats of the crowd, and suddenly shouted three cheers for Gladstone. The first sentence spoken by Mr. Stanley was greeted with derisive laughter. The disorder increased until at the end of the first five minutes Mr. Stanley's address had become a mere dumb show. A few people in front were yelling for him to go on while the rest of the audience groaned and shouted insults. Mr. Stanley turned and motioned to the chairman, who requested the interference of the police. About 50 constables pushed their way through the hall, pushing men back to their seats and warning the shouters that further offenses would be punished with ejectment. Mr. Stanley proceeded, when order was restored, to speak of Mr. Gladstone and home rule. "Who has a stupid scheme," cried out a woman. This reference to Mr. Stanley's denunciation of Mr. Gladstone was followed by cheers and shouts of "Sit down!" "Let your wife talk for you!" "Go back to Africa!" and a steady chorus of howls. With the aid of the police, however, the disturbance was again subdued, and by sheer power of lung and perseverance, Mr. Stanley was able to make himself heard for about 25 minutes more. Mrs. Stanley then took the platform. She was received a little better than her husband had been. Her reference to his loyalty to Great Britain was received with laughter, and her attempts to discuss political issues were rendered futile by the uproarious demands that her husband speak for himself, and shouted inquiries as to what constituency she wished to represent. A fight was started near the platform and another in the rear. Mrs. Stanley became nervous and embarrassed, losing her line of thought, and in response to a gesture from Mr. Stanley, turned to sit down. The instant she turned all restraint on the meeting vanished and the crowd became a hooping and fighting mob. Mr. Stanley hastily started with Mrs. Stanley for the door, and his supporters in the audience tried to hurry after him. They had to fight their way to the door through blows and abuse, most of them coming out with their hats smashed and their clothing torn. The mob broke from the doors of the hall with a rush and swept down on Mr. Stanley's carriage. He had barely got Mrs. Stanley inside when they were upon him. Somebody grabbed him by the arm and pulled him back, but he tore himself loose, jumped in and slammed the door, and the mob followed, pulling at the carriage doors, and trying to stop the horses. They wrenched one door, but before they could do more the driver got his horses into a gallop, and was soon beyond their reach. Mrs. Stanley was badly frightened. She was almost in hysterics when she left the hall, and she screamed several times during the mob's attack upon the carriage.
